NANCY REAGAN WILL SPEAK TODAY

Former First Lady Nancy Reagan will speak this afternoon (Tuesday) at a session of the Texans' War on Drugs Youth Leadership Conference being held on campus this week. Open to members of the campus community, the program will begin at 3 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Following her remarks, she will meet with a selected group of students to discuss the state's drug problem.

Approximately 600 junior and high school youth leaders from across the state are taking part in the July 9-12 conference, sponsored by the Texans' War on Drugs as an opportunity for teen-agers and their adult sponsors to learn how to prevent alcohol and other drug use in their communities and schools. Information and training in drug education, starting drug-free youth groups, community action planning, drug-free activities and leadership skills are being covered in a variety of workshops.

Mrs. Reagan, who has traveled nearly 200,000 miles across the nation and to other countries in connection with her campaign against drug use, will be joined by Gov. and Mrs. Bill Clements. The trio will meet with a group of elected officials as well as business and community leaders active in the fight against drugs.

PUBLIC HEARING WILL BE ON CAMPUS

A public hearing by the Texas Legislature's Senate and House redistricting committees will be held on campus Friday, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom. Following a recess after afternoon testimony, the group will reconvene at 6:30 p.m.

Fourteen public hearings are being conducted by the two committees between March and September to gather information in preparation for drawing new district lines for seats in the U.S. Congress, Texas Legislature and on the State Board of Education. Redistricting is required after publication of the 1990 national census, and plans made in 1991 will be in effect for the next 10 years.

Community organizations and individuals are being encouraged to attend the hearings to offer input for the 1991 redistricting cycle. Public testimony will be taken regarding district boundaries and potential changes of those districts caused by population shifts during the 1980s.

Rep. D. R. "Tom" Uher of Bay City chairs the House committee, and the Senate Select Committee on Legislative Redistricting is headed by Sen. Bob Glasgow of Stephenville. North Texas-area members of the Senate committee are Temple Dickson of Sweetwater, O. H. "Ike" Harris of Dallas, Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas, Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Bill Ratliff of Mt. Pleasant. Kent Grusendorf of Arlington and Patricia Hill of Dallas are North Texas-area members of the House committee.

In the last two decades redistricting has resulted in significant increases in legislative and congressional seats held by blacks, Hispanics and Republicans. Urban areas have gained population and legislative seats, while rural areas have lost. A continuation of these trends is anticipated from the recent census.

Expected, too, is evidence that about half the current Texas House districts in the hearing region have more population than required for the "ideal" size of a district (114,000). Senate districts also show a wide range of variation in projected growth rates, from 19 percent below the ideal size of 552,000 in District 23 to 40 percent above in District 10.

JULY IS BUSY TIME, TOO

From 400 adults attending a religious conference to 350 musicians with miniature violins and harps as well as special-interest groups numbering as few as 12 adults, the campus will be the setting for activities of more than 3,700 persons this month in addition to those in the five-week summer session.

Completed last week was the conference of the International Order of St. Luke and a cheerleading camp. Beginning this week are the educational program known as Texans' War on Drugs for 600 students, boys' basketball camp for 160, Institute of Vocal Performance, secondary choral workshop, special education music workshop, learning and teaching jazz session and summer dance study.

Among the larger programs beginning July 15 are the high school youth leadership conference sponsored by the Texas Association of Student Councils with an attendance of 290 and a basketball camp for 160. Three music workshops are also set for July 15 starts.

On campus later will be participants in the July 22-26 basketball camp, soccer camp July 22-27, band leadership conference July 25-27, annual Christian Youth Fellowship for 450 students from Disciples of Christ churches July 24-27 and a collegiate student government workshop, sponsored by the National Association for Campus Activities, with 180 students expected.

DECEMBER GRADUATION EXPERIMENT ANNOUNCED

In response to suggestions from the University community, Chancellor Bill Tucker has announced a December 1990 graduation ceremony to be held Friday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 p.m. in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum. A reception for graduates and parents will be held in Brown-Lupton Student Center ballroom from 3:30 to 5 p.m., as has been the custom.

It is anticipated that the December commencement will ease the crowding problems at the May ceremony and eliminate the need for an August ceremony, beginning in 1991.

An assessment of the new schedule will be made next year and a decision made concerning its continuance.

NOTES ON FOLKS

JOHN FREEMAN (RTVF) represented the Gwendolyn P. Tandy Film Library at the INPUT International Public Television Screening Conference May 19-24 in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. He also recently attended the American Film Festival in San Francisco, where he served as a jury chairman. His comprehensive bibliography of high-definition and advanced television has been accepted for publication in the September issue of SMPTE Journal of the Society of Motion Picture & Television Engineers. In May John was named to the Academy of High-Definition Television Arts and Sciences.

JULIAN HABER (adjunct, Miller Speech and Hearing Clinic) was asked by the American Academy of Pediatrics to present a position paper on Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Syndrome (ADHD) to a select group of experts June 10-11 in Washington, DC. Others invited to present papers were Bennett Shaywitz, Yale University; Martha Bridge Denkla, Johns Hopkins University; Melvin Levin, University of North Carolina; and Esther Wender, Albert Einstein Medical College.

The Southern Quarterly has published FRED ERISMAN's (English) review of "The Frontier Experience and the American Dream" edited by David Mogen, Mark Busbey and Paul Bryant. A collection of original critical essays on the American frontier experience, the book endeavors to create new ways of looking at American literature -- particularly that literature dealing with the various frontiers of American life.

Alumnus JEWELL WALLACE, former dean of men, golf coach and academic adviser in the athletic department, was in the spotlight during a three-day reunion held in his honor June 28-30 in San Antonio by members of the football teams he coached to three district championships and one state title at that city's Thomas Jefferson high in 1948-53. The series of reunion events for the former athletes, their coach and his wife, ANNA BYRD (former dean of admissions) began with a testimonial dinner at the Wyndham Hotel and included a golf tournament June 29.

DWAYNE SIMPSON (IBR) presented a paper entitled "Treatment and Prevention Research Issues in Inhalant Abuse" at the Inhalant Abuse Research Symposium in Houston June 26-27. The symposium brought together leaders in the field to share knowledge and set a research agenda.

Papers authored by BILL GRAHAM (physics) and three present and former graduate students, JOHN HUANG, LENIAN SHEN and TXOMIN PRESILLA, were presented at the 45th Molecular Spectroscopy Symposium at Ohio State University June 10-15. Bill gave a talk coauthored by John on an "FTIR Study of Tricarbon Hydride Radicals." Lenian spoke on "Observation of C-H and C=C Stretching Vibrations of the Butadiynyl Radical," and Txomin on "Fourier Transform Spectroscopy of Silicon Dicarbide in the Far Infrared." Txomin and Bill have been notified that a paper on their work has been accepted for publication by the Journal of Chemical Physics. Lenian has left for postdoctoral studies at Yale, and John is currently a postdoctoral fellow at Colorado.

WORK BEGINS ON SADLER LOUNGE

Work began last week on a project that will include a new lounge on the ground floor of Sadler Hall. One section of the lounge will be designated for smoking in keeping with a plan to establish several of these designated areas across campus.

Initial work includes converting the men's room on that floor into a women's room. When that is completed, the existing women's room will be converted into the two-part lounge, according to Don Palmer, facilities planning director. No longer is there a men's room on the ground floor.

Waterproofing the exterior basement wall around Sadler Hall began yesterday (Monday). While this involves excavation around the building's perimeter, access will not be inhibited during the two- to three-weeks' work, Don said.

TCU IN THE NEWS

"Students make impact with victims' rights promos" was the headline for the June 22 feature by alumnus STEVE ROTH in The Business Press concerning posters for the Fort Worth-based National Victim Center designed by TCU communication graphics students. The first-place winner by MICHELLE ANDERSON was pictured with the story.

Senior PATRICIA PATTISON and DOUG NEWSOM (journalism) were among those quoted in the June 24 Star-Telegram story about pioneers of Texas feminism. In Pat's view, "Texas in the '90s is a place for gender gaps and gender clash."
