setting the first wire of the great cable through the guiding and tension-equalizing machine. The gigantic cable is spun from many wires. The tallest point of the cantilever span is 388 feet.

WILL'S BOY AN EDITOR—Will Rogers, jr., eldest son of the late beloved American humorist and actor, recently bought the Beverly Hills, (Calif.) Citizen, and here he is at work at his editorial desk. He gained experience on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and studied journalism at Stanford university, from which he was graduated this year.
