

TO HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS:

It has been rumored on the campus that some of our teachers are not giving final examinations in their courses. Since we all know that a new crop of rumors generally float around at this season, we are not taking them seriously. However, we are asking all heads of departments to let it be known to all their teachers that examinations are to be given. The policy of the University is to require a semester examination in all courses. Any deviation from the adopted schedule issued through the Faculty Bulletin must be cleared through the heads of the departments and the Registrar's Office.

Jerome A. Moore, Dean
Add-Ran College of Arts & Science

S. W. Hutton, Registrar

BUSY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

Yes, the next two or three weeks will be exceedingly busy. Examinations, registration, problems will keep everyone busy. This necessitates a carefully planned routine and the cooperation of everyone in following the routine.

Kindly remember to follow the Examination Schedule issued, two weeks ago. Any deviation must be cleared through both your Dean and the Registrar. Also be sure to turn in the final grades on each class or section within 48 hours after the examination is given for we are working on a tight schedule.

Please note the new plan for distribution of schools and departments in the Library for the Registration days February 2, 3, 4. Note the routing of students. At each registration period beginning at 8:00 AM and at 1:30 PM the faculty will enter through the front door. After the registration begins please enter and leave through the rear door to avoid congestion.

All Deans have been located in the central section of the Library with their Schools and departments near by.

All Department heads are urged to keep their classes and section balanced as the registration proceeds to avoid changes both of individual students and groups of students. Every change causes a great deal of work for many people down the line.

Registration Instructions to guide in the procedure of registration have been issued. Careful attention to every detail will make for efficient handling. Make sure that each Matriculation Card and Course Card match and that the course, number, section, teacher and room number are accurately entered on both.

S. W. Hutton, Registrar
