TCU HOSTING THREE CRAFT SHOWS

The works of top Texas designers and nationally known craftsmen are filling TCU's art gallery spaces starting this week. The University is hosting the Texas Designer/Craftsmen 1986 Juried Membership and Invitational Exhibit as well as shows by Dallas ceramicist Lee Akins and mixed media artist Kenneth Havis of Hubbard.

Opening yesterday (Monday) in Moudy Building Exhibition Hall, the Texas Designer/Craftsmen show will run through Oct. 19, culminating in a weekend conference on campus for the designer/craftsmen. Beth Thomas of art is conference chairperson.

Invited artists are Jens Morrison of San Diego, whose ceramic sculpture is influenced by his research into Mexican folk ceramics and clay dwellings; Colleen Barry-Wilson of Chico, CA, mixed-media artist who uses books as contemporary reliquaries for society's discards; and Ray Schultze, professor of sculpture and glass at Kearney State College in Nebraska.

Of 24 Texas artists whose works were selected for the show, 12 are from the Metroplex. Fort Worth artists chosen are Beth, David Edgar and Lynne Dees. Dr. Joel Eide, professor of humanities and director of the art gallery at Northern Arizona University, juried the show and will present his juror's address at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 17 in Moudy Building Room 132N. The artists will be honored at a reception from 7 to 9 that evening.

In Brown-Lupton Gallery the opening reception will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. today (Tuesday) for a showing of terra cotta vessel forms created by Dallas ceramicist Lee Akins. The exhibition continues through Oct. 17. Akins, who teaches at Eastfield College and has had half a dozen solo shows in the Metroplex, has selected vessel forms ranging from eight inches to three feet for the show.

Also on view in Moudy Building Exhibition Space #2 during the Texas Designer/Craftsmen show will be mixed media works by Kenneth Havis of Hubbard. All the shows are open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

ADMISSIONS OFFICE HOSTS COLLEGE BOARD SESSION

Dr. Martha Salmon of Austin, Class of '66 member and director of admissions and guidance services for the College Board, presented a workshop for high school counselors on Sept. 29 in the Student Center. The annual session was hosted by the Office of Admissions.

Martha spent the morning briefing the local counselors on the College Board tests and services. Dave Bauske, director of financial aid services for the College Board, led the afternoon session on application for various financial aid programs.

As guests of the admissions office for luncheon, the counselors heard Charleen Hayes McGilvray, freshman admissions director, give a profile of this year's freshman class with an emphasis on the students coming from the Fort Worth area.

TWO NEW COUNTRIES REPRESENTED BY INTERNATIONALS

Sixty-two new international students bring the total number of internationals at TCU this fall to 194. New countries represented this year are Morocco and Scotland, said International Student Affairs Director Al Mladenka. Countries with the largest numbers of students are West Germany with 20, India with 17 and Taiwan with 12. Altogether 54 countries have students on campus.

The new students include undergraduate, graduate and Brite Divinity students. Of the total number, 120 are male and 74 are female.

PARENTS WEEKEND DISPLAYS "NEW WORLD"

Explorative parents will discover a whole new world when they come for Parents Weekend beginning Friday. Through mini-lectures, residence hall open houses and a pep rally, parents will see university life through their children's eyes. The weekend's theme is "It's a Whole New World."

Parents Weekend will begin Friday with a noon performance by the TCU Jazz Band in the south lounge of the Student Center. That evening at 7:30 students will perform in the TCU Talent Revue, featuring comedian Edward Jackman as master of ceremonies.

The Oct. 11 schedule will begin with a fun run at 8 a.m., starting in front of the Student Center. Following the run will be the Chancellor's Reception, at which administrators and faculty members will welcome parents. The reception will begin at 9:30 a.m. on the front lawn of Saddler Hall. At 11 a.m. University professors will give mini-lectures in typical classroom settings. From noon until 4 p.m., residence halls will hold open houses, and various campus organizations will provide on-campus luncheons.

A hamburger and hot dog picnic will be served from 4 to 6 p.m. around Frog Fountain. David & Goliath, a '50s and '60s rock band, will perform throughout the barbecue. Following the picnic, a pep rally will help stir spirits for the 7:30 p.m. football game against Rice, to be played at Amon Carter Stadium. An after-game party will be held at Billy Bob's Texas.

Parents Weekend will close Sunday with a variety of "new worlds." The International Student Association will serve breakfast to parents in the south lounge of the Student Center. Parents will be able to meet students from 54 countries worldwide.

JUST A REMINDER...

...that photographs of faculty and University staff members, for use in the student yearbook as well as to update News Service files, are being made this week from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Student Center basement.

SEVERAL CAMPAIGNS FOR TCU IN PROGRESS

October is the month for Annual Fund campaigns, and a number are now in progress across the state, while others begin later. In each, as in the annual TCU/Tarrant County drive, gift requests are made for instructional and scholarship assistance, research and graduate education, athletics and general University support. With the collective goals becoming part of TCU's overall budget-supporting total of $3.2 million, volunteers direct their efforts to alumni, business leaders, foundations, parents of current students and other friends of the University.

Campaigns currently in progress include:

- Dallas campaign, Oct. 6-24, headed by civic leader Deedie Potter Rose. The campaign cabinet includes Harriet Eaker Adams, Jay Barlow, Charles Burgess, Nancy Savage Doherty, Ken Kellam, Rick Porter, Sandra Scott Porter, Maurice Price, Tom Riordan, James Rutledge, Richard Stephens, Linda Pilcher Wassenich and Mark Wassenich. Goal is $160,000.
- Permian Basin, Oct. 6-16, led by Bob Lynch, consulting geologist of Midland. Division leaders are Vic Brockman, Jerry Collins and Paddy Jones Lucas of Midland and Brian Rosson of Odessa. Goal is $105,200.
- Austin campaign, Oct. 1-17, led by Jerry J. Ray, president Family Sports Inc. Division leaders are Martha Hackley Salmon, Roy and Joan Snodgrass, William Page, Patrick and Aimee Sheehan, Charles Scarborough and Helen Bostick. Goal is $41,000.

Starting tomorrow, the campaign in the Houston-area will be led by Jim Lindsey, executive vice president of North American Mortgage Co. Division leaders will be Roger Ramsey, Robert Johnson Jr., William Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Houston. Its goal is $168,000.

With a goal of $20,500, a four-week effort in San Antonio will begin Oct. 28. Heading the divisions will be Shirley Wilson Bryan, Steve and Peggy Allison, Janet Lynn Moore, Robert and Lorie Conger and Dr. Harold D. Herndon.

Headed by Connie Harrington Eikenburg, who chairs Harrington Homeplace, the Plano campaign was held Sept. 22-Oct. 3. Its goal was $17,500, and campaign leaders included Carmen Carpenter Haggard, Bill Harrell, Dorothy Pickens Hudson, Walter Magee Jr., Allan Tanner and Jim Torbert.

A one-day "blitz" is set for Oct. 23 in McKinney. Chairman will be Mac Hendricks, partner in Hidevco Development Co.

SYMPHONY, UNGAR TO PLAY MONDAY

The TCU Symphony will be joined by pianist Tamas Ungar for a Music Series concert at 8 p.m. Oct. 13 in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

As a part of the KTCU-FM, 88.7, Concert Hour, the performance will be broadcast live. The concert hour is beginning its fifth season as one of the oldest continuous live broadcasts of classical music in the area.

The University Symphony, under the direction of Candler Schaffer, will perform The Hebrides Overture (Fingal's Cave) by Mendelssohn and Pelleas and Melisande by Gabriel Faure. After intermission, Tamas and the symphony will play Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 5 in E-flat major.

OBSERVER DURING LEBANESE INVASION TO SPEAK

Lt. Col. Michael McWhorter, who accompanied the Israeli army as an observer during the 1982 invasion of Lebanon, will discuss that invasion today (Tuesday) at 7 p.m. in Room 141N of the Moody Building. Sponsored by Army ROTC, the presentation is free and open to the public. McWhorter is professor of military science at Oklahoma State University.

NEW PARENTS COUNCIL MEETING THIS WEEK

The initial meeting of the newly formed Parents Council will be held this weekend in conjunction with the annual events of Parents Weekend. Thirteen cities and/or geographic areas across the nation are represented by the 68 parents invited to membership in the group that will serve as an advisory board to the TCU Parents Association.

Representing joint efforts by the admissions, development and student affairs offices, the association is composed of all parents/guardians of currently enrolled undergraduates and parents of former students interested in continuing their activities with the University. Participating members of the council include a national chairperson, vice chairperson, student body president and association members chosen to reflect both the class and geographical distribution of TCU's undergraduate students.

A reception and opening dinner for the Parents Council members is planned for Thursday evening at the Petroleum Club. On Friday they will meet for a breakfast buffet in the Student Center's Woodson Room. A 9:30 a.m. orientation session will focus on major issues of concern to parents. Responses to those issues will be made by Vice Chancellors Peggy Barr, Edd Bivin, Paul Hartman and Bill Koehler.

An afternoon session for evaluating the orientation and parents handbooks will be followed by a discussion of specific needs the Parents Council can address for the institution's benefit. Speakers will be Associate Vice Chancellor Ned Boehm, Vice Chancellor Hartman and Assistant Vice Chancellor Don Mills.

The planning committee for the two new organizations included Janet Herald and Chris Ellertson of admissions, Ann Gee and Kristi Johnston of development and Suzy Batchelor, Libby Proffer, Dottie Phillips and Rich Murrell of student affairs.

FRIENDS INAUGURATE BANTA MEMORIAL FUND

Friends of the late John Wesley Banta and his wife, Lois, associate director of personnel, are inaugurating a scholarship fund in his memory. Recipients of awards from this fund will be students pursuing their studies in the humanities. Banta, a retired Air Force colonel, died in late September following a lengthy illness. Contributions to the fund can be sent to the John Banta Scholarship Fund, TCU Development Office, Box 32920.

NOTED NURSING EDUCATOR TO SPEAK OCT. 9

Dr. Holly Skodol Wilson of the University of California at San Francisco, an internationally recognized nursing educator, will present a public lecture Oct. 9. "Magic, Alchemy or Science: An Update on Psychiatric Nursing Diagnostic Practice" will be the topic for the event, which will begin at 7 p.m. in Lecture Hall 141 North of the Moudy Building.

The free program, part of the TCU Research Foundation Grant Lectureship Series, is being presented in cooperation with Harris College of Nursing and the Psychiatric Institute of Fort Worth. Because of limited space, reservations should be made with Judy Bray at (817) 921-7651.

Dr. Wilson, associated with the University of California since 1978, is a professor in the mental health department, community and administrative nursing, of its school of nursing. She also is a member of the affiliated faculty for its Institute for Health and Aging. Holder of the Ph.D. degree from the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. Wilson was honored earlier this year with the book of the year award from the American Journal of Nursing for her "Research in Nursing." In 1984 she received the award from AJN and Nursing 1984 for "Handbook of Psychosocial Nursing."

A member of the American Nursing Association's panel of specialists to identify and classify psychiatric nursing phenomena, Dr. Wilson has achieved international recognition as lecturer and consultant. She has been an official visitor to the psychiatry department at the University of Helsinki, Finland, and last year was a consultant to Madam Kan Lan Chun of the People's Republic of China, to Dr. Elousia Tamez, chief nursing administrator for the veterans' hospital in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and to Canada's Edmonton-Alberta Psychiatric Hospital. She has made visits to Australia's Cumberland College of Health Science and the Harm Siemens Psychiatric Nursing Facility in Amsterdam, Holland.

Last year she gave the keynote presentation at the first Southeast Asia Regional Nursing Conference and Exhibition held in Hong Kong. A presenter for National Nurses' Day at the Mathari Psychiatric Hospital in Nairobi, Kenya, in 1984, she has spoken at leading nursing and health-related meetings throughout the United States. In November she will be coordinator for the keynote and closing addresses at the National Conference on Psychiatric Nursing in Washington, DC.

Dr. Wilson, recipient of a Kellogg Foundation award for study of "International Approaches to Care for the Mentally Disordered Elderly," is author of some 30 research studies in professional journals in addition to book chapters and editor or co-author of 16 books.

NOTES ON FOLKS

Participants in the SMU Colloquy on "New Critical Approaches in Synoptic Studies" Sept. 19-20 included EUGENE BORING, EDWARD MCMAHON and DARYL SCHMIDT (religion-studies) and DAVID BALCH (Brite). Each presented a response paper at one of the sessions. The colloquy was sponsored by the Center for the Study of Religion in the Greco-Roman World.

FROG WORKS, a co-ed softball team from Physical Plant and Student Accounts, took second place in the recent intramural softball tournament. The Frogs put up a battle, but the Recreational Sports Official's team "I'm Safe, You're Out" was too much for them. The final score was 7-4.

BILL GRAHAM (physics) has been notified that his article entitled "The Study of Metal Species in Petroleum and Tar Sands Using the EPR and FTIR Techniques" will be appearing in the book, Metalloporphyrins and Metal Complexes in Petroleum and Source Rocks, scheduled for publication by the American Chemical Society early in 1987.

During the summer SHEILA ALLEN (music) attended the 27th International Music Seminar of the German Democratic Republic, held in Weimar, where she was chosen to work with conductor Christian Ehwald and the Jena Philharmonic. In addition, she and her husband presented five recitals in West Germany and Switzerland.

JUDY ALTER (TCU Press) spoke on "The Texas Novel and the Texas Past" at the Governor's Sesquicentennial Conference on the Literary Arts at NISU Sept. 24-27. Appearing on the same program were Elmer Kelton and Robert Flynn, both of whom have novels reprinted in the TCU Press Texas Tradition Series, and Tom Pilkington, general editor of the series.

During the summer BARBARA BLOCK (family studies and home economics) coordinated Phase I of a project at The University of West Florida to review and revise Florida's Generic Teacher Competencies. This month she will conduct Phase II of the project, which consists of three review sessions in Tampa, Gainesville and Boca Raton where additional data will be collected before recommendations are made to the Florida State Department of Education and the Florida Legislature.

Director of facilities planning SIDNEY PADGETT recently attended the annual conference of the Council of Educational Facility Planners, International, in Nashville, TN. The theme for the conference was "Building for Tomorrow" and a white paper entitled "A Window on the Future: A View of Education and Educational Facilities" by Warren E. Hathaway and D. Robert Fielder was presented as a conference study document. Sid served as a discussion leader, recorder and presenter for the university division at the conference. He was also selected to serve as president elect for the Southern Region of the CEFPI.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

New in the TCU Press is NANCY STEVENS, formerly associated with the University Press of New England. The wife of KEN STEVENS (history), she has taught composition courses here and done freelance editing for the TCU Press.

A paper by PENG FAN (math) entitled "Remark on 'Tridiagonal Matrix Representations of Cyclic Self-adjoint Operators'" appeared in the September issue of the Proceedings of the American Mathematical Society.

An article entitled "The Extraordinary Educational Attainment of Asian-Americans: A Search for Historical Evidence and Explanations" by MORRISON WONG (sociology) and Charles Hirschman of Cornell University has been published in the September issue of Social Forces.

As an invited speaker, director ANN LIEBERTH (habilitation of the deaf) presented a workshop on "Speech and Auditory Training of the Hearing-Impaired Adolescent" at the University of Minnesota in Duluth on Sept. 26-28.

An autobiographic reminiscence entitled "Counter Statements" by JOHN LOUD (modern languages) appeared last summer in The Lincoln Review. His essay is about the poetics of space in the well-known architects' colony in Lincoln, MA, which included the house by Walter Gropius that became the prototype of International Style in America.

DAVID VANDERWERKEN (English) presented a workshop for secondary teachers on "Teaching Sport Literature" with Professor Russell Long of Tarleton State University at the Texas Joint Council of Teachers of English, District XII and XIII meeting hosted by Baylor University on Sept. 27.

Funeral services were conducted Sept. 30 at University Christian Church for DOROTHY MICHAEL ANDERSON, former instructor of English who died Sept. 27 following a lengthy illness. The Fort Worth native, holder of degrees from Texas Woman's and Columbia universities, had worked toward the Ph.D. here. Writer of published short stories, articles and scholarly works, she had taught at the Tarrant County Junior College campuses and later was an editor at General Dynamics.

Political scientists DON JACKSON and JIM RIDDLESPERGER have had their article, "Whatever Happened to the Exclusionary Rule?: The Burger Court and the Fourth Amendment," published in Criminal Justice Policy Review 1 (May 1986): 156-168.

MARK THISTLETHWAITE (art history) presented the inaugural lecture in an Oklahoma Museum of Art series of lectures related to the museum's current exhibition "American Master Drawings from the Corcoran Gallery." Mark's talk was titled "Figure Studies: The Human Element in American Art."

HORNED FROG CLASSIC TO BE OCT. 13

The annual celebrity pro/am golf tournament to raise funds for the University's golf team will be held Oct. 13 at Colonial Country Club. During activities of the eighth annual Horned Frog Classic, famed golfer Byron Nelson will be inducted into the Horned Frog Classic Hall of Fame.

Among those who have signed up to play are professionals Charles Coody and Don Massengale, both alumni, along with sports director Scott Murray of KXAS-TV, Mayor Bob Bolen and Frog basketball coach Jim Killingsworth.

With a $500-per-person entry fee, the classic was inaugurated in 1979 by insurance executive and alumnus Mick Ashworth, tournament chairman since it began, in conjunction with associate athletic director Mel Thomas.
