MID-SEMESTER EXAMS: The mid-semester exams should close not later than Thursday, March 25. No definite schedule is to be published but all teachers are requested to arrange for examinations according to their own good judgement. The grades are to be turned in at the Registrar's Office not later than Wednesday, March 31. Earlier returns will be appreciated, for they are recorded as received, and our patrons are very anxious to have the report cards on time,

EASTER VACATION: Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday -- March 26, 27, 28, and 29 are the four days included in the Easter holiday season. Absences from class on the last recitation preceding or following this holiday period will draw double absence penalty. School continues through the entire day of Thursday, March 25, and begins again Tuesday, March 30, 8 A.M.

FAILING STUDENTS: The attached list of failing students indicating the courses in which they are failing is issued this week in the Faculty Bulletin particularly for the benefit of student counselors and heads of departments, who by wise admonition and guidance may help at this particular time to save at least part of these students from failure at the mid-semester. Immediate contact will help. These reports on failing students were scheduled to come in March 8. Late returns from faculty members delayed our getting this word to you.

1937-38 CATALOG COPE: All department heads who have not turned in the catalog copy should do so by tomorrow, Saturday, noon, thus giving us as much time as possible in the office to assemble all copy and edit it accurately for printing.

The following students should be excused from all classes for Monday, Feb. 22. They were in Cleburne on a journalism field trip, to edit the Times-Review.

Genevieve Papineau, Rosemary Collyer, Geraldine Watson, Frances Taylor, Lady Baker Griffin, Paul Ridings, Walter Pridemore, Warren Agee, Ed Bilheimer.

The following students were in Mineral Wells on a journalism field trip Tuesday, March 16, and should be excused from all classes; Olin Jones, Clarice Rumph, James Matthews, Genevieve Papineau, Rosemary Collyer, Geraldine Watson, Lady Baker Griffin, Paul Ridings, Walter Pridemore, Warren Agee.

We have a request from the State Department at Austin for copies of the Star-Telegram for February 3, 6, and 9 of the morning edition; and January 24 and February 14, Sunday editions. If you have copies of these papers, please leave them at the Library.
