

1209 W. El Paso Street,
Fort Worth 3 Texas,
December 30, 1944.

My dear Mr. Carter:

We of our household were profoundly touched by even the incidental reference to "Lieutenant Amon Carter, of Fort Worth, Texas", appearing in the January issue of the Cosmopolitan-- page 129.

Of course, you have read it, so the purpose of this note is merely to let you know of our continuing joy on his and your behalf.

Again with a wish for the opening year, for greater good and a larger measure of happiness and peace,

Cordially Yours,

James K. Thompson

James K. Thompson.
