Last week the cabinet passed the following working rule to facilitate conferences between major and first minor professors and the students who have made a declaration of their majors and minors: The registrar's office will place in the hands of each major professor the petition sheets belonging to his department, together with a list of students showing majors and minors. The major professor will be responsible for getting the petition sheets to the first minor professors and back to the registrar's office.

The week of May 16th was set aside for these conferences, and the department heads are to maintain office hours during chapel periods and afternoons.

Word has been received that the catalogs will not be ready before noon Tuesday, May 17. It will therefore be impossible to begin these conferences before Wednesday, the 18th. Perhaps the conferences can be taken care of on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, but if they can not be then we shall have to use one or two days the following week.
