Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 61, No. 13, Nov. 13, 1984

'LILI' TO AIR NATIONWIDE JAN. 2

"Lili," the half-hour film of the life of TCU's beloved first artist-in-residence, Lili Kraus, will be presented Jan. 2 on the Public Broadcasting Service by KERA, Fort Worth/Dallas, at 9:30 p.m. (Central Standard Time).

The film was produced by TCU and Fort Worth Productions for the University's Gwendolyn P. Tandy Film Library. Scenes were shot at TCU and in Budapest, Vienna, Lake Como, Italy, and in New York.

"Lili" is the first cooperative production between an independent American film company and the international division of Hungarian Television (MTV). Austrian Television Network (ORF) also served as co-producer. The film is not only being aired nationwide in the U.S. by PBS but also will be distributed by Hungarian, Austrian and New Zealand television stations.

FWP producer/director arranged the foreign filming, and the U.S. sequences were directed by Texas filmmaker Ken Harrison, who also wrote the script. The film was edited by John Purcell of FWP, and Lyn Downing was associate producer for FWP and Sherrie Ham for TCU. Larry Lauer is executive producer of "Lili."

The Tandy film library, dedicated in the spring of 1983, was a gift of the Jesse Upchurch family and the Benjamin F. Johnson Foundation of Fort Worth in memory of Mrs. Upchurch's mother, for whom it is named. Mrs. Tandy was an active patron of the arts during the 20 years she lived in Fort Worth.

COUNT BASIE BAND TO STOP HERE

The death of Glenn Miller in the 1940s didn't put an end to the Glenn Miller Orchestra. Nor did the passing of Count Basie last April 26 stop the explosive jazz of the Count Basie Orchestra. The legendary big band still tours, and it will play a Nov. 26 concert at TCU.

Cost of the 8 p.m. performance in Ed Landreth Auditorium is $5 with TCU ID, $8 for all others. Tickets are available at the Student Center information desk, at the music office in Ed Landreth or at Record Town on University Drive.

Basie, just short of his 80th birthday when he died, took his first piano instruction from his mother and from a lady who charged him 25 cents per lesson. Piano was the instrument of the day when he began to play the Harlem night clubs in the early 1920s, and the most important influence on Basie was "Fats" Waller. After touring the major vaudeville circuit for black entertainers, Basie joined the Walter Page Blue Devils, then moved on with several of that group's members to the Bennie Moten Band. Soon after Moten died in 1935, Basie became the leader, augmented the nine-piece band and moved it to New York the next year.

The band began recording in 1937, and its music changed with the times. Basie played Big Band jazz in the 1940s and pop jazz a decade later, backing such singers as Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby.

Since Basie's death, the orchestra has been back on the road fronted by Tee Carson, pianist who had filled in for Basie sporadically for the last five years. The touring troupe includes such veteran Basie sidemen as guitarist Freddie Green, who had been with Basie since the 1930s, and Bill Hughes, the band's trombonist for 35 years. Vocalists are Carmen Bradford and Dennis Rowland.

WHAT IS 'THE WORLD ACCORDING TO...?'

Remember "The Last Lecture on Earth"? This year it's been changed to "The World According To..." to be presented at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Student Center lounge under the auspices of TCU Forums Committee.

Speakers will be Kathyne McDorman (history), telling about "Lords, Ladies and Loons"; Charles Becker (economics), "Charting: The Black Art"; and Richard Galvin (philosophy), whose topic will be "Things We Shouldn't Talk About." Peggy Bishop will preside.

ICE, SNOW--NO CLASSES? NOTE THE WEATHER POLICY

For those days when predicted ice or snow makes you wonder if there will be classes, the University's bad weather policy can be helpful in clearing the confusion. It also informs you where to hear or read the latest bulletin.

Effective as of Nov. 2, the policy is attached on a colored sheet to this bulletin. Supervisory personnel may wish to post copies in central office areas and/or call additional attention to the general procedures to be followed.

GEORGIA PHYSICIST WILL BE VISITING PROFESSOR

Dr. Joseph A. Ford of the Georgia Institute of Technology, noted as one of the principal founders of the field of "Nonlinear Dynamics and Chaos," will be a campus guest Nov. 19-20. A Regents' Professor in the School of Physics at Georgia Tech, he will be the second of three scientists to be hosted by the physics department for its 1984-85 Cecil and Ida Green Physics Colloquium Series.

Dr. Ford will deliver two public lectures on Nov. 19. He will discuss "Chaos: Solving the Unsolvable; Predicting the Unpredictable" at 4 p.m. in Lecture Hall 1 of the Sid W. Richardson Building. A 3:30 p.m. reception in Room 313 of the Richardson Building will precede the lecture.

"What Is Chaos, That We Should Be Mindful of It?" will be Dr. Ford's topic when he addresses a meeting of the honor society of Sigma Xi on Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. To be held in Lecture Hall 3 of the Richardson Building, the evening presentation will be designed for those with non-scientific backgrounds.

Holder of degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Georgia Tech, Dr. Ford is the author of numerous papers concerning stochasticity in dynamical systems and has organized major international conferences in that field. The physicist was a member of the faculties of Johns Hopkins and the University of Miami prior to assuming his current position.

As a Visiting Green Professor, Dr. Ford also will participate in discussions and colloquia with students and faculty members in the physics department.

SYMPHONY TO PERFORM MONDAY

George del Gobbo will conduct the TCU Symphony in concert at 8 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Opening the program will be Symphony No. 83 in G ("La Poule") by Haydn, regarded as the father of the symphony. Carolyn Lemmon, senior music major from New Braunfels, will be flute soloist on the Poem for Flute and Orchestra, which was written in 1918 by New York composer Charles Tomlinson Griffes. The symphony also will perform Masquerade Suite by Russian composer Khachaturian.

PROSPECTIVE PREMED, PREDENT STUDENTS TO VISIT CAMPUS

High school and junior college students who are considering careers in medicine or dentistry will visit campus Saturday for an annual program sponsored by TCU's Zeta chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national premedical/preidental honor society.

The half-day program features presentations by physicians, dentists, medical and dental students as well as premedical and preidental students from TCU. The workshop begins at 9 a.m. and ends at 1 p.m. following a buffet luncheon. Participants will then be complimentary guests at the TCU vs. Texas football game.

VICE CHANCELLOR'S POSITIONS TO BE ADVERTISED

The new vice chancellor's positions for administrative services and for student affairs will be advertised nationally in the Nov. 14, 21 and 28 issues of The Chronicle of Higher Education. Noting that both positions will be available June 3, 1985, the ads give Jan. 7 as the deadline for complete applications to reach Chancellor Bill Tucker, who is chairing the two search committees.

The statement of responsibilities for the vice chancellor for administrative services reads: The vice chancellor for administrative services reports directly to the chancellor and serves as a member of the executive staff. The vice chancellor is responsible for the management of affirmative action, business services, personnel and physical plant. Responsibilities for this position include a budget in excess of $8 million and direct personnel supervision of over 200 employees. The vice chancellor is expected to provide leadership in the development of institutional policies as well as policies governing his/her units.

For this position, the qualifications include: A minimum of five years of progressively responsible administrative experience in higher education; experience in private higher education is desirable. Applicants must possess effective communication and interpersonal skills, creative problem solving skills, strong leadership abilities, knowledge of general issues in higher education and specifically those issues involving personnel, business services and facilities maintenance. An earned doctorate from an accredited institution is required; educational background in business or engineering is preferred.

Responsibilities for the student affairs position are: The vice chancellor for student affairs reports directly to the chancellor and serves as a member of the executive staff. The vice chancellor is responsible for the supervision of campus security, career planning and placement, counseling center, dean of students, food service, health center, international students, new-student orientation, recreational facilities, residence halls, student center, student activities and university ministries. The budget responsibilities for this position exceed $7 million with a professional and general staff of approximately 150. The vice chancellor is expected to provide leadership in the development of institutional policies as well as policies governing his/her units.

This position's qualifications are: At least five years of responsible student affairs administrative experience in higher education. Applicants must possess effective communication and interpersonal skills, a sensitivity to student needs and development, an ability to work effectively with diverse constituencies, a knowledge of current issues in higher education and a creative approach to problem solving. Experience in private higher education is desirable. An earned doctorate from an accredited institution of higher education is required.

JOURNALISM GRADUATE WINS REPORTING AWARD

A. J. Plunkett, a 1983 journalism graduate and former Image editor, has won the 1984 sweepstakes award in the Harte-Hanks Communications Inc. Writing Contest. Ms. Plunkett writes for the Corpus Christi Times-Caller and won the award for her coverage of April's train trestle tragedy involving a group of Salvadoran refugees. The article also won first place for spot news coverage. The contest included entries from 27 daily and 75 non-daily newspapers owned nationwide by Harte-Hanks.

MODERN DANCERS TO PERFORM AT CARAVAN OF DREAMS

The 14 seniors in TCU's Modern Dance Lab have choreographed original dances for their presentation of "An Evening of Dance" at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Caravan of Dreams theater. Admission to the 90-minute program will be $3.50.

Presentations range from two to ten minutes, and musical accompaniment will run the gamut from Ravel to Vivaldi to contemporary works.

Patricia James, accompanied by Gary Meyers, will present "M' Bwe M' Bwe Molebo," and other choreography will include Charne Furcron, "In the Attic"; Kerry Kreiman, "Resolution"; Lisa L. Dalton, "A Brief Encounter"; Kathleen McKay, "Five Miles Out"; Vicky Bearden, "Simply Astronomical"; David Ollington, "Grabs"; Teresa Rose, "One by One, Two by Two"; Brenda Parker, "Beda: Goddess of Love and Vengeance"; Vietta Morgan, "Willow Pattern"; Laura Butler, "Focus"; Dee Ann Hasse, "Caverna Fluidiez"; Susan Camille Branum, "Internal Combustion"; and Ceslie J. Armstrong.

COMIC OPERA TO BE PERFORMED MONDAY

A new addition to the TCU Brown Bag Series schedule will be a TCU Opera Workshop performance Monday of "The Shepherdess and the Chimney Sweep," a comic opera written by Julia Smith, a native Texan.

With Arden Hopkin directing, the work will be performed by three music majors, Clara Dina Hinojosa, junior from McAllen; Ricky Rainey, sophomore from Odessa; and John Walker, senior from Henrietta, accompanied by Judy Martyn. The TCU production will be a showcase performance Friday at the National Opera Association convention in Dallas, Arden says.

There's also a Nov. 20 addition to the Brown Bag programs, when Mike Helme, brother of TCU student Mary Jane Helme, will perform a concert of Chinese music on the archod. Both Brown Bags will be at noon in the Gallery. Audience members are welcome to bring sack lunches, and drinks will be provided.

NOV. 22-23 HOLIDAY PROMPTS EARLIER DEADLINE

Because of Thanksgiving holidays Nov. 22-23, the TCU Bulletin for Nov. 27 must be completed earlier than usual. For this reason, material for that issue will be due by noon on Nov. 19 in the News Service office, Sadler Hall 310.

NEW CAREER TAPES ARE AVAILABLE

Career Planning and Placement Center has several new sets of audio tapes available to faculty, staff and students. The tapes cover such areas as "Career Insights and Thoughts for the Liberal Arts Graduate," "Skill Identification" and "Guerrilla Tactics in the Job Market."

Of special interest are several taped information interviews providing personalized answers to questions about professions such as advertising, real estate, security sales, non-profit administration and social service. TCU folks may borrow a tape to hear at home or may make arrangements to review tapes in the center. Call Ext. 7860 for more information.

BLOOD DRIVE SETS GOAL OF 600 PINTS

The annual fall blood drive will be held today and tomorrow (Tuesday and Wednesday) instead of last week, as earlier reported. Employees of Carter Blood Center will be in the ballroom from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

After their most successful semester ever last fall, the blood drive organizers have set a goal of 600 pints of blood. Campus organizations are asked to encourage their members to donate, and the group with the largest percentage of members donating will have its name added to the plaque marking each semester's winner. The Office of Residential Living sponsors the drive.

HORNED FROG FAME IS EVERYWHERE

Lew Williams, a 1975 graduate who studied organ with Emmet Smith and now performs throughout the U.S., Canada and England, had completed a concert at New York State Theater in Syracuse during an October tour when a voice from the audience requested the TCU Fight Song!

The voice belonged to Linda Gardner Oertel, another organ major who graduated in 1961 and won a Fulbright Scholarship to Denmark. The two met for the first time after the concert and had a great time comparing TCU memories. Williams lives in Phoenix, Ms. Oertel in Elmira, NY.

PURDUE HISTORY CHAIRMAN TO TALK HERE WEDNESDAY

Dr. Donald J. Berthrong, Purdue history chairman who is an expert on land claims and water rights of Indian tribes in the West, will present a free, public lecture at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) on "The Historian: An Advocate." The talk will be in the Student Center Woodson Room.

Dr. Berthrong is on campus this week as a Visiting Green Professor.

NOTES ON FOLKS

MARGE STANLEY (finance) was finance track chair for the Business Association of Latin American Studies Meeting in Seeley Lake, MN, Sept. 27-30 and chaired a session on "The Latin American Investment Crisis." She also served as a discussant of "A Direct Test of the Diversification Service Hypothesis of Foreign Direct Investment" at the Financial Management Association meeting Oct. 10-13 in Toronto.

JACK SCOTT (Counseling Center) addressed the annual meeting of the Southwestern Association of Pre-Law Advisors held Oct. 3-5 in San Antonio. The subject was "Stress Management for Pre-Law Students." He also was on a panel at the Texas Psychological Association Convention in Austin and spoke on "Meeting the Counseling Needs of Diverse College and University Students: Issues in Training and Delivery of Service." He appeared on a special news segment of Channel 5 in mid-October.

Articles by CATHY COLLINS (education) will be featured in two upcoming journals. The first, dealing with the development of creativity, will be in Network: Journal for the National Commission of Parents. Feature article in Journal of Education for Gifted and Talented Students will be Cathy's story on publication sources for gifted students' writing.

Works by RON WATSON (art) and Diana Shaffer are on view through Dec. 1 at Fort Worth Gallery, 901 Boland. Ron, who has chaired the art and art history department since he came to TCU in 1982, and Diana, whose sculptural installation was shown in the Moudy Building exhibition space in the spring of 1983, were honored at a reception at Fort Worth Gallery Friday evening.

ANDREAS KLEIN (music) made his debut with an American orchestra when he performed with the San Angelo Symphony Nov. 3. Andreas has played with the Berlin Philharmonic, the Berlin Radio Symphony Orchestra and others in Europe, but his piano recitals in this country had been solo performances until now. He played the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 5 in San Angelo, and the Standard-Times music critic wrote, "Klein has an innate talent for shifting tempos, moods and dynamics with startling ease."

Funeral services for BART GAINES (physical plant), who died Nov. 6 as a result of injuries sustained in an auto-motorcycle accident, were held Nov. 8 at Owens & Brumley Funeral Home. He was the grandson of HELEN EATON (vice chancellor for student and administrative services office).

"Implementation of health-related physical fitness" was the topic of two workshops presented by ALAN LACY (kinesiological studies) to physical education teachers in the Mansfield Independent School District on Oct. 29 and Nov. 5.

In Indianapolis this week as campus representative to the national conference of Sigma Delta Chi/Society of Professional Journalists is senior LOLA HOWLE, who is president of the campus chapter.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

"The Evolution of Nationhood" was the topic when JAMES NEWCOMER (emeritus vice chancellor) presented a Scholar's Lecture on Oct. 11 at Olivet College, where he was a guest Oct. 5-11. A former academic dean there, he and an Olivet colleague were the authors of the college's alma mater hymn.

At a recent conference of the Institute of European Studies, CAROL PATTON (University advisement) was elected chairman, becoming the first woman ever elected to hold the position.

Sympathy is expressed to the family of DAVID VANDERWERKEN (English), whose mother-in-law, Maurine Good of Indiana, died Oct. 19 in an automobile accident.

The American Association of Individual Investors refereed a contest at the Financial Management Association Conference in Toronto, Ontario. The award for the best paper went to HENRY OPPENHEIMER (finance) and co-author Gary Schlarbaum for the work entitled "Ben Graham's Net Current Asset Values: Risks, Returns, and Market Efficiency."

Four TCU folks will present papers at the annual conference of the American Studies Association of Texas Thursday through Saturday at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. English faculty member CHRISTINA MURPHY's paper will be "In This Distracted Time: Henry Timrod's Civil War Poetry," and doctoral student NANCY PRICE will read a paper on "The Puritan Concept of Death in the Poetry and Meditations of Anne Bradstreet." Also on the program will be SALLY COUNTRYMAN, whose paper is entitled "Polysyndeton and Asyndeton Clues in the Search for Meaning in Faulkner's 'The Sound and the Fury,'" and STEVE WILSON, presenting "You Know Me--You Can Believe Me." Both are doctoral students.

CURT WILSON (music) will conduct the All-Region Jazz Ensemble in concert at 8 p.m. Thursday at Martin High School in Arlington. Curt also has been asked to chair the jazz piano selection committee for the All-State Jazz Ensemble.

CHRISTINA MURPHY (English) and BONNIE DICKINSON (English) have received word that their article, "If You Meet the Buddha on the Road with a Rosetta Stone: A Dialogue on Heuristics and the New Rhetoric," has been accepted for publication in the spring issue of Freshman English News.

AUDREY METROKA, senior secretary in journalism, and the entire journalism department welcome the arrival of her first grandchild, Andrew Thomas. He is the son of Paul and Sharon Dooley; Sharon is a 1983 journalism graduate.

Two Ph.D.'s will present papers at the Modern Language Association national meeting Dec. 27-30 in Washington, DC. At the session on Women and Domesticity in World Literature Written in English, S.R. JAMKHANDI, now teaching at UT-Arlington, will read his paper on "Desai's Feminine Sensibility." SARAH GORDON, on the faculty of Georgia College, will read "Carnal Knowledge: The Terrors of Sexuality in the 'Wise Blood' Drafts."

At the recent annual meeting of Baptist Nursing Fellowship in Atlanta, CAROL STEPHENSON (nursing) presented a continuing education program on "Diagnosis-Related Groups: Implications for Nurses." Carol was re-elected as vice president of the group for 1985.

TCU IN THE NEWS

"Shelf-employed" was the phrase used to describe SONJA MORENO (University Bookstore) in the Mike Ritchey feature that appeared in the Star-Telegram Oct. 8 concerning her work in choosing, buying and keeping updated the bookstore's trade-book section.

Star-Telegram travel editor Jerry Flemmons, whose book "Plowboys, Cowboys and Slanted Pigs" has just been released by the TCU PRESS, was the subject of an Oct. 8 feature in the local paper. An autograph party was hosted by the Press for him recently at Massey's Restaurant.

"TCU football sets a good example for business" was the headline for the Star-Telegram story that appeared in the business section on Oct. 23. Written by Jim Moore, president of a Fort Worth market research and business consulting firm, the article described Coach JIM WACKER and auto giant Lee Iacocca as entrepreneurial motivators.

In a lengthy article entitled "Forging The AV/Computer Link" in its October issue, School Product News called attention to TCU's speech communication department using video to expand the traditional technique of written criticism and class discussion to reshape and improve students' speech-making skills. Quoted at length was RALPH BEHNKE, who along with his associates developed the teacher-to-student feedback system. The magazine is circulated widely to school and college executives and administrators.

KTCU's 20th birthday, observed during Homecoming weekend, was the subject of a feature on page 1 of the Star-Telegram's Living section on Oct. 26. For the interesting article, writer James Masters talked with station manager CONSTANTINE BERNARDEZ.

"The proud and promising Froggies" were the subject of Texas Monthly editor Gregory Curtis' Behind the Lines column in the magazine's November issue. The long column is accompanied by a photo of SUPER FROG carrying the cutlines, "What's a fan? Why do usually normal folks root for Frogs?"

The benefits of President Reagan's economic program for the poor and the elderly, presented recently in a paper by an Irving think-tank, were disputed by economist JOHN WORTHAM, as reported in a lengthy Star-Telegram story that appeared Oct. 26. John based his response on recent studies by the Urban Institute in Washington, DC, and the U.S. Census Bureau.

"Leapin'lizards!, Call him a frog, call him a toad, but to TCU he's a purple passion" was the headline for the half-page story on the horned frog and how it became TCU's mascot that appeared in the Oct. 26 Star-Telegram. Featuring a color photo of SUPERFROG, the story was even bordered in purple.

DAN SOUTHARD (kinesiological studies) was interviewed Oct. 19 by Sammons Cable Television (Channel 41) regarding his research in the area of Motor Control.

The TCU jazz program was the topic when CURT WILSON was a guest on Channel 41's "On Exhibit" program, which aired Nov. 7, Nov. 11 and Nov. 13.

According to the Wage and Salary Policy No. 5.001, in the event that an employee transfers or promotes to another position on campus, the salary will be changed to the appropriate salary grade and the step currently held by the individual involved will be retained in all cases. The Personnel Office is now open from 5-8 P.M. on Tuesdays.

BAD WEATHER POLICYGeneral Policy

The University's general plan is to remain open and to provide educational and related services despite bad weather, with students and personnel making their plans accordingly.

If weather conditions become so severe that it is necessary to cancel classes and/or close offices, efforts will be made to notify students, faculty and staff at the earliest possible time. Make-up opportunities for classes or work missed by students will be arranged.

Decisions, Announcement of Closings

- The decision to cancel classes and/or close offices will be made through the office of the chancellor or his representative...usually by 6 a.m. for day classes and offices and 3 p.m. for evening and special courses.
- The News Service will be responsible for making all public announcement to radio, television and newspapers regarding changes because of weather conditions.

Outlets to which this information will be given and which should be monitored for any campus announcements include:

Radio stations--KRLD, KXOL, KPLX, WBAP, KMEZ, KVIL, KTCU, KLUV, KLIF, KRQX, KZEW, KNOK, KFJZ, KAAM, KAFM

Television stations--KXAS-TV, WFAA-TV, KTVT-TV, KDFW-TV, Sammons Cable
Newspapers--Star-Telegram, Dallas Morning News, Dallas Times-Herald

- Vice chancellors will notify deans and unit heads, who will contact department chairmen, supervisors and others as necessary.

Essential Facilities

If classes are canceled, many facilities will remain open. These include residence halls, cafeterias, Health Center, library, Computer Center, Rickel Building and campus police. Emergency crews will be on duty to keep essential facilities and equipment operating.

If TCU is asked to curtail its use of gas, residence halls, Health Center and cafeterias will be serviced even though administrative and instructional facilities may be closed.

TCU Civic, Social and Cultural Events

Such events will be canceled whenever classes or registration have been canceled and University offices have been closed. Efforts will be made to reschedule events when possible.

Bad Weather Procedures During Spring Registration

- Day and evening registration will proceed as scheduled as long as weather in Fort Worth area permits, regardless of conditions outside this area. If any portion of registration must be canceled, that period will be reset.
- Students unable to travel because of bad weather conditions outside the Fort Worth area will be registered late without penalty of late fee.
- Residence halls will always be open on dates announced regardless of weather.
