

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 62, No. 10, Nov. 5, 1985

WEINBERGER TO HEAD U.S./SOVIET SYMPOSIUM PANEL

Secretary of Defense Caspar W. Weinberger will be joined by Donald M. Kendall, chairman and chief executive officer of PepsiCo Inc., and Jack J. Murphy, president and board chairman of Dresser Industries Inc., for the U.S./Soviet Relations Symposium on campus Nov. 13. The by-invitation program, to begin at 7 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium, is being sponsored by TCU and Forum Fort Worth, the alumni group of Leadership Fort Worth.

The symposium will be broadcast live over KTCU-FM at 88.7 on the radio dial.

Underwritten by alumnus/business executive Lee Paulsel and Mrs. Paulsel, the program is designed as a non-partisan forum for discussing specific policy issues of United States and Soviet relations. In addition to welcoming guests and taking note of Forum Fort Worth's focus on national issues, Chancellor Bill Tucker will introduce the speakers, each of whom will make a short presentation. During a brief intermission, audience members may submit questions for the 30- to 45-minute discussion period to follow.

Weinberger, in his current position since 1981, has distinguished himself in a number of governmental positions. Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission in 1969-70, he was deputy director and then succeeded George Schultz as director of the Office of Management and Budget. After two years in that post, he was secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in 1973-75.

A graduate of Harvard University and its law school, Weinberger served on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's intelligence staff before entering law practice in California. Moderator of a weekly TV public affairs show, book reviewer for the San Francisco Chronicle and a syndicated columnist during this time, he was named chairman of the Commission on California State Government Organization and Economy by then-Gov. Ronald Reagan in 1969 and then state director of finance in 1970. He was named general counsel, vice president and a director of the Bechtel Group of Companies in California in 1975.

Kendall, 1981-82 board chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and currently one of its directors, was the first United States co-chairman of the U.S.-USSR Trade and Economic Council in 1973-77. He continued as a director of the group, formed to strengthen trade ties and economic relations between American businessmen and the Soviet Union. Chairman of the Emergency Committee for American Trade in 1969-76, he was named chairman of the National Alliance of Businessmen in 1969 by then-Pres. Richard Nixon.

(continued)

SYMPOSIUM (continued)

From his initial employment with Pepsi Cola as a fountain syrup sales representative after serving in the Navy in World War II, Kendall had a meteoric rise to the head of the worldwide consumer products and services company that included leading its overseas operations to dramatic international growth. As president and chief executive officer, he added such new products as Diet Pepsi-Cola and Mountain Dew and engineered the 1965 merger with Frito-Lay. He assumed his current position in 1971.

A director and executive committee member of the U.S.-USSR Trade Council, Murphy chairs the Dallas-based Center for International Business. He is a director of the National Council for United States-China Trade in addition to serving on the boards of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the American Council for Capital Formation and the Texas Research League. On the executive board of SMU's Edwin L. Cox School of Business, he also is a director of the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association and the National Ocean Industries Association.

Murphy became chairman and chief executive officer in addition to his role of president of Dresser Industries in 1983. An alumnus of Rochester Institute of Technology and SMU, he joined Dresser in 1952 as an application engineer. Head of a number of its divisions before being named corporate senior vice president for operations in 1975, he was elected president and chief operating officer in 1982.

*** **

TEACHER HAS HOMECOMING STORY TO TELL

Fifth-grade teacher Betty Lynn Elder Georges had a new experience to tell her Westcliff Elementary School students about this week--her presentation as Coming Home Queen '85 over the weekend. Escorted by Paul Peebles, 1960 reunion chairman and three-year football letterman, she was in the spotlight along with the Homecoming Court during halftime activities of the TCU-Houston game.

The Wichita Falls native began teaching in the Fort Worth public schools after receiving the B.S. in Education degree in 1960. As a student she was active in Los Hidalgos, Association for Childhood Education and Delta Delta Delta sorority. Currently she is working toward a master's degree in microcomputers in education here.

*** **

POST-GAME EVENT SET IN AUSTIN

The Junior Forum Caswell House in Austin will be the setting Nov. 16 for a post-game reception and dinner for alumni and friends. The fete will begin immediately following the game between the Horned Frogs and the Longhorns of the University of Texas.

Tickets for the Nov. 16 event are $6.50 per person. Due by Nov. 6, reservations can be made through the alumni office, Ext. 7803. Reservations also can be made for roundtrip transportation from the Caswell House to and from Memorial Stadium at $4 per person.

COX RECITAL IS MONDAY

Sonatas for violin and viola will be performed by Jeff Cox at 8 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium. Paulo Alvares will be piano accompanist.

The recital will include Sonata in G minor by 18th Century Italian violinist Giuseppe Tartini, Brahms' Sonata, Op. 12, No. 1 for viola and piano and Charles Ives' Sonata No. 2 for violin and piano.

Jeff, who joined the TCU faculty in 1984, is a graduate of Eastman School of Music who holds master's degrees from both Eastman and Yale School of Music as well as a doctorate from Yale. He was a member of graduate quartets in residence at both Eastman and Yale.

*** **

CEREMONIES WILL OBSERVE ARMED FORCES DAY

A special flag-raising ceremony will be held Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. in observance of Armed Forces Day. Sponsored by the Air Force ROTC, the event will be held in front of Sadler Hall and will include an AFROTC drill team performance.

The ceremony will coincide with scheduled events at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington, DC., according to Capt. Richard Wolf of the AFROTC. Active, retired and reserve service personnel are encouraged to wear their uniforms Monday in observance of the day, formerly known as Veterans Day and Armistice Day.

In the Student Center lounge, Thunderbird films, slides, entertainment and weapon booths will be displayed from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

*** **

SCOTTISH PRINTMAKER VISITS TCU

Michael Roschlau, printmaker from Glasgow, Scotland, will be a visitor on campus Thursday. His slide/lecture on current British prints at 3:30 p.m. that day in Moudy Building 132N will be open to the public. Roschlau also will meet with TCU art students for informal discussion of their work.

A native of Germany, Roschlau has taught printmaking at the Glasgow School of Art since 1968. His own prints have been exhibited by the Fine Art Society of Edinburgh, the Royal Scottish Academy of Edinburgh, the Printmakers Workshop on Tour in Scandinavia and Europe, the Second National Exhibition of Modern British Prints, seven Print Annual Touring Exhibitions headquartered in Edinburgh and a number of British International Print and Drawing Biennales. He has had one-man shows at galleries in Edinburgh, Stirling, Glasgow and Karlsruhe, Germany.

FORMER JOURNALISM CHAIRMAN DIES OCT. 28

Seasoned journalist Lewis C. Fay, chairman of the journalism department in 1971-75, died Oct. 28 in a Fort Worth hospital following a lengthy illness.

The Battle Creek, MI, native earned degrees at the University of Michigan and Ohio State University, where he later taught political science and journalism for five years. In 1937-42 he taught in those two fields and directed public relations at Central Michigan University. During his 1963-75 tenure at TCU, he published two student handbooks, "Reporter's Dozen" and "Newsprint Opinion," and originated the student newspaper entitled "TCU Journalist" that was circulated across the nation.

Lew, formerly a Sunday editor with the San Antonio Light in 1949-63, had served as news editor for Radio KONO in San Antonio. A man of varied interests, he was an amateur radio operator and held membership in the Society of Wireless Pioneers and the Quarter Century Wireless Association. He was well known for his freelance writing and photography for magazines, newspapers and trade journals. Also an organist, he played volunteer concerts for clubs in San Antonio and in Fort Worth.

A member of the U.S. Navy during World War II, Lew retired in 1952 from the Naval Reserve as a lieutenant commander. He was a member of South Hills Christian Church and active in the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi.

Survivors include his wife, Betty, of Fort Worth. Memorial gifts may be made to St. Joseph Community Hospice, the American Cancer Society or a favorite charity.

*** **

ACCOUNTING MAJOR RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

David Frazier, senior accounting major from Mesa, AZ, has been selected to receive an Arthur H. Carter Scholarship. The scholarships are awarded to "young men and women of good character with promise of leadership in the field of accounting." The competition for the scholarships is intense, with accounting faculty members from universities across the country submitting nominees.

David is the third TCU accounting student to receive an Arthur H. Carter Scholarship. Recipients of these prestigious scholarships receive a cash award of $2,500 as well as other recognition for their achievements.

*** **

EPISCOPAL MEETING SLATED

All persons interested in shaping the ministry of the Episcopal Church at TCU are invited to a meeting at 4 p.m. today (Tuesday) in Student Center Room 218. John Butler will be guiding the discussion.

CHESTER QUARTET PERFORMS FRIDAY

71- Quartets by Haydn, Bartok and Beethoven will be on the program Friday evening when the Chester Quartet will perform at 8 o'clock in Ed Landreth Auditorium. The quartet, founded in 1973 at the Eastman School of Music and now associated with Indiana University, will be in residence at TCU Thursday through Saturday.

for a-ub-d The string quartet will perform Quartet in G major, Op. 76, No. 1 by Haydn; Quartet No. 3 by Bartok; and Quartet in B flat major, Op. 130 (with grosse fuge) by Beethoven.

ed was eers The quartet, often heard on National Public Radio, the British Broadcasting Company and German Bavarian Radio, includes Nicholas Danielson and Susan Freier, violins; Ronald Gorevic, viola; and Thomas Rosenberg, cello. The quartet also will be teaching evening master classes.

*** **

SOCIAL POLITICS IS THEME OF HOWARD EXHIBIT

aval Deborah Howard of LSU-Shreveport, who will be honored at an opening exhibit of her work today (Tuesday) in Brown-Lupton Gallery, will be showing a series of paintings on wood and paper, drawings and etchings and three free-standing sculptures in the Gallery through Nov. 23.

to ty. Ms. Howard, whose early work was pointedly political and drew from her strong sense of Jewish heritage and awareness of women's changing role in society, says her recent art is of a more subtle political nature, dealing with love, marriage and female identity.

*** **

PHYSICAL EDUCATORS GATHER FOR CONFERENCE

ceive and "rs The importance of fitness in physical education for Texas youth will be addressed Saturday at a seminar co-sponsored by the Department of Physical Education and the Division of Continuing Education. The conference on the future directions for fitness is intended for elementary and secondary physical educators. Emphasis on fitness levels and strategies for implementing new fitness activities into the daily lesson plan will be presented.

are hn Six hours' advanced academic training credit has been approved by Texas Education Agency (TEA) in order for teachers to gain professional growth and development hours. Program objectives include identifying current fitness levels, assessing and evaluating physical fitness, providing practical activities and emphasizing the importance of fitness in the daily lesson plan.

Conference leaders are fitness expert Dr. Robert Pangrazi of Arizona State University, Douglas Hastad (physical education) and Alan Lacy (physical education). Also included will be teachers from the independent school districts of Fort Worth, Richardson, Arlington and Hurst-Euless-Bedford.

The conference will be held at the Student Center beginning at 8 a.m. Afternoon sessions will be conducted in the Rickel Building until 4:30 p.m. The cost is $25.

NOTES ON FOLKS

It's a message from admissions dean NED BOEHM that is included in the new Peterson's Guide to Colleges in the Southwest that is going to some 9,500 high school juniors to aid them in deciding where to attend college. In the volume, a new addition to the earlier series of Peterson Guides, is an introduction by Ned that includes advice on the process of choosing a school, including how to assess themselves and ways to narrow down their choices.

NANCY WILEY, who joined the staff in 1979 as financial aid counselor, has been named assistant director of financial aid. The promotion was effective Oct. 7.

MARK THISTLETHWAITE (art history) delivered the keynote address to a consortium of participants from the Houston Independent School District and the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston. Mark's slide-lecture, titled "George Washington: Image and Icon," took place at the Museum's Bayou Bend Collection.

BEN PROCTER (history) attended the Western History Association Meeting at Sacramento, CA, Oct. 9-13. In addition to chairing the resolutions committee, he was on the membership and program committees.

SID PADGETT, director of Facilities Planning, has just returned from the annual meeting of the Council of Educational Facility Planners International held in San Jose, CA. More than 400 educators, facilities planners, facility managers and architects were in attendance. Sid served as a panelist during seminars discussing deferred maintenance and roof problems during two of the afternoon meetings.

LEE DANIEL (modern languages) delivered a paper titled "Manuel Payno's 'Amour Secreto'--Mexican Romanticism or the Persisting Tradition of Courtly Love?" for the 1985 Mid-American Conference on Hispanic Literature at the University of Kansas.

On Oct. 25, FRANK REUTER (history) attended the Downtown Rotary Club meeting at the Fort Worth Club Building. He spoke to the group on Central America and Caribbean Lifeline.

ANANTHA BABBILI (journalism) authored an essay on "International Press Systems in Historical Perspective," which appeared in the fall 1985 issue of American Journalism. His research activities were included in World Research and Research in Intercultural Communication, a reference book published by Culture Publications, Milwaukee, WI.

*** **

SMITH HONORED AT ALMA MATER CENTENNIAL

Emmet Smith, TCU's Herndon Professor of Music, performed an organ recital at his alma mater, Southwestern College in Winfield, KS, Sunday. He was returning alumnus artist at the college's centennial celebration.

Emmet also played on the afternoon of Oct. 27 at Overton Park United Methodist Church, which was dedicating a new organ. On Sunday he will be guest artist at Park Avenue Christian Church in New York City, performing at 2:30 p.m. in a series called Sunday Concerts of New York.

TCU IN THE NEWS

Commercial artist MARGIE ADKINS and the posters she has created for Fort Worth's sesquicentennial, featuring West Texas watercolors by Georgia O'Keeffe, were subjects of the feature in the Oct. 8 Star-Telegram. Like O'Keeffe, Margie is a former member of the West Texas State University faculty.

"Author says pope won't talk" was the Star-Telegram headline Oct. 5 for the Jim Jones story on the recent visit to the campus of theologian Hans Kung. The Swiss-born scholar and popular author was here to deliver the BRITE DIVINITY SCHOOL Lectures.

The MOUDY BUILDING of Visual Arts and Communications is one of the structures illustrated and described in a new publication, A Field Guide to Landmarks of Modern Architecture in the United States by Miriam F. Stimpson. The book's description reads:

"This outstanding new facility is one of the latest projects of the prominent New York firm of Roche/Dinkeloo. Surrounded by Georgian styled buildings, the new Visual Arts and Communications Building additionally functions as an important gateway to the campus. The arrangement of glass, concrete, and brick is interestingly angled to complement its unusual site and existing buildings. A network of white space-frames add to the visual excitement of the complex, bringing an airy and light atmosphere."

Physicist RICHARD LYSIAK's research, carried on in conjunction with the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, DC, may contribute to peace-time communications --or Star Wars technology, according to a lengthy feature in the Oct. 7 Star-Telegram. A photo complemented the text.

"Cockroaches can be calming" was the headline for the Oct. 13 Dallas Morning News story about senior DAWN ROBINSON, first recipient of the TCU Honors Scholar Award. The Battle Creek, MI, resident is a sociology/psychology major who worked there last summer with the Binder Park Zoo's program that uses exotic animals in therapy. The award was made possible by a gift from emeritus professor PAUL BOLLER.

"Who taught kids to cheat?" was the headline Oct. 10 for the Star-Telegram's Reflections article written by senior CAROL HENDERSON, general studies major whose three children competed in athletics in Jacksboro high.

Historian DAVE EDMUNDS was the subject of Anita Baker's lengthy feature entitled "His chief interest: Indians" that appeared on page 1 of the Oct. 14 Star-Telegram. The story detailed his life-long interest, related more to his fascination with Indians than to his one-eighth Cherokee lineage.

Alumna LAURA CULLEN, who earned her B.S. degree in 1983, was the subject of Jon McConal's Star-Telegram column on Oct. 19. A dedicated runner, she was to take part in the All Saints Mile on Nov. 3.

MORE TCU IN THE NEWS

An article titled "King Football Comes Under Fire in Texas" in the Oct. 21 issue of U.S. News & World Report notes that "At almost every level of competition, the state's most beloved game is marred by the scent of scandal." Author Sarah Peterson from the magazine's Houston bureau, who mentions TCU in the story, was a guest on campus for the Frog-Mustang game and the Clark Society's pre-game buffet. She wrote of autumn's "magnificent obsession" from the littlest tank town to the lush, million-dollar suites of Texas Stadium.

This nation's response to hostage taking and terrorist activities world-wide were topics discussed by criminal justice director BILL HEAD in an interview with Jim Ryan that aired Oct. 20 over radio stations WBAP and KSCS.

"Investment course helps solve educational Catch-22" was the headline for the feature on the Educational Investment Fund that appeared in the Oct. 21 issue of the Dallas/Fort Worth Business Journal. Quoting the old saying that "you can't get a job without experience, and you can't get experience without a job," the story called attention to current MBA student, MIKE GERDING. "Thanks to the unique TCU learning experience...Gerding is one of a select group of would-be investment managers who acquire, along with their book learning, some practical knowledge and experience."

For his Oct. 24 Star-Telegram column, Jon McConal recounted his recent visit with V. Theodore Schreiber, editor of the recent TCU PRESS book "Bones for Barnum Brown." Their conversation took place at a publication party at the home of Press editor JUDY ALTER.

"Greeks paint up a storm" was the Star-Telegram headline Oct. 21 for a feature about the sorority/fraternity project of painting homes of various residents of Lake Como area. More than 100 "painters" took part in the recent effort. A photo, showing BETH MCRAE at work complemented the story.

*** **

UNICEF CHRISTMAS CARDS ARE HERE

UNICEF cards have gone on sale in the University Ministries office in the Student Center. Proceeds from sale of the cards will apply to the TCU Hunger Week $25,000 goal.

*** **

NUCLEAR AUTHOR TO LECTURE THURSDAY

Paul Loeb of Seattle, WA, author of the book "The Nuclear Culture," will be on campus Thursday as a guest of University Ministries. At 7:30 that evening in the Student Center Woodson Room, Loeb will make a public talk on "Living with the Bomb."

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Nov. 5 --Still Life After, works by Linda D. Guy, Moudy Building exhibition space, through Nov. 27, 11 a.m.-4 p.m. weekdays, 1-4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Free.
- Career Planning and Placement Center Workshop, Career Planning for Pre-majors, Student Center 218, 11 a.m.
- Receptions for Linda D. Guy in Moudy Building exhibition space and Deborah Howard of LSU-Shreveport in Brown-Lupton Gallery, both from 4:30 to 6 p.m.
- Nov. 6 --Coffee with the Coaches, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 7:30-8:15 a.m.
- TCU Woman's Club, Rhonda Payne of Harris College of Nursing speaks on "Women's Issues in Health: Anxieties, Fears, Facts and Answers," Faculty Center, 3 p.m.
- Nov. 7 --Career Planning and Placement Center interview practice session, Student Center 218, 2 p.m.
- Lecture by Visiting Green Professor Dr. Robert Pangrazi of Arizona State University, "Future Directions of Physical Education," Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 3, 7 p.m.
- Lecture by Seattle author Paul Loeb, "Living with the Bomb," Student Center Woodson Room, 7:30 p.m.
- Nov. 8 --Biology Seminar: Jerry Berlin of Texas Tech, "Developmental Biology of Cotton Seedings," Sid W. Richardson Lecture Hall 4, noon.
- Men's and women's swimming and diving, TCU vs. A&M, Rickel Building pool, 5 p.m.
- TCU Film Series: "2001: A Space Odyssey" and "2010," Student Center ballroom, 6 p.m., 9 p.m., midnight. $1.
- Recital by Chester String Quartet, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- Nov. 9 --TCU Film Series: "Reds," Student Center ballroom, 7 and 10 p.m. $1.
- Nov. 11 --Spring academic advisement, continuing through Nov. 22.
- College Bowl competition, continuing through Nov. 16.
- TCU Air Force ROTC flag-raising ceremony in honor of Armed Forces Day, front of Sadler Hall, 11 a.m.
- Computer Center short course: Waterloo/Script (advanced), Sid W. Richardson 143, 2-3:30 p.m. Session II will be at 2 p.m. Nov. 13. Robin Duke.
- University Council, Reed Hall 109, 3 p.m.
- TCU Music Department Concert Series violin recital by Jeff Cox, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.

*** **

POOL CLOSINGS ANNOUNCED

The Rickel Building pool will be closed during evening hours Friday for a swim meet with Texas A&M and again on Nov. 15 for a swim meet with LSU, says Steve Kintigh.

CLASSIFIED:

MEMORYWRITER AVAILABLE: A Xerox Memorywriter, Model 627, is available for re-assignment to a department with $1,250 in its budget. Machine is in Sadler Hall, Room 308, and available immediately. Call Ext. 7833 to see the machine or for additional information.

FOR SALE: Kenmore portable dishwasher, like new, still under service warranty. Call 926-8930.

FOR LEASE: Nice brick house, 2-2-2, fireplace, fenced, washer and dryer connections, decorator touches and in perfect condition. Responsible adults, $550 a month plus deposit. Lease/purchase could be negotiated. 346-2040.

FOR SALE: Three tickets for UT/TCU game, Nov. 16. Contact Ext. 7863.

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professors for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Students participating in ITCA Regional Tennis Tournament at Austin after noon on October 30 and all day on October 31 and November 1:

Dobson, Teresa	Ochoa, Marnie Y.	Riefkohl, Liza
Howett, Rhona	Olmedo, Angela	Simpson, Rene
Hourigan, Molly A.	Rapp, Lauri

Students attending the national meeting of the National Collegiate Honors Council in Salt Lake City October 31 and November 1:

Bidwell, Duane	Jackson, Hiram
Cook, Michelle	Moran, Ann

Students participating in a tennis tournament at Palm Springs on Nov. 5, 6, 7, 8:

Baker, John	Marques-Neto, Jose	Meyers, Scott
Broad, Neal	Mercer, Tom	