Dear Bob:

On October 31 you left in my office a very interesting souvenir, for which please accept my thanks and appreciation for your thoughtfulness in fetching this unique remembrance home from China.

You state on the card "The old gentleman in ivory is one of the 'Eight Immortals' in an old Chinese Buddhist legend". Whatever that means and whether the old boy is or not is not of importance. The fact that you were thoughtful enough to bring it to me is important.

Sincerely,

ACC.SB
