

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 67, No. 10, Oct. 23, 1990

WELLNESS IS FOCUS OF HEALTH WEEK

An acquaintance rape mock trial, health fair, sports events and nationally recognized speakers highlight Health Enrichment Week, which began Monday and continues through Sunday. Sponsored by R.O.A.D. Workers and at least 20 other campus organizations, events will focus on wellness issues.

A "wall" will be constructed throughout the week in the Student Center lounge as students write on small red cards how drug and alcohol abuse has touched their lives. These "bricks" will build the "wall" to provide a graphic example of the impact of substance abuse.

Services offered at today's (Tuesday) annual health fair will include a 24-hour dietary analysis, speech, hearing and blood pressure testing and instruction in relaxation techniques. Sponsored by the student nursing and nutrition/dietetics associations, the health fair will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Student Center lounge.

"Tie One On' -- Wear a Red Ribbon for a Drug-Free TCU," sponsored by Delta Tau Delta, is set for Wednesday in conjunction with Texans' War on Drugs Red Ribbon Campaign and national Wear a Red Ribbon Day. Many students will wear ribbons in remembrance of classmates who have died or been injured in alcohol-related accidents this semester.

The issue of acquaintance rape will be addressed with a mock trial at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center ballroom. Co-sponsored by the theatre department and the Acquaintance Rape Committee, the trial will focus on a case of alleged acquaintance rape with alumnus Ed Landwehr and theatre major Andrea Gruben taking the parts of the couple. A retired judge will preside, and two practicing Fort Worth attorneys lead the prosecution and defense. Campus police will participate as well. Jim Hopkins is director.

Alpha Phi Omega will encourage the University community to take a day off from lighting up during the TCU Smoke Out Thursday, while in the gymnasium the "world's largest aerobic class" will strengthen hearts. Organized by recreational sports, the workout will be held in conjunction with the national Timex Fitness Week.

Ron Gaeto, a nationally known expert on substance abuse, will speak on "Building a Community" at 5 p.m. Thursday in Student Center ballroom. Sponsors are Interlock and the International Student Association.

The TGIF program, beginning at noon Friday in Student Center lounge, will feature the "Second Floor," an improvisational group.

(continued)

HEALTH WEEK (continued)

Premedical Career Day will bring high school students to campus Saturday from 8:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Sid Richardson Lecture Hall 2 to learn about medical professions from practicing physicians and TCU graduates now in medical school.

The first 20,000 fans admitted to Saturday's 2 p.m. football game against Baylor will be given red ribbons with anti-drug statements. Student organizations and residence halls plan to fill the stadium with banners with wellness messages beginning at 1 p.m. Banner judging will be at halftime.

Health Enrichment Week will conclude Sunday with the University's participation in Fort Worth CROP Walk '90, beginning in the stadium parking lot at 1 p.m. World Hunger Committee, Order of Omega and Beta Upsilon Chi are sponsors.

*** **

CYF DAY IS SATURDAY

More than 1,600 members of the Christian Youth Fellowship of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) are expected for Saturday's observance of CYF Day.

Coordinated by Jim Atwood of the admissions office, the annual program is designed for young people and their sponsors from churches in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Arkansas, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Activities will begin at noon with a pre-game meal and program in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum before the 2 p.m. kickoff for the TCU-Baylor football game. A post-game dance will be held in fellowship hall of University Christian Church from 7 to 11 p.m. Tickets, priced at $4 per person, will be available at the door. Additional information is available from Jim at Ext. 7490.

*** **

MATH DEPARTMENT HOSTING LECTURE SERIES

"Small Solutions to Systems of Linear Equations" is the title of the TCU Research Fund Lectureship being hosted Wednesday by the Department of Mathematics.

Professor Jeff Vaaler from the University of Texas at Austin will be featured speaker for this event, beginning at 4 p.m. in Winton-Scott 145.

The mathematics department is sponsoring a total of nine lectures this academic year. Additional information on the lectures is available from the department, Ext. 7335.

UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN TOPS 1989

TCU faculty and staff contributions to the United Way campaign this fall totaled $77,217, a 3.4 percent increase over last year's gifts of $74,635. The total was only about $1,000 under the goal of $78,367.

"TCU people came through again," said Associate Vice Chancellor Larry Lauer, who chaired the campus drive. "It was a difficult campaign in the city this year. Many families are feeling financially pinched. That makes our being up over last year all the more meaningful. It's harder to give. But the needs are more critical than ever.

"I chair the board of a large United Way agency," he continued. "Not only are there more people needing help, but their needs are more critical and their ability to pay is less. That's the world of human services; when it's harder for all of us to give, those same conditions are producing even more serious problems in the families of our neighbors.

"And so I thank all the people at TCU who dug deeper into their pockets this year. I assure you your money will be well spent and the agencies will be there for your families as well."

*** **

TWO QUALIFY FOR NATIONAL TENNIS MEET

Luis Ruetter and Tony Bujan will represent TCU in singles and doubles competition at the Rolex Indoor National Championships in Minneapolis in February. This comes as a result of their winning singles and doubles titles in the Rolex Intercollegiate Tennis Championships Oct. 12-14 on campus.

The top seed, Luis defeated Tony, his No. 2 seeded teammate, 4-6, 7-6 and 6-2 in the singles final. Teamed to win their third doubles title in three weeks, they defeated a Texas Tech team 6-3, 6-3 in the final. Patricio Gonzales, a Horned Frog junior transfer, won 6-2, 6-7, 6-4 over UT-Pan American's Mitchel Fabray in the consolation singles final. The duo's earlier doubles titles came at the LSU Fall Showcase and the Longhorn All-American in Austin.

*** **

DRUG PROGRAM HOSTS EXPERTS

Drug experts from Venezuela, Guatemala and Israel recently were given an overview of the University's Alcohol and Drug Education Program as part of the United States Information Agency International Visitor Program. The participants are in key positions of responsibility, influence and decision-making in drug abuse and education in their countries.

The project represents a continuing effort to bring to the United States outstanding leaders and specialists from abroad to meet, consult and share ideas with their American counterparts on issues of common interest and concern. The visitors also met with Dwayne Simpson, director of the IBR, and psychology's Don Dansereau about drug treatment research.

CROP COUNTS FOR HUNGER WEEK

Pledges raised by TCU faculty, staff and students taking part in Sunday's 10-kilometer CROP Walk will count toward the University's Nov. 11-18 Hunger Week total. CROP is the community hunger appeal of Church World Service, one of six local, national and international agencies which will receive proceeds of the ninth annual Hunger Week.

The TCU Hunger Week CROP envelopes are available in University Ministries office in the Student Center. Registration begins at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at Amon Carter Stadium, and walking starts at 1 p.m.

Proceeds of Hunger Week, chaired by junior speech communication major Jennifer Burgess of Scottsdale, AZ, will go to Catholic Relief Services, UNICEF, Oxfam America, Manna/Jerusalem and Fort Worth's South Central Alliance of Churches as well as Church World Service. In addition, students will collect canned food for and donate time to the Food Bank of Greater Tarrant County. TCU folks can also get an early start on Hunger Week — and on Christmas — by purchasing UNICEF Christmas cards or UNICEF mugs in University Ministries.

*** **

BRITE SERIES OPENS TOMORROW

Dr. Charles R. Foster, noted writer in the field of ethnicity in church education, will deliver Brite Lecture Series talks tomorrow (Wednesday) and Thursday.

Foster, professor and director of the program of Christian education at Emory University's Candler School of Theology, will discuss "What Kind of Community Will We Teach?" at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Robert Carr Chapel, followed by a reception in Weatherly Hall. At an 11:15 a.m. session Thursday in Weatherly Hall, his topic will be "By What Authority Will We Teach?" Audience members are welcome to stay for the brown bag luncheon following his lecture.

Foster taught at Methodist Theological School in Delaware, OH, and at Scarritt Graduate School in Nashville before joining the Candler faculty in 1988. Earlier he had served as minister to single adults at Riverside Church in New York City and as minister of education at First United Methodist Church in Corning, NY.

He will bring with him to TCU copies of his book "Ethnicity in the Education of the Church," which was published in 1987 and is now out of print.

*** **

HALLOWEEN MONSTER MASH RETURNS

Trick-or-treat time is creeping up with its hobgoblin of parental anxiety, but Halloween risk is a trick students, faculty and staff members can avoid for their children. The Monster Mash, sponsored by Colby Hall and Student Activities, will provide a safe celebration for little Ninja Turtles, Bart Simpsons, goblins and gremlins. They can fill their goody bags from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Oct. 31 in the Colby lobby.

'YOLANTA' TO BE SUNG SUNDAY

Opera Workshop has a rare treat for TCU and Fort Worth Sunday. At 2 p.m. in University Theatre, students and faculty members will sing scenes from "Yolanta," Tchaikovsky's last opera, written 100 years ago but never performed outside the U.S.S.R. until 1984.

As rare here as the opera itself will be its staging by Metropolitan Opera assistant stage director Stephen Pickover, who has been on campus teaching music theatre since the beginning of the fall semester.

Pickover must leave on the evening of the performance to assist in the direction of the January production of "Kat'a Kabanova," first of a series of five operas he is to be involved with at the Metropolitan. Also a theatrical director, he is artistic director of Library Theatre in Warren, PA, and resident director of Riverside Opera Ensemble in New York. Pickover was a protege of theatre chairman Andrew Harris when Andy served as a faculty member and acting chairman at Columbia University, where Pickover earned his Master of Fine Arts degree in theatre directing in 1984.

The Opera Workshop production will be staged with no costumes and minimal scenery. Piano accompaniment will be provided by graduate student Andrew Millar.

Graduate vocal performance major Melissa Percy Drumm, who has sung with the Amato Opera in New York, with Fort Worth Opera and at the International Festival at Round Top, will sing the role of Yolanta, who has been blind from birth. Her father, King Rene, performed by Constantino Bernardez of radio-TV-film, who has sung with both Fort Worth and Dallas operas, has concealed her disability from her, leaving her ignorant of the existence of sight.

Constantly administered to by her nurse Marta (senior music major Tina Rodriguez of Fort Worth) and by five attendants, Yolanta reveals by her questions in the first scene that she is becoming aware of her blindness as well as budding sexuality.

She has been betrothed since childhood to Duke Robert of Burgundy (Daniel Baker, senior music education major from Mesquite), who has never met her and knows nothing of her blindness. Her father brings a Moorish doctor (graduate vocal major David Grogan of Fort Worth), who says she could possibly be cured but must first be told of her condition.

Robert of Burgundy arrives with his friend Knight Vaudemont (senior music education major James Taylor of Kingwood, selected last year as the outstanding student singer in the Texoma region of the National Association of Teachers of Singing). They do not know they are in the garden of Yolanta's palace, and Robert, eager to break his engagement to Yolanta, sings of his love for another. Vaudemont, however, glimpses the sleeping Yolanta and falls instantly in love with her.

She awakens and offers him wine. When he asks her for a red rose as a keepsake and she brings him a white one, Vaudemont realizes she is blind. He sings to her of light as a way to know God, but she explains she knows God through her other senses.

MAYNARD FERGUSON PLAYS THURSDAY

Maynard Ferguson, who set the jazz world hopping with his Birdland Dream Band in the '50s and '60s, has returned to his traditional big band jazz roots 30 years later with his Big Bop Nouveau Band, which will play here at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Admission to the concert in Ed Landreth Auditorium is $5 with TCU ID, $10 for all others, and tickets may be obtained at the Student Center information desk, Ext. 7928. The program is sponsored by the Concert Committee of Programming Council.

One of the world's great trumpet players, Ferguson, a Canadian, had his own jazz and dance band at the age of 16. Most of the players were twice his age. He made his U.S. debut in 1948 with Boyd Raeburn's band. In the '50s, he played with Charlie Barnett, Jimmy Dorsey and Stan Kenton and recorded film sound tracks for Paramount.

His Birdland Dream Band began at Birdland in New York City in 1955, played at all the Newport Jazz Festivals and recorded for Roulette Records. Ferguson was using fusion long before fusion became a big media word -- first fusing jazz and classical, then jazz and East Indian music.

In 1967, leading an all-star jazz band, he took his family along on a tour of England and Europe, "missed" the plane home and settled in England. He organized an English/European big band which played the concert halls and music festivals throughout Europe and Scandinavia.

After a stay in Bombay, Ferguson flew from India to Prague, Czechoslovakia, for a jazz festival. Seeing no newspapers and having no radio in India, he was unaware that Czechoslovakia had been invaded by the Russian army. As the only Western artist who took part in the festival, he became an instant folk hero. CBS England signed Ferguson to a lengthy recording contract in 1969, and the American success of his first CBS album led to his return to the United States in 1971.

*** **

GOLDWATER AWARD INFORMATION AVAILABLE

The Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship and Excellence in Education program, now in its third year, awards undergraduate scholarships to students with two remaining years of undergraduate study who plan careers in mathematics and the natural sciences.

Information on the awards is available from Associate Dean Priscilla Tate in AddRan College. She encourages faculty and staff members to send students they are willing to nominate to her for details about the nomination process.

Two of three students nominated by TCU in the competition's first two years are recipients of the $7,000 Goldwater scholarships. They are Michael Hall, majoring in physics, and Stephanie Boade, a history and chemistry major.

NOTES ON FOLKS

JACKIE BYARS (radio-TV-film) attended the annual conference of the Union for Democratic Communications Oct. 11-14 at the University of California at San Diego. She participated in a panel entitled "What Is a Text?" and presented a paper, "Text? Text!," concerning the influence of ethnographic audience research on textual analysis and her inflection on "epochal" textual analysis.

TOMMY THOMASON (journalism) spoke Sept. 19 at the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation's Public Affairs Conference in Galveston on news-writing for highway department public relations officers from throughout the state. On Oct. 1, he spoke at a seminar sponsored by the Department of Journalism and Graphic Arts at East Texas State University. His topic was crime victims and the news media.

"An Attempt at Synthesis: Literature of Ireland, the United States and Luxembourg" was the title of a paper read by JAMES NEWCOMER (emeritus, vice chancellor) in early September at the third international Conference on the Literature of Region and Nation, sponsored by the Centre Universitaire of Luxembourg and held in the "magnificent baroque buildings of the Abbey of Echternach." Lecturer to the Luxembourg chapter of the international group known as the 51 Club on Sept. 25, he was at the German Embassy Oct. 3 for the celebration of the German reunification. "As one of the centers of the European community and as what is probably the most thriving economic spot in Europe," he wrote, "Luxembourg is an exciting place to be."

JOE LAW (English/Writing Center) has a review of "Opera, or the Undoing of Women" by Catherine Clement in the most recent Opera Quarterly.

STEPHANIE WOODS (ballet) delivered a lecture on the development of the Ballet de Court (Court Ballet) through the Romantic period to the newest members of Ballet Behind the Scenes, the Fort Worth Ballet's docent program. Stephanie, in her second year as a docent, supervises graduate students, JANET WADE, SUSAN FRIDAY and MELANIE ENVANI, who are also active docents this year. Ballet Behind the Scenes is an outreach program that offers the community guided tours, lectures and other first-hand experiences of a ballet company's creative process.

SPENCER WERTZ (philosophy) attended the 18th annual meeting of the Philosophic Society for the Study of Sport held in Fort Wayne and hosted by Indiana University-Purdue University in early October. He read a paper titled "Intentionalist and Institutional Approaches Defended" in the sport, art and the aesthetic session. He served as chair of the constitution committee which revised the PSSS constitution for the first time in its history.

Shae and MICHAEL TEN EYCK (information services) and their son Travis are happy to announce the birth of Eric Joseph, who arrived Oct. 16.

ANNE LEATON (Writing Center) has a short story, "A Love Story," in the recent issue of British Cosmopolitan. The story also will be published in the Australian edition of Cosmopolitan.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

GEORGE GILBERT (mathematics) published an original problem in the Problem Section of the October 1990 issue of Mathematics Magazine. The problem, which involves the characteristic polynomial and diagonalizability of certain matrices, is one of five selected for publication.

Mary Couts Burnett Library was represented by JANIS BANDELIN, HUGH MACDONALD, SHEILA MADDEN, PAT NAY, ROGER RAINWATER and GLENDA STEVENS at a Workshop on Library Theft Oct. 12 at SMU. The workshop, co-sponsored by TCU, presented the views of librarians, booksellers and police. A highlight of the meeting was the appearance of Sgt. Steve Huntsberry of the Washington State University police, who was instrumental in the arrest of alleged library thief Stephen Blumberg.

"Respiratory Disorders, a textbook by SUSAN WILSON (nursing) and June Thompson, has just been published by Mosby/Yearbook. The book is aimed at students and registered nurses caring for patients with respiratory disorders.

LARRY MARKLEY (Student Center director) and LOGAN HAMPTON (minority student adviser), along with SCOTT KIEDAISCH and RICK BARNHARDT of Programming Council, attended the South Central regional conference of the National Association for Campus Activities Oct. 7-9 in Austin. TCU's Parents Weekend publicity program won first prize in the NACA graphics competition for student-generated publicity programs.

Larry and Logan presented programs, and Larry presented the Markley Scholarship to Barry McKinney of St. Mary's University and the Markley Award to Rick Miller of Designs in Development and Steve Westbrook of Stephen F. Austin State University.

*** **

PERSONAL COMPUTER IS PROGRAM TOPIC

"Your Personal Computer: An Electronic Darkroom" is the theme for the Oct. 30 satellite videoconference to be offered by the Center for Instructional Services. The free program will begin at 1 p.m. in the TAGER TV/Telecommunications Studio.

From the Rochester Institute of Technology, the presentation is part of the "ESP '90: Into the Future" series that begins today (Tuesday) with a 1-4 p.m. teleconference on "Electronic Still Photography: Pictures to PrePress."

Douglas Ford Rea, associate professor in the College of Graphic Arts and Photography at Rochester Institute of Technology, is presenter for both programs. In the Oct. 30 teleconference, he will introduce new electronic methods for printing images and will compare them to silver-based technology. A look to the future of electronic imaging and its impact on conventional printing and photographic techniques will be included. Additional information is available from Deana Muirheid, Ext. 7632.

BULLETIN

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Oct. 23 --Health Enrichment Week, through Oct. 28. All events are listed in the story on Page 1.
- Oct. 24 --TCU Research Fund mathematics lecture, "Small Solutions to Systems of Linear Equations," Professor Jeff Vaaler, University of Texas at Austin, Winton-Scott Room 145, 4 p.m.
--Brite Lecture Series: "What Kind of Community Will We Teach?" by Dr. Charles R. Foster, director of the program of Christian education at Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Robert Carr Chapel, 7:30 p.m., followed by a reception in Weatherly Hall.
- Oct. 25 --Brite Lecture Series: "By What Authority Will We Teach?" by Dr. Charles R. Foster of Candler School of Theology, Weatherly Hall of Brite Divinity School, 11:15 a.m., followed by a brown bag luncheon.
--Maynard Ferguson and his Big Bop Nouveau Big Band, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m. $5 with TCU ID, $10 for all others. Tickets at Student Center information desk, Ext. 7928.
- Oct. 26 --Biology Seminar: Thesis research progress reports of graduate students Dan DeWilde and Sheri Long, Winton Scott Room 436, noon.
- Oct. 27 --Football, TCU vs. Baylor, Amon Carter Stadium, 2 p.m.
- Oct. 28 --TCU Opera Workshop production of Tchaikovsky's "Yalanta," stage directed by Stephen Pickover, assistant stage manager of the Metropolitan Opera, University Theatre, 2 p.m.
--CROP Walk, Amon Carter Stadium, registration at 12:30 p.m., walk at 1 p.m.
- Oct. 30 --Pre-med lecture, "Life as a Medical Traffic Cop," Dr. William R. Gardner, Fort Worth general practitioner, Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 4, 5:15 p.m.

CLASSIFIED:

HOUSE FOR RENT: Two blocks from campus, approximately 2,000 sq. ft., three bedrooms, two baths, living, dining, study, kitchen with breakfast area, laundry room, fenced yard, patio, garage and carport. Central heat/air, refrigerator, stove, dryer, ceiling fans; $695/month. Call 441-6930, leave message.

FOR SALE: Children's bunk bed with mattresses and storage drawers, natural pine finish. Call Ken, Ext. 7871 or 921-6203.

*** **

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

Oct. 17, 1990

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Cross country track team members, who participated in a meet at Texas A & M after 10 a.m. on Oct. 18:

Beckman, Andrew	Hash, Cecil	McKenzie, John	Pickett, Keith
Dennis, Ronald	LeGros, Glen	McManus, James	Riddle, Gregory
Gerard, Matthew	Maru, William	Nichols, John
Baker, Kim	Schuetzeberg, Chloe	Scott, Michelle	Sythes, Toni
Coleman, Robin	Scire, Rachel	Steen, Natalie	Frederick, Eric

Band students who missed their evening classes on Oct. 22 to participate in an exhibition performance for the FWISD Marching Band contest:

Black, Scott	Gardner, Stuart	Lemmons, Julie	Young, Laura
Dowdy, Steve	Jackson, Steven	White, Kevin

Men's tennis team members who missed classes after 11 a.m., Oct. 17, and on Oct. 18-19 to participate in the Lee Michaels Tennis Classic at Lafayette, LA.:

Bowen, Devin	Giese, Jeffrey	Rubio, Ricardo	Tjia, Mark
--------------	----------------	----------------	------------

Students who attended the National Association for Campus Activities South Central Regional on Oct. 8-9:

Barnhart, Richard A.	Kiedaisch, Scott
----------------------	------------------

Men's golf team members who participated in the L.S.U. National Tournament at New Orleans and missed classes Oct. 15, 16, and 17:

Aguilar, Tony	Budde, Ren	Magee, Chad	Stevens, Charlie
Boisvert, Robert

Journalism students who participated in the Advertising Club of Fort Worth's annual Shadow Day on Oct. 10:

Absalon, Christina	Edmonson, Piper	Loria, Renee	Rummel, Tracy
Capello, Michelle	Gragg, Roger	Maestri, Melissa	Super, Susan
Clowers, Cindy	Lawrence, Cy	Mullin, Lisa	Swan, Kristi

The following students took part in a trip to Mexico Oct. 17-22 and missed classes on Oct. 18 and 22. The trip was sponsored by the Modern Language department but does not meet the strict requirements of an official absence. You may use your own judgments on these absences, but I would hope that you would be as understanding as possible.

Elizabeth Proffer

Pilcher, Jeff	Bradley, Shelley	Mason, Andrew	Chilcutt, Paige
Dubbell, Beth	Barber, Dianne	Eddy, James H. III	Youngblood, John
Lovell, Jennifer			