TARRANT COUNTY EFFORT RAISES $1,406,325

For the ninth consecutive year, the TCU/Tarrant County campaign has exceeded the hoped-for goal with the raising of $1,406,325. That victory was celebrated Dec. 9 at a gathering of fund-raising volunteers and leaders.

"The success of this campaign is tangible evidence of the community's approval of the direction the University is moving, the quality of its graduates and the many cultural, social and athletic programs offered," said William L. Adams, chairman and chief executive officer of Champlin Petroleum Company who headed the 1986 fund drive.

Noting that financial support from private sources is necessary "to insure TCU's traditional role as a national leader in independent higher education," Adams called attention to several important factors in the 1986 campaign. These included:

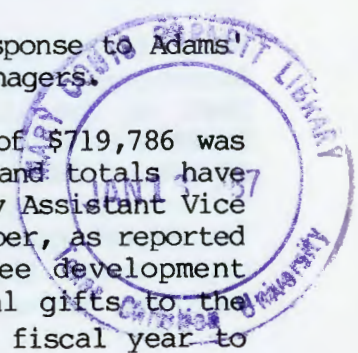

- More new volunteers recruited to assist with gift requests;
- More calls made by the 500 community volunteers on prospects than ever before;
- Record attendance at every campaign-related event;
- Acceptance of active roles by every volunteer asked to participate in the campaign.

Described by Adams as "an outstanding cadre of leaders and as dedicated to the University's cause as any group I have ever worked with," the major division managers in the Oct. 22-Dec. 9 campaign were Dr. Alann Bedford, Dr. Don L. Smith, Ronnie Wallace and S. Patrick Woodson III.

Two student leaders recognized by Adams were Keith Kirkman of Gulfport, FL, head of the senior giving committee that set a $20,000 goal; and Pattie Keefe of Colleyville, whose Good Neighbor division made gift requests to small businesses in the TCU area.

At the victory celebration, Chancellor Bill Tucker gave a response to Adams' report, and the two presented plaques to group and division managers.

In TCU's initial Tarrant County campaign in 1978, a total of $719,786 was collected. Each subsequent year the goal has been raised, and totals have exceeded each of the goals. The annual drive is coordinated by Assistant Vice Chancellor Jim Orsund. Gifts to the Annual Fund during November, as reported by Vice Chancellor Paul Hartman to members of the trustee development committee, were greater than for that month in 1985. Total gifts to the University amounted to $664,867, bringing the total for the fiscal year to $2,659,729.

CAMPAIGNS COMPLETE IN OTHER LOCATIONS

Fall campaigns that also are part of the Annual Fund effort have been completed in several other locations. Funds raised are a part of the University's overall budget-supporting total of $3.2 million for the current fiscal year.

Chaired by Class of '50 member Robert O. Lynch, the Permian Basin campaign realized a total of $108,205, which surpassed its goal. Thirty-seven volunteers from the Midland-Odessa area participated. The effort was coordinated by development officer Hal Roach.

Dallas, Plano and McKinney were sites of Annual Fund efforts coordinated by Assistant Vice Chancellor Ann Gee. Under the leadership of Deedie Potter Rose '63, 90 volunteers took part in the Oct. 6-24 drive in Dallas. The $160,000 goal was passed with commitments that now total $172,043.

During the one-day blitz in McKinney Oct. 23, the 18 volunteers raised $100 over the $17,000 goal. Chairing the drive was Mac Hendricks, Class of '64.

Commitments for the Plano campaign, held Sept. 22-Oct. 3, now stand at $2,745 over the $17,500 goal. Seven volunteers were led by Connie Eikenburg, Class of '72.

Three campaigns in South/Central Texas were coordinated by development officer Kristi Johnston. Forty volunteers under the leadership of Class of '58 member Jerry Ray reached the $40,000 goal set for Austin's Oct. 1-17 campaign.

During the Oct. 28-Nov. 14 effort in San Antonio, the $20,500 goal was reached through the efforts of 35 volunteers. This year's leaders were Shirley Bryan '55, Janet Lynn Moore '70 and Steve and Peggy Allison '69.

A total of $150,000 was raised during the Oct. 8-Nov. 7 Annual Fund drive in Houston. Fifty-five volunteers were led by Jim Lindsey, Class of '58.

TV FILM 'LILI' TO AIR JAN. 21

"Lili," the half-hour docudrama about the life and artistry of the late Madame Lili Kraus, will air Jan. 21 on KERA-TV. Created by TCU and Fort Worth Productions and funded by TCU's Gwendolyn P. Tandy Film Library, the 9:30 p.m. program will follow a 90-minute feature on the Van Cliburn competition.

Winner of a number of international awards, the film first aired nationally on Public Broadcasting Service in January of 1985. The story of the famed pianist, who was TCU's first artist-in-residence from 1967 until her retirement in 1983, is told with great passion and includes on-location scenes from Budapest, Vienna and her family villa in Italy as well as interviews with her son, daughter and step-son.

The internationally famed artist, who died Nov. 6 in North Carolina, was eulogized during a memorial service conducted Dec. 15 in New York City.

MUSEUM DIRECTOR TO LECTURE JAN. 21

Dr. Teri Edelstein, director of the Mount Holyoke College Art Museum, will present a slide/lecture at 2 p.m. Jan. 21 in Moudy Building Room 132 N. Title of the talk is "Pre-Raphaelite or Post-Raphaelite?: The Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood and the English Tradition."

FROGS WIN CHRISTMAS TOURNAMENT

With 63 percent shooting from the field, the Purple cagers won the All-College Classic in Oklahoma City with their 95-82 victory over nationally ranked Oklahoma on Dec. 27. The Sooners, who entered the classic ranked sixth in the nation, had won the tourney for the last three consecutive years.

The Frogs held Oklahoma well under its 100-point-per-game average. Only the second non-Oklahoma team to win the classic in the last seven years, TCU led the entire 40 minutes while scoring its biggest win of the season and "one of the biggest upsets anytime, anywhere in its history," according to the Dallas Morning News. The Star-Telegram described it as the biggest victory "for the school since a 1983 upset of sixth-ranked Arkansas in the semifinals of the SWC tournament and brought the Frogs their first regular-season tournament championship in 19 years." They last won the All-Conference Classic in 1932.

Leading scorer Jamie Dixon, whose total was 28 points, was named the classic's most valuable player. He and Carven Holcombe, who scored 19 points, were named to the all-tournament first team. With 22 points against Oklahoma, Carl Lott made the second team listing.

KTCU TO AIR SAN FRANCISCO SYMPHONY

This week is the beginning of the broadcast season of the San Francisco Symphony over KTCU-FM, 88.7, announces station manager Constantino Bernardez. The initial broadcast, which took place at 3 p.m. Sunday, will be repeated at 2 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday). The series will run for 26 weeks under the symphony's new music director, Herbert Blomstedt.

Next Sunday's schedule of classical music on KTCU opens at 1 p.m. with the New York Philharmonic performing Mozart's Violin Concerto No. 3 and Strauss' Alpine Symphony. Zubin Mehta will conduct.

The rest of the day's schedule is 3 p.m., San Francisco Symphony, All-Tchaikovsky program of Marche Solennelle, Suite No. 1 in D minor, Variations on a Roco Theme for Cello, to be repeated at 2 p.m. Wednesday; 5 p.m., music from Germany; 6 p.m., Philadelphia Orchestra, Borodin's Polovtsian Dances, Thomson's Sea Piece with Birds and Wheat Field at Noon, Five Songs of William Blake and Bartok's Suite from "The Miraculous Mandarin"; 8 p.m., Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Mozart's Serenade No. 6 in D major, Reger's Variations and Fugue on a theme by Mozart and Pictures at an Exhibition by Mussorgsky/Ravel.

Classical music lovers also should remember that KTCU carries Matinee with the Masters on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 2 p.m.

BENEFACTRESS GREEN DIES DEC. 26

Dr. Ida M. Green, widely known for both civic and humanitarian activities, died Dec. 26 in the Cecil H. and Ida M. Green Hospital at the Scripps Clinic near the couple's La Jolla, CA, home. In failing health for several months, she had been hospitalized in critical condition with leukemia for more than a week.

Drs. Cecil and Ida Green, awarded honorary doctorates by TCU in 1974 and 1977, respectively, created or contributed to buildings, scholarships and professional endowments at more than 25 institutions across the nation. Their philanthropic work began in 1959 at MIT when they funded construction of the Cecil and Ida Green Bulding for Earth Sciences. Their gifts to TCU funded the Cecil H. and Ida Green Honors Chair as well as the visiting professorships that bear their names. They also have been major contributors to the University's library and research funds.

A leader in community, state and national service organizations, Mrs. Green was an alumna and trustee of Southern Methodist University. She had served on the boards of Dallas Children's Medical Center, Scripps Memorial Hospital and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra. She was past president of the Dallas Geological and Geophysical Auxiliary and active in the Dallas Council on World Affairs and that city's branch of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Green was an industrial statistician with General Elecric Co. when she met her husband-to-be during his graduate school study at MIT. They were married in 1926. In 1941 he became part owner of Geophysical Service Inc., an oil exploration firm that later led to the subsidiary Texas Instruments. She shared equally and creatively with him in philanthropic undertakings.

A Dallas Morning News editorial described Mrs. Green as one who touched "people throughout the nation. Her life was a reminder that hard work and generosity still can go hand in hand."

Funeral services were conducted Dec. 30 at St. James by the Sea Episcopal Church in La Jolla.

RANCH MANAGEMENT CLASS STARTS TONIGHT

Ranch Management's evening class this spring will be Animal Health and Reproduction, to begin tonight (Tuesday) at 7 p.m. in Sid Richardson Lecture Hall 2.

Focus of study will be herd health management, including prevention and control of common cattle diseases and parasites, and breeding management which will result in the highest rate of reproduction and weight gain.

Registration information may be obtained by calling Ext. 7145.

BLACK STUDENT CAUCUS SEEKING LIST OF ALUMNI

The University's Black Student Caucus is trying to develop a list of black alumni. Because ethnic designations were not entered on the student data base on the computer prior to 1984, the Student Life Office is having difficulty in completing the roll of black students enrolled before that date.

Faculty and staff members who remember black students enrolled before 1984 are asked to send their names to Dean of Students Libby Proffer at Box 32917. "If we can get even one or two names for each year, these persons will be able to help us locate others of their classmates," she said.

LIBRARY DISPLAYS VARY

January will be an eclectic month for Mary Coats Burnett Library displays. The lobby cubes will look back to 25, 50 and 100 years ago, thanks to the work of Bill Farrington, Barbara Standlee and Joann Karges.

Joann also has set up as table displays books of translations from Chinese and Japanese poets. Upstairs, the Special Collections cases will focus on another "Printing Arts of Texas" showing by Roger Rainwater, this time on the Holmans. Continuing from December will be the Blue Plate Special and Christmas Best Sellers: Coffee Table Types.

MORE DONATIONS MADE TO FUND

In addition to those listed in a late-December bulletin, a number of campus persons have made donations to the TCU Scholarship Fund. A total of $410 was added to the fund by 1986 donors, who took part in what has become a tradition of contributing to the fund in lieu of holiday greetings to on-campus friends. The practice was begun in 1972.

The additional donors include:

Spencer Tucker
William and Shirley Baird
Toni Newton
Walter and Donna Metscher
Al and Dorothy Mladenka

Bill and Marian Smith
Paul and Lula Bartlett
Manfred Reinecke
Emily Dowling

HOPKIN OPENS SPRING RECITAL SERIES

Baritone Arden Hopkin will open the University's spring semester series of Monday night recitals at 8 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium. The program will be broadcast live over KTCU-FM, 88.7.

Opera excerpts on the program include Con rauco memoria from "Rodelinda" and Sorge infausta una procella from "Orlando," both by Handel, and Tanslied des pierrot from "Die Tote Stadt" (The Dead City), the greatest success of German Erich Wolfgang Korngold, who spent much of his professional life in California.

The recital also will include Liederkreis, Op. 24, by Robert Schumann; three songs by Camille Saint-Saens; two songs by Spanish pianist-composer Enrique Granados; and Gambling Songs by John Jacob Niles, an authority on American folk music.

KING BIRTHDAY TO BE CELEBRATED MONDAY

TCU's day-long observance Monday of the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. opens with a 7:30 a.m. prayer service in Student Center lounge, followed by audiovisual presentations there beginning at 8 a.m. Included will be speeches by Dr. King; a pair of films, "Martin Luther King, Man and the March" and "The Boy King," and gospel music.

At 11:15 a.m., celebrants will meet at the Student Center to march to a citywide observance of Dr. King's birthday at University United Methodist Church, corner of Berry and McCart Streets. A reception and student presentations will begin at 2 p.m. in Student Center lounge. Closing the day's activities will be a memorial service in Robert Carr Chapel at 5 p.m. Rev. Jesse Truvillion, minister with minority students, will be the speaker.

Claude Steele, minority affairs coordinator and program advisor, says the public is welcome at all the day's activities.

22-DAY TRIP TO ORIENT SET

"The Best of the Orient" is the theme for the 22-day trip to Japan, Republic of China, Hong Kong, Singapore and Bangkok planned for the summer. Limited to 32 persons, the travel will include spectacular sights, wonderful food, leisurely shopping, cultural entertainment and an insight into the political and economic history of the areas visited.

The July 13-Aug. 3 trip had been designed exclusively for TCU by NAWAS International, which is designated officially by the Republic of China as a certified wholesaler, according to travel director Charles Peveler. Charles and his wife Betty will be the tour escorts, as they have for 13 earlier University trips.

Cost of the trip will be $3,495. A number of pre-tour orientation sessions will be held during the spring. Registration forms and additional information is available from Charles at Ext. 7865.

FROGS PLACE IN U.S. OPEN

Three swimmers -- Judi O'Leary, Paige Eaton and Todd Zummallen--became the first from the University to reach finals in national competition when they placed during the U.S. Open. Held Dec. 5-7 in Orlando, FL, the meet also marked TCU's first participation in this competition.

Other countries represented were Russia, East Germany, West Germany, Japan, Sweden, Denmark, Canada, Great Britain, Italy and France. The meet was shown on ESPN twice in December.

"I was extremely proud of our swimmers," said Coach Richard Sybesma, who called attention to TCU's now having swimmers qualified for both NCAA championships. "It was really fun to final at such a big meet."

A freshman from Tucson, Judi placed seventh in the 200-meter backstroke and ninth in the 100-meter backstroke. Paige, a sophomore from Carrollton, was 24th in the 200-meter breast stroke and 29th in the 100-meter breast stroke. Both will participate in the women's NCAA meet March 19-21 in Indianapolis. Todd, a senior from Dallas, placed seventh in both the 100-meter and 200-meter breast stroke. He will compete in the men's NCAA tourney April 2-4 in Austin.

The TCU men's team finished in ninth place in Orlando with 28 points. The women swimmers' 23 points put TCU in 11th place.

ZOO'S NEW ZEBRAS ARE A TCU PRODUCT

The new sign at the University Drive entrance to the Fort Worth Zoo, a line of stylized zebras jumping over the words "Fort Worth Zoo," is the outgrowth of a TCU class project assigned by Margie Adkins to graphics design students.

The students did their homework--first talking to the zoo's education staff about the organization's philosophy and background, then submitting their designs to the executive committee of the Fort Worth Zoological Association.

Winner was Clare Zierhut of Richardson, a mid-term graduate who majored in communication graphics and has studied art history in Paris. Clare used the family of zebras, she said, because of the zoo's family orientation.

FRESHMAN SWIMMER RECEIVES HONOR

Freshman Steve Reed of Jefferson City, MO, is one of 40 swimmers chosen by U.S. Swimming, the governing body that replaced the Amateur Athletic Union for that particular sport, as one of 40 swimmers for academic all-America honors. A butterfly swimmer, Steve was in the top eight to make the finals in the 100- and 200-meter butterfly events in the junior nationals last spring.

The USS honor is based on his achievements last year as a high school senior. To be eligible, the athlete must have at least a 3.5 grade-point average in the core curriculum and be ranked among the top 50 in the nation for his event.

APPRAISAL WORKSHOP DATES SET

Performance appraisal workshops, offered by the Personnel Office, will be conducted Jan. 20, 21 and 22. Focusing on learning to motivate, improving performance, avoiding potential legal problems and making the appraisal process a positive experience, the sessions will be held in the Library's media center, Room B-17.

The Jan. 20 and Jan. 22 workshops are set for 1-4 p.m., while the Jan. 21 program will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Each session will be limited to 10 participants, according to personnel officer Shari Barnes. Additional sections will be opened if needed. Reservations or additional information may be requested by calling Ext. 7790.

NOTES ON FOLKS

HORTENCIA KAYSER (speech communication) presented a mini-seminar at the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association in Detroit in November. The title of her paper was "An Ethnographic Approach to the Assessment of Minority Language Speakers."

JOHN LOUD (modern language) spoke to the Brandeis University Women's Club Dec. 15 on "Everyday Life in Russia."

An article entitled "A Note on Interest Rates and the Risk of Bank and Savings and Loan Stock" by DAN FRENCH (accounting) appeared in the November issue of the Financial Review.

Tchaikovsky's cantata "Ode to Joy" has been published by the Choral Repertoire Society in an edition for soloists and chorus with phonetic transcriptions and translations by JOHN LOUD (modern languages). The six-movement work, based on the same Schiller poem used by Beethoven in his Ninth Symphony, never has been performed in the West. John's edition will be the basis for its premiere in Lincoln Center in May, a performance to be repeated in London soon after that.

JOHN BREYER (geology) will serve on the six-member Committee on Research Grants for the Geological Society of America for a two-year term beginning this month and as business representative for the Dallas-Fort Worth area of the Gulf Coast section of the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists.

MARY TAYLOR MARTOF (Harris College) conducted a training session Dec. 16 for Area VI facilitators for the I Can Cope program of the American Cancer Society. The program is designed to educate cancer patients and their families and to provide a support group for them. Facilitators from Area VI, which covers one-sixth of Texas, included nurses, a physician, a clergyman, social workers, patients and other health care professionals. Mary will offer the session again in May.

BRUCE MILLER (physics) and graduate student CHARLES REIDL were pleased to learn that their article, "Gravity in One Dimension: Selective Relaxation?", was accepted for publication in The Astrophysical Journal. The work demonstrates that only selected initial states of one-dimensional self-gravitating systems reach equilibrium.

Sympathy is expressed to JACK SUGGS (Brite), whose mother, Mrs. Lottie Mae Suggs, died Dec. 9 in Henderson.

BRIAN GRAY (business) was named professor of the year by the TCU Master of Business Administration Association. Brian was honored at the group's annual Christmas party in December.

Sympathy is extended to EDDIE WELLER (teaching assistant, history) on the death of his father, Cecil Edward Weller Sr., in Fort Smith, AR. Services were held in Fort Smith Dec. 31.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

"Zenna Henderson's 'People' and the Quest for Self-Identity" by FRED ERISMAN (English) has been published in Extrapolation, the national journal of the Science Fiction Research Association. The article examines the problems faced by a race of extra-terrestrials ("The People") as they strive to incorporate themselves unobtrusively into human society.

CATHY COLLINS (education) is author of an article published in the January edition of Gifted Children Monthly. The article is entitled "Strengthening the Bond: An Ongoing Challenge."

JAMES NEWCOMER (emeritus vice chancellor) has been chosen to receive the Order of Merit from the education secretary of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. James was nominated by TCU trustee A.M. Pate Jr., member of the honorary council for the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The honor is given to persons contributing to the area of Luxembourg.
