

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Volume 69, No. 8, October 20, 1992

HOMECOMING THEME IS 'OLD, NEW'

"Something Old, Something New" will be reflected in Homecoming '92 activities this week for alumni, students and friends. The array of events is being co-chaired by Tom and Ronda Schuster Hill of Fort Worth, members of the Classes of '69 and '73, respectively. Heading student events is Susy Straight, senior radio-TV-film major from Los Alamos, N.M.

Two graduates and a current senior will offer a glimpse of the campus through the decades at Friday's Century Club luncheon, the by-invitation event that traditionally marks the start of the special weekend. They are John R. Arend of Tulsa, Class of '52 member who is chairman/chief executive officer of International Chemical Co. and CEO of Eagle Inspiration Inc.; Trustee Robert E. Johnson of Houston, Class of '68 member who is president of Rob Johnson Realty and head of TCU's Clark Society; and Stephanie Wood, a senior majoring in speech communication and political science.

Master of ceremonies for the noon event at Colonial Country Club will be Mark Wilson, Class of '84 member who is financial manager of Wilson Craig Stephenson Inc. and a vice president of the alumni association board. Entertainment will be provided by alumnus Perry Sandifer and his Dixieland Band.

Golf, Tennis Events Set Friday

Two events of particular interest to sports enthusiasts are on Friday's schedule. The annual golf tournament will begin at 8:30 a.m. at Marriott's Golf Club at Fossil Creek. The $60-per-person reservations, due tomorrow (Wednesday) in the alumni office, include cart and green fees, range balls, lunch and prizes. The format will be a shotgun start and four-man Florida scramble.

The annual tennis tournament will begin at 2 p.m. at Mary Potishman Lard Tennis Center. Also due tomorrow are the $5-per-person registrations that include court fee, refreshments and prizes.

The NCAA/ITCA Region VI Rolex Tennis Championships begin Friday at the tennis center. Matches Friday through Sunday will start at 8:30 a.m. and are open to the public at no charge. Finals begin at 10 a.m. Oct. 26.

Parade to Be 'Spirit Day' Feature

The annual Homecoming parade of bands, floats and decorated cars is planned for Friday, which has been designated as "Spirit Day" by the student committee. Beginning at 7 p.m. at Bluebonnet Circle, the group will move north on University Drive to West Cantey Street, then to Stadium Drive. Floats will be displayed around the Student Center quadrangle, and a spirit presentation will be made following the parade.

For "Spirit Day," students as well as faculty and staff members are being encouraged to wear purple and white.

Rally Will Precede Barbecue, Game

Moved to Saturday for the first time this year, the Homecoming pep rally will begin at 11:15 a.m. in front of Moncrief Hall. It will be followed by the Walk of Frogs stretching from the residence hall to the stadium. Taking part in the rally will be former cheerleaders, Addies and Super Frogs.

The annual barbecue for alumni and friends is planned for 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum. Due tomorrow (Wednesday), reservations are $6 for adults and $5 for children.

Saturday's 2 p.m. kickoff in Amon Carter Stadium will mark the 71st meeting of the Horned Frogs and Rice University's Owls. Of those games, the Frogs have won 38 and tied three. A highlight of halftime activities will be presentation of the '92 Homecoming Queen and her court chosen earlier in a campus-wide election.

Events Set for Interest Groups

A number of events are planned this weekend for special interest groups. While most are scheduled Saturday, the Lettermen's Association will hold its annual golf tournament Friday morning at Ridglea County Club's north course and its dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. at Ridglea County Club.

Saturday's activities will include:

--Journalism Exes breakfast in the Student Center at 8:30 a.m. Speakers will be alumnus Bud Kennedy, Star-Telegram columnist, and alumnus/historian Dr. June Welch, widely-known author about Texas who has been on the University of Dallas faculty for 25 years and formerly was its academic dean and history chairman;

--School of Education reception immediately following the afternoon game in Starpoint School;

--Annual brunch for Harris College of Nursing alumni beginning at 10 a.m. in the Student Center. The Lucy Linn Scholarship recipient will be announced;

--Horned Frog Band alumni annual meeting and continental breakfast at 8 a.m. in the reception room of Ed Landreth Hall.

--Continental breakfast and reception for LINKS (Leaders in a Network for Key Students) members. Hosted by the admissions office, the event will be in the Faculty Center from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

Events (cont.)

--An open house at the Mary Potishman Lard Tennis center from 9 to 10 a.m., is open to all interested persons. Special guests will be former TCU varsity tennis players.

--The third annual TCU Music Alumni dinner at the Fort Worth Club. The 6:30 p.m. reception will be followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Greek Groups Plan Events

Events are scheduled Saturday by five sororities and fraternities. Pre-game receptions for alumni, families and parents will be held by Kappa Delta, Pi Beta Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha.

Beginning immediately after the game will be events hosted by Delta Delta Delta and Delta Tau Delta.

Kappa Kappa Gamma has planned a reception from 2 to 3 p.m. Sunday.

University Store to Honor Alumni

The University Store will honor alumni with a 20 percent discount on TCU merchandise, excluding class rings, on Saturday. Hours that day will be 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Young Alumni Will Gather

An after-game dinner at Joe T. Garcia's is on the schedule for alumni from the Classes of 1983-92. The event is set for 5:30 p.m., and the $12-per-person reservations are due in the alumni office tomorrow (Wednesday).

Coordinating the social are presidents of three TCU Young Alumni chapters. They are Amy Roach Callaway '89 of Fort Worth, Christie McClellan, '87 of Dallas and Peggy Cooley '89 of Houston.

Incumbent Frogs to Welcome Alumni

A 10-student committee chaired by Suzy Straight is leading fellow Horned Frogs in a celebration of Homecoming '92 as former students return to the campus. Enthusiasts are carrying out the theme "TCU Goes Wild" by sporting bright jungle images on long-sleeved T-shirts, displaying posters with the same splashy design by Suzy and by competitive "wildness" in floats, banners and signs.

Sunday afternoon's all-campus decorating party signaled the start of this week's activities.

"Several events have been designed around the football team to help get them caught up in all the Purple Pride of Homecoming," Suzy noted. Monday's schedule began with an afternoon sign-painting blitz, followed by a new event, "The Storming of the Mansion," as students headed for Moncrief Hall to hang signs in the athletes' dormitory. That evening a "Lights Up TCU" campaign switched on with displays shining from residence hall windows.

Incumbent Frogs (cont.)

Shuttle buses will transport students to and from the Fort Worth Stockyards National Historic District Saturday night for an all-campus party beginning at 9 p.m. at Billy Bob's Texas. That celebration coincides with Red Steagall's Cowboy Gathering and Western Swing Festival, already in progress within the district.

The test of purple pride will come at 9 a.m. Sunday with the heroic follow-through. Students will dismantle parade floats in the Frog Fountain area.

Serving on the committee with Suzy Straight are students Jenny Bryant, Celia Cullen, Laura Cummings, Ana Gomez, Dan Buckles, Anna-Margaret Ray, Rebekah Crisp, Lindsay Yates and Clay Gaillard. Carol Ann Lane is staff adviser.

HAIL TO AN AGGIE

What does it take to lure an Aggie into passing up an A&M football game to attend a TCU game? Being honored by his alma mater; that's what.

Lt. Col. Ray E. Toler, former Horned Frog drum major who now is director of bands at Texas A&M, is one of three TCU band alumni to be honored during TCU Homecoming celebration this weekend.

Toler, a 1964 graduate, has led the Aggie band since 1988 and for three years prior to that was chief of bands and music for the Air Force, stationed at the Pentagon, and conductor of the Air Force Band. He earned his master's degree at Trenton State University in New Jersey and is a Ph.D. candidate at A&M.

Toler and Don R. Hayes, Class of 1938, will receive TCU Band Alumni Hall of Fame plaques, will be honored at the band alumni breakfast Saturday and will be introduced prior to the TCU-Rice game. The third honoree, 1984 graduate Wayne P. Owen of Fort Worth, will be the first "Young Alumni" inductee and will be introduced at the breakfast.

Hayes currently is a faculty member at Angelo State University after a lengthy career in Texas public schools, including Belton, Sherman, Littlefield and Austin. "He set very high standards for 3A high school bands," said Dave Henning, interim director of bands.

Owen, who was president of the band in 1982-83 and president of Kappa Kappa Psi band fraternity in 1983-84, is management services manager for the Tarrant County Water District.

CROP WALK FOR HUNGER

TCU Hunger Week doesn't start until Nov. 16, but getting a head start is easy. Just take part in the eighth annual Fort Worth CROP Walk for Hunger that begins at Amon Carter Stadium at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, get all your friends to pledge money for every mile you walk, with the proceeds going to Hunger Week.

Pledge envelopes are available in the University Ministries office in the Student Center. Registration at the CROP Walk will begin at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the stadium. Food Bank of Greater Tarrant County will receive 25 percent of the money collected, and the remainder will be distributed by Church World Service to global hunger and relief programs.

SPANISH RECITAL SET OCT. 26

Enhancing the global semester concentration on Mexico and Latin America will be an Oct. 26 TCU Music Series presentation of "500 Years of Spanish Organ Music: 1492-1992." The performance by Dr. Linton E. Powell of the University of Texas at Arlington will be at St. Stephen Presbyterian Church, 2600 Merida, at 7:30 p.m. Powell holds a 1992 grant from National Endowment for the Arts for the purpose of giving concerts of Spanish organ music throughout the United States.

Professor of organ, harpsichord and musicology at UTA since 1976, Powell has written a book and many articles on Spanish keyboard music. He has presented recitals and read papers throughout the United States, including appearances for the North American Catalan Society at Yale University, American Society for 18th-Century Studies at Stanford University and a national meeting of the American Musicological Society.

In 1985 he was invited by Spain's Ministry of Culture to be a principal speaker at an international congress on "Spain in the Music of the West" in Salamanca. He was a Fulbright Professor of Organ in Argentina in the fall of 1988. Powell holds the Bachelor of Music degree in sacred music from Florida State University, the Master of Fine Arts in organ from the University of Georgia and the Ph.D. in musicology from the University of North Carolina.

'ELECTRON FAMILY' SCULPTURE ON LOAN

Dallas sculptor Chris Pauley's work "Electron Family," on loan through September 1993, has been installed on the lawn east of Reed and Jarvis halls. The Programming Council's visual arts committee, chaired by Angela Edmondson, brought the work to campus.

Pauley is a native of Santa Fe, N.M., who returned there briefly in 1989 to gain experience at the Shidoni Foundry. He was reared in Dallas, earned a degree in American Urban Studies from the University of Texas at Austin, worked in the Hirshhorn Sculpture Garden in Washington, D.C., and served an apprenticeship at the Jim Miller Metal Studio in Dallas.

He has described "Electron Family" as "a very modern icon/symbol using early industrial materials, including rusted steel, to capture a moment in time -- what an electron family would be -- spinning in the universe. This involves bonding and dancing through a choreographed space. The piece also is a bit of a dichotomy of ideas and skills."

Other works by Pauley have been exhibited at the Bath House Cultural Center, 500X and Grey Matters galleries in Dallas. Most recently he participated in the Texas Sculpture Association's membership show at Trammell Crow Center and a National Arts Program exhibition at Dallas City Hall. He took part in the International Sculpture Center Conference and Techshop at the San Antonio Art Institute earlier this year.

Pauley's career has included participation in mail art projects and a kinetic sculpture parade, design of a xeriscape exhibited at the State Fair of Texas and sculptural interpretation of two images and themes significant in Mexican culture: Dia de los muertos (Day of the Dead) and the Virgen de Guadalupe. He serves as a member of the advisory council of the Dallas Artists' Research and Exhibition group (D.A.R.E.).

He is a designer of art furniture as well. Pauley's furniture and fantasy sculpture have been shown at the Galleria, Kittrell Riffkin Art Glass, Olla Podrida and Boyd-Levinson & Co. Design Center in Dallas.

BETA ALPHA INDUCTS 26 MEMBERS

Twenty-six new members were inducted into the Beta Alpha chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, the international honor society in nursing, during ceremonies on campus Oct. 10. Speaker for the occasion was Dr. Maisie Kashka, former Harris College faculty member who currently is coordinator of the doctoral program for the Texas Woman's University College of Nursing.

Undergraduate inductees must have at least a 3.0 grade-point average and be in the upper third of their class. TCU's Beta Alpha chapter is one of 332 chapters throughout the world.

Inductees included Kimberly Barnes, Randie Bartholow, Brenda Breisch, John Cheyney, Annette Cockayne, Rita Collins, Kelly Curlee, Michelle Doyle, Heather Freeman, Kimberly Hall, Jonlyn Kerlin, Suzanne Ketner, Gwen McIlhaney, Linda Morris, Mindi Ray, Pamela Reid, Celia Roberts, Kathy Scott, Beverly Wyatt and Christine Wyatt-Terhune. Also inducted were six registered nurses -- Sylvia Alegre, Marva Carwell, Sonja Dreiling, Teri Escheverria, Sandra Laird and Caroline Sebirumbi.

The outstanding nurse award was presented Melissa Brannon, director of education for Harris Methodist-Fort Worth. The chapter's research awards were given to faculty members Marsha Cox, Alice Gaul and Susan Wilson. Janet Poliner and Phyllis Summers of Harris Methodist-Fort Worth were announced as recipients of grants from the Hogstel Gerontological Nursing Research Endowment Fund.

CENTER TO PRESENT EXECUTIVE TRAINING

"Managing Managers," an interactive program for key executive decision makers in profit and non-profit organizations, will be presented Oct. 26-30 by the Neeley School's Charles Tandy American Enterprise Center.

Improving productivity through innovative organizational design, building a motivated management team and developing an effective communication style are among topics that will be addressed. Management and communication experts from TCU, Pennsylvania State University, Southern Methodist University, the University of Alabama at Birmingham and the University of Texas at Austin will lead the program.

The American Enterprise Center serves as a link between the academic and business communities by providing executive development programs and facilitating the applied research needs of businesses. Additional information about "Managing Managers" is available from Director Jack Barrett, Ext. 7115.

TCU FAMILY NEEDS HELP

A tragedy in the family of Lela Cardona (facility services) has left family members in need of financial help. Lela's daughter, Jenny Davila, suffered a near-term miscarriage in early October, and the infant was buried Oct. 12.

Jenny was not insured and has no way to cover the expenses of hospitalization and the funeral, said University Minister John Butler. John's office in the Student Center is accepting donations.

SYMPHONY TO PLAY TOMORROW

Music by Sir Edward Elgar, Charles Ives and Aaron Copland will make up the program for the TCU Symphony concert at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The orchestra, conducted by Kurt Sprenger, will open its program with Introduction and Allegro for Strings by Elgar, celebrated as the first composer to bring England to the front rank in orchestral music, followed by Ives' Unanswered Question, in which the strings sing softly and the woodwinds interrupt six times with their question, but nothing is resolved.

Finale will be Appalachian Spring by Copland, who was born in Brooklyn in 1900 and is one of the first truly 20th-Century figures in American music.

TCU TO SHOW AIDS QUILT PANELS

Sixteen panels from the AIDS quilt will be on view in the Student Center ballroom Nov. 29-Dec. 1 (World AIDS Day), and volunteers are needed to help with the display.

University Minister John Butler, whose office will coordinate the showing, said volunteers are needed to serve as display guides and as grief responders and to help with AIDS education. John's office will train the volunteers. Also helping with the project are Barbara Herman of Alcohol and Drug Education, Scott Horton of Student Activities, Doug Newsom of journalism and Kathy McDorman of history.

The AIDS quilt display also is sponsored by the NAMES Project of Tarrant County, AIDS Coordinating Council, AIDS Interfaith Network, AIDS Outreach Center and Tarrant County Public Health Department's HIV Prevention Service.

Prospective volunteers should contact John at Ext. 7830, or Barbara at Ext. 7100 or Scott at Ext. 5226.

SANTA ' ELVES' DELIVER COMPUTERS

Christmas in October may be unusual, but no one complained last week when Information Services' staff members and student assistants wearing Santa caps delivered computers to campus offices. The computers are the result of a $33,500 grant from Tandy Corporation being combined with a $31,865 fund-matching gift from IBM, which matches five-to-one donations made by its employees to TCU.

Search for funds for computers for faculty members who did not have them was begun last spring by Dave Edmondson, assistant vice chancellor for information services. Deans, in cooperation with department chairmen, identified faculty members who needed the equipment. Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler worked with Dave in determining the recipients, "who were all 31 persons on the deans' lists," Dave said.

The IBM compatible computer packages include a 385 SX 25 mega hertz computer, a monitor and an Epson dot-matrix printer. Computer software ranging from WordPerfect 3.0 to an anti-virus program also were included. The distribution included two packages to the Neeley School of Business, three to School of Education, seven to College of Fine Arts and Communication, seven to Harris College of Nursing and 12 to AddRan College.

Describing this as a "major step toward achieving one of the goals developed by the Self Study's academic computer committee," Dave emphasized a commitment to support this program and to continue to seek funds until all faculty members on campus have been furnished microcomputers.

THANKS FOR THE RIGHT FROG!

TCU'S new scoreboard-- despite its 5,000 colored lights and its $300,000 price tag -- was almost a disaster. It was set up in Amon Carter Stadium displaying a bullfrog, not a Horned Frog!

That gaffe was solved when part-time computer professor Terry Brockhausen took over the computer graphics and was able to design a Horned Frog.

Since Terry has been involved with the project, he has spent between 200 and 300 hours designing graphics, writing computer programs and testing the results. At every football game, he controls the board from the score box above the 30 yard line.

Terry has no contract, and his monetary compensation is minimal, but he's excited about the job. "I want to keep adding things and developing it. This could be an incredible tool for the school; it's like a big production."

The scoreboard production, like others, requires a lot of preparation before showtime. "Every time I work on this, I'm preparing it for the next game," Terry said, "and every time I work on it I find a problem to solve."

One of those problems involves the communication between cheerleaders, band and score box. "It's very difficult to hear up there," according to Terry. "If everyone could work together, the effect would be tremendous. It would be nice to know the Alma Mater is going to be played so I could put the words on the screen, but these days no one really knows when to play it."

Another problem is the color and image distortion that occurs when fans look at the board from different points in the stadium. Terry said the images are sometimes disturbed because the board is flat and the stadium round. He is learning animation as the season progresses and is finding out which colors work best to combat the distortion.

Number one job for the board is to communicate with the crowd. Donated by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, the board also advertises. Most advertisers change with every ball game, but frequent users are the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Frog Club and Gatorade.

Terry, who earned his Ph.D. in history here in 1981, will keep working to perfect the board's usefulness in the stadium. "I'm really dedicated to this project," he said. "I can't wait to see what we can do with it. The possibilities are limited only by my imagination."

HALLOWEEN EVENT TO BE OCT. 29

Colby Hall's 20th annual Halloween open house for faculty and staff members' children will be Oct. 29. Begun in 1973 by Katie de Plata, retired hall director, the 6 to 8 p.m. event offers a safe, secure "trick or treat" outing for children.

All children under 12 years of age of faculty and staff members as well as of students are welcome.

JAZZ BAND TO PLAY THURSDAY

An "early Homecoming" concert by the Tuesday-Thursday Jazz Ensemble Thursday will include favorites for both students and alums. The band, directed by Curt Wilson, will perform from 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. in the Student Center lounge and will feature Glenn Miller and Tommy Dorsey favorites for old-timers as well as contemporary jazz.

ESSAY CONTEST OPEN TO SENIORS

The ethics essay contest for the 1993 Elie Wiesel Prize, which has a Dec. 30 deadline for entries, is open to full-time seniors. Sponsored by the Elie Wiesel Foundation for Humanity and offering a first prize of $5,000, the contest challenges students to identify, define and analyze contemporary ethical questions, issues or dilemmas and to think carefully about complex human and social problems.

The 3,000- to 4,000-word entries defining ethical perspectives and principles relative to the topic can address one of three subjects -- "The Meaning of Ethics Today: Choices, Challenges and Changes," "What Is the Ethical Legacy of the 20th Century?" or "Can Ethics Be Taught?"

The sponsoring foundation was established by Professor Elie Wiesel of Boston University three months after he won the Nobel Peace Prize. He has spent much of his adult life working on behalf of oppressed people, and his first-hand witnessing of the Holocaust led to his using his talents as author, teacher and storyteller to defend human rights and peace throughout the world. This annual essay contest is funded by E. Billie Ivry and The Thaler Family Foundation.

Additional details about entries are available from the Dean of Students Office, Sadler Hall 101.

INCORRECT LIST USED FOR FROG CALLS

An incorrect label list was used recently for distribution of the 1992-93 Frog Calls. Persons who did not receive the current directory should call Printing and Mailing at Ext. 7838, and a copy will be sent to them immediately, according to Manager Aletha Lambert

"Please contact Printing and Mailing for prompt pickup of Frog Calls addressed to persons no longer employed in your department," she added.

MANAGEMENT RESEARCH IS LECTURE TOPIC

Dr. Angelo DeNisi of Rutgers University will discuss his recent National Science Foundation-sponsored research on the subject of social cognition implications for performance appraisal at 4:30 p.m. Friday in Tandy Hall 120. The presentation is made possible by a TCU Research Fund grant.

Professor of Human Resource Management at Rutgers, DeNisi has served as the primary researcher for two major NSF performance appraisal projects. He was co-principal investigator for an Army Research Institute study on recruit retention and for an American Textile Manufacturers' Institute project dealing with the textile industry labor force through the end of the decade.

The licensed industrial psychologist is a fellow of both the American Psychological Association and the American Psychological Society and has consulted on projects dealing with performance appraisal, selection, job analysis and training program evaluation for public and private sector organizations.

DeNisi has published numerous articles on performance appraisal, job analysis, leadership, recruitment and retention in such journals as Academy of Management Journal, Organizational Behavior and Human Decision Processes and Industrial and Labor Relations Review.

Presently consulting editor for the Academy of Management Journal, DeNisi serves on the editorial boards of the Journal of Applied Psychology, Human Resource Planning Journal, Review of Public Personnel Administration and Journal of Managerial Issues.

Additional information about DeNisi's presentation is available from Larry Peters, Ext. 7538.

TCU IN THE NEWS

The Spring-Summer edition of UPDATE: Applications of Research in Music Education calls attention to a study by Ruth Whitlock (music) to develop and evaluate materials to help students gain information about music and musical style in high school choral rehearsals. The article by Vance D. Wolverton of California State University at Fullerton points out that Ruth created a Musical Information Test to evaluate the usefulness of the materials and that students achieved a substantial gain from pretest to post-test.

Mark Toulouse (Brite) was interviewed Oct. 4 on Faith Focus at 6:30 a.m. on KXAS-TV. He discussed "Religion and Politics." Walter Harrelson (Brite) and Toni Craven (Brite) were featured Sept. 27 on Faith Focus. Their topic was "Interpreting the Hebrew Bible." The show is hosted by Renee Hoke, a student at Brite.

Admissions Dean Leo Munson was among area school representatives quoted in the Star-Telegram's Sept. 28 story about fall enrollments. While the University of North Texas and the University of Texas at Arlington showed enrollment declines of 2 percent each, TCU's enrollment is up 190 students, and applications were up 20 percent. Most economic changes affect independent institutions less than state facilities, Leo said.

According to an article in the Oct. 2 issue of Business Press, three TCU students are among 12 persons enrolled in allied health professions in area colleges and graduate schools to receive scholarships from the Tarrant County Medical Society. They are Pamela Sesco in nursing, Kathryn Barker in speech pathology and Brenda Snow in dietetics.

"He does open people's eyes as well as preach to the already converted" was a quote from David McLennan (speech communications) in the Star-Telegram's Oct. 7 story on William Buckley's presentation for the Distinguished Speakers Forum. David also noted that when Buckley or Pat Buchanan "raise an issue it certainly becomes a concern for the candidate as well."

Opinions on the first presidential debate were solicited from David by Star-Telegram writer Bill Hanna. The story appeared Oct. 12.

"Small Town Culture: A Texas Perspective," the popular non-credit course led by adjunct faculty member Joyce Roach (English) this fall, was featured in the Oct. 14 issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's Tarrant Southwest section. Reporter Martha Deller and photographer Steve Garipey attended a special class session at the Paris Coffee Shop. Three lecturers -- doctoral students Susan Blassingame and Gary Rogers (English) and master's candidate Delight Roach (speech communication) -- as well as Carol Eickmeyer (extended education) and class participants Jo Floyd (library), Neil Ross and Sarah Biles -- were mentioned in the story "Losing big-town blues." In response to the "packed house" of more than 60 persons who enrolled for the current course, Joyce indicated she is planning to offer a follow-up class next fall.

Susan, who shared some of her community cafe research during the Paris Coffee Shop session, was quoted extensively in a related article, "Serving coffee, with a side helping of camaraderie," by Bill Teeter, printed alongside the course story. "The cafe may be more fundamental to the personal and social lives than the courthouses or the businesses," she said. A mix of dirt-gathering bosses, local authorities in search of advance information "to ward off trouble" and a cross-section of others listen and hold forth in cafes, she noted. For many, the cafe has taken the place of the home kitchen table.

TCU IN THE NEWS

The Winston-Salem Journal carried a lengthy interview Sept. 20 with Richard Estes, new director of the University's opera program. Richard, who formerly taught singing at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, was in Winston-Salem to sing the title role in Gounod's Faust with the Piedmont Opera. He explained to the Journal reporter that the TCU opera program is small, "but that's one of the things that attracted me. They're interested in quality and not in using pressure to put on a lot of productions. They're also interested in developing a training program."

COLOR PHOTO LECTURE IS THURSDAY

Kenda North, who chairs the art department at the University of Texas at Arlington, will present a slide/lecture at 11:15 a.m. Thursday in Moudy 132N. In her lecture, titled "Light and Color," the color photographer will discuss her work over the last 20 years.

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED

The ESA/GED/Adult Basic Education classes being held in the Moudy Building each Tuesday and Thursday from 3 until 5 p.m. are in need of volunteers for one-on-one tutoring. It is not necessary to be bilingual or to volunteer for the entire four hours per week. Interested persons should contact the Human Resources office at Ext. 7095.

HALL OF FAME HONORS TCU STUDENT

Neeley School graduate business student Ricardo Coro has been honored by the Texas Business Hall of Fame Foundation and awarded a $5,000 academic scholarship.

The Hall of Fame inducts top scholars from Texas colleges and universities as well as business leaders who live or work in the state. Past business community honorees have included Mary Kay Ash, Ross Perot, the late Amon Carter Sr., Stanley Marcus and Trammell Crow. Schools nominate their top scholars for consideration by the Hall of Fame, which interviews leading candidates and presents cash scholarships to winning students.

Among the latest in a long line of Hall of Fame honorees from TCU, the Fort Worth resident was one of 17 students selected this year, said Hall of Fame Executive Director Lynne K. Tiras.

Ricardo left his full-time job as a senior engineer with General Dynamics to pursue an M.B.A. degree in 1991. Holder of two aerospace engineering degrees from Georgia Institute of Technology, he has a strong academic background that resulted in his receiving a PepsiCo corporate scholarship to study at TCU. The award provides full-time tuition and pays a $7,500-a-year stipend.

While Ricardo worked at General Dynamics, he managed a multi-functional team that designed and tested a short-takeoff/landing fighter aircraft. He was instrumental in securing several multi-million dollar contracts for hypersonic vehicle research and led an effort to design a supersonic commercial airliner. He also developed computer programs for vehicle analysis and design, participated in the design of several new fighter aircraft and received two awards for saving General Dynamics more than $100,000 by streamlining the design process for high-speed aircraft.

NOTES ON FOLKS

Lee Daniel (modern languages and literatures) has just published in the Journal Confluencia his article titled "El 'Dixie Gongorism' de Joaquín Bestard Vázquez y la Obsesión de Germán Ortiga." This article is part of Lee's ongoing research that is devoted to Joaquín Bestard, a Mexican novelist/short story writer from Mérida, Yucatán.

Ralph Guenther (emeritus, music) has had confirmation from Southern Music Co. in San Antonio that his composition for five flutes, entitled Song of the Bard, will be published this fall. One of Ralph's most recent compositions is for a cappella choir and entitled Alleluia.

He also has written a book of studies for solo flute entitled 20 Etudes (For These Changing Times). It has been accepted for publication by CPP/Belwin Inc., Miami, Fla., and will be issued this fall.

Students of Donna Hall (speech communication) performing at the Texas Speech Communication Association Convention in Waco Oct. 1-3 were Kim Christianson, Kelli Johnson, Darlene Kirkley, Sara Turman and graduate students Shauna Lewis, Delight Roach and Samantha Sloan. Also attending was Carleen Spry (M.S. 1992), who compiled the script based upon Civil War material. A gallery theatre format was used for the performance at the Historic Village located near the Baylor campus.

Sympathy is expressed to Stephanie Rand (ballet and modern dance) on the death of her father, George W. MacFarlane, Oct. 12 in California. Funeral services and burial were conducted in Chicago Oct. 15. The family has requested that friends desiring to commemorate his life do so by making donations to the Alzheimer's Association, 70 E. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., 606010-5997.

At the annual conference of the Western Literature Association, Oct. 9-11 in Reno, Nev. Fred Erisman (English) chaired a session on "Redefining the Cowboy/Girl" and presented a paper, "Coming of Age in Montana: The Legacy of A.B. Guthrie." The paper examines Guthrie's 10 novels of the Mountain West and traces through them the author's use of the theme of "growing up with the country."

Mark Thistlethwaite (art/art history) was guest lecturer and essayist for a recent exhibition at UTA's Center for Research in Contemporary Art. A revised version of the talk--"Tending One's Garden: Sara Water's Power-ful Images"--will appear in the CRCA's publication.

Biologist John Horner is author of a paper titled "Influence of plant genotype and environment on oviposition preference and offspring survival in a gallmaking herbivore" in Oecologia (vol. 90). The paper addresses the validity of the assumption that (insect) mothers always know what is best for the survival of their offspring, an assumption widely held by evolutionary biologists and by human moms for their offspring but frequently contested by their offspring, he says.

In early October Spencer Wertz (philosophy) attended the annual meeting of the Philosophic Society for the Study of Sport which was hosted by the Free University of Berlin, Germany. Spencer read a paper on the philosophy of Paul Weiss entitled "The Metaphysics of Sport: The Play as Process" at one of the sessions and participated in the debate on the nature and future of the Olympic Games. His trip was funded by the City of Berlin.

Oct. 6 marked a double addition to the family of Michael Butler (economics) and his wife Jessie. Their twins, Alan Fletcher and Faith Alicia, weighed 6 pounds 11 ounces and 7 pounds 11 ounces, respectively.

Dick Waits (economics) will participate in the international conference of the Association for Cultural Economics being held in Fort Worth Wednesday through Saturday. Ninety people from 22 countries are expected to attend the conference. The organization boasts 300 participants worldwide.

Calendar of Events

- Oct. 20 --Exhibition on Nobel Laureate Pablo Neruda in Mary Coats Burnett Library through Nov. 5, including photographs, books and other works.
--Women's soccer, TCU-Notre Dame, TCU soccer field, 3 p.m.
--TCU Research Lecture in mathematics, "The search for mathematical truth," by Prof. Steve Jackson of University of North Texas, Winton-Scott 145, 4 p.m.
Refreshments, Winton-Scott 171, 3:30 p.m.
- Oct. 21 --TCU Symphony concert, conducted by Kurt Sprenger, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.
- Oct. 22 --"Light and Color," TCU lecture/slide show by Kenda North, art department chairwoman, University of Texas at Arlington, Moudy 132N, 11:15 a.m.
--Tuesday-Thursday Jazz Ensemble concert, Student Center lounge, 11:45 a.m.
--Lecture/slide presentation, "Diego Rivera and the Murals of Mexico," by visiting lecturer Gregorio Luke, first secretary of the Mexican Embassy in Washington, DC, Moudy Building 141 N, 2 p.m.
- Oct. 23 --Rolex Southwest regional intercollegiate championships, Lard Tennis Center, through Oct. 26, 8:30 a.m.
--Lecture/slide presentation, "Frida Kahlo," by visiting lecturer Gregorio Luke, first secretary of the Mexican Embassy in Washington, D.C., Moudy 132 N, 7 p.m.
- Oct. 24 --Football, TCU-Rice (Homecoming), Amon Carter Stadium, 2 p.m.
- Oct. 25 --CROP Walk, beginning at Amon Carter Stadium at 1:30 p.m.
--Soccer, TCU women-Huntingdon women, noon; TCU men-Huntingdon men, 2 p.m., TCU soccer field.
- Oct. 26 --Organ recital by Linton Powell of Hispanic/Latin American Music, St. Stephen Presbyterian Church, 2600 Merida, 7:30 p.m.
--"Managing Managers," featuring management/communication experts from TCU, SMU, University of Texas, Penn State, University of Alabama-Birmingham and University of Denver, TCU Charles Tandy American Enterprise Center, through Oct. 30. For information, contact Jack Barrett at Ext. 7115.

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Women's golf team members who missed classes on October 8 and 9 to participate in the Lady Kat Invitational at Lexington, Kentucky:

Copping, Charlotte    Doran, Geraldine    Germain, Sharon    Kragh, Jane
Perry, Julie

TCU Jazz Ensemble members who missed their classes at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Friday, October 9 to perform in the Student Center for the opening of Parents Weekend:

Arthur, Garrett	Atchley, Wayne	Compher, Chuck	Dalton, Jeff
DeCross, Derek	Dixon, Jason	Evans, Trent	Evetts, Chris
Gunter, Trey	Herring, Scott	Holmes, Clayton	Ingle, Chris
Lambert, Glenn	Laney, Rob	Martin, Roger	Michener, John
Parker, Jared	Pena, William	Snipes, Joel	Spells, Jonathan
Wygel, Donovan

Men's tennis team members who missed classes after 1 p.m., October 12, and on October 13, 14 and 15 to participate in Volvo Qualifying Championships at Austin:

Becouarn, Laurent	Bowen, Devin	Juinio, Ryan	Robinson, Paul
Rubio, Ricardo	Roditi, David

Football team members who missed classes after 7 p.m. on Thursday, October 15, to participate in game at Miami:

Allen, Marcus	Alvarez, Angel	Avery, Chad	Ayers, Joey
Barnes, Clifford	Baumann, Todd	Bendele, Phillip	Black, Mike
Bolden, Tunji	Bowdoin, David	Brannon, Jody	Breedlove, David
Brewer, Kevin	Brooks, Brian	Carroll, Shelby	Carter, Brashant
Cassey, Charlie	Chilton, Jason	Clay, Leon	Coleman, Carter
Collins, Brian	Connelly, Patrick	Cordesman, Kevin	Cornell, Labron
Cox, Doug	Cromwell, John	Crow, Brandon	Cullors, Derrick
Davis, Andre	Denton, Don	Dye, David	Evans, Greg
Ford, Corey	Frederick, Eric	Garcia, Bernee	Harper, Baraka
Hallford, Heather	Harriss, Greg	Hickman, Anthony	Holler, Phillip
Holmes, Kevin	Hopes, Manvel	Houston, Mike	Jackson, Michael
Jackson, Sadd	Johnson, Greg	Jones, Bobby	Jones, Calvin
Jones, Lenoy	Katri, Matt	Kelly, Jason	King, David
Knake, Max	Ladner, Jim	Lafavers, Rick	Lamb, Duke
Lamb, Michael Scott	Lansford, Matt	Martin, Mikyha	Martin, Steve
McLeod, Scott	McPhearson, Kyle	McWilliams, Charles	Merritt, Renee
Milby, Boyd	Modkins, Curtis	Mooney, Matt	Moore, Kelly
Morse, Jody	Moulton, Mike	Myers, Tyson	Nash, Steve
Noack, Mike	Oglesby, John	Oliveira, Rudolfo	Oliver, Jimmy
Osborne, Aaron	Piland, Chris	Pryor, Vincent	Rand, Tony
Rawlins, Beau	Reed, Steven	Rentic, Caesar	Ritchmond, Jason
Robbins, Barret	Roy, Tyron	Sabolovic, Mike	Sato, Naoki
Schultz, Darren	Shipley, Stephen	Simmons, Paul	Smith, Brad
Smith, Robert Lee	Smith, Vydon	Stephenson, Clint	Townsend, Michael
Wallace, Brad	Washington, John T	Weems, Billy	Wesley, Rico
West, Royal	Wilkinson, Jeff	Woodley, Richard	Wright, Adam

CLASSIFIED:

Information Redacted