

November 14, 1944.

Mrs. Charlie Wilkinson,
Box 267,
Menard, Texas.

Dear Mrs. Wilkinson:

Your letter of November 11 was received this morning after Mr. Carter's departure from the city last night. Therefore, since I know you are anxious for a reply, I am taking the liberty of acknowledging it in his absence.

Mr. Carter's last letter from his son, Amon Junior, was dated August 26 and received two weeks ago today. He seemed to be in excellent spirits and getting along as well as could be expected. Recently, Mr. Carter spent a few days with Colonel Drake, the senior officer of Oflag 64 who was repatriated, and an interview was given the Star-Telegram which was carried a week ago. Since you have a son in this camp, I am sure you will find the article quite interesting, and a copy is being enclosed herewith for fear you might have overlooked it in the paper.

Last week Mr. Carter had a letter from a lady in Bonham who had received a rumor (from what source we do not know) that her son who was in Oflag 64 had been moved either the latter part of August or early in September. Upon receipt of this letter Mr. Carter communicated with Washington and was advised on November 4 that the camp was still intact and had not been moved. Colonel Drake told Mr. Carter that there had been a lot of talk that the boys would be moved, however, that order had been rescinded.

Mr. Carter appreciated hearing from you and will be interested in knowing any information you receive at any time and will likewise be glad to pass any we have along to you.

Yours very truly,

KD.SB

Secy. to A. G. Carter.
