NEWSMAN SCHIEFFER WILL SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

Trustee Bob Schieffer, internationally known as chief Washington correspondent for CBS News, will be the speaker Sept. 9 for the annual fall convocation. To begin at 11 a.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium, the public event traditionally marks the opening of the new academic year.

Announcement of the third recipient of the Chancellor's Award for Distinguished Teaching will be a highlight of the formal assembly. Endowed by an anonymous TCU alumni couple, the two-part honor includes a $5,000 cash award in recognition of outstanding accomplishment as a teacher in addition to a $5,000 check intended to cover the variety of expenses the awardee feels will most enhance the recipient's contributions as a teacher and scholar.

The award was first presented in 1982 to English professor Betsy Colquitt and then in 1984 to Emmet G. Smith, TCU's Herndon Professor of Music. The Chancellor's Award for Distinguished Research and Creative Activity is presented in alternate years.

For the occasion, classes will be dismissed from 10:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., announced Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler. The academic procession will form in front of Ed Landreth Hall at 10:45 a.m.

Welcoming remarks will be made by Dr. Koehler. Music will be provided by the Concert Chorale under the direction of Ron Shirey. Both the processional and organ postlude will be presented by Emmet. Trustee A.M. Pennybacker, minister of University Christian Church, will give the invocation, and University minister John Butler will give the benediction. The Alma Mater Hymn will be led by associate professor Arden Hopkin.

CONVOCATION (continued)

Schieffer, who will be introduced by Chancellor Bill Tucker, joined the CBS network staff in 1969. Currently also anchor of the Saturday edition of "CBS Evening News," he has served as its Pentagon, State Department, national and White House correspondent. He has anchored every major news program of CBS News in addition to traveling throughout the world on assignments. For his reporting, he has won four Emmys and an Overseas Press Club award.

Schieffer was a reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram after earning a bachelor's degree in journalism here in 1959. The first correspondent from a Texas newspaper to go to Vietnam, he also was an anchorman for WBAP-TV, now KXAS-TV.

Elected to TCU's board of trustees earlier this year, Schieffer was cited for his "truthtelling in a free society" when he was awarded the honorary Doctor of Humanities degree by his alma mater during spring commencement. In 1981 he was named by the TCU Alumni Association as its first Homecoming honoree.

Schieffer serves on the board of the Corcoran Museum of Art in Washington, DC, and paints in his spare time. He has studied art in the Art Students League in New York, and his works have been seen regularly in Washington-area galleries. He holds membership in Sigma Delta Chi/Society of Professional Journalists.

Schieffer and his wife, alumna Patricia Penrose of Fort Worth, have two daughters, Susan and Sharon.

FUSILLO LEADS EUROPE DANCE TOUR

Lisa Fusillo led a troupe of 15 dancers performing throughout Europe for eight weeks this summer. Their dance works, choreographed and produced by Lisa, were presented in Brussels, London, Paris, Lucerne, Innsbruck, Munich, Heidelberg and Amsterdam.

The 13 TCU-affiliated dancers were students Allison Adams, Josie Alisago, Melanie Colletti, Suzanne Finton, Lisa Neely, Sue Ellen Peterson, Lori Remington, Janet Weeks and Joellen Wojtowicz, along with alumni Stephanie Brazie (B.F.A. '84), Cynthia Hamill (B.G.S. '86), Leslie Palmer (B.F.A. '86) and Rob Smith (M.F.A. '86). The other dancers were from Florida State and the University of Wisconsin. Also on the tour was a former TCU student, Gerald Torlincasi, a professional photographer.

ART IN METROPLEX OPENS FRIDAY

Works by 97 artists will fill Moudy Building Exhibition Hall and Brown-Lupton Gallery during Art in the Metroplex '86 from Sept. 6 to Oct. 3. The juried show will be a part of Fort Worth Gallery Nights from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Prizes ranging from $1,000 for first place to $100 for honorable mention will be awarded in the Moudy Building at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Present for the award presentations will be the show's juror, Peter Frank, independent art critic who writes for Artforum, Art in America, ARTnews and Womanart. Frank selected the Art in the Metroplex participants from more than 200 entries in the show, sponsored annually by the Department of Art and Art History, the exhibition committee of Programming Council and The Committee for an Artists' Center.

The paintings, drawings, printmaking, mixed media, photography and sculpture will be shown from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, 11 a.m.-8 p.m. Tuesdays and 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Wednesdays through Fridays. The annual show is made possible in part by donations from The Arts Organization, The Fifth Avenue Foundation, The Fleming Foundation, John L. Clardy, JoAnn Durham, Bob Fiesler and Edward R. Hudson Jr.

Of the 27 Fort Worth artists whose work was selected for the show, eight are affiliated with TCU, including faculty member David Conn. Others, students or studio assistants, are Holly Neal, Chris Powell, Cam Schoepp, Pat Kelly, Jeffrey T. Reser, Michael J. Magoto and Kent Matricardi.

ALUMNA RECEIVES MORTAR BOARD SCHOLARSHIP

Elizabeth Jekot, class of '85, is one of 11 graduate students nationwide selected to receive the Judith A. Resnick Fellowship. Mortar Board National Foundation awards the fellowships of $1,000 each to graduate students with outstanding undergraduate records. "Ms. Jekot was selected to receive this fellowship from a large pool of very talented and able Mortar Board members because of her academic, service and leadership record during her undergraduate years," said Connie Wallace, chairperson of the selection committee.

While a premedical student at TCU, Elizabeth was active in the Honors Program and Mortar Board. She is now attending Southwestern Medical School.

SCHUBERT RECITAL OPENS SERIES

The opening Music Series recital of the fall semester, set at 8 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Hall Reception Room, will be the first of a three-recital Franz Schubert Festival. John Large, baritone, will sing Schubert's Winterreise cycle, based on poem cycles by Wilhelm Muller. Later recitals will be the Schwanengesang collection of 14 songs presented by seven of John's voice students in early January and the Schubert Mullerin cycle performed by student tenor Ray Herman in April.

Two cycles of poems by Wilhelm Muller provided Schubert with texts for Die schone Mullerin and Winterreise. Mullerin tells of a young wandering miller who, after a brief period of happiness, loses out to a dashing rival and drowns himself in the brook. Winterreise, the second cycle, is the tale of another youth who is so disillusioned with life that he sees only death as the end of his winter's journey. Some historians believe the composition of the Winterreise songs so affected Schubert that they hastened his early death.

John, who holds the Doctor of Music degree from Indiana University and the Ph.D. in Voice Science from Stanford University School of Medicine, has concertized widely in Europe and the United States and has presented both Carnegie Hall and Town Hall debuts in New York. He joined the music faculty a year ago.

REFLECTION GROUP LUNCHEONS BEGIN FRIDAY

Toni Craven of Brite Divinity School will be the speaker Friday for the first meeting of the Luncheon Reflection Group. Toni's topic will be "Biblical foundations of morality--with emphasis on personal responsibility and decision-making--as a hallmark of Biblical faith."

Room 205-206 of the Student Center. Coffee and tea will be provided.

Sponsored by University Ministries, the group will meet the first Friday of each month and each Friday during the Lenten and Advent seasons when classes are in session. The hour will begin with a reflective presentation by a staff or faculty member, and a group discussion will follow.

WORK/STUDY STUDENTS AVAILABLE

Several students who qualify for work/study financial aid still are available for assignment to campus offices. Described as the "best bargain on campus" by work/study coordinator Dolores Oelfke, the arrangement involves departments paying only 20 percent of the hourly rate, which amounts to 67 cents per hour for the $3.35 rate. Interested persons should contact Dolores at Ext. 7858.

OOPS! BREYER NOT PLAYING HIMSELF

Last week's Bulletin got a bit carried away with all the celebrities anticipated for the Honors Retreat Friday and Saturday, noting that the Honors Program will be hosting Karl Marx, St. Augustine, John Breyer and Jean-Jacques Rousseau.

John will, in fact, portray Charles Darwin, and the other keynoter roles will be taken by John Bohon, Nadia Lahutsky and Walton Rothrock, respectively. Today (Tuesday) is the deadline for reservations to be phoned to the Honors Office, Ext. 7125.

TWO ATTEND INTERNATIONAL MATH CONGRESS

Mathematicians Bob Doran and Peng Fan attended the 21st International Congress of Mathematicians Aug. 2-11 at the University of California at Berkeley. The Congress, which meets every four years, is the largest mathematical conference in the world and is highlighted by the awarding of the Fields Medals, the highest honor in mathematics and the equivalent of the Nobel Prize in other disciplines.

Opening ceremonies were held in Berkeley's Greek Theatre and marked only the third time that the Congress has met in the United States since its inaugural meeting at Northwestern University in 1893.

The purpose of the Congress is to bring together mathematicians from around the globe to explore and discuss the latest developments in their field, and to review major mathematical advances since the previous meeting.

SERVICES HELD FOR PHILANTHROPIST NORTHEN

Funeral services were conducted Aug. 28 in Galveston for Mary Moody Northen, well-known philanthropist and daughter of the man for whom TCU's W. L. Moody Jr. Hall on Worth Hills is named. Head of 50 corporations as well as of Texas' third-largest trust, she died Aug. 25. Mrs. Northen chaired the Moody Foundation and directed the distribution of some $200 million to educational and charitable endeavors across the state.

In 1965 TCU became a beneficiary of the Galveston-based foundation when it made the second commitment to the then-proposed science research center. Recognition of the importance of that gift, initially for $500,000 and later doubled, was noted during formal dedication of Moody Hall at the opening of the 1967 fall semester. Mrs. Northen was the honored guest for those ceremonies.

Moody Hall houses members of Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Zeta Tau Alpha sororities.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

DON FRISCHMANN (modern languages) was an invited participant in the "Thirteenth Chicano-Latino Theatre Festival" July 27-Aug. 3 in Cuernavaca, Mexico. He moderated and participated in a round-table discussion on "Mexico's New Popular Theatre in its Social Context" and also took part on a critique panel and in other festival activities. Don also participated in the 68th annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese Aug. 9-13 in Madrid, where he presented a paper on the Mexican award-winning dramatist Felipe Santander as part of a panel on "Latin American Revolutionary Theatre."

JOHN BREYER (geology) presented a talk on the results of his recent research on the geology of the Wilcox Group to geologists at the Alberta Research Council when he was in Edmonton last month. John spent three days in the field and lab becoming familiar with the work of the coal geology group at the Council on Cretaceous coals along the Red Deer River in the Drumheller area.

MARK THISTLETHWAITE (art history) recently served as a specialist reviewer for the evaluation of two television art pilot programs funded by the National Endowment for the Arts and Getty Center for Education in the Arts. Mark also recently reviewed proposals for the J. Paul Getty Trust Foundation Grant Program and the University of Oklahoma Press.

Poet BETSY COLQUITT (English) and novelist JUDY ALTER (TCU Press) will be among participants in the literary festival to be held Sept. 24-27 at North Texas State. Titled "Texas Images and Realities: The Governor's Sesquicentennial Conference on the Literacy Acts," the three-day program will climax a year-long celebration of the 150th anniversary of Texas.

After participating in a National Endowment for the Humanities summer seminar at Yale on Three Twentieth-Century Masterworks, CYNTHIA FOLIO (music) went on to Dartmouth for the New Hampshire Music Festival Composers Conference, where she played her own composition, "Flute Fantasy," and presented a paper entitled "Unity and Pluralism in Selected Works by Joseph Schwantner." In addition, her article, "The Synthesis of Traditional and Contemporary Elements in Joseph Schwantner's 'Sparrows'," was published in a recent volume of Perspectives of New Music.

Geologist ARTHUR BUSBEY presented two talks at the 4th North American Paleontological Conference in August. His topics were: "Implications of snout section geometry for the construction of carnivorous archosaur skulls" and "Interactive microcomputer modeling of bone/muscle mechanics."

ANN LIEBERTH (speech communication) presented workshops on "Speech and Auditory Training of the Hearing-Impaired Adolescent" at the Southeast Regional Conference of teachers of the Deaf in Lexington, KY; the A.G. Bell Association convention in Chicago; at the Academy of Rehabilitative Audiology in Lake Geneva, WI; and at San Francisco State University.
