

PURELY PERSONAL.

---

C. E. Coyne, editor of the Fort Pierre, S. D., Times, secretary of state-elect, has been appointed by Governor W. H. McMaster to fill the balance of the term of that office made vacant by the death of Charles A. Burkhart.

William H. Gannett, publisher and owner of the Portland Press Herald, William Boyce, publisher of the Indianapolis, Indiana Daily Times and other newspapers, and William P. Hawley of the Hawley Pulp and Paper Company, Oregon City, Ore., and Mrs. Hawley, sailed last Saturday on the Aquitania for Europe.

Harold McClinton, graduate of the University of Washington School of Journalism, 1922, and now on the staff of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, recently underwent an operation. He has just returned to the copy desk at the Ledger office after an absence of four weeks.

Amos G. Carter, proprietor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, fired the shot starting the thirty-third annual six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, New York, at midnight Sunday.

George Thomas Emerson, Jr., of the London staff of the Philadelphia Ledger, sailed last Saturday for Europe.

Richard M. H. Wharton, general manager of the Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot-News, was a visitor in New York this week.

---