MR CARTER —

Here's the Roosevelt

Please don't love it.
I can, after reaching the translation.

Thanks again,

THE AMERICAN STANDARD OF SERVICE

1
Account of Roosevelt's Death from "Der Angriff 'Kochtaugale'" written by Dr. Otto Krügel

- The Greatest War Criminal of All Time, Roosevelt, Dies of Brain Hemorrhage -

- A Response with the President of the U.S.A.

A Verdict of Destiny -

The White House reports that the American President Roosevelt died suddenly on Thursday afternoon of a brain hemorrhage.

At the time when the people of Berlin were experiencing one of the usual terror attacks of the Anglo-American gangsters and assassins, there I drew to a close one of the greatest dramas of the world's history - a drama of high justice.

Roosevelt the Greatest was criminal of all times died suddenly in the country house to which he always went when he wanted to bury himself in the mass of his physical possessions. Irreconcilable daring which controls all with a hard and steady hand took from the earth the man whom many generations will curse, and one who will play a leading role in the history books of mankind.

as the commonest of the small clique opposed to humanity who exploit material superiority.

Roosevelt was accompanied by only a small group of those men responsible for the monstrous crimes of the present political set-up in the U. S. A. when he went to rest for a few days at Warm Springs, exhausted from what he called "an imminent triumph." He died of a sudden brain hemorrhage. Perhaps he had only a few minutes to look up from the desk on which he had massed his various plans (such as the plan for the annihilation and eradication of the whole German Race) - to look up through the window into the evening sky to view the future in which justice proclaims her verdict.

In Washington, naturally, they will take pains to see that the formal apparatus functions on as smoothly as possible.
Vice-President Truman has officially notified Congress of the President's death. The clique of plutocrats and Jews will gather together and seek to get control of the gigantic business which deals with the last possessions of the German people and Germany's working strength. They had

3
already laid plans on his desk for the President's signature, the plans in which, explained in detail, were the categories of German skilled workers numbering millions, who would be taken from the ranks of the P. O. W. in England and the U. S. A. and turned over to the Bolsheviks on the steppes of Siberia, if in due time the German people became weak. This pitiable slavery business, involving German soldiers, will be the main topic of speeches by plutocrats and Jews who,
in the sunshine of of Roosevelt, buried themselves with the easy business of trafficking in human bodies.

We are waiting to see how the criminal spirit of Roosevelt will poison the men of the U. S. A., those especially who at this time are in power, and we will see how soon these men are also swept out by destiny, etc ad nauseum.
