Dear Sir:

I am informed that you have purchased a number of meteorite fragments found in this section and wonder if you are still in the market for such specimens.

This week, on my farm near Deport, I found such a fragment weighing $8\frac{1}{2}$ pounds, which local amateur meteorologists say is the real thing and a very fine specimen.

If you are interested in purchasing this fragment, please let me hear from you at once, stating price and any other information, and I will mail it prepaid to you by return mail.

Very truly yours,

Hugh Evans
