

September 5, 1945.

Lieut. General William Hood Simpson,
Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

My dear General Simpson:

Enclosed herewith you will find a copy of a personal letter which I sent out to 37 of your friends throughout the country, as well as sending them a complete set of clippings covering the reception accorded you in Fort Worth and Weatherford on your return to Texas from the European activities following the surrender of the German Army. You will also find a number of letters from friends in acknowledgement of the letter which was mailed them on July 2. I am sending these along thinking they might be of interest to you for your collection of souvenirs.

Again, I want to express my thanks and appreciation for the privilege of knowing you and Fort Worth was extremely honored to have you stop here on your return to Texas, since which time we have had the privilege of having a nice visit with you and Mrs. Simpson during which time the Fort Worth Club voted you an honorary life membership. Thus you are now a Fort Worth citizen by acclamation and we hope you and Mrs. Simpson will come to see us often and take advantage of your membership in the Club. We will always be delighted to see you.

With best wishes to both of you, I am

Sincerely,

AGC.SB
