Dear Betty:

Well, by this time, I presume you have settled down after the excitement of the wedding. I hope Jimmie received his wedding present which we had to send by plane in your care. It should have arrived the day before the wedding.

I also sent you a choice cut of prize winning steak, which I hope arrived and that you enjoyed it.

Mrs. Carter told me about her delightful visit with you and how much she enjoyed seeing you. I was sorry I could not make the trip.

Incidentally, I saw Billy in New York before he sailed and we went up to visit some studio to see a statue made of Will on a horse. It was exceptionally good and with a few minor changes would be an excellent likeness. Recently in New York, I visited Bryant Baker's studio and saw the bust he has made of Will which, in my estimation, is the best I have seen except for a few minor changes, such as the style of tying his tie, etc., that would be an improvement. I hope that you will ask Billy to go in and see the bust when he returns from Europe.

With best wishes and the hope you are fine,
I am

Sincerely,

AGC.KD
