THREE WILL BEGIN NEW ROLES JUNE 1

Three persons — Jill Estes, Ann Sewell and Joe Helmick — will assume new administrative responsibilities June 1. Announcements of the appointments, two of them to new positions, were made by Vice Chancellors Edd Bivin, Leigh Secrest and Bill Koehler, respectively.

Director of business services since late 1985, Jill will become assistant vice chancellor for business services. After beginning her TCU association in 1974 as a hall director, she was named programming coordinator for residential living in 1976 and area coordinator for residential living a year later. She headed use of facilities and rural property management for two years before beginning her current assignment.

Jill, a participant in Forum Fort Worth, earned the B.A. degree at the University of Texas at Arlington and the M.Ed. at TCU. She is active in the American Management Association and Association of College and University Telecomunication Administrators.

Ann, to take the new position of assistant vice chancellor for financial analysis, assumed her current position as director of financial analysis in 1988 after heading institutional research for nine years. Member of TCU's staff since 1978, she has served as the University's representative to the Texas Institutional Research Association.

A public relations supervisor and communications consultant with South Central Bell Telephone earlier in her career, Ann also was an associate in the Office of Institutional Research at the University of Alabama. She earned bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees there and was named outstanding graduate student in administration and planning in 1980. She was a member of Leadership Fort Worth in 1983.

el Joe, who came to TCU in 1977 as head of communication pathology and director of Miller Speech and Hearing Clinic, has been named dean of Graduate Studies and Research. Interim dean in that office since last year, he chaired the speech communication department in 1982-89 and served as associate dean of the College of Fine Arts and Communication in 1988-89. He developed the first federally funded project for graduate bilingual communication pathology training here.

Holder of two degrees from West Virginia University and the Ph.D. from the University of Washington, he was selected in 1988 as the University's faculty representative for athletics, representing TCU in the Southwest Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Assocation.

PUGH WINS HONORS SCHOLAR AWARD

The TCU Honors Scholar Award, presented annually during Honors Week to further a student research project, will allow junior neuroscience major Steven Pugh to take part with internationally known drug researchers in the third international meeting of the European Behavioural Pharmacology Society June 25-July 1 in The Netherlands.

Steven, of Joplin, MO, whose study interests are in the field of chemistry of behavior, has been interning since the summer of 1989 with Dr. M.W. Emmett-Oglesby, professor of pharmacology at the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine and an adjunct faculty member of TCU's Chemistry of Behavior Program.

Using an animal model of subjective drug effects, he and Dr. Emmett-Oglesby successfully tested the hypothesis that tolerance does indeed occur to such benzodiazepines as Valium, Librium and others. An abstract of their findings has been accepted by the European Behavioral Pharmacology Society and will be published in the June issue of Psychopharmacology. At the meeting in The Netherlands, Steven will present his research as a poster exhibit.

FOUR M.L.A. CLASSES OFFERED

Ranging from the roots of religion to the amusement of modern musical comedy, four Master of Liberal Arts courses are on the summer schedule. Registration information may be obtained by contacting the graduate studies office at Ext. 7515.

Beginning May 14, Andy Fort of religion-studies will teach "'Religion,' Islam and Modernity: Religion as a Modern Western Idea," including the encounter of traditional Islam and the modern West. Classes from 6:30 to 9:10 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays will continue through July 6.

The first M.L.A. travel course, "Origins of America: The Colonial Experience," will be taught by Frank Reuter of history in six evening classes beginning June 4 and five nights on site in Colonial Williamsburg June 22-27.

Hank Hammack of theatre will present a historical overview of the musical theatre genre in his June 4-July 6 class meeting from 6 to 9:45 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays. The class will view videotapes of musical productions and attend Casa Manana performances.

"Transformations: British Novels into Films" will be taught by Joe Law of the Writing Center at Carswell Air Force Base from 6 to 9:45 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays from July 9 to Aug. 10. Under consideration will be "Pride and Prejudice," "Jane Eyre," "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," "A Passage to India" and a fifth novel chosen by each student.

FOUR ACCEPT APPOINTMENTS

Three persons have accepted new administrative responsibilities, while a fourth has accepted reappointment.

Kathleen Martin, member of the faculty since 1985, will become part-time associate dean of the School of Education June 1. She currently is serving as interim chair of the curriculum and instruction department.

A member of the faculty since 1969, Bill Vanderhoof has been named acting chairman of educational foundations and administration in the School of Education for 1990-91.

Ron Flowers has accepted appointment as religion-studies chairman for a three-year term beginning in the fall. A member of the faculty since 1966, he was one of three recipients of Burlington Northern Foundation Faculty Achievement Awards in 1988.

Currently chairwoman of sociology, Jean Giles-Sims will begin a three-year reappointment to that position in the fall. She joined the AddRan College faculty in 1979.

GPA AVERAGE RISES SLIGHTLY

Grade-point averages for the 1989 fall semester were slightly above those for the previous fall, according to a report released by Dean of Students Libby Proffer. Categories showing some upward movement in their averages were all day students, all undergraduates, all undergraduate women and all undergraduate men. Improvement was seen, too, in grades of all residence hall students.

Because of problems obtaining and keeping grade information for the report, Greek housing residents are not included in the fall semester tally.

While grades generally have been on a downward trend, the report notes that several residence halls have slightly higher average figures. These are Brachman, Clark, Foster, Jarvis, Milton Daniel, Pete Wright, Sherley, Tom Brown, Waits and Wiggins.

Figures for the last five fall semesters include:

	1985	1986	1987	1988	1989
All day students	2.793	2.796	2.825	2.792	2.83

GUTSCHE WILL BE HONORED WITH SYMPOSIUM

When David Gutsche, holder of the Robert A. Welch Chair of Chemistry, is honored May 5 at a Washington University symposium in St. Louis, distinguished scientists will speak on areas of "the frontiers of organic chemistry" which Gutsche has explored.

The speakers are peers and colleagues of David, recognized as a research pioneer in bio-organic "host-guest" chemistry. His current research deals with the study of a class of basket-shaped macrocyclic compounds to which he gave the name "calixarenes."

The program is entitled "The Washington University-St. Louis Symposium on the Frontiers of Organic Chemistry: Host-guest Chemical Recognition, a Program in Honor of C. David Gutsche." Speakers include Donald Cram, University of California at Los Angeles; Clark Still, Columbia University; J. Fraser Stoddart, University of Sheffield, England; Julius Rebek, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and Jean-Marie Lehn, University of Louis Pasteur, France.

COACHES TO TELL THEIR STORIES

Alumni and friends of the University along with current students' parents will be hearing athletic coaches at events planned this month in Austin, Midland, Amarillo and Houston. "The Coaches Are Coming" events are hosted by TCU Alumni Association chapters in each location.

For the May 3 event in Austin, TCU's athletic accomplishments and prospects will be discussed by Jim Wacker, Moe Iba and Lance Brown. Jim and Moe will share the spotlight May 7 in Midland and the following night in Amarillo. Swimming coach Richard Sybesma will join Jim and Moe for the May 17 program in Houston.

MOORE, THADANI TO HEAD PUBLICATIONS

John Moore of Fort Worth and Jada Thadani of Houston will hold key positions with TCU's student publications in the fall. Announcement of their selection was made following the April 20 meeting of the publications committee.

Currently its managing editor, John will serve as TCU Daily Skiff editor. The senior-to-be is majoring in news/editorial and in English with a writing emphasis. He has written for TCU's student magazine and been employed part-time by the Arlington Citizen Journal and TCU News Service.

Jada, who will be editor of Image, is majoring in both news/editorial and fashion promotion. Currently she is assignments and Mosaic editor for the student newspaper.

Melissa Maestri was chosen as advertising manager for the Skiff, and Kathleen Fam was named advertising manager for Image.

MEN'S TENNIS RANKS NO. 2 IN SWC

Horned Frog tennis players finished the recent Southwest Conference championships in second place after the Texas Longhorns captured first-place awards in singles and doubles for the first time in SWC history. It was in final play that the Longhorns stopped TCU's effort for a third consecutive title.

Texas' Steve Bryan and Hubert Karrash defeated TCU's Tony Bujan and Ricardo Rubio 4-6, 6-0 and 6-4 to give the Longhorns a 5-4 team victory and the competition crown. Bryan and Karrasch defeated TCU's Luis Ruette 6-2 and 6-3 and Gerard Ronan 7-5 and 7-5 for No. 1 and No. 5 spots, respectively, in singles.

For TCU, Sandon Stolle won the No. 3 singles, Mark Tjia took No. 4 and Rubio won No. 6 spot. Stolle and Ruette took a 4-3 lead in singles.

Going into conference play, held at the University of Houston, Bujan was ranked No. 2 in singles, while Stolle and Ruette were ranked No. 1 in the nation in doubles.

LADY FROGS FINISH THIRD IN SWC

Twenty-two strokes stood between the Lady Frog golfers and first place in the recent Southwest Conference tournament in San Antonio. TCU's team finished the three-round competition with 943 to take third-place honors. Texas won with a 921 total, followed by SMU with 933.

The margin of victory was described in the Dallas Morning News as "the closest in the eight-year history of the tournament."

In individual standings, TCU's totals were Barbara Plant with 227 for third place; Jane Kragh, 237; Annette Kealoha, 240; Kelly Paul, 242; and Tricia Allen, 245.

PH.D. CANDIDATES WIN TOP AWARDS

Two graduate students working on their Ph.D. degrees in history have won top awards in the E.C. Barksdale Student Paper Competition sponsored by Phi Alpha Theta at University of Texas-Arlington. As one of more than 40 entrants from around the nation, Laura Wood won first prize in the graduate division for her paper on "Military History and Criticism: John Frederick Charles Fuller." Don Frazier won first prize in Texas history for his paper on "Dusty Roads and Dried Beef: The Human Side of Sibley's Texas Brigade."

Both papers will be published, and each award includes a $100 prize. Laura is working with Spencer Tucker and Don with Grady McWhiney.

INTERACT '90 SET FOR MAY 10

Present and future technologies and their uses in the field of education will be examined May 10 in Interact '90, a live video teleconference to be received via satellite in the Center for Instructional Services in the TAGER TV/Telecommunications Studio from 6 to 8 p.m.

Inevitable social, economic and political issues that complement the technological innovations will be highlighted during the program, which will be opened by Dr. Christopher Dede, keynote speaker at the Association for Educational Communications and Technology earlier this year. Other panelists will be Linda Roberts, senior policy analyst with the U.S. Congress; Saul Rockman, former manager of education research with Apple marketing group; Dr. Sam Postlethwait, emeritus professor of biology from Purdue University; and Dr. Frank Otto, director of Computer Assisted Language and Instruction Consortium (CALICO).

"The teleconference will give educators a good feel for the technologies being used to increase learning in the '90s," according to Dr. John Ittelson, producer of Interact '90. The program began in 1986 as a student-produced audio conference about developments in instructional technology. California State University at Chico designed Interact '88, a video teleconference seen by some 10,000 educators.

Attendance at the teleconference is free, but advance reservations need to be made by calling Ext. 7632.

BASKETBALL CAMPS SET FOR SUMMER

Aspiring basketball players age 8 and above will have opportunity to learn the sport and sharpen their techniques during basketball camps on campus this summer. Individualized attention will be given through age-group instruction.

Dependents of faculty and staff members are eligible for 10 percent discounts, and a $25 deposit is required to hold a camp reservation.

Coach Moe Iba will hold three sessions for his boys' camp. Planned for dayonly as well as overnight participants, the sessions will be held July 8-12, July 15-19 and July 22-26. Fees are $170 for day only and $270 for overnight. Working with the camps will be Moe's assistants Kevin Fricke, Garry Mendenhall and Ken Smith.

For Coach Fran Garmon's Lady Frog camp, fundamentals will be taught in the June 17-21 session and advanced techniques in the June 24-28 session. Fees will be $260 for resident campers and $160 for day campers.

Assisting Fran will be Leon Richardson, athletic director at Iowa's William Penn College who was voted Iowa Conference Coach of the Year in 1979, and Deborah Temple, Collegiate All-American at Delta State University and member of the USA team that won the gold medal in the 1983 World University Games.

Additional information is available from the basketball office, Ext. 7968.
