

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 63, No. 11, Oct. 28, 1986

DANCE CONCERT HAS INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

A former Canadian dancer will interpret the work of a former Peking dancer in concert Friday through Sunday.

Dana Nicolay danced with Houston Ballet and spent four seasons with Royal Winnipeg Ballet, performing 20 or more weeks a year in Canada and the United States, in Cairo, Athens, London and Belfast. Here he has returned to the life of a student--beginning work this year on a Master of Fine Arts degree in modern dance at TCU--attracted, he says, "because TCU's dance department is well-known as one of the best in a university setting."

Nicolay will perform in "Chopin Etudes," set by Li-Chou Cheng, former principal soloist of Peking Ballet Company, when he was guest artist-in-residence here in September. Sharing principal roles will be Amy Dillard, Garland freshman, and TCU alumnus Robert Smith on Friday and Nicolay and graduate student Myrtila Meyer of Fort Worth Saturday and Sunday.

Audiences also will see Nicolay in "Arrival," choreographed by modern dance faculty member Michael Kelly Bruce to the first movement of a sonata Brahms wrote late in life. "'Arrival' strives to reflect the grace and sureness that arrives with experience," Michael explains.

A lighter, joyful dance is "Antickle," choreographed by Ellen Page Garrison of modern dance. Clowns are the theme of the dance, set to music of Alberto Ginastera. "EEZZY" is a modern jazz work choreographed by Lisa Fusillo. The movement embodies the flow and shape of music by Jean Luc-Ponty.

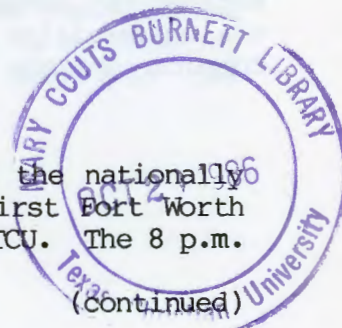

"Try and Catch the Wind" is set to music by Jean Michel Jarre, music dedicated to the seven deceased Challenger astronauts. The dance, says choreographer Susan Douglas Roberts, is committed to those who take chances, who keep reaching for and trying to catch the wind in spite of the odds.

** *** **

DE GROOTE, CHESTER QUARTET TO PLAY NOV. 8

Steven De Groote, Van Cliburn Competition gold medalist, and the nationally known Chester String Quartet will join Nov. 8 in Steven's first Fort Worth concert since he returned in August as professor of music at TCU. The 8 p.m.

(continued)

DE GROOTE, CHESTER QUARTET (continued)

performance in Ed Landreth Auditorium is in honor of the great contribution to music of Mme. Lili Kraus, emeritus artist-in-residence who was a juror for the Cliburn piano competition in 1962-1981.

Concert program will include Beethoven's Quartet in G major, Op. 18, No. 2, Samuel Barber's Quartet, Op. 11, and the Piano Quintet in A flat, Op. 44, by Schumann.

The Chester String Quartet, founded in 1978 at Eastman School of Music, currently is headquartered at Indiana University/South Bend. Hailed by the Boston Globe as "one of the best and brightest of the country's young string groups," the quartet often performs on National Public Radio, BBC and German Bavarian Radio.

Born into a South African family in which almost every member for three generations has been a professional musician, Steven is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Brussels and Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. He was a finalist in the 1976 Levintritt Competition and has won the Young Concert Artists International Auditions in New York.

After winning the Cliburn competition, he was featured in two nationally televised Public Broadcasting Service specials. Steven performs frequently in the United States and Europe.

Members of the Chester String Quartet are violinist Nicolas Danielson, violinist Susan Freier, London native Ronald Gorevic, viola, and Thomas Rosenberg, cello. The quartet will be in residence here Nov. 6-8 under the sponsorship of the Sid Richardson Foundation.

*** **

COMPUTER SCIENTIST VISITS CAMPUS

Dr. Richard Fairley, chairman of the faculty at Wang Institute of Graduate Studies in Massachusetts, was a guest of the computer science department last week. As a Visiting Green Professor, he presented two public lectures related to his specialty of software engineering.

Author of numerous papers in computer science and software engineering, Dr. Fairley has focused his research interests in programming technology, software project management and testing methodologies along with concepts and tools, debugging and data communications. Editor of the text entitled "Software Engineering Concepts," issued last year by McGraw-Hill, he is a graduate of the universities of Missouri and New Mexico and earned the Ph.D. degree in computer science from the University of California at Los Angeles.

ASTRONAUT/SENATOR IS VISITING PROFESSOR

Subjects related to the moon will be discussed in two public lectures to be given by former astronaut/U.S. Sen. Harrison H. Schmitt while he is a guest on campus this week. Pilot of the Apollo 17 lunar module in 1972 and the last man to step on the moon, Dr. Schmitt will be hosted by TCU's geology department while he serves as Visiting Green Professor, a position endowed by Cecil H. and Ida Green of Dallas.

"A Field Trip to the Moon" will be the theme of his slide lecture Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 141 North of the Moudy Building. Schmitt's Thursday lecture "The Evolution of the Moon" will be sponsored by TCU's chapter of the scientific honor society Sigma Xi. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall in the Richardson Building.

Holder of the Ph.D. degree in geology from Harvard University, Schmitt presented his home state of New Mexico during three terms in the U.S. Senate. Prior to leaving public office in 1982, he chaired a number of Congressional subcommittees, including those on science, technology and space. His legislative leadership was seen in such areas as geoscience programs, civil defense, telecommunications, strategic material policy, developing nations foreign policy, defense and energy programs and micro-economic policy.

Currently a consultant and writer in various scientific and technical fields, he works with such organizations as the Department of Commerce, Universities Space Research Association, Los Alamos National Laboratories, Science Applications Inc. and Systems Development Corporation. He is a director for Murphy Energy Corporation, Nord Resources, Mineral Information Institute of Denver, U.S. Telecommunications Training Institute, Solar Resources Inc. and the Department of Defense Army Science Board. Since 1985 he has headed the Washington-based New Worlds Foundation.

Schmitt spent a year as project chief for the lunar field geological methods before being named chief scientist for Apollo 11 in 1969. He was backup pilot for the Apollo 15 flight. After eight years as a NASA scientist-astronaut, he was named chief scientist in NASA's astronaut office in 1973. He was chosen as assistant administrator for NASA energy programs in 1974.

A Sherman Fairchild Distinguished Scholar at California Institute of Technology in 1973-74, Schmitt holds numerous awards. These include being named a fellow by The Geological Society of London, Geological Society of America, American Institute of Mining, American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers as well as the National Security Award and two NASA Distinguished Service Medals. He is an honorary member of the Norwegian Geographical Society and was named to the International Space Hall of Fame.

PATTON RECEIVES CERTIFICATE FOR EXCELLENCE

Carol Patton, former director of university advisement for freshmen and premajors, was one of 37 persons awarded a certificate of merit for outstanding achievement in the 1986 National Recognition Program for Academic Advising sponsored jointly by The American College Testing Program (ACT) and the National Academic Advising Association (NACADA). She was nominated for this competition by Dean Mike McCracken of AddRan College.

Established in 1983, the recognition program is designed to honor individuals and institutions making significant contributions to the improvement of academic advising on college campuses. The goal of the program is to encourage wider support and recognition of the importance of academic advising by colleges and universities.

Awards are made in two categories: outstanding advisor honors to individual advisors who demonstrate the qualities associated with excellent academic advising and outstanding institutional advising program recognition to institutions engaged in innovative and/or exemplary practices that have improved their advising services.

The awards were presented during the NACADA annual conference Oct. 12-15 in Seattle. A publication describing award-winning programs has been prepared by The American College Testing Program.

*** **

SERVICES HELD FOR HELEN BELMORE

Funeral services were held Oct. 22 at University Christian Church for Helen Morro Belmore, administrative assistant to the School of Business dean from 1951 until she retired in 1975. She died Oct. 19 in a local hospital.

A native of Lexington, KY, Helen moved to Fort Worth in 1927 when her father, the late W.C. Morro, joined the Brite faculty. Graduated from TCU in 1930 and holder of a master's degree from the University of Virginia, she was faculty sponsor to TCU's chapter of Chi Omega sorority, to which she had belonged at Virginia. Helen was a volunteer at the Fort Worth Japanese Gardens after her retirement. She formerly was president and director of Executive Women International.

Survivors include a son, Hull Belmore of Reston, VA; a daughter, Sally Belmore Adkins of Houston; a brother and one granddaughter. The family suggests that memorial gifts be made to the Sierra Club Foundation or the Wilderness Society or Nature Conservancy, in which she was active.

*** **

TANDY HEAD TO SPEAK TODAY

John Roach, TCU trustee and head of the Tandy Corpotation, will speak at 5 p.m. today (Tuesday) to Master of Business Administration students. The public is invited to the 5 p.m. presentation in Dan Rogers Hall, Room 216.

OPERA WORKSHOP OFFERS 'HOWLING GOOD TIME'

Some folks celebrate Halloween with trick or treats.

Others go in for ghoulies and ghosties.

This year TCU offers an operatic observance of the scary holiday. "A Howling Good Time" will be presented at 12:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the Student Center ballroom. Audience members are welcome to bring sack lunches.

Featured will be excerpts from operas that have something to do with Halloween, explains Arden Hopkin, director of Opera Workshop. Opening with the first scene from "Hansel and Gretel" by Engelbert Humperdinck, Opera Workshop members will continue with Act I, Scene 4, of Smetana's "The Bartered Bride," a comedic opera in a folksy idiom.

Piece de resistance will be "The Bat," better known as Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus." The singers will perform Act I and scenes from the second and third acts to conclude their hour-long program.

*** **

FILMS TO BE AVAILABLE IN NOVEMBER

Nine rental films will be available for classroom scheduling in November. These can be reserved through the Instructional Media Center by contacting Susan Holland at Ext. 7121.

The films and departments making the initial requests for their order include:

- Nov. 5 -- "Classical Comedy" and "The Great War," requested by the history department
- Nov. 6 -- "A Place in Europe: Goodwood House" and "The Hand of Adam: Robert Adam 1728-1792," design and fashion department
- Nov. 10-- "Adapting to Parenthood" and "Yanomamo: Myth of Naro," sociology
- Nov. 11-- "Adapting to Parenthood," sociology, and "Paths of Glory," history
- Nov. 19-- "The Yanks Are Coming," history
- Nov. 20-- "Spirit Possession of Alejandro Mamani," sociology.

*** **

GERMAN BROADCAST DIRECTOR TO SPEAK

Dr. Juergen Reiss, director of the German broadcast system, will be a guest of the radio-TV-film department Nov. 4. He will speak to two classes during the day, and his 2 p.m. lecture in Moudy Building 164 S will be open to the public.

TCU IN THE NEWS

Following the recent televised debate between Attorney General Jim Mattox and his challenger, Roy Barrera Jr., KXAS-TV interviewed BILL JURMA (speech communication) and JIM RIDDLESPERGER (political science) regarding major points made during the political exchange.

Geologist ARTHUR B. BUSBEY participated by telephone in a radio interview about Texas dinosaurs with Mike Wright of Station KTKL in Del Rio.

DON COERVER (history) was interviewed Oct. 14 by Fil Alvarado of Channel 4 News. The interview concerning immigration appeared on the 10 p.m. news report.

"It's a Worm's Life" headlined the Biology Bulletin Monthly article on PHIL HARTMAN's (biology) research on aging and DNA repair. Phil uses tiny nematodes in his studies, which have implications for higher life forms including humans.

BILL HEAD (criminal justice) has been in high demand with local media on several crime-related topics. Crime in Fort Worth was the subject of interviews aired Sept. 22 on KRLD and Sept. 30 on KTVT-TV's morning news. Bill also appeared on KTVT's Point of View interview program Oct. 11 to further discuss Fort Worth crime. He also was interviewed by KXAS-TV for an Oct. 6 news story on usage of the death penalty, and on Oct. 13 he participated in a live phone interview with KRLD on prison overcrowding. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram also interviewed Bill on two topics—the Fort Worth police department budget and the rise in crime victim advocacy groups.

In the opinion of sociologist BILL REESE, people become their own victims....."people live in terror...afraid to leave their homes," because of irrational fear of crime. Bill was quoted in the Star-Telegram's Oct. 19 story entitled "Fear of crime holding more people hostage."

"Students urged to find elusive tuition dollars" was the Star-Telegram headline Oct. 22 for a lengthy story regarding stricter requirements for government aid. HERB BRUBAKER (financial aid), who is president of the Texas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, noted that changes in federal programs, coupled with tax reform that will affect some college students, will mean "more students must become more proficient at playing the financial aid game."

"Women who return to college get help" was the headline on alumna Katti Gray's feature in the Star-Telegram's Oct. 15-16 EXTRA about VIRGINIA DIGGS, who enrolled at 61 "to get the cobwebs out of her brain." The story noted that the average age for re-entry women is 35, and those enrolled through continuing education range from 20- to mid-70-year olds, according to CARLA WITTE, adult services director.

"Watts happening: Welcome to campus radio" was the Dallas Morning News headline Oct. 19 for the feature on campus radio stations at TCU, North Texas State and SMU. Programming at TCU and SMU was described as "raw and adventurous." Quoted were station director CONSTANTINO BERNARDEZ and disc jockey ANGELA JONES.

CONCERT CHORALE SINGS MONDAY

The Concert Chorale, which has toured throughout the Southwest, will present a TCU Music Series recital at 8 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium. The recital will be broadcast live over KTCU-FM, 88.7.

The choir, directed by Ron Shirey, will sing excerpts from two major works, "Carmina Burana," the so-called "profane song" that launched composer Carl Orff into international fame in 1936, and "Missa Petit Solennelle" by G. Rossini. Also on the program will be three selections from Mozart's "Solemn Vespers"—Dixit, Laudate Dominum, featuring soprano soloist Melinda Wambsgans, freshman voice major from Fort Worth, and Laudate Pueri—and Brahms' Schicksalslied (Song of Fate) and Zinzet dem Herrns (Sing to the Lord) by Hugo Distler.

*** **

FRIEDMAN TO BE BROWN BAG SPEAKER

Bayard Friedman, chairman of the University's board of trustees, will be the speaker Nov. 5 in the new brown bag lecture series of the Neeley School of Business. He will discuss the state of banking in Texas.

Planned for noon in the business school's library, the lecture is designed for interested students as well as faculty and staff members. The program will provide an informal setting for various business leaders to discuss current topics, according to Interim Dean Kirk Downey.

*** **

NOV. 6 IS DATE FOR LUCY LINN INSTITUTE

Nov. 6 is the date for the annual Lucy Harris Linn Institute, begun in 1976 by District 3 of the Texas Nurses Association to honor the late Dr. Linn, emeritus dean of Harris College of Nursing. The 5:30 to 9 p.m. program, which will begin with a buffet dinner, will be held in the Student Center ballroom.

Dr. Patricia Donahue, associate professor in the University of Iowa's College of Nursing, will be the speaker. Author of the book entitled "Nursing: The Finest Art," she is widely recognized for her insight into the past of nursing and illustrates significant moments in the profession to pinpoint growth and change. Experienced on numerous academic levels, she also is skilled in several clinical fields.

The late Dean Harris, a leader in nursing practice and education for some 50 years, headed Harris College of Nursing from its beginning 40 years ago until her retirement in 1967. In 1973 she authored the TCU Press book, "The Harris College of Nursing: Five Decades of Struggle for a Cause."

Registrations for the institute, set at $20 each in advance, are due by Oct. 30 to Mildred Hogstel in Harris College. Sponsors for the annual event are TNA's District 3, the Beta Alpha and Delta Theta chapters of Sigma Theta Tau and the Fort Worth chapters of the American Association of Critical Care Nurses, Directors of Nursing Service Society and Association of Operating Room Nurses.

NOTES ON FOLKS

JOHN SHERIDAN (management) was guest speaker at Southwest Texas State University Oct. 8 where he presented a one-day seminar on "Managing Corporate Innovation" for business leaders in the San Antonio area. The following day John was in Austin to conduct a seminar on "Building Effective Management Teams" for senior state government executives enrolled in the fourth class of the Governor's Executive Development Program. John is one of four Texas university faculty members who in 1985 organized the three-week executive program for the State of Texas. Following John's seminar, Adm. Bobby Inman, chairman of MCC, hosted a reception for the program's alumni and faculty to recognize the success of this joint program developed by the business, government and academic communities.

NEIL DANIEL (English) was in Great Britain Sept. 22-26 to do research for an article he is writing with June Cox of the Gifted Students Institute for the Bulletin of the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Neil visited international headquarters of the United World Colleges in London and the United World College of the Atlantic in South Glamorgan, Wales.

He has been working with United Way and member organizations helping office workers and administrators with their writing skills. On July 25 he conducted a day-long writing workshop for United Way management personnel and volunteer trainers and on Sept. 9 led a similar workshop for Metropolitan YMCA office staff.

In August Neil and Bonnie Dickinson, formerly an adjunct writing teacher at TCU who is now with the Fort Worth school district, presented a three-day workshop on writing across the curriculum for the Ardmore, OK, city schools. He also presented in-service training for Fort Worth English teachers Aug. 22 and for Birdville English teachers Aug. 26.

ART BUSBEY (geology) was one of several local volunteers who lent their expertise to a special outing for Camp Fire boys and girls Sept. 19-20. At their campsite in Wise County, Art taught the fifth- and sixth-graders about life in the area 100 million years ago and helped the children search for fossils.

Items crafted by such faculty members as TERRY ELLMORE and R.C. NORRIS (radio-TV-film) and economist JOHN WORTHAM are likely to be among gifts and collectibles available at the annual Craft Basket sale Oct. 31-Nov. 1 at the Ellmore home, 2913 Hartwood Drive. Handmade and handcrafted gifts by a number of faculty wives will be included in the 9 a.m.-6 p.m. event.

KIP SULLIVAN (education) presented two papers at the annual conference of the Society of Educators and Scholars at Bellarmine College in Louisville, KY, Oct. 10-11. The first paper was titled "Educational Leadership: Philosophies, Controversies, and Strategies from a Western Perspective." The second, co-authored with BILL VANDERHOOF (education), was "Educational Leadership: Platonic and Aristotlean Insights."

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

JANET GEORGE HERALD (admissions) was the featured speaker Oct. 13 for an open house for parents at Graham High School. Speakers representing private and public institutions addressed the topic of "The College Selection Process and Preparing for College." Among the speakers was Dr. Jesse Rogers, vice president for academic affairs at Midwestern University, who earned the Ph.D. in chemistry here with BILL WATSON as his major professor.

RALPH R. GUENTHER (professor emeritus, music) has received copies of his newest composition, "The 18 Artistic Studies," released by Southern Music Co. The work is a book of etudes for flutists.

LEO NEWLAND (environmental sciences) returned to his hometown of Nocona Oct. 18 where he was inducted into the Nocona High School Hall of Fame during Homecoming festivities.

Photographs from a continuing series entitled "High School" by LUTHER SMITH (art) have been on exhibit for a month at Odessa College. Luther made the photographs at local high schools or school events in Champaign/Urbana, IL, from 1980 to 1983 and in Fort Worth in 1983-84.

JIM CHAMBERS' (history) essay, "Exploitation in Greece and Rome," appears in Peasant Studies 13 (1986), 181-195.

Nineteen ballet and modern dance majors preformed Oct. 17 at the State Fair of Texas. Four dances choreographed by graduate students MONICA GRADANTE, MIRTILLA MEYER, KATHLEEN DOYLE and TERESA TANG were presented at the Creative Arts Pavilion, as well as a work in progress by faculty member SUSAN DOUGLAS ROBERTS and four solos from the ballet "Pas de Quatre," performed by STEPHANIE WOODS' variations class.

MARK THISTLETHWAITE (art history) is one of five authors contributing essays to American Paintings, Selections from the Amon Carter Museum. Publication coincides with the museum's 25th anniversary celebration.

Chemist BILL SMITH recently returned from two meetings in England. The first, held at the University of Sussex, dealt with chemical models for the actions of enzymes, while the second at the University of Bath was on the subject of molecular modelling and organic synthesis. Bill is a member of the Royal Society of Chemistry, which sponsored both meetings. He recently published a paper on molecular structure proofs using current nuclear magnetic resonance techniques in Magnetic Resonance in Chemistry. A second paper reporting on a collaborative project with Professor Alan Marchand of North Texas State University appeared recently in the Journal of Organic Chemistry.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS (continued)

An article entitled "U.S. Navy Gun Carriages in the Era of the Muzzle-Loader" by historian SPENCER TUCKER has been accepted for publication in The American Neptune, a journal of maritime history.

At the annual meeting of the Western Literature Association, held Oct. 8-11 in Durango, CO, FRED ERISMAN (English) read a paper on "Nevil Shute and the Closed Frontier." The paper considers Shute's use of the Turner frontier hypothesis as a basis for his novels of Australian life in the early and middle 1950s.

*** **

SALMON, OTHER LEADERS ASSUME DUTIES

Martha Hackley Salmon of Austin, director of admissions and guidance services of the Southwestern regional office of The College Board, has assumed her duties as president of the alumni association along with those chosen as officers and directors for 1986-87.

During her tenure as head of the organization of more than 40,000 members, Martha will serve as an ex-officio member of TCU's board of trustees. The former head of Salmon Enterprises holds two degrees from TCU and the Ph.D. from East Texas State University. Formerly associated with the Texas Education Agency, she is past president of the Texas Association for Counseling and Guidance and currently is vice president for professional development for the American Association of Humanistic Education and Development.

Joining her on the slate of officers are president-elect Lindy Berry of Fort Worth, vice president and general manager of Steamatic Inc.; vice president/activities Stephen Christie of Fort Worth, former head of Bechtel Chemical Corp.; vice president/annual giving Brent Watson of Midland, president of Watson & Cox Oil and Gas; vice president/athletics Robert Johnson of Houston, head of Rob Johnson Interests. Others are vice president/recognition services Marihelen Miller Hickey of Fort Worth, art instructor at Trinity Valley School; vice president/student relations Susan Appleby Nix of Fort Worth, co-owner of University Cleaners; secretary Merri Leon Siddons of Granbury, Certified Public Accountant; treasurer George Bradford of Hurst, president of Texas Commerce Bank/Hurst; and past president Ronald Clinkscale of Fort Worth, managing partner of Coopers & Lybrand.

Clinkscale and Robert Lowdon of Fort Worth, chairman of Stafford-Lowdon Inc., are director-trustees. Among the directors are Fort Worth residents Vaughn Bailey, Corbett Christie, Libits Potter Kendall, Todd Miller, Don Pierson II, Jean Wiggin Roach, Pam Roach, Bridget Guthrie Thomas, David Turner and Alan Winter. Others are Michael Adams of Henderson; William Ferebee, Jim Lindsey and Ann Davis Gray of Houston; Byron Gossett of Dumas; Buddy Iles of Marshall; Liz Minyard of Coppell; Neil Newsom and Robert Taylor of Dallas; Jerry Ray of Austin; and Jon Sparks of Plano.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Oct. 28 --Health Professions Lecture, "A Day in the Life of a North Cowtown Physician," Jon Spain, D.O., Sid W. Richardson Lecture
Hall 4 at 5:15 p.m.
- Oct. 29 --University Chapel, Rev. John Butler, Robert Carr Chapel, noon.
--"Will South Africa Survive?," lecture by South African parliament member Helen Suzman, outspoken opponent of disinvestment and sanctions, Student Center Ballroom, 7:30 p.m.
Tickets are $1 with TCU ID if purchased in advance, $2 on the day of the show.
--"A Field Trip to the Moon," lecture/slide show by former Apollo astronaut Harrison Schmitt, a Visiting Green Professor, Moudy Building Room 141 North.
- Oct. 30 --"A Howling Good Time," excerpts from operas that have something to do with Halloween, TCU Opera Workshop, Student Center Ballroom, 12:30 p.m. Oct. 30-31.
--"The Evolution of the Moon," lecture by Harrison Schmitt, last man to step on the moon, Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 3 at 7:30 p.m. This lecture is primarily aimed at a science-educated audience.
- Oct. 31 --TCU Ballet and Modern Dance Autumn Concert, Ed Landreth
Auditorium, 8 p.m. Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, 2 p.m. Nov. 2.
--TCU Film Series: "Ghost Story" and "Burnt Offerings," Student Center Ballroom, 6 p.m., 9 p.m., midnight. $1.50.
- Nov. 1 --Soccer, TCU women vs. Rice women, 1 p.m.; TCU men vs. Rice men, 3 p.m., soccer field.
- Nov. 2 --Soccer, TCU vs. Trinity, soccer field, 1 p.m.
- Nov. 3 --TCU Music Series presentation by Concert Chorale, Ed Landreth
Auditorium, 8 p.m.

CLASSIFIED

BED AND BREAKFAST: Guest cottage with kitchen, bath and bed close to campus available to faculty guests, visiting faculty and University chair holders. Host Mary Thompkins, 923-8665.

IDEAL FOR STUDENTS OR FACULTY: Three-bedroom, two-bath brick veneer house in pleasant East Fort Worth neighborhood of Brentwood Hills; no rent-you pay utilities, which average $199/month; no deposits--you take care of yard. Fenced yard and doghouse for outdoor pets; no pets indoors; 6201 Franwood Terrace. Call Roy Wise, 451-6343 or 531-8717.

*** **

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

October 22, 1986

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professor for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Women's Soccer Team that hosted a game for SMU after 2:30 p.m. Oct. 15:

Campbell, Sarah	Swain, Denise	Yeager, Elizabeth
Herman, Julia

Advertising/Public Relations students who participated in a Professional Career Guidance Day with the Ad Club on Wed., Oct. 22:

Branch, Mike	Pena, Howard	Snyder, Jennifer
Carney, Kim	Prince, Paula	Snider, Sonja
Clapp, Susie	Pierce, Steve	Trautman, Dan
Custer, Leslie	Rehme, Vincie	Watkins, Cynthia
Oberstein, Linda	Satterwhite, Minette	Williamson, Lynne

Students attending a Public Relations Society of America Conference in Dallas on Friday, Oct. 17:

Beach, Stacy	Royal, Janice	Smith, Davis
Dickerson, Annette	Sanders, Linda	Snider, Sonja
Michaud, Michelle	Sauer, Sheldon	Snyder, Jennifer

Women's Soccer team members who competed at Colorado College on Oct 17-18, and at Metro State Oct. 19, returning to campus at 1 p.m. October 21:

Brady, Kim	McGown, Suzanne	Phillips, Monica
Campbell, Sarah	Meyer, Barbara	Sementilli, Kristi
Freese, Jane	Miles, Sherie	Swain, Denise Marie
Hamilton, Hayley	Minton, Kari	Tappan, Libby
Herman, Julia	Nicholson, Michelle	Vu, Ha Thi
Jones, Rebecca Lynn	Parkerson, Joana	Yeager, Elizabeth
Mansfield, Shannon

Men's Soccer team members who competed at Air Force Academy on Oct. 17, at Regis College on October 20, returning to campus Oct. 21 at 1 p.m.:

Brown, Brian	Foley, Brian	Money, Helmut
Brown, Mike W.	Guest, Austin	Redfearn, Kyle
Butler, Davis S.	Holt, Kenneth	Roberts, Rex
Christenson, Steve	Howes, Blake	Rodriguez, Freddie
Davis, Eric	Larson, Dave	Sheedy, James
Deegan, Timothy	McCartney, Thomas	Thevenet, Robert
Flammang, Rickie	Meyers, Creig	Walgren, Mark

Women's Golf Team members who participated in the Nancy Lopez Invitational at Tulsa on October 14, 15, 16, 17:

Gibson, Ellie	Larson, Kirsten	Tschetter, Kris
Haas, Holly	Thompson, Susan	Winkelmann, Lois