The Faculty Meeting Last Monday

Several members of the faculty were not present in the meeting when problems of registration were considered. For information, therefore, the problems presented are listed herewith. Constructive suggestions will be gladly received at either the Registrar's office, or the Business office, if handed in or presented in person by January 11 for these matters will be given full consideration at the next meeting of the Classification Committee. After this date suggestions must wait until next year.

1. Late distribution of the "White" cards and retaining students in class without these cards.
2. Large increase in fall enrollment and the accompanying details involved.
3. Over-crowded classes in Social Science, Math., English and Languages.
4. The Faculty Bulletin is not read and heeded as regularly as desired.
5. More responsibility for registration should be placed upon department heads.

Holidays

As stated in the Catalog, school closes for the Christmas Holidays, 1:00 P.M., Saturday, December 19 and classes are resumed 8:00 A.M. Monday, January 4. Absences count double for the last recitation before the holidays and the first recitation after the holidays. Please check your roll accordingly.

Final Exams

Seven days are set aside for the final exams, January 20 to 27. The schedule will be announced early in the new year. Classes for the second semester begin January 28.

Copy for Summer School

Will the heads of departments kindly use the enclosed data from the Summer School Bulletin of last year to guide in preparing new copy for 1937. Please let us have the new copy before you leave for the holidays that we may have plenty of time to issue both the Preliminary and larger Bulletin without delay. Thanks

The members of the faculty and their wives are invited to attend the annual farewell Christmas dinner given on the occasion of the student's leaving for the Christmas holidays. This dinner will be served in the Cafeteria on Friday evening, December 18, at 6:30. The price for the faculty members will be fifty cents each. You should notify Mrs. Harris not later than Friday morning, December 18, in order that she may arrange for you.
