Dear Mr. Mornig,

You must have been somewhat puzzled to get unfinished and unsigned letters from me. My niece, in cleaning up some matters for me sent it on to you. I found your letter with checks here on my return to Birmingham, which I was glad to do on assurance from the doctors that everything was all right.

I will get the meteorite off to you Monday if possible, and after you inspect it, on a advice from you I will tackle Mrs. Entwood.

While Mrs. Hodges appeared on TV in New York, the excitement here seems to have run its course. I have heard of no money being passed, and no further offers or searches. I hope to get to Eplacanga soon myself.

Sincerely

C. C. Pinckney
