Dear Sir:

I enjoyed very much meeting you and talking to you at the recent Washington meeting of The Meteoritical Society.

I think I followed your paper with reasonable intelligence for a person in my position. When your background is law and your business dry goods, mineralogy and metallography picked up on the side are apt to be somewhat superficial and deficient!

Do you and your co-authors plan to publish this any time soon? And if not, could I get a copy of your paper now just for my private use, and not for quotation or circulation? Several of my friends who have helped me work on this would like to see anything that might be made available. I would of course not expect photographs or reproductions.

I am still trying my best to get all the other masses.

Yours sincerely,
