

Fort Worth, Texas.
December
Twenty-third
Nineteen-Nineteen.

Mr. Wortham--Mr. Carter,
Wortham Carter Pub. Co.,

Office

Dear Bosses:

The boys of the press room wish to take this humble method of expressing to you TODAY their appreciation of your "loyal service" checks.

The real expression, however, will be to you DAY after DAY during the coming year. When machines break and the paper busts continually, the editions come out slow and the clock moves fast-- then with double time into the pits will be the real expression of our gratitude to you for this splendid and timely recognition you have given us.

While we feel that it is needless to express on paper, our interest in the welfare of THE STAR-TELEGRAM, may we not now take this means of assuring you that continued growth and leadership of your newspaper is to us now, as in the future a matter of sincere ambition. The same spirit prevails downstairs as upstairs.

Wishing you and yours a very Merry Christmas such as you have helped make for us, we are,

With Very Best Wishes,

THE BOYS OF THE PRESS ROOM