TWO EVENTS WILL HONOR GRADUATES

Spring graduates, joined by those who completed their degrees in December, and members of their families will be honored at two events Saturday afternoon.

A musical program will be presented by organist Emmet Smith, Herndon Professor of Music, and senior Clara Dina Hinojosa of McAllen, in Robert Carr Chapel. The public event will begin at 2:15 p.m. Emmet's presentation will include works by Bach, Vivaldi and Alain. Clara's vocal selectionis will include those by Purcell, Mozart and Faure.

Hosted by the University, a reception for graduating seniors and their families is planned for 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom. The special occasion offers opportunity for faculty and staff members to join in the day's festivities with the graduates.

ALUMNI GROUPS WILL HEAR COACHES

Alumni, parents and friends of the University in three cities are being invited to reception-dinner events that will feature coaches Jim Wacker and Moe Iba. Sponsored by TCU associations in those sites, the events will be Thursday in Houston, May 12 in Austin and May 13 in San Antonio.

Co-chaired by Al and Monette Lasater of the Class of '58, the first event will be held at The Houstonian Hotel and Conference Center. The Austin Country Club will be the site of the program being chaired by Class of '58 member Jerry and Betty Ray, who are co-presidents of the Austin association. Jack and Cathy Keene of the Classes of '72 and '73, respectively, are heading the San Antonio gathering at Los Patios.

Jim has been putting his charges through their paces in preparation for his fifth season as the Frogs' head football coach. Moe, former head coach at the University of Nebraska for six years and assistant at Drake last year, was named TCU's 15th head basketball coach in March.

NEW FACULTY, STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Currently completing the Ph.D. degree at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, where he earned bachelor's and master's degrees, JOHN HARVEY has been named assistant professor of economics for 1987-88. The Tennessee native, particularly interested in international economics, has held National Merit, Bonham and International Relations scholarships as well as a College of Business Fellowship.

JO ANNA SHIPE, who earned the B. A. degree here in 1959, became staff accountant in the controller's office on March 16. An accounting clerk in that office since 1983, she formerly was a substitute teacher in the Fort Worth public schools.

Joining the psychology department for 1987-88 will be CHARLES LORD, an assistant professor at Princeton since 1980. Holder of the B.A. from the University of Rhode Island and the Ph.D. from Stanford, he is the author of several studies published in the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

VOICE PEDAGOGY GRADUATE DEGREE OFFERED

If athletes are going to get ahead, they have to be competitive. So do singers. Athletes are commonly instructed in the psychology of winning, the ability to rehearse in their minds the steps to success. Singers will be, too, as part of a unique new graduate study in voice performance pedagogy.

To be instituted in the fall, the study will lead to a Master of Music degree in voice performance pedagogy. In addition to peak performance training, the new program will offer such special courses as aesthetic and scientific aspects of voice pedagogy, comparisons of voice pedagogy concepts, research in singing and voice repertoire management, a class taught nowhere in the United States except at TCU.

Program director John Large is an enthusiastic proponent of odology, which he defines simply as the science of singing. Other faculty members will include Sheila Allen, Arden Hopkin, Ronald Shirey, Ruth Whitlock and Vincent Russo. Aim of the new study is to produce vocal performers who are committed to excellence both in singing and in the teaching of singing.

The voice repertoire management class will survey repertoire for voice performance and its relationship to voice classification, age, technical level, performance situation and artistic interpretation. Just as a violinist cares for a Stradivarius, so should a vocalist protect the voice, John pointed out, and that care includes not singing anything that's wrong for the voice. A knowledge of repertoire management also enables a soprano to teach a tenor, he said.

DANCE DEPARTMENT SPONSORS CONCERT

The TCU ballet and modern dance department is sponsoring a concert on campus Friday and Saturday by New Works Project, a Fort Worth dance organization with lots of TCU connections. Performances will be at 8:15 p.m. in University Theatre. For ticket information, call 737-3171.

Susan Douglas Roberts, adjunct dance faculty member, and TCU alumna Radonna Patterson are co-directors of NWP, organized in 1985. Other dance alumni in the concert will be Myra Fleming of Tulsa, Dana Nicolay and William Doyle. Kathleen Doyle, a graduate student, will present a work, and musicians will include adjunct faculty member Michael Pellecchia.

ART OFFERS SUMMER WORKSHOP

A program for talented middle and high school art students will be offered for the first time this summer by the art and art history department. Summer Art Workshop '87 will be held June 7-19 for students in grades 10-12 and June 21-26 for grades 6-9. Students selected for this advanced program of study may concentrate in areas of drawing, painting, printmaking, ceramics and/or photography.

Classes in each area will be kept small so instruction can be individualized. Under the direction of Kathie Robinson of the art education faculty, professional art instructors will teach advanced skills, concepts and techniques in six hours of classes per day. In the evenings, visiting artists will present slide shows and discuss their work with the students.

Registration information may be requested from the office for extended education, Ext. 7134. Registration deadline is May 15 for grades 10-12, May 29 for grades 6-9.

DANCE OFFERING TWO WORKSHOPS

Intensive non-credit workshops in ballet and modern dance will be offered July 5-17 and July 19-31. The complete four-week session (July 5-31) may be taken for three hours of college credit.

Curriculum for the summer session, under the direction of ballet professor Fernando Schaffenburg, will include ballet technique, modern dance technique, jazz variations, pointe classes, men's classes, theory and terminology, pas de deux and variations for advanced students and by-invitation-only special coaching.

Registration deadlines are June 22 for the first two-week course, July 6 for the second. Registration forms may be obtained from the ballet and modern dance department, Ext. 7615.

TEEN TRUMPET WORKSHOP STARTS JUNE 1

Trumpet Workshop, a participation seminar for high school trumpet student, will be conducted June 1-4 under the direction of Kerry Kent Hughes, TU instructor of trumpet and trumpet coach for the Fort Worth Youth Orchestra.

The four-day workshop, designed for students ages 14-18, will cover practice routines, methods and exercises; literature; equipment and maintenance; listening, phrasing and style; and history and development of the instrument.

Registration information may be obtained from office of extended education, Ext. 7134. For information on program content, Hughes may be contacted at 926-5954. Deadline for registration is May 15.

FIVE MLA CLASSES OFFERED THIS SUMMER

Ranging from an historical analysis of the Soviet Union to an examination of the contributions of American-Jewish authors and from a look at the new South to a survey of the arts as expressions of religious and cultural values, the Master of Liberal Arts program will offer a varied selection this summer.

Open to holders of bachelor's degrees from accredited colleges and universities, the MLA program requires completion of 30 semester hours drawn from the broad curriculum of selected courses in humanities, social science, international affairs, general science and public policy.

Meeting May 11-July 2 from 7 to 9:40 p.m., the classes will be:

--"The Soviet Union: An Historical Analysis," taught by John Bohon (history) on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The major personalities, institutional developments, foreign policy, literature and general historical trends of the Soviet Union will be studied.

--"Recent American-Jewish Fiction," taught Mondays and Wednesdays by David Vanderwerken (English), dealing with the distinctive contributions to recent American fiction made by American-Jewish authors.

--"Health and Health Care in Today's Society," Mondays and Wednesdays, June 1-July 2, from 1 to 4:45 p.m. Modern technology, legislation and governmental influences and citizen rights and responsibilities in connection with health care will be explored by Kathryn Nichols (nursing).

Classes meeting July 6-August 12 will be:

--"The New South: 1877-Present," 5:30 to 9:15 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays at Carswell Air Force Base. Clayton Brown (history) will focus on the political, social and economic factors at work in the South.

--"Expressions of Religious and Cultural Values in the Arts," taught from 1 to 4:45 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays by Ken Lawrence (religion-studies) in conjunction with the Kimbell Art Museum. The development of various art forms in the Western world and the formation and roles of symbols in religion and human communication will be included.

Registration for the first summer session will be conducted May 11 from 3 to 6 p.m. at the Rickel Building. Subsequent registrations will be held June 1 and July 6. Additional information is available from Graduate Studies, Ext. 7515.

NOTES ON FOLKS

At the February American Choral Directors Association meeting in San Antonio the book "The Conscience of a Profession: The Writings of Howard Swan" was first presented by the publisher, Hinshaw Music, Inc. The book was the result of an idea first formulated in the late 1970s by RUTH WHITLOCK (music). Several of the music teachers in California and Texas joined Ruth in compiling and organizing the many manuscript pages. This year's ACDA meeting was dedicated to Dr. Swan.

GLENN MARTIN, Ph.D. student in English, presented a session on effective writing at the City of Fort Worth's Secretary Recognition Day at the Worthington Hotel on April 22.

DONNA HALL (speech communication) presented two papers at the Southern and Central Speech Communication Joint Convention in St. Louis April 8-12. The papers were entitled "Oral Interpretation: An Approach to Teaching Secondary English" and "Interpersonal Messages in Music."

LEE DANIEL (modern languages) participated in the International Colloquium on Latin American Literature held on the Oklahoma State University campus April 23-25. He presented a paper entitled "Sor Juana's Pentad of Carlosian Loas." The conference sessions were devoted to two outstanding Mexican writers--Sor Juana Ines de la Cruz and Juan Rulfo.

JUDY ALTER (TCU Press) has been elected to the board of directors of Chisholm Trail Round-Up, Inc., an organization composed of business persons and others who stage the annual Round-up in Fort Worth.

An in-depth interview of DONALD FRISCHMANN (modern languages) with Merida, Mexico theater personality Hector Herrera has appeared in two parts in the Sunday cultural supplement of Novedades de Yucatan. The interview was conducted in January during a round of field research carried out under the auspices of the TCU Research Fund.

ARTURO FLORES (modern languages) presented a paper entitled "Hacia una organizacion semantica en El sueno de Santa Maria de las Piedras de Miguel Mendez" ("Towards a Semantic Organization of El sueno de Santa Maria de las Piedras by Miguel Mendez") at the recent El Paso meeting of the Western Social Science Association.

A paper by ART EHLMANN (geology) and Klaus Keil (University of New Mexico) entitled "Classification of a Second Group of Ordinary Chondrites from Texas" appeared in the March issue of "Meteoritics," the journal of the Meteoritical Society. This paper is the result of research on the Oscar Monnig meteorite collection housed in the geology department. Cooperative research on these meteorites began when Art spent a sabbatical semester at the Institute of Meteoritics at University of New Mexico.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

An article by CATHY COLLINS (education) entitled "Content Mastery Strategies Aid Class Discussion" was published in the newest edition of Reading Teacher.

DOUG NEWSOM (journalism) presented an invited paper April 10 at the annual Public Relations Institute of the University of Northern Iowa. The institute focused on ethical dilemmas in public relations, and Doug's topic was "If Organizations Today Can Get the Best Public Relations Money Can Buy, Why Are They Making So Many Mistakes?" Other presenters were William Ramsey, president of an Omaha public relations and advertising consulting firm who headed the Public Relations Society of America board of ethics and standards in 1985, and Ronald S. Wishart, public affairs vice president of Union Carbide.

DALE YOUNG (education) recently completed a six-hour advanced academic workshop entitled "Letting That Grey Matter Work for You in the Classroom" for the faculty and staff of Crowley Middle School. The workshop included left brain/right brain learning theory and classroom motivational techniques.

Dale also reports that the April 16 Teacher Interview Day was a big success. Representatives from 32 Texas school districts were on campus, and senior education majors completed 391 interviews during the day.

MARK THISTLETHWAITE (art and art history) lectured recently at SMU on the outdoor sculpture collection of the Meadows Museum. He also served as a juror for the competitive art exhibition in connection with the recent Main St. Arts Festival.

MICHAEL HAYWORTH, junior political science major from Bargersville, IN, has been chosen as an alternate for the 1987 Harry S. Truman Scholarship Award. Fewer than 200 students in the nation were selected as winners or alternates in the prestigious competition.

Former U.S. Rep. EDITH GREEN of Oregon, awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree by TCU in 1970, died April 21 after a lengthy illness. An advocate of public education programs for more than 20 years in Congress, she served 10 terms as representative, rose to second-ranking position on the House Education and Labor Committee and pushed for passage of the first federal scholarships for college undergraduates. Cited by TCU as "studious and humane national leader, creative and socially conscious initiator of important legislation who recognizes the role of institutions and the responsibility of the individual in promoting the general welfare," Dr. Green delivered the August 1970 commencement address here.

STANLEY BLOCK (business) was elected to the board of directors of the Financial Management Association. He is the association's Southwest regional director.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

Sympathy is extended to MARY CHARLES KING (business office, retired), whose husband, Hervie King, died April 27. Funeral services and burial were held in Fort Worth April 30.

Members of TCU's Student Council for Exceptional Children and advisor ODETTE BRUNEAU (curriculum and instruction) worked as volunteers at the Region XI Special Olympics held April 25 at Birdville stadium.

FRED ERISMAN and BOB FRYE of English read papers at the annual meeting of the Western Social Science Association April 22-25 in El Paso. Fred, who also attended the WSSA executive council meeting, read on "Constabulary Duties and Cultural Needs: Tony Hillerman's Southwestern Mystery Novels." Bob's topic was "The Poetic Evocation of Cultures: Style, Solitude, and a Sense of Place in R.G. Vliet's 'Soledad or Solitudes.'" Also on the program was TCU Ph.D. GYDE MARTIN whose presentation was "The Rhetoric of Bumper Stickers."

NELL ROBINSON (nutrition and dietetics), along with Dr. Frances Lankford, a pediatrician, and MARY ANNE GORMAN (nutrition and dietetics) has an article on "TWIGS--A Weight Control Program Designed for Children" in the April issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association. Dr. Lankford and Nell have been partners in the TWIGS program since 1982.

IS IT THAT TIME ALREADY?

Anyone in the University doing mail-outs can be a big help in spreading the word about the Frogs' fall football schedule, say the folks in Sports Information. Printed schedule cards are available now, and anyone who would like to include them in mailings may simply drop by the Sports Information Office in the basement of Daniel-Meyer Coliseum to pick up the number needed.

RELAY TEAM TAKES TOP SPOTS

Frog runners took top honors to defend their titles in 400- and 800-meter relays at the Penn Relays held April 25 in Philadelphia. Continuing their string of spring successes, the team of Greg Sholars, Andrew Smith, Byron Morrow and Raymond Stewart took the 800-meter with a time of 1:22.0, just slightly off last year's meet record time.

After a mixup of lanes that caused officials to call for a re-run, the Frog speedsters shared the 400-meter relay championship with Florida. By this win the Purple foursome extended its unbeaten streak in this event to 14. Tony Allen joined Sholars, Smith and Stewart for this category.

FLYOVER TO CAP AIR FORCE COMMISSIONING

Eight TCU students will be commissioned into the Air Force May 8 at 11:30 a.m. at the TCU track. The ceremony will begin with a parade and will include the presentation of awards to outstanding cadets. A guest speaker will address the new officers, and a flyover of F-4 jets will conclude the ceremonies until that evening's military ball for cadets, their families and guests.

Staff and faculty are invited to attend the commissioning and congratulate the graduating class. TCU students to be commissioned and their allocations are Lisa Anderson, nontechnical; Dan Berk, Armed Forces Health Professions School; John Carroll, pilot training; Robert Cole, technical allocation; Shawn Fauver, nursing; David Hudson, navigator training; Donald Scott, navigator training; and Harry Wickes, pilot training.

KTCU BROADCASTS CONTINUE THIS SUMMER

Although the academic year is ending, the campus radio station KTCU-FM will continue broadcasting through the summer. Station manager Constantino Bernardez said most of the station's regular programs will be carried.

Included are the public meetings of the Tarrant County Commission's Court, the Fort Worth City Council and the Fort Worth School Board. The 11 a.m. Sunday service of the University Christian Church, Matinee with the Masters at 2 p.m. weekdays, the Sunday afternoon classical concerts as well as the educational and discussion programs Soundings, Common Ground, Prime Time, Consider the Alternatives, and Focus are among the other programs to be continued during the summer months. The live Monday night concerts of the music department will resume in the fall. KTCU is located at 88.7 on the FM dial.

TCU IN THE NEWS

DALE YOUNG (education) made page one of the Charlotte (NC) Observer Friday, March 13, and North Carolina folks are making sure he knows it. A color photo of Dale waving a TCU flag was the feature of that day after TCU's opening round NCAA victory over Marshall. Dale, who says TCU fans made a big hit in North Carolina, has had letters and clippings mailed to him from several Marshall backers.

The recent dinner hosted by Chancellor BILL and Jean TUCKER honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. A. "Tex" Moncrief was featured April 1 in the Star-Telegram's Cissy on the Town. In the photo section entitled "TCU Chair Introduction" were C.A. and Sandy QUARLES and NOWELL and Jeanne DONOVAN. C.A. and Nowell were formally introduced as holders of the chairs in physics and geology, respectively, endowed by the Moncriefs.
