Wednesday nite-

Dear Mrs. Deakins:

Your call was a wonderful surprise. I was all choked up - had to cut it all short before I started to really sob. What a relief it is to you! I had intended writing you to tell you about my friend who received the missing info action information about her husband on the same day you did about Amos. And then last week, her 2nd wire came through ending all hope. Knowing you hadn't received that, I was certain Amos was all right. And he is!

Perhaps you didn't know I had written on the back of my last letter to you that Asbury had returned to Sidney with no news of Amos for which Sidney was thankful. That was very encouraging to me. Sid said Asbury did get a good case of fleas, tho! Your copies of the letters from the boys over there were grand - I appreciate your thoughtfulness in keeping me informed, for I realize how very busy you always are.

After talking to you today, I just had to call Mr. Carter to tell him how happy I am with him. You both are so good and sweet - so considerate of them that you deserve only the best - and I mean that sincerely.

Perhaps when Mr. Carter returns from his trip East, then you and Mr. Meakins can get away for the rest I'm sure you must need. We come to San Antonio.

Col. Sumnerall wrote that he'd seen Sidney last on Feb. 23rd and he was all right. I had wanted to know of his wounds, but guess I shouldn't have expected any real information. We all just must have faith that all will be well and God will watch over boys for us.

I had wanted to come up to be with you and Mr. Carter during these trying weeks you've had, but because of my own nervous strain, I realized it was not the time to go "a-visiting". I feel much relieved just knowing about Amos today has helped so much. Our latest news is before the battle which began March 20th - no news is good news - Sidney is very busy, we must be patient. His last letter was March 15th -

Thank you for keeping me posted. Mother and Daddy join me in wishing you later and better news.

Sincerely,

Jane
