

1956, March 29.

Mr. W. A. Gifford,
Fulbright, Texas.

Dear Mr. Gifford:

Yes, I am still interested in the meteorites found near there. I am still paying 50 cents an ounce, which is actually rather a steep price for these since so many of them have been found.

If the ore you have should be extremely large, say over two pounds, I might want to shade this price some, because on a big one the fifty cents basis runs up rather high.

Send it in if you will, and if you don't like my offer I'll surely return it. I enclose a mailing sack which could be used for any moderate sized piece, but it's better to wrap a little paper around one and be sure the sack is well tied.

Yours sincerely,
