

T. C. U. FACULTY BULLETIN

Vol. III

March 18, 1932

No. 25

THERE WILL BE NO FACULTY BULLETIN NEXT FRIDAY,
DUE TO THE EASTER HOLIDAYS.

It is suggested that items for the Faculty Bulletin be confined to official announcements and faculty news that concerns the faculty rather than students. Items that are of general news value should be given to The Skiff. This is in the interests of economy---also, a shorter Bulletin may be read more thoroughly. ---Dean Hall.

The Easter holidays do not begin until all regular class work has been completed Thursday. The library will close at 3 o'clock that afternoon. School will be resumed at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 29. ---Dean Hall.

When the faculty adopted the plan of having blue books for quizzes and examinations it was with the distinct understanding that the teachers would come to the registrar's office themselves and get these books, and not send students for them. ---Mr. Tucker.

A prospective student phoned me yesterday, saying, "A friend of mine was informed by one of the T. C. U. teachers that T. C. U. was discontinuing graduate work next year. Is this true?"

The answer is, NO! NO!

Some departments will omit graduate work next year, as some departments omit it every year. Fewer departments will give it than heretofore. But it will be unfortunate to let the impression get out that the graduate work is all omitted.

---Dean Hall.
