TO HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

Department heads are urged to watch carefully for advanced hours as they register juniors and seniors for it is quite distressing to those who follow through on the details to find at the beginning of the last semester or term in the summer that a student has not been signed up for the minimum of 30 semester hours of advanced work in residence. We have discovered repeated instances of this kind in checking over the candidate list of Bachelor Degree candidates to be granted August 29. This matter of advanced hours can be provided for very definitely if the petition sheet is carefully checked by the department head at the time of registration.

NOTICE TO THE FACULTY

Since we are already two days short of the minimum number of days we are expected to hold classes during the six weeks term, and since July 4 falls on Sunday, no classes will be dismissed for the July 4 holiday.

It is my understanding that the business offices will be closed on July 5, but we must remember that whereas the faculty has no classes on Saturday, business offices will have to remain open on Saturday.
