

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 67, No. 14, Nov. 20, 1990

TRUSTEES APPROVE ACADEMIC ENHANCEMENT

TCU's board of trustees approved a major strengthening of the institution's academic program and set aside income from $10 million in endowment to get it under way during its Nov. 16 meeting on campus.

The board supported all the recommendations of Chancellor Bill Tucker, proposals which resulted from more than two years of planning by faculty and administrative groups. These "priorities for academic advancement in the 1990s" include:

- A new department of engineering with undergraduate programs in mechanical and electrical engineering, with TCU enrolling its first engineering students in the fall of 1992 or soon thereafter. The program will operate as part of AddRan College of Arts and Sciences.
- A strengthened graduate program, with a reactivated Ph.D. degree program in mathematics and an enhanced focus on rhetoric and composition studies in the Ph.D. program in English.
- Greater ethnic and cultural diversity in the faculty, student body and staff. A group appointed by Tucker earlier this fall is to suggest methods through which this can be achieved.
- A greater emphasis on preparing students and faculty "to live in and contribute to a global society," perhaps by offering more opportunities and financial support for international study.
- Expanded use of computer and related technologies across campus, especially in academic facilities.

The new and enhanced academic programs, the chancellor said, "will open the way for TCU to claim a larger and brighter future in the independent sector of American higher education...positioning the University to reach a higher plateau of quality and vitality through the 1990s and into the 21st Century."

Tucker made a related recommendation, which the board approved, to establish and increase an endowment fund specifically to attract and retain middle-income students who do not qualify for either academic scholarships or need-based grants.

To help bring all this about, TCU will expand efforts to gain voluntary support. Even before then, however, the financial decision by the trustees "will give us a jump start in moving ahead immediately," Tucker said.

(continued)

TRUSTEES MEET (continued)

The $10 million designated by the board for new academic initiatives came from the University's current unrestricted fund. During the financially successful 1980s, about $13 million had accumulated in the fund. Ten million of it will now be placed in a designated endowment; its income -- approximately $600,000 a year -- will be available for the new academic initiatives.

The fall meeting of TCU's governing board was the first at which John Roach presided. Chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Tandy Corporation, Roach was elected by the TCU board as its chairman last spring when Bayard Friedman asked not to be re-elected to the post he had held 11 years. At a Nov. 15 dinner, board members honored Friedman for his work in behalf of the University, and Tucker announced an endowed Bayard Friedman Scholarship to be funded by contributions from TCU trustees.

Approval of academic program initiatives was but one of several actions taken by the board. An architectural firm hired to suggest a master plan for the physical campus gave a progress report on its extensive audit of buildings and campus facilities.

Though it is not yet ready to make recommendations, its findings so far have prompted a change in plans for renovation of the Student Center, for which more than $5 million in gifts were to be sought. Instead, about half of that amount -- already given or pledged, most of it from the T.J. Brown and C.A. Lupton Foundation -- will be used to renovate the outmoded food preparation area and make dining facilities in the Student Center and adjoining Reed Hall more efficient and attractive.

The master plan also will influence location of a new building for the Ranch Management Program. Two years ago the Winthrop Rockefeller Charitable Trust said it would give $1.05 million to provide permanent quarters for the unique program if other donors supported it with $2.1 million in new endowment within three years. Development Committee Chairman Malcolm Loudon told trustees that the total pledged or received to date -- with a year still to go in the campaign -- is $2.2 million, and specific plans for design and construction can begin.

Enrollment this fall, Tucker said, is 6,458. Though the students come from 48 states and 57 countries abroad, the total is slightly less than a year ago.

This situation, he said, is due to three factors: graduation classes of record size in three successive years, a shrinkage in the number of undergraduate transfers into TCU and a downturn in the nation's traditional college-going population. National media report enrollment declines in colleges and universities over the country, he said.

Lower income due to lower enrollment will be offset this year by drawing on a plant reserve fund and putting more operating economies into place. "Following an honored practice here, we plan to end the fiscal year in the black," the chancellor said. That was the case last year. An audit report showed that the University lived within its budget though enrollment was less than the year before.

(continued)

TRUSTEES MEET (continued)

The board's decision to fund new academic initiatives brought one planning effort to a close but signaled a new emphasis on academic planning as an ongoing process. Tucker told the board that questions such as these need to be addressed: "Are our marginally viable programs, undergraduate and graduate as well as support, vital to the future? Do we need more focus in some programs and redirection in others? Are there opportunities in non-traditional education which warrant our interest and exploration?" Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler, he said, will consult with others "to develop appropriate mechanisms" through which continuous planning will take place.

*** **

PLANNING PROCESS REFLECTS JOINT EFFORT

The process for TCU's academic planning, which was acted upon Friday by the board of trustees and reported on by the chancellor at that afternoon's Faculty Assembly, reflects a two-year effort by eight committees.

Providing the impetus for this undertaking was Dr. Tucker's presentation, "The TCU Agenda: The Chancellor's Perspective," at the 1988 spring board meeting. That fall he discussed planning issues for the University community in his presentation, "Planning Direction for the 1990s."

After the 1988 fall trustee meeting, three planning committees composed of 19 faculty members, six staff members and one dean were appointed by Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler in consultation with academic deans and the Faculty Senate's executive committee. Dean Kirk Downey chaired the Committee for Academic Planning; the External Environment Committee was headed by Roger Pfaffenberger; and the Faculty/Staff Committee was headed by Cynthia Folio.

Their reports were presented to Dr. Koehler in the summer of 1989 and reported to an early fall Faculty Assembly. Copies of the reports were on file in the library.

Planning recommendations were the subject of the 1989 fall deans' retreat. Based on the decision that some of the nine broad-based recommendations required additional study, four committees were named.

Twenty-nine faculty and six staff members along with two administrators served on the ad hoc task force on doctoral programming headed by Bill Jurma, the ad hoc engineering committee headed by Mike McCracken, the ad hoc committee on global society led by Larry Adams and the academic computing committee chaired by Brian Gray. Earlier this year these committees' reports were forwarded to Dr. Koehler.

After a May review with deans and associate vice chancellors, the academic vice chancellor's suggestions, accompanied by the reports and committee recommendations, were given to Dr. Tucker in June. His presentation last week to the trustees was based on those recommendations.

(continued)

PLANNING PROCESS (continued)

Committees involved in the academic planning process and their memberships included:

- Academic planning committee: Downey, chair; Chris Barry, Bill Graham, Fred Heath, Joe Helmick, Don Jackson, Linda Moore, Richard Waits;
- External environment committee: Pfaffenberger, chair; Ken Crider, Dan Dansereau, Jan Fox, Dan French, Janet Herald, Pat Miller, Morry Wong;
- Faculty/staff committee: Folio, chair; Anantha Babbili, Toni Craven, Nowell Donovan, Alice Gaul, Leo Munson, Larry Peters, Frank Reuter, Daryl Schmidt, Bill Vanderhoof;
- Ad hoc task force on doctoral planning: Jurma, chair; John Breyer, Dave Edmunds, David Gouwens, Charles Lamb, Kathleen Martin, Ken Stevens, Gary Tate;
- 1984 ad hoc engineering committee: Larry Adams, David Cravens, Robert Doran, Joe Enochs, Charles Falk, Jack Jones, Richard Lysiak, Mike McCracken, Ken Morgan, Kurt Sember;
- New ad hoc engineering committee: McCracken, chair; John Breyer, Joe Enochs, Jan Fox, Jack Jones, Ted Klein, Richard Lysiak, Richard Rinewalt, Bill Vanderhoof, Richard Waits;
- Ad hoc global society committee: Adams, chair; Anantha Babbili, Jim Clouser, Roberta Corder, Mike Dodson, Nowell Donovan, Alan Lacy, Larry Peters, Susan Wilson;
- Academic computing committee: Gray, chair; Art Busbey, Lewis Glaser, Mel Haywood, Susan Higgins, Robin Mayne, Bruce Miller, Sherrie Reynolds.

*** **

39 STUDENTS NAMED TO WHO'S WHO

Thirty seniors and nine juniors will be honored tonight (Tuesday) at a banquet recognizing their acceptance for listing in the 1990 volume of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Chancellor Bill Tucker will host the dinner.

New members from AddRan College of Arts and Sciences include Sarah Bigger, Laura White, Matt Vossler, Janet Trepka, Suzanne Scott, Michele Satterelli, Steve Rubick, Margie Roelands, Ellen Lyda, Darek Lester, Pam Hand, Elizabeth Fleming, Katie Karpinski, Virginia Ridgley, Wendy Moore, Beth Monach, Karen Yeh, Andrew Wright and Karen Casper.

Those from the Neeley School of Business are Stephanie Smeltzer, Lori Lancaster, Lisa Johns, Thomas Ivester, Debbie Duffy, Sabrina Clark and Ronna Caruthers. Representing the School of Education are Dina Zywica and Brandee Sims. From Harris College of Nursing are Linda Westrate and Roberto Trevizo.

Additional new members from the College of Fine Arts and Communication are Deena Brodsgaard, Scott Hunt, Linda Turner, Alicia Thompson, Courtney Haggard, Jackie Green, Paul Burrer, Rick Hogrefe and Jon Buell.

(continued)

SCHOLARSHIPS HONOR TRUSTEES, WIVES

Gifts of $100,000 each honoring two trustees and their wives will inaugurate new scholarship funds at TCU. One gift is designated for undergraduate studies and the other for varsity basketball.

To provide financial aid for undergraduate students, the Robert D. and Marjorie E. Hunsucker Scholarship is being funded by a gift from Panhandle Eastern Corporation in honor of his 37-year career with the Houston-based company.

Hunsucker, a member of TCU's board of trustees since 1979, retired earlier this year as chairman and chief executive officer of Panhandle Eastern Corporation.

The L.A.J. and Betty Monroe Endowed Basketball Scholarship Fund honors its donors. The Houston couple are members of TCU's Classes of 1942 and 1945, respectively.

A member of the University's board of trustees since 1981, Mr. Monroe was among the first to receive a basketball scholarship at TCU. He lettered four years in the sport.

*** **

CHORALE SINGS WITH CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

TCU's 45-member Concert Chorale, augmented by some two dozen former members living in this area, will join the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra in performing Bach's B Minor Mass at 8 p.m. Nov. 27 in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The chorale's first performance with this professional Fort Worth orchestra will be directed by John Giordano, who holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from TCU and is Fort Worth Symphony conductor. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 926-8831.

Concert Chorale director Ron Shirey says Roger Bryant, who holds two degrees from TCU and teaches at Ambassador College in Big Sandy, will be tenor soloist for the "incredibly difficult" B Minor Mass. Roger sang the mass with the Dallas Symphony Chorus, also directed by Ron, during its 1985 tour of Austria and Germany.

Other graduates participating in the performance will include Clara Dina Hinojosa, assistant choral director at Richland High School; Terrie McKenzie Preskitt, a TCU Nordan Scholar now teaching private voice lessons at her own studio and at South Garland High School and a singer with Texas Baroque Ensemble and other Dallas area groups; Janet Bonicelli, a choral director in Grand Prairie; Amy Detrick, a teacher at Birdville and a church choir director, along with Lorinda Lee, Brad White, Dan Detrick, Georgann Truitt, Jerry Perales, Grant Whittenberg, David Bennett, Steve Johnson and recent graduates Cindy Bell and Karl Hillstrom.

RECEPTION HONORS ARMENDARIZ

Raul Armendariz, who has resigned from his position as director of personnel to become director of human resources at Arizona State University, will be honored at a come-and-go reception from 4 to 5:30 p.m. today (Tuesday) in the Student Center's Woodson Room. Tomorrow is his last day at TCU.

Raul came here in 1981, pointed out Associate Vice Chancellor Edd Bivin, and "has led TCU through many personnel developments."

*** **

HONORS SYMPOSIUM SET NEXT WEEK

Prospective Honors students from as far away as California and Montana will be reposing in sleeping bags here Nov. 29-Dec. 1, but their concern will be "Living in a Global Community."

That's the symposium theme, which will be carried out in Nov. 30 seminars on "Sell the Kremlin: Peace Through Trade with the Evil Empire," led by Richard Boettger of management; "U.S. Foreign Policy and Cooperative Competition," Ralph Carter, political science; "Islam in the Changing World," Imtiyaz Yusuf, religion-studies; and "Oil Is Where You Find It," Nowell Donovan, geology.

Registration for the symposium will be held from 3 to 6 p.m. Nov. 29 in the Faculty Center. After a Dutch-treat dinner with TCU Honors students, the schedule includes a welcome and introduction to the symposium at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Center and getting-acquainted activities led by the Student Honors Cabinet.

The Nov. 30 schedule opens with breakfast in the main cafeteria at 8 a.m. and a campus tour beginning 45 minutes later. The visiting high school students may attend two classes of their choice between 10 a.m. and noon and will lunch together at Worth Hills. Following the seminars from 1:30 to 3:45 p.m. in Student Center Rooms 203, 204, 205 and 206, the visitors will meet deans and faculty members at a reception from 4 to 4:45 p.m. in the Faculty Center.

A candlelight dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Woodson Room, and Anantha Babbili of journalism will conduct a fireside discussion on "'Isms' in the Global Village" at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Center.

On Dec. 1 the visitors will have breakfast in the Faculty Center at 8:30 a.m., tour Mary Coats Burnett Library from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., then take a bus tour of Fort Worth from 10:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. The symposium's closing luncheon will begin at 12:30 p.m.

NOTES ON FOLKS

At the Buffalo, NY, Society of Experimental Social Psychology conference Oct. 11-14, a paper, "Reflections on Reputation," was presented by CHARLES LORD (psychology).

LINDA MOORE and CHARLENE URWIN (social work) were informed recently that their article, "Gatekeeping in Social Work: A Model for Screening Baccalaureate Students for Field Education," has been accepted for publication in the Journal of Social Work Education.

HARRIET RISK WOLDT (music) will be among performers in the Brazos Baroque program of chamber music to be presented by the new Fort Worth Early Music at 3 p.m. Sunday in the lecture hall of the Botanical Garden conservatory. Tickets at $5 ($3 for students and senior citizens) may be purchased at the door.

ANGELA O'DONNELL (TCU Ph.D. 1986) of Rutgers University, DON DANSEREAU (psychology) and former TCU psychology professor TOM ROCKLIN of the University of Iowa have been notified of the acceptance of their paper, "Individual Differences in the Cooperative Learning of Concrete Procedures," by the professional journal Learning and Individual Differences.

Dan made two Washington, DC, presentations in October to the National Science Foundation Research in Teaching and Learning Project Directors' Meeting. They were "Knowledge Mapping: A Tool for Enhancing the Teaching of Science," a poster, and a paper, "The Impact of Knowledge Maps and Scripted Cooperation on the Recall of Biological and Statistical Information."

SPENCER WERTZ (philosophy) read a paper entitled "Hume and the Paradox of Taste Again" at the Southwestern Philosophical Society meeting recently in College Station. The meeting was hosted by Texas A&M University, and TCU will host the meeting next year. Spencer and TED KLEIN (philosophy) will serve as co-chairs of local arrangements.

Psychologist MAURICIO PAPINI's article, "The Effects of Varying the Inter-reinforcement Interval of Appetitive Contextual Conditioning," has been accepted for publication by the Journal of Animal Learning and Behavior.

ROGER RAINWATER (library) recently attended a symposium on "The Printed Word in the 21st Century" at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio. The symposium was held in conjunction with the opening of a major exhibition of the work of Texas printer and designer Carl Hertzog. Speakers included Sandra Kirschenbaum of Pro Arte Libri, San Francisco; John Cole, director of the Center for the Book at the Library of Congress; and publisher David Godine of Boston.

JOHN OWINGS (music) traveled through Japan and China in October at the invitation of three major music conservatories -- Toho Gakuen School of Music in Tokyo, Central Conservatory of Music in Beijing and Shanghai Conservatory of Music. At each school he played a recital and taught master classes. He also lectured on Beethoven piano sonatas at the Beijing conservatory.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

LINDA HUGHES (English) has been notified that a portion of her 1987 book, "The Manyfaced Glass: Tennyson's Dramatic Monologues," is to be reprinted in a forthcoming publication from Chelsea House Publishers. Her discussion of Tennyson's "Ulysses" will appear in "Major Literary Characters: Odysseus/Ulysses," one of a series that presents modern literary criticism on works widely read on secondary, college and graduate school levels. The volume, to appear in 1991, will be edited and introduced by Harold Bloom of Yale.

TIM BARTH (psychology) presented a paper on "MK-801 Reinstates Forelimb Placing Deficits When Administered After Recovery from Unilateral Cortical Lesions in the Rat" to the Society for Neuroscience's recent annual meeting in St. Louis. His article, "The Recovery of Forelimb-Placing Behavior in Rats with Neonatal Unilateral Cortical Damage Involves the Remaining Hemisphere," was published in the October issue of the Journal of Neuroscience.

Dean of Students LIBBY PROFFER has been named to the board of directors of the Tarrant Area Council of Churches.

The Physical Plant Employee of the Quarter Award has been given to RUSSELL KINTZ for the third quarter of 1990. He is a craft technician I in the HVAC department. The award recognizes the employee for outstanding service and carries with it a $150 cash award, a commemorative coffee mug and an engraved entry on the TCU Physical Plant performance board.

*** **

TCU WASHINGTONITES GATHER

Election day, Nov. 6, was also reunion day for about 30 recent TCU graduates and current Washington interns who attended an alumni reception at America Restaurant near Union Station.

Gene Alpert, director of the Washington internship program, hosted the event, which was sponsored by the TCU Alumni Association. A number of the young alumni had been Washington interns during their school days.

*** **

DON'T FORGET ECO

With all the joy about Fort Worth's initial efforts toward recycling, there are mixed feelings about possible adverse effects on TCU's ECO recycling, from which all proceeds go to help in the fight against world hunger.

Dean of Students Libby Proffer asks all faculty and staff members who possibly can do so to bring their crushed aluminum cans to the ECO hut on the north stadium parking lot.

HOURS SET FOR THANKSGIVING

Classes will be dismissed and offices closed Thursday and Friday for Thanksgiving. Changes in hours have been announced for the library, the Student Center, Rickel Building and Information Services.

These changes in operation include:

Library	Nov. 21:	7:45 a.m.-5 p.m
	Nov. 22-23:	Closed
	Nov. 24:	1-5 p.m.
	Nov. 25:	6-11:45 p.m.
Student Center	Nov. 21:	Closes at 8 p.m.
	Nov. 22:	Closed
	Nov. 23-24:	8 a.m.-6 p.m.
	Nov. 25:	8 a.m.-10 p.m.
Rickel Building	Nov. 21:	Closes at 5 p.m
	Nov. 22:	Closed
	Nov. 23-24:	11 a.m.-3 p.m.
	Nov. 25:	Closed
Information Services	Nov. 22-23:	Closed
	Nov. 24:	8 a.m.-4 p.m.
	Nov. 25:	2 p.m.-10 p.m.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Nov. 21 —Classes recess at 5 p.m. for Thanksgiving holiday.
- Nov. 26 —Classes resume, 8 a.m.
 --TCU Music Series violin recital by Kurt Sprenger, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
 --Men's basketball, TCU vs. San Jose State, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 7:30 p.m.
- Nov. 27 —Pre-med lecture, "Preserving Prestidigitation," Dr. Bobby Wroten, Fort Worth hand surgeon, Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 4, 5:15 p.m.

CLASSIFIED:

FOR RENT: Charming three-bedroom, one-bath home two blocks from Westcliff Shopping Center, large fenced back yard, just a mile from TCU; $600 per month plus utilities (negotiable). Call 924-0009.

FOR SALE: Motorized TM Pacer Treadmill, adjustable speed: 2.0 mph to 3.5 mph, adjustable height: 0% to 26.8%; price $150. Call Dan or Barbara Kent, daytime 923-1921, Ext. 6730 or 4310, evenings 294-7154.

FOR SALE: Grand piano, good condition; $950 (negotiable). Gas lawn mower, 1 year old; $75. Kodak 140 slide carousels; $5 each. Call Sally 465-6982.

FOR SALE: Beautiful natural fox jacket, fingertip length, mint condition, size 10. Koslow's appraised at $1,200; will sell for $600. Call Lllisa Hannah at Ext. 7844.

FOR SALE: Yamaha C-5 grand piano, ebony, conservatory model, five years old but in perfect condition. Retail for $17,000, but am leaving the country and will sacrifice for $11,000. Call Laura Horton at 685-9545.

FOR SALE: Tandon PCX MS-DOS 3.1 calculator with graphics board; Amdek Color 600 monitor; IBM Proprinter XL; Panasonic Multi Mode dot matrix printer and miscellaneous software; $500 or best offer for lot. Call 926-1432.

*** ** *

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

Nov. 14, 1990

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Students who were in Boston for the annual conference of the National Association of Social Workers, Nov. 14-16:

Brown, Cameron	Barlow, Marihelen	Fisher, Cynthia	Moreland, Joli
----------------	-------------------	-----------------	----------------

Also, Gloria Alston attended a conference on "The Impact of Stress on Women" at Charter Hospital on Nov. 15.

Journalism students who attended an official SWC Media seminar and luncheon on Nov. 7 from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.:

Benz, Tyler	Blaylock, Jeff	Henry, Kyle	Lea, Jeff
			Pattison, Patti

Music students who attended the Lore Fisher master class at TCU on Oct. 17, from 2-5 p.m.:

Cabal, Sherri	Dobson, Stephanie	Knott, Missie	Robertson, Elizabeth
Chung, Jennifer	Gamblin-Bullock, Melody	Lewis, Stephanie	Suarez, Alex
Dietzel, Holly	Hanson, Roger	Pummill, Patrick

Music students who attended the Lore Fisher master class Oct. 22, from 10-12 noon:

Akers, Julianne	Dobson, Stephanie	Monto, Jennifer	Smith, Amanda
Bryant, Susannah	Eubank, Kathryn	Oliver, Reyth	Suarez, Alex
Buell, Jon	Faris, Marcy	Pollard, Katie	Tanner, Tammy
Chung, Jennifer	Gamblin-Bullock, Melody	Powell, Paige	Turner, Lori
Clegg, Rebecca	Herrick, Janet	Price, Tammy	Weger, Steve
Conn, Kristi	Johnson, Tam	Purchase, Mindee	Windsor, Elizabeth
Cropper, Jenna	Jones, Justin	Rexroat, Laura
Dietzel, Holly	Klein, Jennifer	Shaw, Rebecca

Music students who attended the Texoma regional convention of the National Assoc. of Teachers of Singing at the University of Texas (Austin) on Nov. 1 & 2:

Akers, Julianne	Cropper, Jenna	Lewis, Stephanie	Stewart, Leslie
Baker, Danny	Dietzel, Holly	Oliver, Reyth	Taylor, Jimmy
Carr, Richard	Faris, Marcy	Powell, Paige	Tyson, Tara
Chung, Jennifer	McGrory, Jeff	Robertson, Elizabeth	Windsor, Elizabeth
Coligado, Emy	Johnson, Cherylynn	Rodriguez, Tina

Men's basketball team members who missed classes after 12 noon, Nov. 14, to participate in a game at Fort Sill, OK:

Bentley, Jody	Frain, Robert	Morgan, Ernest	Strickland, Michael
Crawford, Kelvin	Fromayan, Edwin	Moton, Mark	Thomas, Albert
Dore, Dan	Graves, Robert	Preston, David	Thomas, Kurt
Fiedler, Kenneth	Mitchell, Michael	Smith, Reginald	Tolley, Harvey

Men's tennis team members who missed classes Nov. 15 & 16 to participate in the National Intercollegiate Clay Curt Championships at Panama City, FL:

Bujan, Anthony	Ruette, Luis
----------------	--------------