NINE WILL HOLD GREEN POSITIONS IN 1985-86

Eight persons distinguished in their academic and/or professional careers along with an economist who has been a consultant to the U.S. Treasury Department will hold endowed positions at our campus during 1985-86.

Dr. W. H. Locke Anderson of the University of Michigan will spend the fall semester at TCU as holder of the Cecil H. and Ida Green Honors Chair. Since its endowment in 1969 by a gift from Drs. Cecil H. and Ida Green of Dallas, 14 persons have held the position on a semester-long basis.

A senior staff economist with the Council of Economic Advisors earlier in his career, Dr. Anderson has served as a consultant to the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development as well as to the treasury department. The listing of his publications includes a book on the microeconomic foundations of macroeconomics. Dr. Anderson, holder of the B.A. degree from Williams College, earned the doctoral degree at Harvard University.

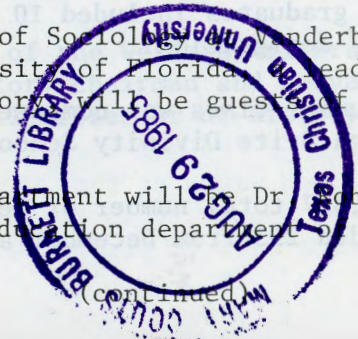

More than 80 writers, scientists, educators and other notable career persons have been guests for week-long schedules as Visiting Green Professors. Eight of this year's appointees will fill this position, giving public lectures and conducting seminars, class sessions and discussions with students and faculty members.

Two distinguished educators will be hosted by the political science department. They are Dr. Wilson C. McWilliams of Rutgers University, regarded as a leading contemporary political theorist, and Dr. Barbara Sinclair of the University of California at Riverside, specialist in the field of legislative behavior and author of "Majority Leadership in the U.S. House."

Dr. Phillip J. Davis of the applied mathematics division of Brown University is scheduled for an early spring professorship in the mathematics department.

Dr. Jack Gibbs, currently Centennial Professor of Sociology at Vanderbilt University, and Dr. Marvin Harris of the University of Florida, a leading contributor to contemporary anthropological theory, will be guests of the sociology department.

Spending a week with the physical education department will be Dr. Robert P. Pangrazi, chairman of the health and physical education department of Arizona

State University. He formerly was executive director of the Arizona Governor's Council on Health and Fitness.

A specialist in nursing research, especially in the field of child health, Dr. Peggy Lois Chinn of the State University of New York at Buffalo will be a guest of Harris College of Nursing. Since 1978 she has been editor of Advances in Nursing Science.

George Dessart of New York, vice president of CBS Television, will be hosted by the radio-television-film department.

Dates for the Visiting Green Professors will be announced later.

ATHLETIC TRAINERS HONORED

Recent honors have come to three students in Ross Bailey's athletic training program. Randy Reaves of White Settlement and Britt Brown of Lampasas have won scholarships, and Todd Urbanek of Andrews spent the summer working with the Dallas Cowboys.

Randy, who has worked with the football team and will be involved with the basketball team this year, earned a scholarship from the Texas Society for Sports Medicine. Britt, who has helped in both baseball and football programs, received his scholarship from Champion Sports Nutrition. Both awards were presented at the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association annual meeting in Waco.

Todd is the third athletic training student from TCU selected to work with the Cowboys' summer program in as many years. He worked with the pro team in Dallas and in the summer training camp at Thousand Oaks, CA.

304 DEGREES AWARDED AT AUG. 16 EVENT

A total 304 degrees were awarded Aug. 16 during summer commencement. The highest-ranking member of the summer Class of '85 was Leisa Sedberry Musgrove of Fort Worth, who received the B.B.A. degree with a major in accounting. She was the only person completing undergraduate studies "summa cum laude."

Honor graduates included 10 recognized as "magna cum laude" and three with "cum laude" designation.

The summer class was composed of 203 bachelor's degrees, 13 graduate degrees through Brite Divinity School, 78 master's and 10 Ph.D. degrees.

The 1,377 total number of degrees conferred during the 1984-85 academic year included 293 from December and 780 in May.

HOWDY WEEK STARTS TOMORROW

"Baseball, Hot Dogs, Apple Pie and TCU" will be the theme of Howdy Week 1985, which opens at 11 a.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) with a freshman assembly in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Tomorrow's activities also include a freshman extravaganza around Frog Fountain at 7:30 in the evening.

Keri Dublin is student chairman of Programming Council, which has planned the week-long series of special events for new and returning students.

Thursday's schedule includes the annual activities carnival from 6 to 8 p.m., followed by a practice yell session at 8 o'clock and a street dance from 8 to 11 p.m., all slated around Frog Fountain. Friday at 8 p.m., a magician act, Denny & Lee, will entertain on the Student Center terrace.

The Rickel Center Almost All Night Party from 8 p.m. Saturday until 2 a.m. Sunday will include food, games, swimming and a showing of the film "Jaws." Howdy Week Chapel begins at 11 a.m. Sunday at Robert Carr Chapel, and students attending that service will receive tickets for the chapel luncheon in the Student Center ballroom at noon.

Monday's special event will be a trip to see the Texas Rangers play the Kansas City Chiefs. Cost is $3.75, and persons planning to go should sign up at the activities carnival. On Sept. 3, residence hall activities will begin at 7 p.m., followed by residence hall meetings at 10 p.m. Closing event of the week will be the Programming Council mixer at 4 p.m. Sept. 4 in the Student Center ballroom.

WORCESTER WINS SONNICHSEN AWARD

Don Worcester, historian-author and emeritus professor of history, has won the C.L. Sonnichsen Publication Award for 1985 from Texas Western Press for his book "The Spanish Mustang." Presentation of the $1,000 award will be made at the annual fall convocation Sept. 12 at the University of Texas-El Paso, home of Texas Western Press. The press also will publish the new book next year.

The award is named for Dr. C.L. Sonnichsen, professor of English at UTEP from 1931 to 1972. Both Don and Dr. Sonnichsen have been president of the Western Writers of America and the Western History Association.

A two-time winner of the coveted Golden Spur Award of the Western Writers of America, Don joined the TCU faculty in 1963 as history chairman and served in that capacity until 1972. He was Lorin A. Boswell Professor of History until his retirement five years ago.

REPORT SHOWS SPRING GRADE-POINT AVERAGES

Residents of Tom Brown Hall posted the highest grade-point averages of students in any campus residence halls during the spring. According to a spring average report issued Aug. 7 by Dean Libby Proffer, the Tom Brown average was 3.094. Following closely with 3.082 was Waits Hall.

Spring grade-point averages for 1985 followed the usual pattern of being some higher than those of the preceding fall, but the report shows no significant difference between the 1985 and 1984 spring terms.

Following the two leaders, other residence hall averages were 3.009 for the combined sorority housing units; 2.978, Colby Hall; 2.973, Foster; 2.942, Jarvis; 2.838, Clark; 2.832, Pete Wright; 2.780, Sherley; 2.756, Wiggins; 2.733, Brachman; 2.696, fraternities; and 2.447, Milton Daniel.

For the study, comparable groups are noted...such as comparing Colby Hall residents with undergraduate freshman women, Pete Wright with undergraduate freshman men, Brachman with all undergraduate students, etc. During the spring, the report shows, eight of the 13 housing units had GPA's above the comparison groups. Those below were Brachman, Sherley, Wiggins, fraternities and Milton Daniel. Two totally freshman residence halls, Colby Hall and Pete Wright, were well above the comparable freshman groupings.

Of eight fraternity units, only two were above the undergraduate men's average of 2.710, and one fraternity had a GPA of only 2.197. By contrast, according to the report, seven of the 10 sorority residences had GPA's above the 2.936 for all undergraduate women.

By classification, the spring GPA's were:

- All day students 2.835
- All undergraduates 2.836
- All undergraduate men 2.710
- All undergraduate women 2.936
- All freshmen 2.705
- Freshman men 2.564
- Freshman women 2.822

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS SEALY

Scholarship funds recently presented to TCU in memory of Michael Neil Sealy of Andrews will enable other students to study to become athletic trainers. Neil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Sealy of Andrews, was killed in an automobile accident in his home town in May. The new award will be entitled the Neil Sealy Memorial Scholarship.

A 1982 graduate of Andrews High School, he was a TCU junior majoring in athletic training. He had worked with both the soccer and the football teams during his two years at the University. A plaque listing Neil's accomplishments will hang in the athletic training room in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, and a copy of the plaque will be presented to his parents.

TRUSTEES WILL HEAD FOUR CAMPAIGN GROUPS

Four persons well known for their civic and business activities will fill key positions in the 1985 TCU/Tarrant County campaigns. To lead a task force of some 500 volunteers, the group managers are Robert Lowdon, Charles Moncrief, William Adams and John Justin. All are members of the University's board of trustees.

Headed by Martin C. Bowen, executive vice president of Texas American Bank/Fort Worth, the eighth annual fund drive will begin in October. Gift requests in the county-wide effort will be made for instructional and scholarship assistance, research and graduate education, athletics and general University support.

"The future of TCU, to an important degree, rests in the hands of the Annual Fund volunteers," according to Bowen, "as they help shape today's dreams into tomorrow's realities by building a more vibrant university and community. For 75 years, TCU has been meeting the educational and cultural needs of Tarrant County."

Lowdon, chairman of the board of Stafford-Lowdon Company, will head the business and industry group. An alumnus of TCU and the University of Texas at Austin, he is a director of the Tandy Corporation. He is a Chancellor's Associate member of TCU's Clark Society. In 1983 he was presented the valuable alumnus award by the TCU Alumni Association. For the 1984 TCU/TC campaign Lowdon was manager of the alumni group.

To lead the alumni group this year, Moncrief is a director of InterFirst Bank Fort Worth, N.A., as well as the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. The independent oil and gas producer is active in the Fort Worth Wildcatters and holds membership in the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, American Petroleum Institute, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and Independent Petroleum Association of America. A certified petroleum geologist, Moncrief is a TCU graduate.

Adams, president and chief operating officer of Champlin Petroleum Company, will be manager of the parents and friends group. Holder of degrees from the University of Kansas and the University of California at Los Angeles, he is a director of InterFirst Bank Fort Worth, N.A., and of the Arts Council of Fort Worth and Tarrant County. Adams, who headed the special gifts group last year, serves on the Engineering Foundation Advisory Council of UT-Austin and the Geology Associates Board at the University of Kansas. He is a member of the national executive board of the Boy Scouts of America and the executive board of the Longhorn Council of BSA in Tarrant County.

To head the special gifts group, Justin chairs the board of Justin Industries. The TCU graduate, a director of Millers Group and Texas Employers Insurance Association, is chairman of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and serves on the board of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas. Mayor of Fort Worth in 1961-63, Justin received the alumni association's distinguished alumnus award in 1978 and the Ike Harrison Award from the University's

M. J. Neeley School of Business in 1979. Honored as man and woman of the year by the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in 1984, Justin and Mrs. Justin were recipients of the Golden Deeds Award of the Fort Worth Exchange Club earlier this year.

NOTES ON FOLKS

At Texas Woman's University's summer commencement this month, RHONDA PAYNE (nursing) was awarded the Ph. D. degree. The Arkansas native has been a member of the faculty since 1982.

Historian SPENCER TUCKER has been informed that his article, "The Dahlgren Boat Howitzer," has been accepted for publication in the U.S. Naval Institute PROCEEDINGS. The Dahlgren boat howitzer, which saw extensive service in the American Civil War, was the first amphibious weapon developed for the U.S. Navy.

JOE HERRING (history Ph.D. candidate) has won the Best Paper Award in the 1985 Phi Alpha Theta regional conference paper contest. His essay was entitled "The Sacs and Foxes in Kansas: A Study in Indian Intransigence."

A book review by ARNOLD BARKMAN of "Quantitative Techniques for Internal Auditing" by Ricketts and Sorkin appeared in the July issue of the Accounting Review.

DAVID LAMBERT (geology) attended the 4th International Magmatic Sulfide Field Conference which included field studies on Duke Island in Alaska, the Stillwater Complex in Montana and the Duluth Complex in Minnesota. At the July 13-31 meeting, David presented two papers coauthored with Craig Simmons (Colorado School of Mines) at Ketchikan, Alaska, and Nye, Montana. He also wrote a chapter of the guidebook on the Stillwater Complex, which was published by the Montana Bureau of Mines and Geology.

FRANK REUTER and KEN STEVENS (history) attended the annual meeting of the Society for Historians of the Early American Republic held July 25-27 at Gunston Hall, VA, and at Georgetown University.

EARNEST PERRY, an August graduate with a major in journalism and a minor in political science, has been selected for the Cap Cities Minority Intern Training Program. A Fort Worth resident who has worked part-time for the Star-Telegram as an agate clerk, Earnest will intern at the Belleville, IL, News-Democrat, at Shore Line Newspapers in Connecticut and at the Star-Telegram. He is interested in sports and investigative sports reporting.

ART BERLINER (social work) attended the 34th International Congress on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence August 4-10 in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. He presented a paper, "Group Counseling with Alcohol Offenders: An Analysis and Typology of DWI Probationers." He also provided consultation to the Alberta Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Commission, a group counseling program for DWI offenders in Alberta.

MARJORIE MOORE (emeritus, speech) has been re-appointed by Governor Mark White to the governing board of the Texas School for the Deaf in Austin. This is her second three-year term. Friends may recognize her picture in the August issue of Texas Highways magazine in a story on Fort Clark, where she and her husband Walter have a vacation home. Marjorie is active in the Fort Clark Historical Society and the Old Fort Clark Guardhouse Museum. She also appears as an extra in the comedy movie "Up Hill All the Way," which is scheduled to be shown on national TV in December.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

Funeral services were conducted Aug. 10 in Stephenville for DAN ANDERSON, former psychology faculty member who died Aug. 8.

Chemistry profs have been on the international trail talking about chemical research at TCU. MANFRED REINECKE presented one of seven invited lectures in the Symposium on Novel Heterocyclic Structure and Reactivity to the International Congress on Heterocyclic Chemistry at the University of Waterloo, Waterloo-Guelph, Canada. BILL WATSON presented an invited paper to the International Congress on Mycotoxins and Phycotoxins in Pretoria, South Africa. BILL SMITH presented his research before the Conference on Molecular Strain and Electronic Effects in Organic Chemistry at the University of North Wales in Bangor. He also attended meetings at Oxford and Cambridge and visited chemistry departments at the Universities of Sussex and Nantes, France.

CHRISTINA MURPHY has received word that her essay, "Thirteen Years on the Comma, Or: Reflections on Tenses Past," will be published in the fall issue of Texas College English.

Appearing in the July 1985 issue of Written Communication is an article on "Cooperative Writing: Direct Effects and Transfer" by psychology graduate student ANGELA O'DONNELL, with professors DON DANSEREAU and TOM ROCKLIN, fellow graduate students JUDY LAMBIOTTE and VELMA HYTHECKER and TCU graduate CELIA LARSON.

NEW FACULTY AND STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Among those named to temporary appointments for 1985-86 are GALE VAN ACKEREN and JOYCE BREEDEN, instructors of design and fashion; ESTHER HUCKABY, instructor in English and coordinator of business writing; SUSAN WILLIAMS, part-time assistant professor of nursing; KATHIE WALKER ROBINSON, instructor in art; and JAMES GARY JOHNSON in accounting. DR. DONNA R. HALL of Fort Worth has been named a three-quarter time assistant professor of speech communication.

A new teacher at Starpoint this fall will be MADLINE NEIL KING of Fort Worth, a 1976 TCU graduate who earned the M.Ed. from Texas Women's University in special education with an emphasis in emotionally disturbed. She has taught in Fort Worth schools since 1976, most recently as a Montessori first-grade teacher at Daggett Elementary, where she had been a special education resource teacher for six years.

KATHLEEN A. MARTIN, who teaches teachers in the fields of science and math, is a new associate professor in the School of Education. A graduate of Notre Dame College in St. Louis who earned the Master of Education degree at Tulane and the Ph.D. from the University of Texas at Austin, she has been on the faculty of the University of Dallas since 1977. Widely called on for in-service work with Metroplex school districts, she has initiated programs in mathematics, science and computers that help both to develop curriculum and to train teachers.

TCU IN THE NEWS

Being an American historian keeps you busy on July 4. PAUL BOLLER (emeritus, history) spent an hour and a half that day on a Denver radio talk show--by telephone--being interviewed about Thomas Jefferson, the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution. Later--at 11:45 p.m., to be exact--he was interviewed by a St. Louis station for 10 minutes about the Declaration of Independence. While President Reagan was in the hospital for cancer surgery, Paul did a half-hour interview with a Little Rock radio station about other presidents who have undergone serious surgery, including Grover Cleveland, who managed to keep his surgery for cancer of the jaw a secret for 25 years.

"The decline in employment that will probably come in high tech is going to create some difficulties," according to economist FLOYD DURHAM, who was quoted extensively July 28 in the Dallas Morning News story on predictions of changes ahead in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. The lead feature focused on the Metroplex growth, particularly in Dallas, and those quoted are members of the Dallas paper's board of economists.

Financial aid officer NANCY WYLIE and political scientist MIKE DODSON were both photographed and quoted in the July 28 Star-Telegram's lengthy story entitled "In search of the truth: Texans finding different answers in Nicaragua." Nancy, one of 18 area Presbyterians who toured Nicaragua last October, is active in the Inter-Religious Task Force on Central America and St. Francis Presbyterian Church, which offers sanctuary to Central American Refugees. Mike, who has concentrated on Latin American affairs since the early 1970s, has made seven trips to Nicaragua since 1980 studying the Catholic church there and its role in the Sandinista revolution.

In the August issue of The Disciple, Chancellor BILL TUCKER along with Alex J. Cade and Margaret S. Buvinger, second and first vice-moderators of the Christian Church, respectively, are shown standing before a red billboard developed for a media campaign by the Trinity-Brazos Area of the Christian Church in the South-east.

In that same issue of the Christian Church publication is an article entitled "Why Does God Let Us Suffer?" by WALTER NAFF, Brite's director of field service education.

Also included in The Disciple are a photo of Brite's Dean JACK SUGGS, who will chair the Council on Theological Education in 1986, and a scene from the 1984 summer gathering of the Council of Ministries in Higher Education held on campus.

Senior ELLA SMITH, who was a member of TCU's 400-meter relay team that took first place in West Germany earlier this summer, was the subject of a feature that appeared July 31-Aug. 1 in the Star-Telegram's EXTRA. To graduate next May, Ella hopes to compete in the 1988 Olympics.

Participants in the basketball camp receiving instructions from assistant coach CHARLIE FENSKE were subjects of two photos in the Aug. 1 issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

MORE TCU IN THE NEWS

"Service keeps students, jobs in close connection" was the headline in the July 31-Aug. 1 issue of the Star-Telegram EXTRA that described the TCU Career Connection, the free weekly newspaper offering job information to alumni and seniors. Provided by the Career Planning and Placement Center, the newsletter has listed more than 1,000 jobs since its first issue in the spring. Quoted in the story were placement specialist JAN BAKER and center director RON RANDALL.

Alumna CRISTI BRANUM, who earned the B.F.A. degree in 1978, is attracting attention with her brightly colored acrylic paint designs in geometric style, according to a full-page feature that appeared July 28 in the Midland Reporter-Telegram. A year-round exhibitor in Midland's Gallery 1114, she will begin work on a master's degree this fall at the University of Dallas.

"Drill, drill, drill: Talent goes only so far" was the title of the Op-Ed page commentary by Emeritus Chancellor JIM MOUDY that appeared in the Aug. 4 Star-Telegram.

Elementary school children working programs on a computer was the subject of the Star-Telegram's photo that complemented the story that appeared Aug. 7-8 on summer computer camps on campus. Quoted in the story was MARY HOWELL of continuing education, sponsor of the program.

"Southern funerals slowly passing away" was the headline Aug. 3 in Midland's Reporter-Telegram for a Los Angeles Times-New York Times News Service story about the traditional funeral ceremonies familiar to Southerners. In the story, LBJ Professor GRADY MCWHINEY was quoted saying, "I think the basic pattern of Southern funerals will remain relatively stable, despite all the changes taking place."
