MINISTERS WEEK STARTS FEB. 3

A Brooklyn pastor known for the excellence of his sermons as well as for the extensive services of his church, a noted woman theologian and the dean of Yale Divinity School will be Ministers Week speakers Feb. 3-6 for Brite Divinity School. Sessions will be held in the sanctuary of University Christian Church.

Dr. Gardner Taylor, who has been called "the dean of the nation's black preachers" by Time magazine, will deliver the Wells Sermons at 8 p.m. Feb. 3-5 on the theme "Love's Uplifted Stroke." Worship services will be led by Dr. A.M. Pennybacker, senior minister of University Christian.

Minister of Brooklyn's Concord Baptist Church of Christ since 1948, Dr. Taylor is a native of Baton Rouge who earned degrees from Leland College and Oberlin Graduate School of Theology and holds honorary doctorates from Leland, Benedict and Albright Colleges and Colgate University.

His Brooklyn church has added more than 9,000 new members since he assumed the pastorate. The church operates a fully accredited elementary school, a 121-bed nursing home and a federal credit union with assets of more than $800,000.

Dr. Taylor has been actively involved in the civil rights movement, has been president of the New York City Council of Churches, vice president of the New York City Urban League and a member of the city's board of education.

McFadin Lectures at 9 a.m. Feb. 4-6 will be given by Dean Leander E. Keck of Yale Divinity School, a graduate of Linfield College with a divinity degree from Andover-Newton Theological School and the Ph.D. from Yale.

A widely published theologian, his 10 books include "A Future for the Historical Jesus," "The Bible in the Pulpit," "The New Testament Experience of Faith" and "Paul and His Letters."

NEW PHYSICAL FITNESS CLASSES BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Two new physical fitness classes, planned for faculty and staff members who keep intending to "shape up," will begin next week. Both are free and will be offered from 12:10 to 12:50 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays as well as from 5:15 to 6 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

"Walk/Jog for the Health of It" is designed for those who are interested in improving their cardiorespiratory endurance by walking/jogging. An appraisal will be made of each person's cardio-respiratory fitness level before a personalized training schedule is developed. Effects and benefits of cardiorespiratory exercise on the body's major systems and the role of diet and exercise in weight management will be discussed.

Less active individuals may be interested in "You Never Looked or Felt So Good -Fitness Activities for Less Active Adults." Fitness activities for improving your flexibility, agility, coordination, strength and muscle tone will be included. Information on stress management, physical fitness appraisal and body contouring will be provided.

Registrations are being held throughout this week in the Rickel Building, Room 223, from noon to 1 p.m. and 5-6 p.m.

"FOR COLORED GIRLS" TO HIGHLIGHT BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Black History Month on campus will begin Monday when Chancellor Bill Tucker receives a proclamation from a city official citing February as Black History Month.

Numerous cultural events and retrospectives on black accomplishments will be held on campus throughout February. Highlighting these will be a Feb. 13 performance of "for colored girls" by Fort Worth's award-winning Sojourner Truth Players. Written by Ntzoke Shange, "for colored girls who have considered suicide/when the rainbow is enuf" is a Tony award-winning play featuring five female players. Laurie Carols, who won a Tony award for her role as the "lady in blue" in the original Broadway version, directed the Sojourner Truth production.

Tickets to the play are $2.50 and will be available at the door only. The play will begin at 7 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom. All other Black History Month activities are free.

Another theatrical performance will honor the life and accomplishments of activist Martin Luther King Jr. Actor Warren C. Bowles will present the one-man show "Dr. King's Dream" on Feb. 9 at 3 p.m. in Room 205 of the Student Center. Bowles is a member of the Mixed Bloods Theatre Company of Minneapolis.

Other performances include a Gospel Songfest at 7 p.m. Feb. 11 by Delta Sigma Theta, a variety show sponsored by Black Student Caucus to be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 23, and an Alpha Kappa Alpha-sponsored high school essay and skit contest Feb. 26 at 7 p.m. All three will be held in the ballroom. On Feb. 28, the quartet Regency will present a noon concert in the Student Center lounge.

In further recognition of blacks in history, the film "Booker T.," a biography of educator/inventor Booker T. Washington, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 23 in the Student Center, Room 207. Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity will hold a forum on the topic "Achievements of Blacks" on Feb. 16 at 4 p.m. in the ballroom.

In addition to artistic performances and recognition of past accomplishment, Black History Month will challenge students to think about race relations as a campus issue. Kappa Alpha Psi will hold a forum on the theme "Improving Race Relations at TCU" on Feb. 12 at 7 p.m. in the Woodson Room of the Student Center. A panel of students and faculty members will lead the open discussion, which is intended as a means of creating change.

Other Black History Month events include a history display assembled by Alpha Phi Alpha to be shown in the Student Center lobby Feb. 10-14. On each Tuesday of the month a dinner followed by a presentation from a local speaker will be held at the Wesley Foundation. Names of speakers will be announced on a weekly basis, said Intercultural Affairs adviser Claude Steele.

Black History Month is sponsored by Minority Affairs, Black Student Caucus, the Student House of Representatives and Forums Committee.

WINESANKERS VISIT FORMER TCU FOLKS

Michael Winesanker, former chairman of the music department, and his wife Esther traveled around a good part of the world during the holiday season. In addition to visiting daughters in Los Angeles and in Vancouver, Canada, where they attended the American Musicological Society annual meeting, the Winesankers met several TCU friends in the Orient.

In Tokyo, they visited Desire and Martha Ligeti. Desire, who is retired from the TCU voice faculty, teaches at the Musashino Academy of Music. Also in Tokyo the Winesankers spent time with Yoko Kanno, who was for some years assistant to former TCU artist-in-residence Mme. Lili Kraus, and with two of Madame Kraus' former students here, Michiko Fujinama, who placed sixth in the 1969 Van Cliburn Piano Competition, and Mikako Abe, who received honorable mention recently at the prestigious Warsaw Piano Competition.

POLITICAL SCIENTIST TO BE GREEN PROF

Dr. Wilson Carey McWilliams, political scientist whose publications often deal with the ideas of liberty and equality in American government, will be Visiting Green Professor here Feb. 3-5.

Professor of political science at Rutgers, Dr. McWilliams is one of 10 holders of the Green professorship this year, a position made possible by a gift from Drs. Cecil H. and Ida Green of Dallas. At 7:30 p.m. Monday, he will present a public lecture on "Equality and the Foundations of American Politics" in Moudy Building 156 South.

A native Californian who holds A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. McWilliams taught at Oberlin College and at Brooklyn College before joining the Rutgers faculty in 1970. He has been a visiting professor at his alma mater and at UCLA and Yale.

A McWilliams book, "The Idea of Fraternity in America," earned the National Historical Society Prize in 1974. He is a member of the editorial board of the journal Society and for 14 years was an editor of Worldview, a journal of religion and international affairs, as well as the author of its monthly column "Undercover."

Dr. McWilliams has directed National Endowment for the Humanities summer seminars for college and secondary teachers and undergraduate fellows and has participated in NEH Colloquia on Constitutionalism in American Life at Wake Forest, the University of Oklahoma and the University of Dallas.

DANCE CONCERT SET THIS WEEK

Two graduate students—Brenda Parker of Dallas and Judi Freed of Sumter, SC—are choreographers for "Dance: A Celebration," to be performed at 8 p.m. Jan 31 and Feb. 1 in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

To be presented by TCU dancers, the original works are partial requirements for Master of Fine Arts degrees.

Two dances by Brenda are "Celebration of San Jacinto Day 1886," a re-creation of the Battle of San Jacinto to music composed with Dr. Ron Hubbard of Sul Ross State University, and "Bogie," based on a young woman's fascination with Humphrey Bogart.

Judi is presenting three works, "Sonata," an abstract pointe ballet choreographed for three women; "Masquerade," a classical ballet to music by Khachaturian; and "Lumen," a conjunction of ballet, jazz and a Gregorian chant performed by 14 dancers.

NOTES ON FOLKS
