

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 56, No. 29, April 17, 1990

AT TCU, 'TARTUFFE' IS 'TAR-TUFF'

Moliere's "Tartuffe" was a pious, holy crook who conned his master Orgon into promising his daughter's hand, disinheriting his son and forgiving the seduction of his wife. The 17th Century comedy, written in rhymed couplets, was banned from the French stage for five years.

Theatre chairman Andrew Harris' "Tar-Tuff" is a Bible-thumpin' televangelist who speaks in Texas rhyme and fast-talks pore ol' J.R. Gone out of his wife, home and business. It will be staged April 24-29 in University Theatre, with performances at 8 p.m. nightly Tuesday through Saturday, April 24-28, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 29. Admission is free with TCU ID.

Moliere was concerned with what he considered the excesses of the gullible at the hands of the Jansenists, an order of Catholic clergy.

Andrew conceived the idea for "Tar-Tuff" while watching the evening news. "There he was," Andrew said, "lips quivering and tears streaming down his face, crying, 'I've sinned. I've sinned. I've sinned.' I remember thinking, 'Had this man no shame? Didn't he know that Moliere had already written his story three centuries ago?' But clearly, Jimmy Swaggart, having never read 'Tartuffe,' chose to enact Moliere's great play in life."

Gaylan Collier, who directed Moliere's "Tartuffe" for Theatre TCU nine years ago, also takes charge of the new version. "In that production," she recalled, "we stressed the dual culpability of a shyster predator and his fanatical prey who swallows his line 'whole hog.'" The new production makes use of the same theatrical thrust, with major differences in the handling of the style and language.

The role of Rev. Tar-Tuff is played by Ed Landwehr, senior theatre major from Lovallette, NJ, with Jim Hopkins of Aurora, NE, as J.R. Gone. Alison Bode of San Antonio is Ellie, J.R.'s pretty, young second wife who is smart enough to know Tar-Tuff is a fraud, and air-headed daughter Mary Ann is Robyn Horne of Dallas. Barry Doss of Pollok is son Jamie.

*** **

NOBEL PHYSICIST IS HONORS PROFESSOR

Noted theoretical physicist Steven Weinberg will address the Honors Convocation Thursday morning on "The Supercollider Debate." The program will begin at 11 a.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

(continued)

HONORS WEEK (continued)

Dr. Weinberg, who has been Josey Regental Professor of Science at the University of Texas at Austin since 1982, was a member of the board of overseers of the Superconducting Supercollider from 1983 to 1986 and also served on the Supercollider site evaluation committee in 1987.

He is well known for his development of a field theory that unifies the weak and electromagnetic interactions of the elementary particles and for other major contributions to physics.

A native of New York, he received his A.B. degree from Cornell University in 1954, then studied for a year at the Niels Bohr Institute in Copenhagen, where he did research under the guidance of Gunner Kallen. He returned to this country to complete his graduate studies at Princeton University, where he earned the Ph.D. in 1957. He held postdoctoral positions at Columbia University and at the Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory before joining the faculty of the University of California-Berkeley in 1960.

Dr. Weinberg accepted a professorship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1969 and moved to Harvard in 1973 as Higgins Professor of Physics and senior scientist at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

For his work on unified field theory, Dr. Weinberg received the 1979 Nobel Prize in physics, along with S.L. Glashow and Abdus Salam, all working independently. He had received the J. Robert Oppenheimer Prize of the University of Miami in 1973, the Dannie Heineman Prize for mathematical physics of the American Physical Society in 1977 and the American Institute of Physics-U.S. Steel Foundation Award for Science Writing in 1977.

Dr. Weinberg was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1968 and to the National Academy of Sciences in 1972 and served in the American Physical Society as councillor at large. He also is a member of Britain's Royal Society, American Philosophical Society, Council on Foreign Relations, International Astronomical Union and the American Historical Association.

His publications in the areas of elementary particles, quantum field theory and cosmology include "Gravitation and Cosmology: The Discovery of Subatomic Particles" and "The First Three Minutes: A Modern View of the Origin of the Universe," which has been translated into 20 foreign languages.

Classes dismissed for convocation

Announcement of Alpha Lambda Delta Award, TCU Honors Scholar Award, the 1990 Faculty Recognition Award and other scholarship awards will be made during Honors Convocation, and Chancellor Bill Tucker will present new members of Phi Beta Kappa. All 11 a.m. classes will be dismissed for convocation.

With Honors Program Director David Grant presiding, the program also will include a welcome by Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler and invocation by David Lawrence, who formerly chaired the Student Honors Cabinet. J. Mark Dunn, Harriet Bell Scholar in Organ, will play the processional and the postlude, and Dr. Weinberg will be introduced by Jean Giles-Sims, who heads the Honors Week committee.

(continued)

HONORS WEEK (continued)

From 2 to 2:45 p.m. Thursday, Dr. Weinberg will discuss his address with students and faculty at a forum in the board room on the fifth floor of the Sid W. Richardson Building.

Army ROTC will hold its awards ceremony at 4 p.m. that day in Moudy Building 141N. All interested persons are welcome.

Banquet is 'Reformation Celebration'

Paying tribute to Nadia Lahutsky of religion-studies, 1989-90 Honors Professor, the April 19 banquet at 6:30 p.m. in Student Center ballroom will be a "Reformation Celebration," with diners partaking of "Cardinal Consecrated Chicken" and "Feed the 5000 Fish" and enjoying entertainment by "Attila the Nun and Her Twisted Sisters."

Nadia's after-dinner talk will be on "The Endurance of Tradition." She will be introduced by Honors Cabinet Chair Andrew Wright. David will preside, and the chancellor will present senior scholars in each department. Roy Combrink, president of TCU's Sigma Xi chapter, will present the Sigma Xi Award to the outstanding senior in science, and Ken Lawrence, Phi Beta Kappa chapter president, will make the Phi Beta Kappa Award presentation to the top senior in liberal studies. David will present the Boller Award for the outstanding senior honors presentation.

Also scheduled during Honors Week are the Phi Upsilon Omicron home economics dinner April 20 honoring graduating seniors and the Sigma Theta Tau nursing society induction ceremony at 3:30 p.m. April 21 in the living room of the Bass Building.

*** **

INTERIOR DESIGNERS SHOW WORKS

Seven women slated to receive their interior design degrees next month will show their designs today (Tuesday) to informed critics--member of the Fort Worth chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers. Society members will attend a 6 p.m. reception in Student Center lounge preceding their chapter meeting here.

Using divider panels frequently seen in the ballroom, each student will display works representing her four years' study here on a panel. The showing represents the first time student work has been shown in the lounge area since the Student Center's gallery was closed, according to Fred Oberkircher, associate professor of design and fashion.

The interior design show is open through Saturday. Both residential and commercial designs will be included as well as three-dimensional objects created to display gradations of color. Student designers are Christina Mancil and Julie Jaeger, both of Fort Worth, Debra Brewer of Arlington, Ann Fisher of Midway, KY, Charlotte Fitzgerald of Houston, Cari Garrett of St. Louis and Elizabeth Ruddy of Beaumont.

ARMY ROTC WINS RANGER CHALLENGE

For the third consecutive year, Army ROTC's mechanical skills and tactics team faced competition from as far away as Puerto Rico to capture the regional Ranger Challenge championship April 6-8 at Fort Riley, KS. Pitted against brigade champions from a nine-state area, the TCU team took first place in three events: physical fitness, which included push-ups, sit-ups and a two-mile run; orienteering, which required groups to find locations using maps and compasses; and a 10-kilometer road march in full uniform with boots and 40-pound rucksack. In physical fitness, an eight-member team scored 299.89 of 300 possible points.

Seniors John Howerton and Mike Petty achieved perfect scores of 300 in physical fitness and also weapon firing. When the team was honored April 5 at a ceremony featuring the First Cavalry from Fort Hood, Capt. William McElroy, team sponsor, was awarded the Army Commendation Medal for his three-year leadership of the team.

But the 10-cadet team will be practicing, not relaxing to savor their awards. Scrambles up 12-foot walls, intricate maneuvers required for building a bridge across a river with only one rope and the crack of M-16 rifles will be everyday sights and sounds on campus until the team leaves for West Point. Chosen as one of the top five mechanical skills and tactics teams in the United States, it will be pitted against West Point cadets as well as four other ROTC teams at the military academy's Sandhurst Competition April 27-29. Five teams were chosen from more than 300 institutions which have college-level ROTC programs. Other team members include Mike Gill, Jay Grubbs, Billie Heiser, Elden Lacer, Brian Layne, Matthew Perry, Jacquie Maupin and Joseph Campbell (TCJC).

*** **

APPLE COMPUTER PROGRAM TO BE APRIL 18

"The Knowledge Navigator: Technologies to Get Us There and Beyond," a satellite broadcast, will premiere tomorrow (Wednesday) from 11 a.m. to noon. Three senior managers from Apple's Advanced Technology Group will discuss the major technologies featured in the Knowledge Navigator, Apple's vision for the personal computer of the future, and the breakthroughs needed to get there.

The live satellite broadcast will be received in the Center for Instructional Services, TAGER TV/Telecommunications Studio. Additional information is available from Deana Muirhead, Ext. 7632.

*** **

SENIOR ART SHOW IS NEXT WEEK

Three senior art majors will display their works Monday through April 27 in Moudy Building Exhibition Space. Hours for the showing will be 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., with opening reception from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday. Included will be photographs by Frances Orphee of Fort Worth and paintings by Giff Rammer of Arlington and Carl Noack Bauer of Washington, DC.

BROTHERHOOD DINNER WILL HONOR TUCKERS

Chancellor and Mrs. Bill Tucker will be honored April 24 at the 39th annual Brotherhood Citation Dinner hosted by the Tarrant County chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. The event will be held at the Worthington Hotel, beginning with a 6:30 p.m. reception.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Mary Louise Rowand of Dallas, who has been a TCU trustee since 1973. Trustee William L. Adams, chairman of Union Pacific Resources Company, is dinner chairman.

Reservations, set at $150 per person, are due by Thursday to Emily Trantham, executive director of the local chapter, at 500 W. 7th St., Suite 1702, Fort Worth 76102. Proceeds benefit the chapter's efforts to promote understanding through conferences, seminars and workshops.

The NCCJ brotherhood award honors persons who exemplify the philosophies and principles of brotherhood in their outstanding humanitarian service to others. Honorees typically seek their own avenues of service in their chosen endeavors and have made significant contributions to the community and often even nationally and internationally.

*** **

FACULTY ASSEMBLY SET FOR APRIL 24

"Library Automation: The Impact on the University Community" will be considered at the April 24 meeting of the Faculty Assembly. Discussing the topic will be Fred Heath, library director, and Dave Edmondson, assistant vice chancellor for information services. The 3:30-5 p.m. meeting will be in Lecture Hall 2 of the Sid Richardson Building, according to Bill Vanderhoof, Faculty Senate chairman.

*** **

PARENTS COUNCIL WILL MEET

A question-and-answer period with Chancellor Bill Tucker, a faculty panel and a tour of the library are scheduled for members of the Parents Council when they visit here Friday and Saturday. Other activities also are planned to bring them up-to-date on campus projects.

The 50 members of the council, representing all parents as an advisory body, learn about issues of concern, provide feedback to the University and volunteer time to such programs as admissions, student affairs and University relations and development. The council meets twice a year.

*** **

JUST A REMINDER...

..."The Emerging Role of Telecommunications in Higher Education," a live satellite teleconference, will be received in the Center for Instructional Services, TAGER TV/Telecommunications Studio today (Tuesday) from 2-3:30 p.m. Reservations can be made by calling Ext. 7632.

OFF-CAMPUS LIBRARY ACCESS NOW AVAILABLE

Library users can now access the Mary Coats Burnett Library online catalog from other campuses and off-campus locations by using a terminal or personal computer. Instructions for both on- and off-campus users include:

OPAC DIAL-IN INSTRUCTIONS FOR OFF-CAMPUS USERS

Phone No.: 921-7161
Class: V6310
Username: TCUCAT
Baud Rate: 300, 1200, or 2400
Settings: 8 data bits, no parity (must enter ";" after CONNECT)
7 data bits, even parity (will not give you diacritics)

Terminal Emulation: VT100 or higher (VT220 or VT320 preferred).
Telecommunication software (KERMIT) is available free of charge from User Services (you must bring a floppy disk).

-----
TECHNICAL

HELP: User Services, 921-6355, Mon-Fri 9-5 p.m.

OPAC INSTRUCTIONS FOR ON-CAMPUS USERS

VMS780 Users: type: SET HOST CCVAX3, username: TCUCAT
Business School PC: type: SETHOST CCVAX3, username: TCUCAT
CMS & MUSIC: at class, type: V6310, username: TCUCAT

Persons needing more help using the online catalog should call the reference desk, Ext. 7117.

*** **

TERRA TO SPONSOR EARTH WEEK ACTIVITIES

Earth Week is the perfect opportunity for the newly-formed Terra environmental organization to take its concern about the world to the community and the campus. On Earth Day, April 22, members will man an information booth and collect cans and paper for recycling at the Grapevine Wal-Mart, 1250 William Tate, from noon to 5 p.m. Materials on such key environmental issues as recycling, energy, global warming, endangered species and land resources will be available.

Bringing their message to campus from April 23-27, Terra's 50 members will address one critical environmental issue each day. Speakers have been scheduled and displays prepared on land resources, April 23; air and global warming, April 24; water and foods, April 25; endangered species, April 26; and a recycling drive, April 27. Programs are scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Student Center.

RETIREES WILL HEAR SECREST

Vice Chancellor Leigh Secrest, responsible for the University finance and planning, will speak at the April 26 luncheon of the TCU Retirees Association. He will focus attention on the fiscal year closing on May 31 and the year to come.

The final luncheon for the 1989-90 year, the event will begin at 11:30 a.m. at Colonial Cafeteria, 5011 Trail Lake Drive.

*** **

CONCERT CHORALE TO SING SUNDAY

TCU's premier choral group, the Concert Chorale, will conclude its 1989-90 season with a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The concert program, much of which was performed during a recent tour of the Midwest, will open with two motets by Victoria, "Vere Languores" from the Lenten season and "O Magnum Mysterium" from the Advent season. The choir, directed by Ron Shirey, also will perform four Poulenc motets composed for Lent and Advent.

The group will sing "Alleluia," written by Randall Thompson for the opening of the 1940 Tanglewood Music Festival, as well as English translations of four of the six Hindemith Chanson, "The Doe," "A Swan," "Since Fall Is Passing" and "The Orchard."

A Cole Porter tune, "Every Time You Say Goodbye I Die a Little," will be sung as arranged for Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, and the choir and pianists Janet Pummill, staff accompanist, and TCU senior Katie Pollard of Tampa, FL, will present the American folk tune "Cindy." The program will conclude with "Gloria" from Dominick Argento's "Masque of Angels."

*** **

LUAU WILL HONOR '90 SENIORS

Graduating seniors in the Class of 1990 will be honored tomorrow (Wednesday) at a "Last Chance Luau" hosted by the TCU Alumni Association and Marriott Food Services. The annual event will be held in the Student Center ballroom, beginning with a 6 p.m. reception.

Student Foundation president Brad Davis will be master of ceremonies. Taking part in the program, which will include a slide presentation coordinated by Shannon Nitcholas, will be Chancellor Bill Tucker and Pam Roach, alumni vice president for student relations.

The graduating seniors also will be honored today (Tuesday) at a reception at the alumni office from 1:30-4:30 p.m. A gift will be presented each senior by the alumni association.

BAND MEMBERS LAND CONVENTION

TCU band sorority and fraternity members have worked at everything from handling slave chores to caroling this year -- all for money.

Their fund-raising activities paid off in early April when TCU's bid to become the site for the 1991 district conventions of the two organizations was successful. The gathering of Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma members, slated for April 12-14 in the Student Center and Ed Landreth Auditorium, is expected to draw some 800 visitors from Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Paul Burrer, who organized the bid effort along with Melissa Whittaker and Scott Black with advice from Carolyn Ulrickson of Career Planning and Placement, said their work has just begun. They also must raise the money to pay the initial costs of the convention, though they will be reimbursed by the sorority and fraternity district offices.

So there will be more fund-raising in the months ahead. Right now, Paul said, the groups are looking at washing cars and selling sunglasses.

*** **

REYNOLDS WINS GOLD MEDAL

Jordan Reynolds isn't likely to forget the 1990 Texas Relays. In the recent competition in Austin, he won the shot put title with a 60-foot, 6-inch throw, which was 2 1/2 inches from the NCAA qualifying distance. More important is the fact that he is the first TCU weight man to win a gold medal in the relays since 1938. This marked the first time the football linebacker had broken the 60-foot barrier with a collegiate shot.

The Houston junior's 187-foot, 1-inch throw gave him second place in discus competition, which was won by defending NCAA and Texas Relays champion John Nichols of Louisiana State. Jordy's effort was 10 feet beyond his previous best throw.

In other categories, the Frogs led qualifiers in the 4x100, an event they had won the last two years, but they lost to the Texas Longhorns in a close finish. TCU's women's 1,600 spring medley relay team came in fifth.

*** **

TGIF FEATURES ECLECTIC MUSICAL MIX

Billed as "part folkie, part modern rock 'n roller and part political poet," Gene Cotton will play rock, ethereal music and pop ballads during a TGIF performance Friday at 11:30 a.m. in the Student Center lounge. His combination of acoustic and electronic music has been featured in 13 albums and 40 singles. He has appeared on television programs including "Midnight Special" and BBC's "Tops of the Pops."

CONCERT MEMORIALIZES DE GROOTE

Late last spring Tamas Ungar and Steven De Groote made plans to play a duo-recital as their contribution to the TCU Music Series this year.

Steven died soon after that, but the performance goes on Monday night, a special concert by Tamas and other friends in memory of Steven, who was TCU's artist-in-residence and 1977 Van Cliburn International Piano Competition Gold Medalist.

Joining Tamas for the 8 p.m. concert in Ed Landreth Auditorium will be others who were friends of Steven and often performed with him, including Jose Feghali, 1985 Cliburn Gold Medalist who will succeed Steven as artist-in-residence beginning in the fall; voice faculty members Sheila Allen and Vincent Russo; violinist Robert Davidovici, concertmaster of the Fort Worth Symphony; and pianist Adam Wodnicki of the University of North Texas.

First half of the concert will be devoted to works by Schubert, Steven's favorite composer, including the Fantasie in F Minor and a group of songs presented by Sheila and Vince. Post-intermission works by Mozart will be the Sonata in E Minor for Violin and Piano and the Sonata in D Major for Two Pianos.

*** **

EDUCATION FORUM SET MONDAY

What will it take to solve the educational crisis in Texas?

That's the question that will be posed to a pair of education deans in a public forum at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Moudy Building 141N. Doug Simpson, dean of the School of Education at TCU, and his counterpart at Texas Wesleyan University, Dr. Allen Henderson, will be the speakers.

The forum is sponsored by the Tarrant County Campaign for Global Security, the TCU Department of Political Science and University Ministries at TCU.

*** **

WIND GROUP PLAYS FRIDAY

Conducted by Band Director Bob Blanton, the University's Wind Ensemble will perform a recital at 8 p.m. Friday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Faculty members George Rosenbaum will be featured on John Boda's Concert Piece for Viola and Wind Ensemble and Steve Weger on "Napoli" by Herman Bellstedt. The ensemble also will perform two selections by Percy Grainger, "Scenes from the Green Bushes" and "Molly on the Shore," as well as Suite Francaise by Darius Milhaud and British Eights, March by Zo Elliott.

TCU BRINGS HOME THE BACON

We don't want to confuse all you old Addy the Horned Frog fans, but Ralph the pig is wallowing in his accustomed place at TCU, too.

Ralph is the mascot -- and the top award -- of the annual Creative Summit Conference at Southwest Texas State University, an award earned by TCU's communication graphics program this spring for the second consecutive year. The big silver pig award, given to the best overall design program, was created in honor of Ralph the swimming pig at Aquarena Springs in San Marcos, home of the graphic design conference.

Of 58 pieces selected for the student design competition from entries by University of Texas-Austin, East Texas State University, University of North Texas, Southwest Texas State, TCU and two Oklahoma universities, 25 -- or 43.1 percent -- were created by TCU students.

TCU students receiving five of 11 gold medals were Pham Nhan, senior from Arlington, who earned two gold medals for a cafe menu cover and a USA Film Festival poster; Tracy German, senior from Sugar Land, for the Edna Gladney Center logo; Juliana Hammond, junior from Loveland, CO, Pepto Bismol ad campaign; and Andrew Roth, St. Louis junior, anti-smoking ad campaign. One of three special gold awards also went to Pham Nhan for design.

Others whose work was selected for the exhibition included Craig Bailey, Houston senior; Steven Dowdy, senior from Crowley; Daniel Hanke, senior from San Antonio; Hanh Le, Fort Worth sophomore; and Jennifer Washburn, Ballwin, MO, senior.

Two dozen communication graphic majors, accompanied by Margie Adkins and Lewis Glaser, attended the April 6-8 program. Jurors included designers Jerry Herring of Houston, Mike Hicks of Austin and Los Angeles, Forrest and Valerie Richardson of Phoenix, AZ, Chris Rovillo of Dallas, Ron Sullivan of Dallas and John Van Dyke of Seattle, illustrator Steve Pietzsch of Dallas and D.J. Stout, art director for Texas Monthly.

*** **

LADY FROGS FINISH THIRD

The Lady Frog golfers compiled 963 points to come in third in the recent Earl Stewart Lady Mustang Roundup at Dallas' Lakewood Country Club. SMU players' final round for a 932 total gave them their first title in the event's eight-year history. Texas was second with a team score of 932.

Top-ranking individual was Michiko Hattori of Texas with 227. Tricia Allen and Sandy Paysse of TCU ranked sixth and eighth, respectively, with score totals of 237 and 233. Other Lady Frogs were Barbara Plant with 244 and Jane Kragh with 246.

WORCESTER AWARD INITIATED

The first Outstanding Student in Latin American Studies Award will be presented tonight (Tuesday) at a dinner meeting of the Latin American Studies Workshop, an informal faculty group.

The award honors Don Worcester, Ida and Cecil Green Emeritus Tutor in history and author of 11 books on Latin America, and will be presented for the first time by Prof. John Johnson of Stanford University, also a specialist in Latin American studies and a former University of California classmate of Don.

Honoring an undergraduate student chosen from the Spanish, history and political science departments, the award was instituted by the Latin American Studies Workshop with the assistance of the Penrose Fund, said Bill Beezley, holder of the Neville G. Penrose Chair of Latin American Studies. The Latin American Studies Workshop is an informal faculty group which recently has requested that Latin American studies be offered as a minor as well as a major at TCU.

Selection of the award recipient will be made on the basis of the student's academic achievement, qualifications for a minor in Latin American studies and extracurricular activities that have contributed to the interest in and awareness of Latin America on campus and in the community, explained Mike Dodson of political science.

*** **

TCU IN THE NEWS

The University's Funding Information Center was the subject of a feature story in the April 6 issue of Business Press. Quoted in the story as well as featured in a photo was DOROTHY BLACKWELL, center director.

"Of the 20,000 largest corporations in the United States, only 800 can issue what are known as investment-grade bonds," according to STAN BLOCK (finance), who was quoted extensively in the April 6 issue of Business Press in a story entitled "Cautiously approached, junk bonds can pay off."

"Costume staff joins in on AIDS quilt project" was the headline in Tarrant Southwest for the April 5 story about students of LALONNIE LEHMAN (theatre) assembling a six-foot-square quilt commemorating those who have died from AIDS.

"Making the difference" is the title of a new Star-Telegram column devoted to spotlighting persons in the community. Featured in the April 9 issue of the evening paper was Dean LIBBY PROFFER (Student Life) under the headline of "No problem is too big or too small for the dean of students at TCU." Complemented by a color photo, the story included quotes from Chancellor BILL TUCKER, trustee A.M. PENNYBACKER, student BRYAN CANNON and alumnus KEVIN DAVIS.

WINDHAM HILL ARTIST PERFORMS TONIGHT

Windham Hill recording artist Pierce Pettis will perform a mix of folk classics, contemporary favorites and his own compositions tonight (Tuesday) at 7:30 in the Student Center lounge. The event is sponsored by the Performing Arts Committee.

In "While the Serpent Lies Sleeping," his debut album for Windham Hill, Pettis explores a broad spectrum of contemporary issues in vocals while he plays guitar, harmonica and keyboard. Pettis has made many appearances on National Public Radio's "Mountain Stage" and was recently profiled on "Morning Edition." His songs have been recorded by such artists as Dion and Randy Stonehill, and his own recording of "7 X 7" was recently released on a Myrrh sampler entitled "Twelve New Faces."

*** **

JAZZ WINNERS MAKE TCU LOOK GOOD

Four of the 12 winners in the jazz band competition at the recent TCU Jazz and Concert Band Festival were conducted by TCU graduates, said Curt Wilson, and the festival's outstanding musician has announced he will enroll here next year.

Winners in 5A band competition were Plano High School, first; Martin High School of Arlington, directed by TCU alumnus Jim McDaniel, second; and Sam Houston High School of Arlington, directed by TCU graduate Dave Henning, third.

Castleberry High School's first band, conducted by alumnus Phil Aikman, won the 4A jazz band competition, followed by Arlington Lamar's second band and the Brewer High School band of White Settlement, whose director is TCU graduate Gene Lamb.

Winners in 3A competition were Coppell, first; Wylie, second; and Castleberry second band, third. Alto High School was the 2A winner, and middle school competition was won by Coppell with Brewer in second place.

Named outstanding musician in the competition was Coppell High School senior Roger Martin, a saxophonist. He plans to attend TCU next year.

Adjudicators for the jazz band competition were Dr. Shelton Berg, professor of music and jazz at San Jacinto Community College and president of the Texas unit of the International Association of Jazz Educators; Duane Durrett, director of jazz studies at Weatherford College; Dr. M.E. Hall, founder of the University of North Texas Lab Band; and Metroplex trumpeter/teacher Jay Saunders, former lead trumpet with the Stan Kenton Band.

NOTES ON FOLKS

CYNTHIA FOLIO's Sketches for Flute and Piano was performed March 11 at the Settlement Music School in Philadelphia. The concert, entitled "The Eastman Legacy," featured compositions by Eastman graduates performed by Eastman graduates. Cynthia discussed TCU's undergraduate theory curriculum during a Faculty Development Day forum at Tarrant County Junior College northwest campus March 30.

FRED ERISMAN (English) was an invited discussant on the history section panel, Crime in the Classroom: Historians and Detectives as Social Scientists, which was part of the Southwestern Social Science Association annual meeting March 28-31. As a specialist in detective-fiction studies, Fred was asked to evaluate and comment on papers dealing with the use of detective fiction as a tool in the teaching of the social sciences. Papers were given by scholars from California, New York and Oregon.

"The Kimbell Art Museum's 'Girl with a Cross' by Georges Braque" was the title of a paper presented by MARK THISTLETHWAITE (art and art history) at the Midwest Art History Society's annual meeting in Cincinnati. Mark's paper was part of a session focusing on significant recent museum acquisitions.

KENNETH RAESSLER (music) has been elected to the executive board of the Texas Association of Music Schools as the director representing the private colleges and universities in Texas. There are approximately 27 private colleges and universities included in the 93-member organization.

TED KLEIN (philosophy) recently attended the Pacific division annual meeting of the American Philosophical Association in Los Angeles, where he participated in a colloquium on medical ethics. His contribution was titled "Moral Responsibility and the 'Futile Treatment' of Anencephalic Newborns to Harvest Their Organs: A Reply to Nancy S. Jecker." While there he heard the outstanding presidential address given by John Searle, who was TCU's Honors Convocation speaker in 1972.

SPENCER WERTZ (philosophy) has a 15-page article entitled "Reference in Anselm's Ontological Proof" in the April issue of the History of Philosophy Quarterly (University of Pittsburgh). The study represents five years of research and reflection and was Spencer's presidential address to the North Texas Philosophical Association in the spring of 1988.

Geologist RICHARD HANSON has received notification that his proposal entitled "Tectonomagmatic setting of Jurassic volcanism in the Transantarctic Mountains" has been funded by the National Science Foundation. The project will involve a two-month field season in Antarctica next winter.

A book review by LINDA HUGHES (English) appears in the spring issue of Victorian Periodicals Review. The review is devoted to The Tennyson Archive, Vol. 1: The Harvard Notebooks 1-4, edited by Christopher Ricks and Aidan Day.

Hats off to ROBERT SULAK (physical plant) and his staff for the beautiful spring blooms on campus and, in particular, the TCU athletic logo in purple and white pansies at Daniel-Meyer Coliseum.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

LEE DANIEL (modern languages) delivered a paper titled "Joaquín Bestard y la Obsesión de Germán Ortiga" for the XXIII annual meeting of the Southwest Council of Latin American Studies. The conference was held on the campus of the Universidad Autónoma de Nuevo León in Monterrey, México.

During spring break, Lee led a group of 10 students to Mexico as part of an introductory trip to Mexico conducted each semester. They visited Mexico City, the pyramids of Teotihuacán and Xochicalco, Cuernavaca, San Andrés de la Cal, Tepoztlán, las Grutas de Cacahuamilpa and Taxco. The students stayed in a hotel in Mexico City; during the rest of the trip, they lived with Mexican families. The next introductory trip to Mexico will take place in October when Lee will lead a group to Zacatecas and Chalchihuites.

This summer TCU will offer the three-hour study/travel course "Mexican Culture and Language," Spanish 2133, taught by Lee in Cuernavaca June 4-July 6. Four days each week will be spent in class, and during the remaining three days major Mexican cities will be visited in order to practice Spanish in a meaningful context and also to broaden the student's knowledge of the Mexican culture.

WILLIAM BEEZLEY (history) presented an invited lecture to the Latin American Seminar at the University of Houston March 27 on the topic "Researching the popular attitudes of non-literate communities in Mexico." On March 30 he participated in the Southwestern Council on Latin American Studies meeting at the Universidad Autónoma de Nuevo León, Monterrey, speaking on "La cultura de la calle durante los años de Porfirio Díaz."

Bill also delivered a paper on "Holidays....Holy Days... Mexican Virture on Parade: An Analysis of Civic Holidays in Nineteenth Century Mexico" at the annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Conference on Latin American Studies April 6 in Tucson, AZ.

The spring issue of The F.I.T. Review, a refereed publication of the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York, includes "Care Label Testing of Viyella," an article by SALLY FORTENBERRY (fashion and design).

WINIFRED BRYAN HORNER (English) has recently published "Writing Instruction in Great Britain: Eighteenth- and Nineteenth-Century" in A Short History of Writing Instruction from Ancient Greece to Twentieth-Century America (Ed. James J. Murphy), and "The Roots of Writing Instruction: Eighteenth- and Nineteenth-Century Britain" in Rhetoric Review. She has delivered papers at the meeting of the South Central Modern Languages Association in New Orleans and at the Conference on College Composition and Communication in Chicago. Win was profiled by Sharon Crowley in the Pre/Text article "Three Woman Models in the Profession" and was given the Award for Distinguished Alumna by the University of Missouri. She recently received a TCU Research Grant and will be delivering lectures at the University of Aberdeen and the University of Amsterdam this summer.

FRANK REUTER (history) has learned that his article, "George Washington's Inadvertant Politics," has been accepted for publication in the June 1990 issue of the Valley Forge Journal.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- April 17 --Senior interior design show, Student Center lounge, through April 21. Opening reception 6-8 p.m. April 17.
--Windham Hill recording artist Pierce Pettis, Student Center lounge, 7:30 p.m.
- April 18 --TCU Woman's Club spring luncheon and installation of officers, with Mayor Bob Bolen talking on "TCU and Fort Worth: A Joint Community," Student Center Rooms 205-6, 11:30 a.m.
- April 19 --Honors Week: Honors convocation, featuring an address on "The Supercollider Debate" by physicist Steven Weinberg, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 11 a.m.; open forum with Weinberg, Sid W. Richardson board room, 2-2:45 p.m.; Honors banquet, Student Center ballroom, 6:30 p.m.
- April 20 --Biology Seminar: "Positional Growth Control in Mammalian Limb Development," biologist Ken Muneoka of Tulane University, Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 3, noon.
--TCU Wind Ensemble concert, Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- April 22 --TCU Concert Chorale concert, Landreth Auditorium, 3 p.m.
- April 23 --Monday at TCU.
--Bachelor of Fine Arts senior studio art exhibition, Moudy Building Exhibition Space, through April 27, 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Opening reception 6-8 p.m. April 23.
--Lecture on "our Changing Global Economy," by John Rutledge, executive-in-residence, Tandy Hall Room 325, 3:30 p.m.
--TCU Music Series piano recital in memory of Steven De Groote by Tamas Ungar and friends, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m. Free.
- April 24 --TCU Retirees Association luncheon, featuring Vice Chancellor Leigh Secrest, Colonial Cafeteria, 5011 Trail Lake Drive, 11:30 a.m.
--Faculty assembly, Fred Heath and Dave Edmondson discussing "Library Automation: The Impact on the University Community," Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 2, 3:30-5 p.m.
--Academic Services Workshop: Preparing for Finals, 7 p.m.
--Theatre TCU production of Moliere's "Tartuffe," reset in Texas as "Tar-Tuff," through April 29, 8 p.m. nightly through April 28, 2 p.m. April 29. Admission $5, students and senior citizens $3, free with TCU ID. Call Ext. 7626 for reservations.

CLASSIFIED

WALK TO TCU: Cute, small, unfurnished one-bedroom apartment a block and a half from TCU; located behind the house at 3130 Greene Ave.; water paid, no pets; $270 per month. Call Morri at Ext. 7470 or at home, 377-1902. Leave message.

FOR SALE: Very gentle Shetland pony, no bad habits, excellent for kids or grandkids. Saddle, bridle, etc. included. Call Ext. 6838 or 297-3130.

HOUSE FOR SALE: Faculty home at 2552 Rogers Ave. less than two blocks from TCU; two bedrooms, one bath, updated, but with many original 1940 features, excellent condition; $85,000. Call 921-2297 after 6 p.m.

*** **

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

April 11, 1990

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Baseball team members who left campus at 9 a.m., Apr. 5 and missed classes on Apr. 5, 6, and 9 to participate in tournaments at Arkansas University and Southwestern Missouri:

Barr, Travis	Bentancourt, David	Bowdoin, David	Caple, Kyle
Chalk, Scott	Clay, Leon	Dobson, Joel	Doyel, Clint
Gonzalez, Paul	Hargrove, Randy	Hinojosa, Ricky	Johns, Kelly
Jones, Leroy	Losa, Mike	Malone, Scott	Mock, Jon
Peters, Rick	Shope, Jared	Shoptaw, Britt	Thomsen, Chris
Thorpe, Darren

Theatre and Music students who participated in special vocal classes with Professor Jan Sullivan (Brigham Young University) on Mar. 30:

Hopkins, Jim	Bratz, Stephanie	Welch, Jessica	Robertson, Stephanie
Doss, Barry	Bateman, Jeff	Clark, Brad

Men's golf team members who left campus at 12 noon, Apr. 10, and missed all classes on Apr. 11, 12, and 13 to participate in the Southwest Conference Tournament at Austin:

Budde, Rene	Cooper, Robert	Magee, Chad	Massengale, Terry
Tinning, Ben			