

June 11, 1931.

Mr. Will Rogers,
Santa Monica, Calif.

Dear Will:

This will introduce to you one of my old friends, a good old cow puncher, Frank Dougherty.

Frank, together with Tol Pendleton, owns one of the nicest ranches in Arizona and while I have not visited the place from the description given by friends who have been out there, it is certainly an ideal outfit. One thing I am sure of - both Frank Dougherty and Tol Pendleton are 100% plus from every angle and in every respect.

It may be that they have bitten off a little more than they can chew and while reluctant to do so, they might be willing to have someone else associated with them. Knowing that both of these gentlemen are your kind of folks, I am taking the liberty of giving Frank this letter of introduction and will appreciate you giving him a little time.

Any courtesy extended will be much appreciated.

With best wishes, I remain

Sincerely,

AGC.KD