

FACULTY BULLETIN

VOL. XV

November 4, 1943

No. 18

AUDITORIUM

Because of the numerous requests for the use of our University Auditorium, it is necessary for all who desire to use it to clear through some central agency. Dean Elizabeth Shelburne is supposed to schedule all Auditorium meetings. To avoid complications, all faculty members and students who desire to use the Auditorium are requested to consult her.

M.E. Sadler, President
Texas Christian University

TO REMIND YOU

A memorial service for the Ex-Students of T.C.U. who have lost their lives in the war will be held in the University Christian Church at 5:00 o'clock, Friday afternoon, November 5. Your attendance will be a fitting tribute to these, our comrades.

The Winter Convocation will be held in the University Auditorium, Friday, 8:00 P.M. November 5. There will be a regular academic procession and seats are being reserved for the Faculty. Colonel Ora J. Cohee will give the address on the subject "The Basis for Lasting Peace". The University will confer upon him the LL.D. degree. All members of the faculty and student body are requested to be present.

A SINCERE "THANK YOU"

To heads of departments, counselors and all other faculty members who assisted in the registration of students for the Winter Trimester we wish to express sincere thanks. Also, it was gratifying to note the ready response in prompt grade reports.

YOU MAY BE INTERESTED

For the day classes of the Winter Trimester, beginning November 1, the registration totals to date 929.

For the Evening College 392 registrations have passed through the Registrar's Office.

SAME OLD STORY

This is not a very attractive heading but it is very important that every teacher heed the following suggestion. A student is not completely registered until his account is cleared at the Business Office. When this has been done the "Admit to Class" cards are delivered to the student.

HOLIDAYS

So soon? No, just an announcement that there will be no holidays at Thanksgiving, but the Christmas holidays will begin at 1 P.M. December 23rd (Thursday) and will end at 8 A.M. January 3rd (Monday). Remember also the mid-semester exams will close on the 23rd of December.

The President is hopeful of having a better than usual representation of faculty members in the processional for the special Convocation, Friday evening, Nov. 5. Academic regalia should be worn if possible. However, do not let this prevent you from taking part in the ceremony. The important thing is a large number of faculty members in the procession. The faculty has few opportunities to represent the school in public, as a unit, and it is rather discouraging and, at times, embarrassing to the Administration when the response is poor. Please meet promptly at 7:40 in the Ampitheatre. Seats will be reserved, and there will be no recessional.

J. L. Whitman
Marshall
