

WILL ROGERS

SAID

(A Daily and Sunday Feature by That Famous Philosopher Made Up of the Best of His Published and Unpublished Notes and Letters to His Family).

What's the matter with an age when our biggest gangsters are our greatest national interest? Part of it is the government's fault for not convicting the gangsters on some real crime.

You can't beat matrimony for unconscious humor.

Some woman married her fifth naval officer recently. One more naval disarmament conference and she would have to start marrying a few civilians.

Then get this one: "Mrs. Sarah Bagley, clerk of Yuma County Court: Wire me immediately the name of the woman I married there last. O. R. Weed."

Did you ever spend a lonesome hour in a strange town?

You all think you have, but you haven't. The loneliest hour in the entire world is in Mexico City and Madrid, Spain, on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 5 when every one has gone to the bull fights.

I am not against bull fights. Every nation for their own affairs and own sports.

Some nations like to see blood and some to see their victims suffer from speculation.

It's all in your point of view.

They kill the bull very quick.

Wall Street lets you live and suffer.

VANITIES GIRLS SELL PICTURES

Anxious to do their part for a trouper who contributed much to the stage, Earl Carroll "Vanities" girls Saturday were selling photographs of Will Rogers for the benefit of his memorial fund to be used to aid unfortunate and handicapped children.

Through the lobbies of hotels, into the banks and office buildings, the line girls of the show played "speaking parts" as saleswomen for the memorial fund, offering the favorite Will Rogers pictures at $1 each.

These 8 by 10 inch photographs, bearing reproductions of the signature of the late humorist-philosopher and revealing his famous smile and unruly forelocks beneath a pushed back hat are also for sale at the headquarters for the memorial fund in The Star-Telegram Building.

Every picture purchased is a 100 per cent donation to the fund, as the cost of producing and delivering them is being paid by The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The usual $1 average of individual subscriptions to the fund among employe groups prevailed in the
