

Bob Explains It to Bruce...Color Guard From Abilene...Lily and Lone Wolf

"YOU SEE, BRUCE, IT'S LIKE THIS," BOB HOPE, SCREEN AND RADIO COMEDIAN, IS SAYING to Bruce Cabot, screen star, at one of the events during the world premiere of "The Westerner" in Fort Worth Thursday. Charlie Ruggles, whose antics also caught the crowds' fancy, looks on, center.

ONE OF THE COLORFUL GROUPS IN "THE WESTERNER" PARADE THURSDAY WERE these six white horses from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, with their also colorful riders, who are, left to right, Sheriff Watson of Taylor County, Inez Sandifer, Billye Sears, Marian Vaughter, Bee Agnew and June Frost. They were the color guard for the parade.

A LOVELY FILM LUMINARY, LILIAN BOND, LILY LANGTRY OF "THE Westerner," is an interested listener while M. T. (Lone Wolf) Gonzaulas, Texas Ranger, tells about Langtry where Judge Roy Bean, the adrent admirer of Lily Langtry of the '80's, held forth as "The Law West of the Pecos."
