

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

DIVISION OF EDITORIAL SERVICE
W. R. WHITE
EDITORIAL SECRETARY

of the Southern Baptist Convention
161 EIGHTH AVENUE, NORTH • NASHVILLE 3, TENNESSEE

February 14, 1944.

Mr. Amos Carter,
T + Worth,
Texas.

My dear Mr. Carter:

My friend Mr. William Fleming tells me that Amos, Jr., is a prisoner of the Germans. This was touching news to me. I have known through mutual friends of the beautiful devotion between you.

Your patriotism, civic mindedness and public spirit always impressed me. The plight of your son has provoked a fellow feeling and frequent prayers.

The predicament of Amos, Jr., and the death of Mr. Hopkins's son suggest the democratic nature of this war and its tragic cost.

May the comfort of a strength more real than life be yours.

Sincerely,
WR White

