83 WILL RECEIVE SERVICE AWARDS

Eighty-three faculty and staff members whose service to the University totals 1,305 years will be honored Dec. 2 at the annual Service Recognition Awards Program. Chancellor Bill Tucker will present the awards, beginning at 4 p.m.

A reception for the honorees and their guests will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom.

Names of those being recognized in their divisions will be read by Vice Chancellors Peggy Barr, Edd Bivin, Paul Hartman, Bill Koehler and Leigh Secrest. Assisting will be personnel director Raul Armendariz.

One person, Emmet Smith, will be honored for 35 years' service. To be given a specially selected gift with the number of years engraved, he joined the music faculty in 1951 as an instructor in organ after completing the Bachelor of Music degree at Kansas' Southwestern College. Emmet, who holds the Herndon Professorship in Music, was a Fulbright Scholar in Paris in 1955-56, TCU Honors Professor in 1973, Minnie Stevens Piper Professor in 1974 and in 1984 received the Chancellor's Award for Distinguished Teaching.

Mary Maddux, Brite Divinity School administrative assistant, and Harriet Woldt, assistant professor of cello and theory, will be cited for 30 years' service. They will be presented engraved pen and pencil sets.

Miniatures of the TCU seal with a small diamond inset will be presented to those with 25 years of service, John Merrill, Ranch Management; Duke Slavich, chemistry purchasing agent and research property manager; Keith Odom, English; Bill Smith, chemistry; Jean Knecht, modern languages; and June Clements, English.

In recognition of their 20 years at TCU, 21 persons will be presented the gold-filled TCU seal miniature with an emerald stone inset. They are Ruth Routt, library; Marvin Keith, associate registrar; Alma Themas Predistrar's office; James Smith, biology; John Albright, chemistry; Meil Daniel and Bob Frye, English; Charles Combrink and Janet Lysaght, mathematics; Wayne Ludvigson and Ray Remley, psychology; Ron Flowers, religion-studies; Nadane McDonald and Walter Naff, Brite Divinity School; Merlin Jenkins, music; Marylee Norris and Wilma Tade, speech communication; Bobbye Stewart, facility services; Edith Webb, personnel relations; Larry Lauer and John Chendalski, University Relations.

Receiving 15-year pins of sterling silver with a ruby insetty will be 24 persons. They are Mel Thomas, athletics; Becky Roach, academic affairs;

LINEMAN INVITED TO ALL-STAR GAMES

W.C. Nix, senior lineman and Horned Frog co-captain from Sachse, will have two more games added to his 1986 career...thanks to invitations to participate in the East-West Shrine game in Palo Alto, CA, and the Hula Bowl in Honolulu. His invitation to the two post-season all-star games came earlier this month.

While splitting time between guard and center, W.C. has maintained an impressive 93.2 percent-per-game grading average through the next-to-last game of this season, according to sports information statistics. The 6-2 athlete was a 1985 all-Southwest Conference choice and is among TCU's leading candidates for SWC honors this year. He's been described repeatedly by Coach Jim Wacker as "one of the most outstanding linemen I've ever coached or been around."

HOLIDAY SPIRIT SHOWS AT LIBRARY

Maybe one of the first places on campus to get into the Christmas spirit will be Mary Couts Burnett Library, where two of the three display areas will have Christmas exhibits throughout December.

Christmas crafts by library staff members and their friends will be shown in the main lobby cubes, while tables will display old Christmas cards and history of exchanging such greetings. The current cowboy exhibit will remain on view in Special Collections.

KTCU LISTS SUNDAY SCHEDULE

The classical music schedule Sunday on KTCU-FM, 88.7, begins at 1 p.m. with the New York Philharmonic playing Crumb's A Haunted Landscape, Carnival Everture by Dvorak, Sinfonia Concertante by Mozart, Ravel's Daphnis and Chice Suite and Overture to Verdi's "La Forza del Destino." Concerts from Deutsche Welle, the Voice of Germany, begin at 3 p.m.

Also on the schedule are the Philadelphia Orchestra at 6 p.m., performing Faure: Incidental Music to "Pelleas et Melisande"; Stravinsky: Suite from "The Firebird"; Brahms: Symphony No. 4 in E minor, and the Chicago Symphony at 8 p.m. with Ives: The Unanswered Question and Central Park in the Dark; Mozart: Violin Concerto No. 5; Tchaikovsky: Suite No. 1 in D minor. Matinee with the Masters will air Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 p.m. with Rosemary Solomons. The 2 p.m. Wednesday show is Music of the Baroque.

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC TO BE FEATURED MONDAY

"Pierrot Lunaire," Arnold Schoenberg's melodramatic chamber music composition of the early 20th Century, will be performed at 8 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium. The program also will feature a lecture by flutist Cynthia Folio on "A Glimpse into the Musical World of Pierrot Lunaire."

In a poem cycle published in 1884, Albert Giraud resurrected Pierrot, the white-faced clown of early Italian commedia dell-arte, as a moonstruck Pierrot whose dreams and visions are closer to the 20th Century experience than to any early Italian conception. Schoenberg set the 21 poems to music in 1912, music which represents Schoenberg at the height of his so-called atonal period of 12-tone technique.

Soprano Sheila Allen will be the "Pierrot Lunaire" vocalist, who does not really sing but emotes in an area midway between song and speech. Performers, conducted by Candler Schaffer, also will include Larry Thompson, clarinet/bass clarinet; Jeff Cox, violin/viola; Harriet Woldt, cello; and Paulo Alvares, piano.

ENTRE COMPUTER CENTER OFFERS SPECIAL TO TCU

Negotiations have been completed with Entre Computer Center, 4922 Overton Ridge Blvd. just south of the Hulen 10 theatre and south of Hulen Mall, to replace Moore Business Center as TCU's recommended source for microcompute hardware and software, other than Tandy. Besides a 27 percent discount on hardware, software and supplies, Entre provides excellent in-town maintenance facilities, training and demonstration equipment.

Popular brands such as IBM, Compaq, Tandon and Hewlett-Packard are stocked, and a separate arrangement has been made for Apple products at the same discount. Contact Brooks League, 346-3020, for further details.

TCU's agreement with Tandy continues to be in effect. Computer Center director Frank Forney suggests that interested persons contact either the Alta Mere (738-0251) or Tandy Center (335-7198) Computer Centers for IBM-compatible microcomputer models.

As in the past, faculty and staff members as well as students affiliated with TCU are eligible for these discounts and services as are TCU departments. In addition, the TCUCC will support only those systems purchased from Entre, Tandy and Moore or acquired prior to the implementation of these agreements.

Additional information is available from Frank, Jim Mayne or Steve Nimr at Ext. 7695.

UNITED WAY IS HONORING CRANE

For her series of articles about the involvement of TCU persons with community agencies, Diane Crane of the News Service is one of six persons being honored at a United Way luncheon today. Her stories in October issues of the bulletin were designed to "personalize" the meaning of United Way efforts.

A panel of judges from the local chapter of International Association of Business Communicators and the Advertising Club of Fort Worth chose Diane's work for first place for "best use of original material in a newsletter or newspaper format" in the 1986 Outstanding Communicators competition of United Way of Metropolitan Tarrant County. This is the second consecutive year for TCU's bulletin to be first-place winner. The 1985 series was written by bulletin editor Betty Knox.

DINNER TO HONOR STUDENTS CHOSEN FOR WHO'S WHO

Students selected for inclusion in the 1986-87 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges will be honored tonight (Tuesday) at a dinner hosted by Chancellor Bill Tucker. Seven juniors and 44 seniors from TCU have been chosen based on their academic and extracurricular activity records. Included in this year's listing is a brother/sister pair, John and Debbie Dungan of Overland Park, KS. Dean of Students Libby Proffer says this is the first time in her knowledge that a brother and sister from TCU have been listed at the same time.

The seven juniors to appear in Who's Who are Duane Bidwell, James Hardee, Daniel Jasica, Wade Jones, Lori Keller, Kathy Reuter and Deborah Smelley.

Seniors from AddRan College who will appear in the national publication are David Cobb, Alea Cooke, Debbie Dungan, John Dungan, Michael Hanson, Bob Kublawi, Barry Lewis, James McGee, Kevin Marks, Jennifer Melfi, Frank Moore, Ann Moran, Dawn Robinson, Dana Rodeman, Nancy Schmuhl, William Shudde and Ellen Slezak. Representing the Neeley School of Business are Karen Brooks, Catharina Chapman, Jeff Gray, Stephanie Hunter, Stephanie Jackson, Elizabeth Jacob, Keith Kirkman, Stanley Kroder, Keith Lair, Lynda Lassiter, Dana Mayfield, Rebecca Noble, Lauri Rapp, Steve Wacker and Shelley Whitehurst. Kay Keeling, Angela Seward and Susan Turner are from the School of Education. From the School of Fine Arts are David Belding, Kristi Binder, David Allan Hall, Cynthia Hartrick and April Kulda. Alesia Armstrong, Teresa Morris, Christian Presley and Toni Vanderpoel represent Harris College of Nursing.

FINANCIAL AID CHANGE DUE IN SPRING

A change in financial aid policy currently being implemented will become effective with the spring semester. Graduating seniors in their last semester may register as part-time students if less than full-time status is required for graduation, according to financial aid director Leo Munson. Aid will be adjusted on a pro rata basis and includes academic scholarships, performance awards, church related programs and all "need based" assistance.

Additional information is available from the Financial Aid Office in Room 108, Sadler Hall.

AUTO RENTALS AVAILABLE TO TCU PERSONS

The University has negotiated an auto rental agreement with Budget Rent-A-Can that will allow employees of the University to rent vehicles at the following rates with unlimited mileage:

Economy	$34 per day
Compact	$35 per day
Intermediate	$36 per day
Full size (2DR)	$37 per day
Full size (4DR)	$38 per day

Weekly rates will be computed at six (6) times the daily rate. Gasoline is not included, and vehicles must be returned to the renting location.

To obtain these rates, University personnel must present their TCU identification card and notify the rental agency that there is a corporate rate between TCU and Budget Rent-A-Car Corporation, according to an announcement by the controller's office.

NEW FACULTY, STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Holder of two degrees from Poland's Silesian University and the Doctor of Science from the University of Poznan in Poland, TADEUSZ ZERDA will join the physics faculty in January. The recipient of research awards from Poland's Ministry of Education and Science currently is a research associate at the University of Illinois. His studies have been widely published in the Journal of Physical Chemistry, Chemical Physics Letters and Journal of Chemical Engineering.

Two persons, GAIL ZIMMERMAN and TEOBY GOMEZ, joined the staff on Nov. 1 as counselors for academic advising. Formerly at the University of Wisconsin at Parkside, Gail holds the B.A. degree from D'Youville College in New York and the M.S. from State University of New York at Buffalo. Teoby, also formerly at Parkside, is an alumnus of the University of Illinois and earned the M.D. in counselor education at Northern Illinois University.

IS IT ART? SUBMIT IT

If you've always longed to see your painting, sculpture, ceramics or other artistic endeavors exhibited for all to admire, you'd better take advantage of Monday's opportunity to submit your work for TCU's annual Christmas art show and sale Dec. 2-12.

Laura Puckett of Student Activities and her exhibits committee will be accepting submissions from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday in Student Center Gallery. Students, faculty and staff members are welcome to submit their works, but the exhibits committee does have the right to limit the number of works per person.

The resulting show will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Opening reception will be from 4 to 6 p.m. Dec. 2 in the Gallery.

NOTES ON FOLKS

JOHN MERRILL (Ranch Management) talked on "Reducing Risk in Ranching" for a ranch management symposium on Finding Profitability at the 33rd annual meetin of the Nebraska Section, Society for Range Management, in North Platte early in November.

EMMET SMITH (music) took graduate organ student ROBERT FASOL to New York to play a recital on the concert series of Park Avenue Christian Church Nov. 9. Five former organ students of his attended the recital, and it was a happy reunion. Fasol made a splendid impression with his recital. The Novembel issue of The American Organist published a review by Emmet of the Conclave at Dartmouth College in July, celebrating the music of the late Paris organist-composer, Marcel Dupre.

JANET GEORGE HERALD (admissions) co-authored an article entitled "Make the Most of Religious Preference when Recruiting Students" in the recent issue of The Admissions Strategist, published by The College Board.

Associate Vice Chancellor NED BOEHM's article on "Looking at Colleges" was selected again as the editor's introduction on Peterson's Regional Guide to the Colleges and Universities of the Southwest. This was the theme when Ned was featured speaker for the parents and students of Ursuline Academy in September and Denton High School in October. The Episcopal School of Dalla has requested the same presentation to its parents in February. Ned has been named one of 12 educators to serve on the Trustees' Select Committee on Membership of The College Board.

EUGENE BORING (religion-studies) was Henry Barton Robison lecturer in religinat Culver-Stockton College in early November, speaking on "Biblica" Apocalyptic and Real World Politics." He also has completed research at the Disciples Historical Society at Vanderbilt for a new book on the history of biblical interpretation.

A paper on "Renaissance Thought and the Changing Images of Christ in Art" recently was presented at the University of Texas at Austin by KEN LAWRENCE (religion-studies).

Sympathy is extended to DAVID CONLEY (Computer Center) on the death of his father, a resident of Wetumpka, AL, who died suddenly on Nov. 10.

In mid-October, BEN PROCTER (history) chaired a session on "Oil and Oilmen" at the annual meeting of the Western Historical Association. Ben also conducted a seminar on "The Era of Jim Hogg in Texas: 1874-1900" Oct. 25 at a historical conference at NTSU and from Nov. 7 to 9 attended a meeting of the Texas Committee of the Humanities at San Antonio. He is concluding the second year of his four-year term as a committee member.

In response to an invitation from the Program Chairman of the International Conference on Lasers, RICHARD LYSIAK (physics) presented a paper on "Power Requirements for Stimulated Optical Phase Conjugation and Self Focusing with a Speckled Beam," co-authored by his doctoral student, VINCENT WANG. The meeting was held in Orlando, FL, Nov. 3-7 and attended by laser scientists of many nations.

BOARD APPROVES FINE ARTS SCHOOL NAME CHANGE

The School of Fine Arts will get a new name -- the College of Fine Arts and Communication -- effective in June.

In its annual fall meeting Nov. 21, TCU's board of trustees approved the name change, believing that it more accurately reflects the programs offered by the academic unit. Of about 800 students currently enrolled in the School of Fine Arts, 55 percent are concentrating in speech communication, radio-TV-film, speech and hearing pathology or habilitation of the deaf.

"The new name is more appropriate, and it will give more visibility to some of our very fine programs," said Chancellor Bill Tucker.

In another academic change, the board was told of a new set of general education requirements -- those courses required of every student regardless of the degree sought -- which will take effect across campus in the fall of 1988. The new University curriculum, approved by the faculty and administration this fall, replaces the core curriculum requirements which have been followed since the early 1970s.

Even before the new requirements take effect, the chancellor said, TCU will establish an Academic Services Center. The new center will provide out-of-classroom enhancement of writing abilities and will expand advising assistance for students, hoping to guide them better through their academic programs. It is being formed now, he said, and the search for a director is under way.

In other action, the trustees:

- --Heard that, as hoped, enrollment is stable despite the economic downturn throughout the Southwest. Fall enrollment stands at 6,916. Freshmen applications were at an all-time high, and well over 90 percent of the 1,178 freshmen who were admitted had graduated in the top half of their high school class.
- --Saw an audit which showed that TCU again operated within its budget last year, though the drop in oil and gas prices -- on which some of the University's income depends -- did not allow as large an addition to the endowment and plant maintenance funds as had been expected a year earlier.
- --Learned that both architectural plans and fund raising are nearing completion for two major building projects expected to go under construction next year: Tandy Hall, which will adjoin and almost double the size of the quarters for the Neeley School of Business, and Moncrief Hall, a new residence hall which will house almost 300 athletes and other students on campus.

In his report, the chancellor also took note of the fact that the Mary Couts Burnett Trust legally dissolved and became a part of TCU in August. Income from the trust makes up the largest single portion of University endowment.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES (continued)

"The magnificent legacy of Mary Couts Burnett is by far the most important gift to TCU in its entire history," Dr. Tucker said.

Mrs. Burnett, widow of cattleman/oilman Burk Burnett, in 1923 gave all of her property to five trustees with the provision that they and their successors manage it for the sole benefit of TCU until 20 years after the death of the last original trustee. That 20-year period ended in August.

The board formally thanked the most recent Burnett trustees -- Edward R. Hudson Jr., W. A. Landreth, George M. Young, C. Dickie Williamson and Perry R. Bass -- for managing the trust in TCU's behalf. They gave "faithful and enormously significant service," the board resolution said.

"In naming TCU as her sole beneficiary, Mary Couts Burnett more than anyone else enabled a small, struggling college to survive the ravages of the Great Depression, not to mention the disruptions of World War II, and in time become a university of the first rank with a future of unusual promise," the chancellor said.

TCU VOICE STUDENTS ARE WINNERS

Seven TCU voice students were competition winners in mid-November at the Texoma regional convention, National Association of Teachers of Singing. Studio voice teachers Sheila Allen, Arden Hopkin and John Large took 15 students to the convention and student auditions, and TCU was one of only a handful of schools with multiple winners among more than 1,000 participants.

Of the 15 TCU students in the competition, 10 advanced to the semi-final round and seven to the final round. This is the most students entered, most advanced beyond the preliminary round and most finalists for TCU in 30 years of competition.

HONOR SOCIETY PLANS DEC. 2 BAZAAR

Alumni of TCU's Beta Zeta chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics honor society, are busy preparing food and other gift items to be auctioned/sold at the chapter's annual Christmas bazaar. Proceeds from the event, to be Dec. 2 in Annie Richardson Bass Building, will benefit Suzanne Yarbro and Bonne Enlow scholarship funds. At the time of her death, Suzanne was president of the TCU chapter. The late Bonne Enlow headed home economics from 1924 until her 1963 retirement.

BAD WEATHER POLICY

General Policy

The University's general plan is to remain open and to provide educational and related services despite bad weather, with students and personnel making their plans accordingly.

All members of the faculty, University staff and general staff are expected to make every reasonable effort to maintain regular attendance. In the event an individual feels that it would be either impossible or unwise to report for normal duty, he or she may count the missed time as vacation time.

If weather conditions become so severe that it is necessary to cancel classes, efforts will be made to notify students and faculty at the earliest possible time. Make-up opportunities for classes or work missed by students will be arranged.

Decisions, Announcement of Closings

- --As a matter of general policy, University offices and facilities will remain open at all times except for official holiday periods.
- --The decision to cancel classes will be made through the office of the chancellor or his representative...usually by 6 a.m. for the day classes and 3 p.m. for evening and special courses. Even if classes are cancelled, offices and facilities will remain open.
- --The News Service will be responsible for making all public announcements to radio, television and newspapers regarding changes because of weather conditions.
- --Outlets to which this information will be given and which should be monitored for any campus announcements include:

Radio stations--KRLD, KPLX, WBAP, KMEZ, KVIL, KERA, KEGL

Television stations--KXAS-TV, WFAA-TV, KTVT-TV, KDFW-TV

Newspapers--Star-Telegram, Dallas Morning News, Dallas Times-Herald.
