

BULLETIN

Issued by the Office of Communications and Public Affairs

VOLUME 71, NO. 16

DECEMBER 6, 1994

FROG FEVER BUILDS FOR INDEPENDENCE BOWL Purple-powered parties and pep rallies planned

As TCU's football squad gears up to take on nationally ranked Virginia in the Poulan/Weed Eater Independence Bowl Dec. 28 in Shreveport, La., fans on and off campus are making plans to witness the Frog's first bowl appearance since 1984.

Head coach Pat Sullivan is encouraging all "Home Team" fans to take their enthusiasm on the road. "Your support and spirit are why the Frogs are in the Independence Bowl," Pat says. "Once more, I ask you to pull for the home team. A strong TCU crowd can make a difference."

Special travel packages and events organized by TCU alumni relations and sports marketing staff members promise to make the game a fun-filled event whether you're planning a one-day or an overnight trip to Shreveport.

To purchase game tickets, contact the TCU ticket office at 922-FROG or 1-800-800-SWC8. Ticket prices range from $25 for end zone seats, $30 for bench seats beyond 30-yard lines and $35 for armchair seats between the 30-yard lines.

Accommodations are somewhat limited in the Shreveport area. There are 33 hotels or motels and five bed-and-breakfasts. To find a room, call the Shreveport Convention and Visitor's bureau's hotel hotline at 1-800-551-8682. For other city-related information call the Fax-Back line at 1-800-396-2452. If you can't find a room in Shreveport, try Natchitoches, La., one hour south of Shreveport. The city has 12 B&B's and six motels. The city's Christmas lights are said to be extraordinary. Another nearby destination is Jefferson, Texas, a historical city one hour west of Shreveport. The town has 50 B&B's and dozens of antique shops.

If you can't find a room, one-day bus tours are available for Frog fans. Buses will depart TCU at noon and return immediately following the game. The $29 round-trip tour includes soft drinks. Feel free to bring your own snacks or other beverages. Call 1-800-256-0815 to make reservations.

Numerous Independence Bowl parties and special events are planned in Shreveport:

Tuesday, Dec. 27

11:30 a.m. Minuteman Luncheon, Expo Hall, Clyde Fant Parkway.

The luncheon is a formal, seated luncheon for teams, official parties and the public. The event includes a guest speaker, video presentations and awards. Tickets are $20 and may be purchased by calling the Frog Club at Ext. 7700.

6 p.m.

Rally on the Red Pep Rally, Expo Hall, Clyde Fant Parkway.

Casual-dress event featuring live entertainment, Battle of the Bands, cheer sessions food booths, cash bar, live entertainment and dancing. Tickets are $5 at the door.

INDEPENDENCE BOWL (cont.)Wednesday, Dec. 28

- 3 p.m. Red, White & Blue Tailgate Party, Hirsch Coliseum Fairgrounds.
"Louisiana style" casual pregame party featuring Cajun cuisine and music.
Cash bar. Tickets are $2 at the door. Wear your purple!
- 7 p.m. Poulan/Weed Eater Independence Bowl XIX
- After game Purple Postgame Gathering. Randall's, corner of Travis and Commerce.

Shreveport /Bossier City is famous for riverboat casinos such as Harrah's, Horseshoe Riverboat, and the Isle of Capri. Downtown Shreveport also features numerous eateries and museums within walking distance of the riverboats. See you in Shreveport!

NEW RESUME SERVICE HELPS STUDENTS, EMPLOYERS

Once a typewriter was the tool of necessity for the anxious senior pecking away at a resume to land that first job after college. In recent years, word processors and laser printers have extended the reach of soon-to-be graduates trying to impress their prospective first employers.

Now with a computerized resume service offered by the Career Planning and Placement Center, TCU students have a new way to tout their experiences and communicate with potential employers.

With Resume Expert Plus, students can craft numerous resume formats after a one-time entry of vital information on academic achievements and work experience, according to Career Center Director Carolyn Ulrickson.

Students begin by picking up Resume Expert Plus disks from the Career Center. After information on academic achievements and work experience has been entered and saved to disk, students return to the Career Center to print a typeset-quality resume that can be duplicated for distribution to potential employers.

A unique feature of the program allows electronic versions of students' resumes to be stored in a searchable data base. This allows the Career Center to quickly match qualified students for job vacancies, Carolyn said. Given criteria identified by employers, resumes can be extracted and faxed to them directly from the computer data base.

Carolyn noted that students benefit by using technology that allows them to focus on content and to simplify the creation of various styles of resumes that can be targeted to a variety of organizations. Potential employers also benefit because qualified students can be identified in a fraction of the time that a paper-based resume system offers. Carolyn added that the program also streamlines the service provided by the Career Center, enabling the office to put more student resumes in front of more potential employers.

FLU VACCINES AVAILABLE IN HEALTH CENTER

Flu season is fast approaching! For those of you who have not received a flu vaccine, they are still available at the Health Center. The vaccine is $10 per injection for TCU faculty, staff and students.

THISTLETHWAITE NAMED TO KIMBELL CHAIR

Art professor Mark Thistlethwaite has been named to the Kay and Velma Kimbell Chair of Art History at TCU. The appointment was made by Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs Bill Koehler.

A $1 million grant from the Kimbell Art Foundation established the endowed faculty chair in the Department of Art and Art History. The endowment marked the beginning of a three-phase plan to expand the undergraduate art history program and to create a graduate program. Development of a course of study leading to a doctoral degree is a long-term goal.

Mark, who joined TCU in 1977, holds a Ph.D. degree in the history of art from the University of Pennsylvania and is a specialist in art of the United States and modern European art. He has published extensively and has received numerous teaching awards, including the Chancellor's Award for Distinguished Teaching. A guest curator at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Mark has acted as a consultant for a major exhibition of American history painting, and was co-organizer of a lecture series for the Kimbell Art Museum's Barnes Foundation Collection Exhibition. He supervises TCU student internships, regularly lectures at area art museums and serves on numerous committees for regional museums.

"Mark's credentials are known around the country, and he is virtually a household name among art historians and many museum directors," said Bob Garwell, dean of the College of Fine Arts and Communication. "He is held in high regard by all museums in the area and has an excellent, long-standing working relationship with each of them. It's natural for Mark to be the person identified as the Kimbell chair."

The Kimbell Art Museum, owned and operated by the Kimbell Art Foundation, is renowned for its extraordinary permanent collection and its ability to attract world-class exhibits. In the years since the Kimbell opened in 1972, TCU art and art history students have benefited from the museum. Regularly scheduled classes and field trips have been conducted to take advantage of loan exhibits and symposia as well as the Kimbell's outstanding art holdings.

CONSERVATION TOPIC OF SPRING COURSE

Soil erosion and ecology will be among the topics discussed in an evening course on Ranch Conservation and Development to be offered at TCU this spring. The class will meet on Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Sid Richardson Building's Lecture Hall 2. Classes begin on Jan. 17.

Course topics also will include ecology of plant and animal development; land productivity evaluation; soil management and conservation; planning and construction of fences, corrals and working facilities; and planning and development of water facilities and buildings. Students may call the Ranch Management office at Ext. 7145 to request registration and tuition information.

Using course outlines from the day program, regular faculty members teach one evening course each semester for ranchers and others who are unable to attend the full-time, yearlong program. Students are awarded certificates after completing all seven.

Upcoming evening courses include: marketing of livestock and meats, fall 1995; beef cattle production, spring 1996; grassland management, fall 1996; animal nutrition and feeding, spring 1997; and animal health and reproduction, fall 1997.

FACULTY, STAFF INVITED TO LATE NIGHT BREAKFAST

Chancellor Bill Tucker, vice chancellors and two dozen faculty and staff members will serve the annual late night study break breakfast from 11 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. on Dec. 13. Students, faculty and staff members are invited to attend.

This year, students have the opportunity to catch hayrides from Worth Hills to the Student Center Main cafeteria where Santa, Mrs. Claus and their elves will be waiting to greet the students in need of a study break. Another feature this year will be a sing-a-long with a Christmas carol-equipped karaoke machine.

A full breakfast menu of scrambled eggs, pancakes, sausage, hash browns, muffins, milk, juice, coffee and hot chocolate will be served. The cost of the breakfast is $2.

M.L.A. CLASSES EXPLORE HISTORY OF DRUG USE, WAR

The history of war and the American drug experience are just two of the topics to be explored in the TCU Master of Liberal Arts courses scheduled for spring. Classes begin Jan. 17, and all but one will meet from 6:30 to 9:10 p.m.

- On Mondays, history chair Spencer Tucker will trace the causes and effects of war, the evolution of military technology and the role played by leadership in "The History of War" (MALA 6713).
- Two classes will be offered on Tuesdays: Art Berliner, emeritus professor of social work, will examine the 19th century origins of widespread drug use in America and the psychological and social aspects of contemporary drug use in "The American Drug Experience" (MALA 7553); Bob Frye of the English faculty will explore selected satirists' works and techniques in "The Satiric Vision: From Jonah to Doonesbury" (MALA 6693).
- On Wednesday evenings, journalism chair Anantha Babbili will provide a critical analysis and overview of mass media in its cultural context in "Mass Media and Society" (MALA 6043), and Gary Tate, Addie Levy Professor of Literature, will teach "American English: Past, Present, Future" (MALA 7173), a study of the English language in America from colonial times to the present.
- In the only daytime offering, Jean Giles-Sims of the sociology faculty will examine new ideas, data and theories to interpret the changing roles of men and women in contemporary society in "Men, Women and Society: New Definition of Roles" (MALA 7013). The class will meet Wednesdays, 11 a.m.-2 p.m., Jan. 18-April 12.
- Thursday offerings include "Energy Resources, Alternatives and Environmental Issues" (MALA 7073), a study of the distribution of the world's resources and a look at alternative sources of energy, to be taught by Ken Morgan of the geology faculty; and "The American Revolution: A Blessing or a Curse" (MALA 6533), to be taught by Frank Reuter, emeritus professor of history.

For more information on courses, call the M.L.A. office at Ext. 7515.

DEC. 13 IS FINAL ISSUE FOR FALL

The Dec. 13 issue of the Weekly Bulletin is the last for the fall semester. Items for consideration for that issue must be submitted to the communications office, Sadler 321, by 5 p.m. today (Tuesday). Publication of the Bulletin will resume on Jan. 17. Items for that issue must be received by noon on Jan. 10.

CAMPUS GREETINGS KEEP ON GIVING

During the holiday season in 1972, the "In Lieu of Christmas Cards Scholarship Fund" was established by Dean Libby Proffer and others to encourage giving to a scholarship fund instead of sending cards to on-campus friends.

During this season of giving, contributions are again being accepted in the financial aid office, Sadler Hall 108, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. They may also be mailed to TCU Box 30787. Last year's contributions totaled $635, bringing the grand total to more than $10,000.

Gifts to specific funds should be designated by donors on their checks or by attached notes. There is no minimum donation. This year's donors will be listed in the Jan. 17 Weekly Bulletin.

SENIORS TO DISPLAY 'INFINITE POSSIBILITIES'

"Eight Choreographers, Infinite Possibilities," a free dance concert featuring the works of eight TCU dance students, will be performed Saturday at 8 p.m. in TCU's Ballet and Modern Dance Building Studio B.

The dances were choreographed by seven undergraduate students and one graduate student. Students select their own music, theme and dancers.

One of the concert's many highlights will be "Dancing Like 'Sam' Part One," choreographed by Michelle Tyer Haberle, a modern dance graduate student. The dance was created from a computer software program called Liforms, which enables choreographers to compose dances on the computer utilizing a programmable figure. The choreographer can then apply the computer-created dance to a live dancer.

Other dances choreographed by senior modern dance majors will include "Los Ninos," choreographed by Sundi Scott; "The Soul of a Woman," choreographed by Tequila Barnes; and "I will always love/hate you till death (or injury) do us part," choreographed by Stacey Royce.

Dances choreographed by senior ballet majors include: "Vaseline" and "You Don't Have To Go," both choreographed by Tammy Schmidt; "The Lady and The Clarinet," choreographed by Cecelia Heimback; and "6 Support 2," choreographed by Tricia Nail.

The concert is free and open to the public. Audience members are asked to bring canned and processed food donations for the Tarrant County Food Bank.

SERVICES HELD FOR RETIRED FACULTY

Two retired TCU faculty members recently died. Thelma Cash, a retired assistant professor of English, died Nov. 25 at a Fort Worth hospital. John Hays Hammond, retired professor and past chair of TCU's Department of Foreign Languages, died Thanksgiving morning in Austin.

Mrs. Cash, 82, received her bachelor's and master's degrees from TCU. She was a member of TCU's English department for 22 years and was a committee member for the creative writing contest here and a member of the Texas Poetry Society. She is survived by her husband, George Cash of Fort Worth, and a brother.

Dr. Hammond, also 82, taught Spanish and French here, and was chair of the foreign languages department from 1958 to 1972. He spent 11 years in Mexico until his wife's death in 1987, when he moved to Austin. He is survived by four children and seven grandchildren.

BE ON ALERT FOR TELEPHONE FRAUD

All faculty and staff are asked to be on the alert for a potential telephone fraud. Callers representing themselves as AT&T technicians are placing collect calls to campus offices and asking for assistance in checking reported transmission problems. The caller then assures that the collect call will not be billed to the university and asks to be conferenced through to an 800 number.

If you receive any collect calls asking for help checking on transmission problems, please transfer the caller to the TCU operator.

FACULTY, STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Russell Burnam is the new assistant director/tennis professional in the Mary Potishman Lard Tennis Center. He is a recent finance graduate of the University of Tulsa and was formerly a tennis pro for Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa.

The new craft tech supervisor II in the general maintenance division of the physical plant is Rex Helms. Rex received his B.A. degree in electrical engineering from Southern Technical Institute. He was previously employed by Colonial Manor Nursing Center and Huguley Hospital.

Tonya Madison is a new service assistant I in facility services. Her previous employment includes home health care for the elderly.

Glen Payton is the new assistant safety director for TCU. Glen received his B.S. degree in community health from Texas A&M. Previously he was employed by Kenmont Laboratories, Inc.

The chemistry department's new research associate is Nuh-Tome Huang. Nuh-Tome received his Ph.D. in chemistry from Clemson University, where he also was a student employee.

The following temporary staff employees have been placed in regular positions in residential services: Margie Diamond, Arturo Maciel, Hilaria Chavez and Herminia Rodriguez. Before coming to TCU, Margie owned a dressmaking business. Arturo is a previous employee of TCU's facility services and is still employed part-time by the Fort Worth Independent School District. Hilaria and Herminia are both former employees of the Worthington Hotel.

NOTES ON FOLKS

Andy Fort (religion) recently led a panel called "The Many Hinduisms of the Classroom" at the American Academy of Religion meetings in Chicago. Andy also was asked to be the book review editor for books on Hinduism for Religious Studies Review and to join an ecumenical group that will hold meetings in Kyoto, Japan, in March. A book Andy co-edited and wrote a chapter for, Living Liberation in Hindu Thought, has been accepted for publication by the State University of New York Press.

Neil Easterbrook (English) recently attended a convention of the South Central Modern Language Association (SCMLA) in New Orleans. Neil delivered a paper addressing political models in popular fiction. He was chair of a panel titled, "Theory, Antitheory, Practice." Neil also served as secretary for the Society for Critical Exchange, a national organization with a chapter affiliated with SCMLA.

David Addis and Charlie Deeter (mathematics) attended the Seventh Annual International Conference on Technology in Collegiate Mathematics in Orlando, Fla., Nov. 17-20. Both attended a number of workshops and minicourses on the use of graphing calculators and computers in mathematics courses.

TCU's Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight hosted the 1994 Area Region Conclave (ARCON) at the Arlington Hilton Nov. 18-20. Representatives from some 14 universities in the Southwest Region were in attendance. TCU's ARCON staff hosted a military ball and Friday night social as part of the event.

Richard Estes and Janet Pummill (music) presented a concert for the Krueger Fine Arts Series of Lakeland College in Sheboygan, Wis., on Nov. 5. They also presented a master class on Nov. 6 for Lakeland students.

Jazz compositions and arrangements by Curt Wilson (music) have received a lot of play lately. The Texas A&M Jazz Ensemble recorded Curt's arrangement of "Zip-A-Dee-Doo-Dah" on their latest CD. Three area high schools are playing Curt's works: Martin in Arlington is performing "Frog Lips," Lamar (also Arlington) is performing "Zanzibar," and Castleberry is playing his arrangement of Henry Mancini's "Charade." Curt will lecture on "Music and Culture" for the Brandeis University National Women's Committee on Dec. 19 in Fort Worth.

On Dec. 2, the Monday-Wednesday-Friday Jazz Ensemble, directed by Curt, played for Lockheed's rollout of the F-16 fighter jet for the Korean government. This was the second such gig for the group: last November, they played for the Portuguese government's F-16 rollout.

Ellen Page Garrison and Susan Haigler-Robles (dance) presented a workshop to physical educators at a recent convention in Austin. Susan also presented a paper regarding Robert Ellis Dunn's evaluation of choreography methodology.

Sympathy is extended to Anita Westmoreland (church relations) who lost her mother-in-law, Ruby Westmoreland, 89, on Nov. 26.

Larry Withers (counseling center) and David Weintraub ('93) gave a poster presentation, "Interpersonal Problems and Self-defeating Behaviors Among Undergraduate ACAs" at a recent Texas Psychological Association convention in Houston.

During November, Bob Greer (management) served as a guest lecturer at Albert Ludwigs Universitat in Freiburg, Germany, and at the Groupe Ecole Superieure de Commerce de Bourgogne in Dijon, France. His topic was the international implications of current strategic human resource management issues.

Bernadette Szajna (management) has been notified that her manuscript "Empirical Evaluation of the Revised Technology Acceptance Model" has been accepted for publication in the Management Science Journal.

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the makeup. If you have any questions, call Ext. 7926.

The following students who missed classes 12:30 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. on November 4, to attend a field trip to Chaparral Steel Company with their Human Resource Management class.

Names Redacted

The following students missed classes after 3:00 p.m., November 18, to participate in a swimming meet at Munroe, Louisiana:

Names Redacted

The following students who missed classes on November 18 to support the football team in a game at Texas A&M:

Names Redacted

The following students who missed classes after 2:30 p.m., November 18, to participate in a football game at Texas A&M:

Names Redacted

The following students missed classes November 28, 29, and 30 to participate in Intercollegiate Invitational at Las Vegas, Nevada:

Names Redacted

The following students who are members of the TCU Jazz Ensemble who missed classes 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon on December 2, to perform for the Lockheed ceremony roll-out of the F16 for the South Korean Government:

Names Redacted

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

The Human Resources office lists the following vacancies as of Nov. 29. For more information on any of these positions, call Ext. 7095.

Dean	Harris College of Nursing
Ass't. Dir. Phys. Plant for Resources	Physical Plant
Superintendent/Maintenance	Physical Plant
Instructional Staff Member	Ranch Management
Residential Hall Director	Residential Services
Dir./Intensive English Program	Intensive English Program
Communication Consultant (oral)	CPC
Communication Consultant (written)	CPC
(both are on an as-needed basis only)

Police Officer	Campus Police
Accompanist/Technique Classes	Ballet/Modern Dance
Administrative Assistant I	Advancement
Administrative Assistant I	History
(50% of full time)
Service Assistant II	Facility Services
Service Assistant I	Facility Services
Service Assistant I (1/2 time)	Facility Services
Data Control Specialist I	IBR
(70% of full time/Mansfield worksite)

CLASSIFIED

Information Redacted

Calendar of Events

Now thru

- Dec. 9 --Bachelor of Fine Arts show displaying the skills of communication graphics student artists, Moudy Building exhibition space. Free. Call Ext. 7643 for information.
- Dec. 6 --Ballet and modern dance final research presentations, 2-4 p.m., conference room, Ballet and Modern Dance Building. Open to the public. Free.
--Handel's Messiah performed with Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary Oratorio Chorus, pre-concert lecture begins at 7 p.m., Ed Landreth Auditorium. For ticket information call 926-8831.
- Dec. 7 --Ballet and modern dance final research presentations, 9-10 a.m. and 2:30-4 p.m., conference room, Ballet and Modern Dance Building. Open to the public. Free.
--TCU Horned Frogs vs. Louisiana Tech, 7 p.m., Daniel-Meyer Coliseum. Call (817) 922-FROG for tickets to see YOUR HOME TEAM.
--TCU Artist-in-Residence José Feghali performs faculty piano recital, 7:30 p.m., Ed Landreth Auditorium. Free and open to the public.
--Last day of classes
- Dec. 8 --Ballet and modern dance final research presentations, 11 a.m.-noon, conference room, ballet and modern dance building. Open to the public.
- Dec. 9-12 --"Best Christmas Pageant Ever," performed by members of Fort Worth's International Theatre School in the Student Center ballroom. Tickets are $7. Call Janet at Ext. 6883 for more information.
- Dec. 10 --The choreography of eight senior dance students will be presented at 8 p.m., Studio B, Ballet and Modern Dance Building. Free and open to the public.
- Dec. 11 --Student recital by pianist Pang Bo, 5 p.m., Ed Landreth Auditorium. Free and open to the public.
- Dec. 12 -- Annual Carols by Candlelight, 10:30 p.m., Robert Carr Chapel. Open to all. Hot spiced cider will be served on the chapel steps following the event.
- Dec. 13 --TCU Women's Club luncheon, "A Celebration in Music." Guests are welcome. A $7.50 reservation check is due to Deanie Sewell (Box 32533) by Dec. 8.
--Late night study breakfast, 11 p.m.-12:30 a.m., Student Center Main cafeteria. Open to faculty, staff and students. $2.