

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 65, No. 12, Nov. 1, 1988

HOMECOMING PUTS 'SPOTLIGHT ON TCU'

From class reunions to pre-game events and from an all-campus pep rally to an after-game alumni dance, the theme of "Spotlight on TCU" will be reflected in this week's Homecoming events for alumni, students and friends. Co-chairpersons are Jeanie and John Ott, Class of '74 member. Heading student-planned activities is Chuck Hendley, senior from Leawood, KS.

The Gift Club luncheon, formerly known as the Century Club event, which traditionally marks the start of the special weekend, will begin at noon Friday in the Student Center ballroom. Invitations have been extended to members of the University's giving clubs. These and their chairpersons are the Addison and Randolph Clark Society, headed by J. Maurice Price Jr. '62 of Dallas; the 1873 Club, Maribess Lehmann Miller '75 of Fort Worth; Century Club, Robert E. Johnson Jr. '69 of Houston; and TCU ADVANCE, Jerry Ray '58 of Austin.

A special feature of the luncheon will be "Impressions of TCU" given by Deedie Potter Rose of Dallas, Class of '63 member who recently was named to the board of trustees and who is this year's Coming Home Queen, and Brian Hoesterey, senior from Dallas who is Student Foundation president.

Seven Classes Plan Reunions

Seven classes will hold reunions as part of Homecoming '88.

- Class of 1933, headed by Bill Dickey of Houston, will gather at Colonial Country Club for a 5-7 p.m. reception Saturday. Class officers Dickey, Lennie Quinn and Howard Walsh are hosts;
- Class of 1938, headed by Charles Mosshart of Dallas, will have its 50-year reunion reception and dinner Friday at Colonial Country Club, beginning at 6:30 p.m.;
- Headed by Joyce Gibson Roach of Keller, the Class of 1958 will have a reception and dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday at Colonial Country Club;
- A reception and buffet is planned Saturday for the Class of 1963's 25th-anniversary celebration. The event, headed by Dr. William Barnes of Fort Worth, will begin at 5:30 p.m. at Stockyards Hotel;
- Joe T. Garcia's will be the site for the Class of 1968 reception and dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Chairperson is Bridget Guthrie Thomas of Fort Worth;
- The 10-year reunion of the Class of 1978, headed by Dr. Wiley Curtis of Arlington, will begin at 7 p.m. Friday at the Petroleum Club;
- For its five-year gathering, the Class of 1983, headed by Julie Wilson of Fort Worth, will have a reception and dinner Saturday at Joe T. Garcia's at 7 p.m.

(continued)

Golf, Fun Run Are Scheduled

Four sports-related activities are on the weekend schedule, beginning with an alumni golf tournament Friday at Mira Vista County Club. The shotgun start will be at 9 a.m., and the $50-per-person fee includes green fees and cart.

Inaugurated in 1986, the Fighting Frog Five K is among the first events Saturday. The fun run will begin at 8 a.m. at Amon Carter Stadium.

Members of the TCU Lettermen's Association will gather Friday at Ridglea Country Club for their annual meeting at 7 p.m. The group's golf tourney will be held Friday at Ridglea Country Club North with tee-offs between 9 and 11 a.m.

Baseball alumni will meet Sunday at the baseball field for the annual "old timers" game at 1 p.m. The players will be lettermen from classes prior to 1980. A second game, pitting the 1989 varsity team against 1980-88 graduates, will start at 2:30 p.m.

Symposium Set Friday

New this year, an estate planning symposium for alumni will be conducted Friday, beginning at 2 p.m. in Room 207 of the Student Center. Leading the program will be development officers Bob Gartman and Ed Kallenberg.

Variety Marks Saturday Events

A full array of activities crowds Saturday's schedule. Floats, decorated cars and the TCU Band will assemble at Bluebonnet Circle for a 10 a.m. parade north on University Drive to Cantey Street to Stadium Drive. Floats will be displayed around the Student Center quadrangle.

The popular barbecue luncheon will begin at 11:30 a.m. in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum. Reservations, $6 for adults and $4 for children under 10, are due tomorrow (Wednesday) in the alumni office.

Frogs and Raiders Kick Off at 2 P.M.

Kickoff for the game between the Horned Frogs and Texas Tech's Red Raiders is at 2 p.m. in Amon Carter Stadium. The halftime show will include presentation of the 1988 Homecoming Queen and her court, chosen earlier in a campuswide election.

Presentation of this year's Coming Home Queen, Deedie Potter Rose, is planned for halftime. The Dallas civic leader was Homecoming Queen as a senior and was active in Angel Flight, Phi Sigma Iota and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. A cheerleader, she was named Miss TCU.

(continued)

TCU
Inter
Spec
Cour
Rive
8 p pro
acc
Stu
Pla
act
the che
che
pla
Ele
(Tu
sho is con set
And
ope
Lak
wil
Sat
Ba

Interest Groups to Meet Saturday

Special interest groups have planned both pre- and post-game activities.

- Alpha Epsilon Delta will have a reception for alumni, students and faculty in Room M16 of the Sid Richardson Building at 11 a.m.;
- Annual breakfast for Ex-Bandsmen's Association will begin at 8 a.m. in the Student Center. Rehearsal for pre-game show will follow;
- Reception for School of Education alumni is planned for 8:30-9:30 a.m. in the school's new math/science lab;
- Harris College of Nursing alumni will meet for breakfast at 8:30 a.m. in Weatherly Hall. Speaker will be Jenny Andrews, who holds a B.S.N. degree from Vanderbilt University and a law degree from Baylor University;
- Jay Crum, Class of '58 member who is publisher of American Way magazine, will speak at Journalism Exes breakfast at 8 a.m. at Colonial Cafeteria on Rogers Road;
- Coffee for alumni of nutrition and dietetics department will be from 9 to 10 a.m. in Room 107 of Bass Building;
- TCU Quinq Club will host a coffee for its members, all from the Class of 1937 and earlier, from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in Student Center Room 207;
- Post-game receptions are planned in a number of residence halls.

Country Club Is Dance Site

River Crest Country Club will be the site of the alumni dance, beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday. Music, featuring songs from the 1960s and 1970s, will be provided by The Sons of the Beaches. The charge will be $8 per person, according to chairpersons Kent and Susan Appleby Nix.

Student-Planned Events in Progress

Planned by the Student Homecoming Committee, weeklong spirit-boosting activities are in progress. A highlight for Purple and White football fans is the 10 p.m. pep rally Thursday in front of the Student Center. Alumni cheerleaders, who also will be present for Saturday's game, will join current cheerleaders, the marching band and Showgirls, Coach Jim Wacker and some players.

Election of Homecoming court and spirit motivator is being conducted today (Tuesday). Wednesday has been designated Purple and White Day, and a fashion show will be held in the Student Center lounge. Also on tomorrow's schedule is a 7:30 p.m. concert by the Boneshakers in the ballroom, where a banner contest will be held at 9 p.m. Election for this year's queen and escort is set Thursday.

Andy Andrews, winner of the 1987 Campus Entertainer of the Year award who has opened shows for such entertainers as Joan Rivers, Doc Severinsen and Patti Labelle, will be master of ceremonies for Frog Follies skits. Performances will be at 6 and 9 p.m. Friday in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Student celebrations Saturday night will include an all-campus party at the Hyatt Regency's Crystal Ballroom at 9.

(continued)

University Store to Recognize Alumni

The University Store, open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, will honor alumni by allowing a 1 percent discount for each year since graduation on all merchandise. The store does reserve the right to limit quantities. Quing Club members will be allowed to make purchases Friday from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. by displaying their club pin.

Students 'Spotlight' Alumni

Nine graduates are included in the students' "Spotlight on TCU" this week. Photographs of the honorees are in the display windows in the Student Center.

Included in the "spotlight" are:

- Granville Walker, holder of B.A., B.D. and honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees from TCU and twice graduated summa cum laude, former minister of University Christian Church who serves as an honorary member of his alma mater's board of trustees. He was honored as distinguished alumnus in 1959;
- James C. Roddey, B.A. 1955 and member of the varsity track team and a cheerleader, now president and director of Turner Communications Corporation, Rollins Media Group, Pittsburgh Outdoor Advertising and Allegheny Media. He also is chairperson of Pittsburg Water and Sewer Authority;
- James Cash, holder of a degree in math, who led TCU's Frogs to two Southwest Conference basketball titles. A TCU trustee, he is a professor at Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration;
- Bob Schieffer, 1959 graduate and holder of an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree, chief Washington correspondent for CBS News. The former Star-Telegram reporter also serves as a trustee;
- William Walker, senior partner in the real estate and resort consulting firm of Landbase Inc. in San Antonio, who was with the Metropolitan Opera in 1962-80. Member of the Class of 1956 and father of a current TCU student, he was widely recognized for his appearances on the "Tonight" show;
- Bob Lilly, all-American as a Horned Frog lineman and all-Pro seven times during his 14 seasons with the Dallas Cowboys. In 1980 he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame and became the first Dallas member of the "Ring of Honor";
- John Roach, holder of B.A. and M.B.A. degrees, who was honored by Forbes Magazine as 1988 Top Business Speaker of the Year. President and chief operating officer of Tandy Corporation, he serves on TCU's board. He received the TCU Distinguished Alumnus Award in 1984;
- Mike Renfro, captain of the Frog football team before graduating in 1978, as well as all-SWC wide receiver and all-American. After playing five years with the Houston Oilers, he was with the Dallas Cowboys in 1984-88. He currently is with Insta-Chill Inc. in Fort Worth;
- Dennis Burkley, best actor awardee twice while earning the B.F.A. and M.F.A. degrees, who has been in such movies as "Murphy's Romance," "No Way Out," "Mask" and "Who's That Girl." His TV appearances have included Who's the Boss, Knight Rider, Trapper John M.D., Fall Guy, The Dukes of Hazzard and Hill Street Blues.

BAND HALL OF FAME ADDS THREE

Two of the three ex-bandsmen being inducted Saturday into the TCU Horned Frog Band Hall of Fame stayed with their music and headed university music programs. The third didn't keep up his practice--and he headed this University.

The induction ceremony preceding the TCU-Texas Tech football game honors Dr. Clinton R. Hackney, 1926 TCU graduate and former chairperson of the Sam Houston State University music department; Dr. James M. Moudy, who graduated from TCU in 1943 and served as its chancellor from 1965 to 1979; and Leon Breeden, who earned both bachelor's and master's degrees here and from 1959 to 1981 directed the highly rated jazz program at the University of North Texas.

Dr. Hackney earned one of the University's early B.B.A. degrees. After graduation he taught business, coached five sports and was principal in both junior and senior high schools. He remembers attending Knute Rockne's first coaching school in the summer of 1927. Dr. Hackney credits James E. King, his old TCU bandmaster, with talking him into giving all that up to be a band director. He earned a degree from Vandercook School of Music in Chicago in 1937 and immediately went to at Sam Houston, directing both its Bearkat Marching Band and its concert band as well as heading the music department.

Dr. Moudy took his first trumpet lessons at the age of 11. His mother, a gifted pianist, terminated that study when he failed to practice, but he continued to play in the Sunday School orchestra and the Greenville (TX) Municipal Band. The Moudy family moved to Washington, DC, in 1931, and he joined the high school orchestra (playing French horn) and military band (trumpet). In his senior year, that band played in the Franklin Roosevelt inaugural parade.

For six years he worked for the Treasury Department, but his life still hinged on music. He played semi-professionally with a small dance band, was principal trumpet for the Washington Civic Symphony Orchestra, played with church orchestras and in the summer of 1937 performed in the orchestra of a French trans-Atlantic liner.

Coming to TCU at the age of 23 to prepare for ministry, Dr. Moudy played first chair trumpet in the orchestra. Prevented from regular band participation by conflicting class schedules, he was invited by bandmaster Don Gillis to perform on special occasions. His active participation in music ended with his graduation from TCU in 1943, but Dr. Moudy still describes himself as an ardent listener.

Breeden was another TCU bandsman under Gillis in 1941-42 and recalls vividly the day Gillis brought a portable radio to band hall so the young men could hear President Roosevelt announce the onset of war against Japan. He joined the Army in 1942. Back at TCU, Breeden became director of bands in 1944, while still an undergraduate. A survey showed that, at age 23, he was the youngest director at a major university in the United States. He led the band through 1949.

As director of the North Texas jazz program from 1959 to 1981, Breeden led the famous 1:00 O'Clock Jazz Lab Band to top awards at nationwide festivals. It was the first university band in history to appear at the White House by presidential invitation, performing with Duke Ellington and Stan Getz on June 27, 1967, during the state visit of the king and queen of Thailand.

WRITING SYMPOSIUM IS THURSDAY

Lee Odell, professor of composition theory and research at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, will conduct a three-part symposium on "Writing in All Disciplines" Thursday in the Writing Center, located in Rickel Center 100.

The session from 9 to 10:15 a.m. will be devoted to math and science and the 10:30-11:45 a.m. session to technical and professional fields. The 1 to 3 p.m. program will be concerned with writing in all disciplines. TCU student papers will be used to provide a focus for the morning sessions.

Odell makes a distinction between using writing and teaching writing, said Neil Daniel, who directs TCU's Writing Emphasis Program. Odell insists writing faculty and faculty in other disciplines must work together on devising writing assignments that reflect student needs in a particular course, developing strategies for using writing in class and discovering a way to learn from what students write.

The symposium is open to all faculty members, and more information is available by calling Neil at Ext. 7240.

*** **

TIME CHANGES SET FOR RICKEL BUILDING

Time changes have been made for two dates, Nov. 5 and Nov. 12, for the Rickel Building. For Homecoming activities, the building will close at noon Saturday.

On Nov. 12, the building will close at noon for the TCU vs. Texas game and will re-open from 6 to 10 p.m. The pool will not be open for recreational swimming on Nov. 12.

*** **

CLOUSER OFFERS NEW DANCE COURSE

"Tribal Dances in Caves and Cafes," "The Charleston and the Frug and the Slam" and "The Torment of Nijinski" are just a few of the colorful topics to be explored in a new Survey of Dance course to be offered in the spring by James Clouser, new department chairperson.

The new course, which fulfills University Curriculum Requirements, will use video, lecture and live demonstration to explore the worlds of social and theatrical dancing. Survey of Dance (Ballet 1053), limited to 70 students, will be offered at 2 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in Moudy Building Room 156S.

CRITIC-AT-LARGE SWINDELL WILL SPEAK

Larry Swindell of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram will be speaker for the Nov. 7 brown bag luncheon meeting of the Faculty Woman's Club. The noon event, originally planned for Nov. 14, will be held in the Student Center's Woodson Room.

No reservations are required since each person is to bring her own lunch for this program.

Mysteries of the authorship of Shakespeare's plays will be the theme of the presentation by Swindell, who is widely known as the Star-Telegram's book editor and its critic-at-large as well as for works he has authored. Well versed in a wide range of literature, he charms his audiences with insights and behind-the-scenes looks at a variety of subjects.

*** **

BRITE LECTURES BEGIN TOMORROW

Approximately every two minutes someone in the United States will feel the pain of sexual or domestic violence.

In the belief that there is a powerful need for the religious community to address the spiritual concerns of these victims, Brite will offer tomorrow (Wednesday) and Thursday a series of lectures and informal meetings with the Rev. Marie M. Fortune, executive director of the Center for the Prevention of Sexual and Domestic Violence in Seattle, WA.

The 1988 Brite Lecture Series will open at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Robert Carr Chapel with Fortune's address, "Keeping the Faith: Ministry in the Face of Domestic Violence." A reception will follow in Weatherly Hall. The second lecture, "Reporting Child Abuse: An Ethical Mandate for Pastors," will be at 11 a.m. Thursday in Carr Chapel, followed by a brown bag lunch and informal discussion with the speaker, also in Weatherly Hall. All the events are open. A graduate of Yale Divinity School, Fortune is an ordained minister of the United Church of Christ. She is the author of "Family Violence: A Workshop Manual for Clergy and Other Service Providers," "Sexual Violence: The Unmentionable Sin" and "Keeping the Faith: Questions and Answers for Abused Women" and currently is working on a book she plans to call "Is Nothing Sacred? The Betrayal of the Pastoral Relationship."

In 1977 Fortune founded the Center for the Prevention of Sexual and Domestic Violence, which works closely with both secular and religious organizations to address the problems of violence. Based on the belief that education on the causes and the symptoms of such violence is the key to turning the situation around, the center provides workshops, seminars and training for professional care-givers, clergy and lay persons on both regional and national levels.

The Brite Lecture Series is funded by the Brite student body and by the TCU Student House of Representatives.

SEPTEMBER GIFTS EXCEED $300,000

Gifts to TCU during September totaled $310,691, according to a report to members of the trustee development committee.

September's gifts included the following:

- $64,295 to the Annual Fund for TCU;
- $235,769 restricted for special purposes;
- $9,265 for endowment;
- $1,361 in plant fund gifts.

Total gifts for the fiscal year-to-date stood at $2,793,988 at the end of September. That figure represents a $969,618 increase over the same date in 1987.

*** **

GRANDPARENTS VISIT SCHOOL

Thirty-six grandparents of Starpoint School children spent the morning of Oct. 18 on campus. From 9 a.m. till noon, they listened, observed classes, talked with each other and toured the facility.

While many of the guests are from Fort Worth, others came from Hurst, Mineola, Kirbyville, Albany, Center and Gladewater, according to Principal Laura Lee Crane.

*** **

TACUSPA HONORS MILLS

Assistant Vice Chancellor Don Mills was presented the Distinguished Service Award by the Texas Association of College and University Student Personnel Administrators (TACUSPA) at the organization's mid-October meeting in Austin. The most prestigious honor given by the association each year, the award is in recognition of an individual's outstanding contribution within the state.

Don, former president of TACUSPA, has administrative responsibility for residential life, food service, recreational sports, alcohol and drug education, new student orientation and the ID program. Currently he is the state representative to the Region III board of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

*** **

VOLUME, EDITOR HONORED AT EVENT

A TCU Press book was one of four volumes honored by the Southwestern Booksellers Association, and Press director Judy Alter was one of 10 authors recognized as "literary lions" at the recent banquet in Dallas.

The honorable mention award in fiction was presented to the Robert Flynn novel "Wanderer Springs," issued by TCU Press in 1987.

HEALTH WEEK FEATURES LEN BIAS' MOTHER

Health Enrichment Week, an annual event dedicated to the promotion of social, physical, intellectual, spiritual, emotional and vocational well-being, will begin Sunday. Events include talks by several guest speakers, health-promoting activities and an address by Lonise Bias, mother of the late Len Bias.

Mrs. Bias will deliver "A Message of Hope" Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Len Bias, a star basketball player at the University of Maryland, died of a cocaine overdose just two days after being drafted by the Boston Celtics in 1986. His death shocked the country; the Department of Education quickly responded with a drug prevention program in higher education. That same year TCU initiated its Alcohol and Drug Education office, sponsor of Health Enrichment Week.

Mrs. Bias has turned her loss into a mission to help others avoid her son's tragic experience with substance abuse. Since his death, she has traveled the country sharing a positive message about motivation, inner strength, love and happiness. A dynamic speaker, she has become a frequent lecturer and consultant on teen responsibility and adults' responsibility as role models.

Health Enrichment Week will begin Sunday when Mike Green, collegiate consultant on drugs and alcohol, will present two talks. The first, at 5 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom, is directed to athletes and is titled "Kegs, Kicks and Competition." At 8 p.m. he will talk to fraternity members at Worth Hills cafeteria on "The T.R.A.P. Zone: Techniques for Responsible Drinking."

Kathleen Gildea-Dinzeo, health educator/counselor at the University of New Hampshire, will speak on "Liquor and Your Love Life" Monday at 8 p.m. in the Student Center's Woodson Room. Her talk will address how alcohol interrelates with sexual issues, including acquaintance rape.

On Nov. 8 Larry Ansley of the Fort Worth Police Department will talk on "Marijuana: The Unseen Threat" at 4 p.m. in Student Center Room 202. Following that talk at 5:45, Steve Kleypas will present "DWI in Texas: An Overview of the Breath Testing Program."

Monday through Friday of next week will feature a health fair from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Student Center lounge. In addition to displays by campus groups, the fair will offer health risk assessments, body fat percentage testing, relaxation techniques training and cholesterol testing. For a total cholesterol count, the fee is $6. For a total count and an HDL count, cost is $12. Complete blood analysis will be available for $20. Fasting for 12 hours before the test is recommended for accurate results, which will be available the following day in the alcohol and drug education office.

On Nov. 9-10 the fair will include a Wellness Wheel of Fortune Game with questions relating to alcohol and drugs, and on Nov. 11 the fair will include a B.Y.O.B. (Bring Your Own Banana) banana split party, co-sponsored by T.G.I.F. Frozen yogurt and healthy toppings like carob chips, granola and fruit will be supplied.

Volleyball intramurals will be played daily Monday through Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m. at Frog Fountain. Information on support groups such as Adult Children of Alcoholics will be available Nov. 10 at 7 p.m. in Student Center Room 204.

TCU REACHES GOAL FOR UNITED WAY

Thanks to the efforts of faculty and staff members, TCU met its goal for the 1988 United Way campaign. This year's hoped-for total of $71,665 was the largest amount set for the campus fund drive and represented a 6 percent increase over the total contributed last year. As of Oct. 26, some pledge cards are still out.

Expressing appreciation to employees, "especially for the last-minute special efforts that made the difference," Associate Vice Chancellor Larry Lauer, coordinator for the campuswide effort, noted that "we know these are hard times for all, which made giving particularly difficult. Times are difficult, too, for clients of United Way agencies. This fact makes the University's efforts even more important."

Many offices and departments were 100 percent in their participation this year. These include the chancellor's office, athletics, aerospace studies, English Language Center, Ed Landreth Hall, Harris College of Nursing, Honors Program, marketing, nutrition and dietetics, finance and planning, Information Services, Management Information Systems and all School of Education departments. Others are Student Affairs office, Alcohol and Drug Education Program, Campus Police, Career Planning and Placement, Dean of Students, international students, recreational sports, residential living/administration, Student Activities, Student Center, University ID Center and University Ministries.

Also 100 percent were Administrative Services, Business Services, personnel, physical plant/administration, telephone office, University Store, Use of Facilities, development and University relations, alumni, Development Information Services, Development Communication Research, News Service, publications, development program, faculty social activities. Others are academic services, instructional services, Ranch Management Program, TAGER-TV, TCU Press, Associate Vice Chancellors Larry Adams and Ned Boehm, admissions, enrollment management, extended education, registrar's office, scholarship and financial aid.

*** **

TRASK HONORED TOMORROW

Anne Trask, departing associate director of Student Activities, will be honored by her colleagues Thursday with an open house in Student Activities from 3 to 5 p.m. Everybody is welcome.

*** **

PHOTO PROOFS CAN BE VIEWED

Proofs of photographs made recently by Linda Kaye for News Service are available in Sadler Hall 321 for faculty and staff members to make their selections. There is no charge for the photos, which are for use in University publicity and publications.

TCU/

The of $ $250 alum

Some lead Univ tota

The supp & Ly and,

Lead Comm Chuc

B.G. pare Phil

The Wort are Grig

Ronn Join

The secr Wals

Unre Univ aid, prof

P&M

A f Mail Lam

Pris env

TCU/TARRANT COUNTY CAMPAIGN BEGINS TODAY

The 11th annual TCU/Tarrant County Campaign begins today (Tuesday) with a goal of $1.35 million. Thanks to pre-campaign efforts, the 1988 drive starts with $250,000 already in hand, according to an announcement by Ronald Clinkscale, alumnus/trustee who is this year's chairperson.

Some 325 volunteers will make gift requests throughout November to alumni, leaders in business and industry, parents of students and other friends of the University. The Tarrant County drive is part of the overall budget-supporting total of $3.3 million for the Annual Fund at TCU.

The campaign provides opportunity for those closest to TCU to show their support, said Clinkscale, managing partner of the Fort Worth office of Coopers & Lybrand. "We in Fort Worth have the most benefit from the success of TCU, and, consequently, we should be the ones to show the strongest support."

Leading the business industry group is Michael Hyatt, president of Texas Commerce Bank of Fort Worth. Working with him are Shelby Adams, Bruce McNeil, Chuck Nixon and Merle Karnes.

B.G. Jenkins, director of Texas Security Bancshares Inc., is chairing the parents/friends group. Assisting him are George Sumner, Dr. Dan Ellis and Phil Slover.

The alumni division is headed by Robert Semple, president of MBank of Fort Worth. For the first time, this division is divided by decades. The leaders are Pam Roach, 1980s; Richard Wiseman, 1970s; Carol Alexander, 1960s; Dale Griggs, 1950s; Matt Rudd, 1940s; and Melvin Diggs, 1930s.

Ronnie Wallace, president of Ben E. Keith Foods, is heading the ADVANCE group. Joining him in the effort are Rod Monahan, Bob Lansford and Rick Roark.

The special gifts division is chaired by Malcolm Loudon, trustee who is secretary-treasurer of the firm of Walsh and Watts Inc. and for F. Howard Walsh.

Unrestricted gifts to this year's TCU/TC campaign will help support the University's operating needs in such areas as scholarships, student financial aid, new and existing academic programs, faculty and student research projects, library holdings and new equipment for teaching and research.

*** **

P&M HAS FAX, SPECIAL PRICE

A facsimile (fax) machine for campus use has been installed in Printing and Mailing. The fax number there is 921-7333, according to Director Aletha Lambert. The charge is 25 cents per minute to fax a message.

Printing and Mailing currently is offering a special price on 9x12 interoffice envelopes. They are priced at $6 per box of 100 as long as the supply lasts.

RECEPTION HONORS FORT WORTH-AREA TEACHERS

Fort Worth-area teachers in the Advanced Placement Program were honored Oct. 25 at a reception in the Student Center. Hosting the second annual event were the Fort Worth Independent School District's Gifted Education Department and TCU's School of Education.

Speaker for the occasion was Bob Donahoo of English, formerly with Duke University's Pre-College Program. Also taking part in the program were Dr. Don Roberts, FWISD superintendent, and TCU administrators Ned Boehm, Doug Hastad and Bill Koehler. Martha McKee, FWISD coordinator of gifted education, presented each teacher with a certificate of distinguished service in teaching.

More than 300 teachers of preparatory courses for advanced placement in area schools were invited to the reception, designed to focus on advanced placement programs in which students receive college credit for some high school courses and to recognize the teachers' dedicated efforts. Superintendents and other administrators from the schools were invited. Among the guests were advanced placement teachers from the Arlington, Plano, Carrollton, Richardson and Hurst-Euless-Bedford school districts as well as from Fort Worth Country Day, Trinity Valley and Episcopal School of Dallas.

*** **

TCU WALKS FOR HUNGER

Of the 223 men, women and children who walked 10 kilometers in the C.R.O.P. walk raising money to help relieve world hunger, 63 were TCU students, faculty and staff members, reported Bill Hall, emeritus faculty member who directed the effort.

Hall also said he has a woman's wrist watch that was lost during the walk. He may be contacted at 923-4290.

*** **

MASSES TO BE SUNG SUNDAY

TCU's premier choral group, the Concert Chorale, will perform two classical masses at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The chorale, conducted by Ronald Shirey, will sing Haydn's Missa in tempore belli. Translated "Mass in Time of War," the work was indeed written in time of war, 1796, when Napoleon's armies were pressing on Austria. The sounds of war are evident--broken interjections interrupted by drum rolls, the urgent cry above trumpet calls, the entreaty.

Also on the program will be sections from William Byrd's Mass for Four Voices. Byrd, a 16th Century composer, was a Roman Catholic when the Church of England made life difficult for Catholics. His Three Masses, for three, four and five voices, are thought to have been sung for the first time in 1586 in a small chapel in a private home.

AMERICAN MUSIC CONCERT IS MONDAY

The music faculty will hail the start of American Music Week Nov. 7 with an 8 p.m. concert in Ed Landreth Auditorium. American music encompasses a rich array of styles from New Orleans jazz to the classics, and the concert variety is equally wide.

Flutist Cynthia Folio, with pianist Sheilds-Collins Bray, will perform two native American works, Zuni Song and Wioste Olowan Inkpa Ta-Ya, along with Sonata for Flute by Noel Zahler and Thoreau's Flute by Charles Hoag. Randall Thompson's Suite for Oboe, Clarinet and Viola will be presented by Noah Knepper, Larry Thompson and Sheila Madden, respectively. Noah, flutist Janis Grannell and pianist Judy Fisher will play Miniatures by William Grant Still, including songs from Mexico, Peru and the United States.

Also on the program will be songs by Ned Rorem, sung by Vincent Russo; Strata by Donald Martino, a bass clarinet solo by Larry; and two works by TCU composers, Cynthia's Moonlight Serenata and Gerald Gabel's Statics, both played by Larry.

Leonard Bernstein chairs American Music Week, continuing through Nov. 13. The celebration, intended to focus attention on works by American composers and to encourage the performance of American music, began in 1985 under the sponsorship of the American Music Center. It is now observed in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 12 other nations.

*** **

PUT HOLIDAY PLANS ON POSTER

The TCU holiday poster, listing all holiday events scheduled between Thanksgiving and Christmas, will be issued again this year by Student Activities. To be sure your department's events are included, send information on them to Laura Puckett, Box 32919, no later than Friday.

*** **

TCU ARTISTS CELEBRATE ELECTION

"We the faculty of the TCU Department of Art and Art history hold the right to freedom of artistic expression to be self-evident," declares the announcement of the Nov. 8-23 faculty show. Everyone is invited to share in the celebration of this inalienable right just as the polls close Nov. 8.

The 7 p.m. reception will be held in Moudy Building Exhibition Hall. Subsequent hours for the showing will be 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

The faculty art show will focus on a diverse selection of recent paintings, sculpture, prints, illustrations, ceramics, photography, constructions and communication graphics by 17 art faculty members, said department chair Ron Watson.

NOTES ON FOLKS

RON WATSON (art) is guest-curating "In the Tradition of Change," a November exhibition of painting and sculpture at Austin College. In addition to his own paintings, Ron has selected works by four other Fort Worth artists--TCU graduate Rick Alby, Genie Guynn, Chris Muhlert and Dianna Shaffer, Ron's wife. The trait they all share, Ron explained, is that each has meaningfully departed from his or her "signature style," so the exhibition marks turning points in five artistic careers.

Nov.

The HORNED FROG MARCHING BAND has been busy with special recruiting performances during the last two weeks of October. On Oct. 16 the band performed for bands from all Fort Worth high schools at the city marching contest, and a day later the band's audience was made up of several thousand area high school band members at the Region V University Interscholastic League marching contest in Arlington. Last Friday the Horned Frogs, en route to the TCU-Houston football game, performed at the Westfield High School (of Spring) vs. McCullough High School (Conroe) game.

Nov.

MARGE STANLEY (finance) attended the Society of Educators and Scholars Conference on "Integrity in Education: Ethical, Societal and Legal Issues" at Andreas School of Business, Barry University, Miami, FL, Oct. 7-8. She presented a paper on "Values, Ethics and the Role of the University Business School."

Nov.

GERE DOMINIAC (business) was the guest speaker at the Oct. 18 meeting of the Mid-Cities chapter of the Texas Society of CPAs. She spoke on recent developments and trends in establishing and enforcing ethical standards in the accounting profession. Gere has been a member of the Society's statewide ethics committee for seven years and is currently serving her fourth term as chairperson of the Fort Worth chapter's ethics committee.

"Bloom, Hirsch and Barthes in the Classroom: Negotiating Cultural Literacy" is the title of an article by JOE LAW (English/Writing Center) which appeared in the fall issue of Freshman English News.

Nov.

ARTHUR BUSBEY (geology) recently led a small expedition to the vicinity of Paluxy, where he and the students recovered sizable pieces of fossil conifer wood (approximately 110 million years old) that is a strange mixture of coal and silicified original wood material. Future journeys will be aimed at looking for additional wood and dinosaur remains.

Nov.

Nov.

CHRISTINA MURPHY (Writing Center/Academic Services) had an article on "20/60 Vision: Romanticism and Anti-Romanticism in Ann Beattie's Love Always" appear in the fall issue of Publications of the Arkansas Philological Association.

EMMET SMITH (music) wrote the lead article in the summer issue of the British quarterly Organists' Review. The article, "The Church Organist--An Endangered Species," was based on a lecture Emmet delivered to an international gathering of organists at Cambridge, England, in 1986.

Nov.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Nov. 2 --University Chapel, Rev. John Butler, University minister, Robert Carr Chapel, noon.
- Brite Lecture: "Keeping the Faith: Ministry in the Face of Domestic Violence," Rev. Marie M. Fortune, executive director, Center for the Prevention of Sexual and Domestic Violence, Seattle, WA, Robert Carr Chapel, 8 p.m., followed by a reception.
- Nov. 3 --Symposium, "Writing in All Disciplines," by Lee Odell of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Writing Center, Rickel Center 100: 9 a.m., Writing in Math and Science; 10:30 a.m., Writing in Technical and Professional Fields; 1 p.m., Writing in All Disciplines. Call Neil Daniel, Ext. 7240, for information.
- Brite Lecture: "Reporting Child Abuse: An Ethical Mandate for Pastors," Rev. Marie M. Fortune, Robert Carr Chapel, 11 a.m., followed by brown bag lunch and informal discussion in Weatherly Hall.
- Homecoming pep rally, Student Center steps, 10 p.m.
- Faculty Senate, Sid Richardson boardroom, 3:30 p.m.
- Nov. 4 --Biology Seminar: "TCU research on forest ecosystems in Lassen Volcanic National Park," Glenn Kroh of biology, Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 3, noon.
- University of Dallas Management Lecture Series, "Corporate Tax Planning," Rees T. Bowen, tax partner, Southwestern region, Arthur Andersen & Co., may be seen at Tager TV Building, noon-1 p.m.
- Homecoming: Frog Follies, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 6 & 9 p.m.
- Nov. 5 --Homecoming: fun run, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 8 a.m.; parade, starting from Bluebonnet Circle at 10 a.m., heading north on University Drive to campus; all-campus party, Hyatt Regency Crystal Ballroom, 9 p.m.-2 a.m.
- Football, TCU-Tech, Amon Carter Stadium, 2 p.m.
- Nov. 6 --Concert Chorale concert, Ed Landreth, 7:30 p.m.
- Nov. 7 --TCU Woman's Club brown bag luncheon, featuring Star-Telegram critic-at-large Larry Swindell, Student Center Woodson Room, noon.
- Academic advising for spring, through Nov. 18.
- TCU Music Series recital of American chamber music, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- Nov. 8 --TCU faculty art show, Moudy Building Exhibition Hall, through Nov. 23, open 11 a.m.-4 p.m. weekdays, 1-4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

CLASSIFIED

FOR SALE: Four-year-old motorcycle, 16K, Kawasaki 250 LTD, lightweight, easy to use; faculty used to commute, great running; $300. Call Ext. 7665 or 536-0320.

FOR RENT: Unfurnished upstairs duplex at 2827 Sandage; two bedrooms, one bath, central air and heat, washer-dryer connections; no pets. Call 294-0779.

FOR SALE: Pass for hotel suite, good for any Friday or Saturday night before Dec. 1; $130 value; make offer. Call Ann Chambers, Ext. 7587 or 763-0133.

FOR RENT: One-bedroom, one-bath duplex with garage, walking distance to campus, water paid, available furnished or unfurnished. $275 per month, $200 deposit. Call 292-9395.

FOR SALE: Beautiful Baldwin piano, acrosonic, French provincial, fruitwood finish. Call 292-0026.

FOR RENT: Three-bedroom brick house, 2803 Greene, five-minute walk from library; freshly painted inside, large extra living area; $500 per month. Call 924-6765, 294-3931, 921-3346 or Ext. 7335.

CRAFT BASKET: Nov. 4-5, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., 2913 Hartwood Drive in Tanglewood, featuring holiday decorations, country collectibles, jewelry, toys, baskets and more. Some items are works of TCU faculty and staff members Terry Ellmore, Doris Kennedy and R.C. Norris.

WANTED: Married couple to live in and provide 24-hour care, plus housework, cooking; excellent pay. Call Mrs. Drewa, 535-7601.

*** **

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

October 26, 1988

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Military Science students who will travel to Fort Wolters with an advance party for the fall Field Training Exercise on October 28:

Brent Alford	Jerry Hardman	Charles Walton
Geoffrey Ballou	Kirk Hill	Charles Webb
Daniel Cochran	Daniel Kaszeta	Eric Williams
David Favalaro	Steve Luna	Wayne Woodgate
Sean Fowler	Kris Standridge	Elina Xanos

Women's tennis team members who left campus October 19 at noon and missed all classes on October 20 and 21 to participate in a tournament at Austin:

Aubrey Abbott	Camilla Svensson	Margot Van Overloop
Tracy King	Christina Tee	Lucy Vinson
Tory Plunkett	Nancy Terrell

Men's tennis team members who left campus at 1:30 p.m., Oct. 27, and missed classes on Oct. 28 in order to participate in a tournament at Texas A&M:

Clinton Banducci	Marcus van der Donk	Jeff Meyer
Gary Betts	Jeff Giesea	Mark Tjia
Anthony Bujan	Eric Lingg

ROTC Ranger team members will compete in a Brigade Ranger Challenge at Camp Bullis in San Antonio on Nov. 4:

Geoffrey Ballou	Larry Lewis	Michael Petty
Shaun Fowler	Troy Neasbitt	Dirk Plante
Jon Howerton	Matthew Perry	Steve Renshaw

Pre-law students who participated in Law Day at the University of Texas Law School in Austin on Monday, Oct. 17:

Martha Bergman	Yvonne Torres
----------------	---------------

Students representing the TCU Honors Program at the National Collegiate Honors Council in Las Vegas on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 26-27:

M. Scott Boone	Melissa Garretson	David Hedgepeth
----------------	-------------------	-----------------