The Registrar's office is very anxious to get back the petition sheets of all the major students from the department heads. Announcements have been made through chapel for these students to see their major professors. In some instances the students have reported to this office that they were not able to find their major professors. It is suggested that each department head set apart one or two afternoons for the purpose of meeting his students in his office and that he have announcements made through his own classes and the other classes of his department.

The time is short and these petition sheets have to be sent to the first minor professors. (Mr. Tucker).
