

TO AMON CARTER

FROM JUDY CANOVA

"Shady Oaks"

Judy -- Howdy, Mr. P. W.

Whiteman-- Hello, Judy, I'm glad to see you.

Judy-- Thank you, I'm shore glad to be here. We heard that Mr. Amon Carter was a leavin town and we thought we'd come down and see him off.

Whiteman-- That's right, Judy, Mr. Carter is going to fly on the China Clipper.

Judy-- He's flying on the what?

Whiteman-- The China Clipper.

Judy-- Zeke, whats China Clipper?

Zeke-- A China Clipper is a Chinese barber.

Judy--Yeh, Mr. P. W. I was talkin to Mr. Amon Carter about his trip. I was wondering after him bein in Fort Worth if there was gonna be enough excitement fer him where he was goin.

Whiteman-- And what'd he say Judy?

Judy-- He said he wasn't takin no chances, he's takin his dominoes with himm.--

Well, look who's here Annie.

Annie--Hello everything.

Judy--Hello Somethin, what you got on your mind besides hair tonic?

Annie-- You know Judy, I just herd that Mr. Carter was kicked out of Kindergarten.

Judy--Yeh, what for?

Annie--Fer shavin in front of the teacher.

Judy--Annie, that aint no way to talk about Mr. Carter after him invitin you to Shady Oaks, we sure had a good time out there that day. He had about two hundred and fifty people out fer a snack sort of a family dinner.

Whiteman--Shady Oaks is a grand place alright.

Judy-- He tol me too that he had a goat ranch but huh fore he tol me that I got wind of it.

Whiteman-- Why, Judy, talking about Mr. Carter that way, he's a big man. Do you know what he stands for?

Judy-- Yessir, he stands for lots more than I would.

Whiteman--Amon Carter is a man to be admired.

Judy-- Are you tellin I!

Judy-- Are you tellin I!

Whiteman--Yes hes has a very interesting life. Do you know that at one time he earned money selling sandwiches? What do you think of that?

Judy-- I think a mans pretty good that can start with a sandwich and end up with a Centennial.

Whiteman--I think so too Judy. He can certainly achieve lots.

Judy-- He can do what?

Whiteman--Achieve.

Judy--Hey--Zeke, whats achieve?

Zeke--Achieve is the head of a Injun tribe.

Judy-- You know Mr. P. W. when I met Mr. Carter I ast him what ranch his hangout was at, what was his brand B or X or Lazy Bar or what.

Whiteman--What'd he say?

Judy-- He said when he got to Fort Worth his hangout was any bar and the brand didn't make any difference.

Whiteman--Well, liquor is a very bad thing Judy.

Judy--Are you tellin I?

Whiteman-- I feel so strongly about it. Why do you know there are over one hundred places in this very neighborhood that sells liquor and I haven't been in one of em?

Judy-- Is that so Mr. P. W. which one was that?
