TCU/TARRANT COUNTY EFFORT EXCEEDS LARGEST-EVER GOAL

The 1984 Texas Christian University/Tarrant County campaign, launched Oct. 26 with the largest goal ever set in the seven-year history of the annual fund drive, exceeded its hoped-for goal by $39,094.

Announcement of the over-the-top total of $1,285,854 raised during the six-week effort was made by Dr. Alann Bedford, trustee and Fort Worth civic leader who chaired the 1984 campaign, at a Dec. 5 gathering of fund-raising volunteers.

A goal of $1,246,760 had been set for the 1984 TCU/TC drive, which is a part of TCU's overall budget-supporting total of $2.75 million for this year's Annual Fund, according to Dr. Bedford. During the Oct. 26-Dec. 5 effort, more than 500 volunteers directed gift requests to alumni, businesses, foundations, parents of TCU students and other friends of the University to undergird TCU's instructional and scholarship assistance, athletics, research and graduate education as well as general support.

In announcing the achievement of 103 percent of the 1984 goal, Dr. Bedford attributed this year's success to the outstanding leadership of the campaign's four group managers. "Theirs was leadership by example," she noted.

"Exceeding the goal in such a manner is a strong indicator of the support by both the community and TCU's student body of the direction in which the University is moving," Dr. Bedford added.

Other significant factors she called attention to included:

--Largest participation by any senior class to date. Contributions by the Class of '85 are expected to exceed $10,000.

--The success of "The Great October Alumni Challenge." The month-long campaign designed to increase the number of Tarrant County alumni participating in the Annual Fund was a new element in the annual effort. The "meet your match" challenge of an anonymous Fort Worth alumnus to match dollar-for-dollar up to a total of $25,000 gifts from previously non-contributing alumni in the area was accomplished.

Dr. Bedford called attention to the fact that more prospects were solicited this year than in any of the six previous TCU/Tarrant County campaigns.

Response to Dr. Bedford's victory report was made by Chancellor Bill Tucker.

Key positions in this fall's drive were held by four local civic and business leaders, each of whom brought in totals above their goals. Martin C. Bowen, president and chief executive officer of First City National Bank of Fort Worth, headed the business and industry group; and William L. Adams, president and chief operating officer of Champlin Petroleum Company, led the special gifts division. The parents and friends group was directed by E. Earl Hatchett, vice president for finance of General Dynamics/Fort Worth; and Robert R. Lowdon, board chairman of Stafford-Lowdon Company, coordinated the alumni division.

The 1984 campaign also marks the seventh year the county-wide drive has exceeded its goal. The initial campaign in 1978, with a $650,000 goal, reached $719,786. Total gifts reached $829,586 in 1979. The 1980 goal of $850,000 was exceeded by more than $40,000 and the $1 million goal in 1981 by $18,997. In 1982 the goal of $1,118,000 million was exceeded by $19,317. Last year's $1,190,212 was $12,129 over the 1983 goal.

CARD IDENTIFIES SCHOLARSHIP DONORS

Donors to this year's annual holiday scholarship fund, to which faculty and staff members contribute through the Financial Aid Office in lieu of greetings to on-campus friends, are being identified on the giant card on display in the Faculty Center.

This year's gifts are close to bringing the total to the $5,000 level needed for awarding the first scholarship.

Latest contributions to the fund include:

In lieu of Christmas cards:	Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Rivares Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adcock Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Haubold
-----------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Rita Ehlman Scholarship Fund:	Emily Dowling
-------------------------------	---------------

Sue and Logan Ware Scholarship Fund:	Mr. and Mrs. William J. Marx Emily Dowling
--------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------

Thomas Edward Hughes Fund:	Dr. Doug Newson
----------------------------	-----------------

Other 1984 donors will be listed in the Jan. 15 bulletin.

MLA PROGRAM TO OFFER WIDE SELECTION

Eight courses will be offered during the spring semester for the Master of Liberal Arts program. The selections include:

- "The Western: All-American Fiction." Taught by Fred Erisman (English), this course is an examination of the development of the western novel. Readings include James Fenimore Cooper, Owen Wister, Zane Grey, Max Brand, A.B. Guthrie and Jack Schaefer. It will be held on Mondays from 7 to 9:40 p.m.
- Recent American-Jewish Fiction." This course will focus on similarities and differences among such authors as Bernard Malamud, Philip Roth and Saul Bellow. Led by David Vanderwerken (English), the course will be held on Wednesdays from 7 to 9:40 p.m.
- "Contemporary Life and Environment." This course deals with the problem of finding a balance between resources and population to enable all of earth's inhabitants to coexist in an impartial environment. It is led by Leo Newland (environmental science). Classes are held on Tuesdays from 7 to 9:40 p.m.
- "Modern Astronomy: From the Origin of the Universe to Black Holes." Students will gain an introduction to astronomy and astrophysics, the birth and death of stars, the unusual properties of black holes, pulsars and quasars, the origin of the universe, the feasibility of space colonization and the search for extra-terrestrial, intelligent life. The course will be held on Mondays from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. under the direction of Bill Graham (physics).
- "Current Issues in Psychology." Topics will include the effects of TV violence on children, religious cults and brainwashing, diagnostic labeling, homosexuality, psychosurgery and aggression. The 4 to 7 p.m. class on Wednesdays will be taught by Wayne Ludvidgson (psychology).
- "Speech and Cognition." This study of the relationship between brain organization and human communication will include examples of communication disorders derived from brain injury. Joseph Helmick (speech communication) will teach the course on Thursdays from 7 to 9:40 p.m.
- "The Gangster Film in the U.S." This course is an historical approach to the gangster film genre and its social role in the U.S. A complete film will be seen in each class which will be held on Tuesdays from 7 to 9:40 p.m. It is taught by R. C. Norris (Radio-TV-Film).
- "Christian Faith and Human Tragedy." This examination of the relationship between Christian faith and human tragedy shows how literature offers a way to deal with the basic problems of human life and thus prepare the way for Christian faith. To be taught by Glenn Routt (Brite), the class will be held on Thursdays from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The MLA program is designed for mature students pursuing intellectual development, personal enrichment and the intrinsic rewards of an advanced education. Its curriculum is broad and diverse, and courses are offered from all major divisions within the University. Any graduate of an accredited four-year college or university may enroll in this degree program, which includes no examinations or other entrance requirements. The degree does not require a thesis, a foreign language or a qualifying examination. Additional information is from the graduate studies and research office, Ext. 7515.

ATHLETIC HONORS CONTINUE TO COME

With excitement building toward the Dec. 31 meeting with West Virginia in Houston's Bluebonnet Bowl, honors for 1984 team members and Coach Jim Wacker continue to mount for the Frogs, who tied with Texas and Arkansas for second place in this fall's Southwest Conference race. In total season standings, the Purple were in second place behind SMU's 9-2 overall standing.

The Frog's head coach, credited with turning TCU into the most improved team in NCAA Division I, was named Southwest Conference Coach of the Year by the Associated Press. Balloting was by his coaching colleagues. His turnaround was from 1-8-2 in his first season in 1983 to this fall's 8-3 regular season rank and an invitation to the Dec. 31 classic.

Running back Kenneth Davis, who ranked fifth in the voting for the 1984 Heisman Trophy, has earned SWC Offensive Player of the Year honors for his 1,611 yards rushing. Tony Jeffrey, the Gladewater freshman who became TCU's leading freshman rusher in school history with his 840 yards in 165 carries that included nine touchdowns, was named Newcomer of the Year. His '84 yardage was third in the conference behind Davis and SMU's Reggie Dupard.

Named to the AP's All-Southwest Conference first team were Davis, James Maness, Dan Sharp, Sean Thomas and Byron Linwood. On the second team are Jeffrey, Steve Page, Joe Young and Kent Tramel.

In addition to SWC honors as voted by AP, Davis was named to AP's national All-America football team. On its third-team squad is Maness, and AP honorable mention went to James Benson, Sharp, Linwood and Thomas.

SERVICES HELD FOR EDWARD BELL

Memorial services were held Friday morning in Robert Carr Chapel for Edward A. Bell Jr., retired TCU professor of Spanish and French.

Dr. Bell, who was associated with TCU from 1964 to 1977, died Nov. 29. His wife, Harriet-Griffith Inniss de Bell, died in 1978. His survivors include two aunts, Stella Bell and Sylvia Bell de Aguilar, both of Mexico City. Dr. Bell had requested that memorials, if desired, be in the form of contributions to the Edward A. Bell Scholarship Fund at TCU.

A native of Sao Paulo, Brazil, he earned the B.A., M.A. and Ph.D degrees from the University of Texas at Austin, where he was a teaching fellow from 1949 to 1951 and again in 1959-60. He chaired modern languages departments at both San Antonio College and East Texas State University before coming to TCU.

FILM ON MADAME KRAUS WINS INTERNATIONAL HONORS

"Lili," the half-hour film about TCU's first artist-in-residence that will air Jan. 2 on the Public Broadcasting Service, is an award winner in two international festivals. A tale told with great passion about the famed pianist, who was a faculty member from 1967 until her retirement in 1983, the show will be presented at 9:30 p.m. Central Time on PBS by KERA, Fort Worth/Dallas.

From among a total of 4,866 production entries from 45 nations, the TCU-inaugurated film received the silver award in the International Film and TV Festival of New York. For the 27th annual competition, "Lili" competed with 1,104 other entries in the film, video and audio/visual productions area in the art, music and literature category.

The New York Festival, founded in 1957, has become recognized as the world's most comprehensive annual competition for visual communication as it honors the best of TV and cinema commercials, television programs, music video, A/V presentations and industrial film tape.

Created by TCU and Fort Worth Productions and funded by TCU's Gwendolyn P. Tandy Film Library, "Lili" garnered a certificate of merit in the Chicago International Film Festival. The competition, an artistic institution whose recognition reflects the prestige of significant achievement, dates to 1964 and brings together visitors from more than 40 countries in addition to the United States to view the latest trends in the business and art of film.

The TCU film also has been entered in INPUT '85 and the 1985 Santa Fe Film Exposition. Results of these will be announced in the spring.

"Lili," also being distributed by Hungarian and Austrian television, is an international production. Because photographs and film footage of Madame Kraus' early years had been lost, FWP producer/director Mitchell Johnson arranged for a Hungarian film crew to recreate scenes of her student days in Budapest and Vienna and her family villa in Italy. The film is the first cooperative production between an independent American film company and the international division of Hungarian Television (MTV). Austrian Television Network (ORF) also served as co-producer.

CARSWELL REGISTRATION TO BE HELD JAN. 9-11

Registration for spring semester credit courses at Carswell Air Force Base will be held Jan. 9-11. Sponsored by continuing education, classes will begin Jan. 14 and extend through March 12. Registration will be held at the education building on base.

Daily classes in English, history and sociology/criminal justice will be held from 11-11:59 a.m. Noon classes are available in English, history and social work.

Evening classes on Monday and Wednesday include management from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. and speech from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday-Thursday classes will be held from 5:30-8:30 p.m. in mathematics and geology.

Additional information is available by contacting Eugene McCluney at 735-7651.

ALUMNI, STUDENTS PRODUCE 'PURPLE' RECORD

Thanks to the creative initiative of two alumni along with help from five members of the TCU Band, Ribbit Records with its purple label is the latest release related to the Frogs' 1984 football season. "I Was Purple When Purple Wasn't Cool" was the brainchild of John Fletcher, Class of '73 member who is general manager of Radio KJNE of Hillsboro/Waco, and Bill Kinder, KJNE news manager who played freshman football here in 1977.

With alumna and former Miss Texas Gloria Gilbert doing the lyrics and Coach Jim Wacker also providing some comments, the record was featured Nov. 29 on Channel 8 and is currently being aired over Metroplex radio stations such as WBAP, KSCS, KXOL, KPLX/KLIF and KVIL. Headed by William Pena, five TCU band members provide the instrumentation, and the song was recorded in late November at Fort Worth's Buffalo Sound. It was a feature of the Horned Frog victory celebration held Nov. 30.

Any profits from sale of the recording will be used by Radio KJNE for a TCU scholarship fund, according to Fletcher, a TCU tennis letterman who formerly headed Radio KCLE in Cleburne.

IT'S SCHOLARSHIP CHECK TIME

Faculty and staff members who contribute once each year to the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship Fund, rather than by payroll deduction, are reminded to send their checks to the Development Office if they have not already done so. Anyone who has a question may contact Bob Frye of English or Don Jackson of political science.

TCU WOMAN'S CLUB IS NEW NAME

The former TCU Faculty Woman's Club will begin 1985 with a new name--TCU Woman's Club. But only the name is new, says president Judy Smith. The club is still for faculty and professional staff women and wives of faculty and professional staff.

The change was made when the organization adopted new by-laws at its November meeting. First club event of 1985 will be a lunch seminar Jan. 24, when Charles Becker will talk on investing in stocks and bonds.

*** **

RETIRED MEN WILL NOT MEET DEC. 24,31

The weekly luncheon gathering of retired men from the faculty and staff will not be held Dec. 24 or Dec. 31. Announcement of this change due to holiday activities was made by Professor Emeritus Ralph Guenther.

ACTIVITIES SET FOR BLUEBONNET BOWL EVENT

Activities for alumni and friends of the University are planned for Dec. 31 in Houston to complement the Frogs' appearance in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

The initial event will be a pregame rally and barbeque, beginning at 5 p.m. in Astro Hall. The site is adjacent to the Astrodome, located at the corner of Circle and Westridge streets, and the entrance is on Westridge. The band and cheerleaders will be present.

Noon on Dec. 27 is the deadline for reservations for the rally/barbeque. Set at $10 each, these should be made by sending a check, payable to TCU, to the Alumni Office, Box 32921. No tickets will be mailed, but they may be picked up at the door.

Following the game, which begins at 7 p.m., a post-game party will be held in Astro Hall.

The alumni office, according to director DeVonna Tinney, will be closed Dec. 24-25 and Dec. 31.

STIPEND, GRANT REQUESTS DUE JAN. 25

A call for applications for 1985 summer stipends and 1985-86 development grants has been issued by the Faculty Development Committee. Information about the request was circulated earlier in a Nov. 10 memo, according to committee chairman Cy Rowell.

Jan. 25 is the deadline for submitting applications for both the stipends and grants. Guidelines for the applications are available from the Office of Graduate Studies and Research, Sadler 208. Persons wanting additional information should contact Cy at Ext. 7589.

MINISTERS WEEK SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

Jim Duke of Brite, Dr. Max L. Stackhouse of Andover Newton Theological School and Dr. James A. Wharton of Memorial Drive Presbyterian Church in Houston will be Ministers Week speakers Feb. 4-7.

Jim, associate professor of church history at Brite, will deliver the McFaddin lectures. Dr. Stackhouse, who chairs Andover Newton's Department of Religion and Society, will give the Scott Lectures, and Dr. Wharton, former professor of Old Testament at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will deliver the Wells Sermons.

*** **

APPLICATIONS DUE FOR RESEARCH ROOMS

Deadline for applications for faculty research rooms in Mary Coats Burnett Library is Jan. 18. Requests should be filed in the library administrative office.

SERVICES HELD DEC. 6 FOR SCHEMBER

Funeral services for computer science chairman Kurt Schember, who died Dec. 3 in Houston's M.D. Anderson Hospital, were held Dec. 6 in Arlington. Later a memorial service was conducted at Texas A&M, where he served on the faculty before coming to TCU in 1981. Kurt, who grew up in College Station, had been in the Houston hospital since October.

Holder of three degrees from Texas A&M, the computer science professor held a NASA fellowship while working on the master's degree. He formerly was an associate professor at the University of Texas--Arlington, where he was honored as outstanding teacher in the College of Engineering. He also was UTA Halliburton Teacher, a position funded by the Halliburton Education Foundation. He was the author of studies published in IPC Science and Technology, Microcomputer Design and Application and by the IEEE Computer Society.

Survivors include his wife, Sheri, and two children, Kari Elizabeth and Kyle Alan.

A fund has been established for the Schember family at an Arlington Bank. Memorial contributions should be sent to the M Bank, Box 1300, Arlington 76013 and to the attention of Cindy Carlton.

*** **

CHANCELLOR, MRS. TUCKER SET EVENT

Chancellor and Mrs. Bill Tucker are hosting a reception Thursday afternoon for faculty and staff members as an expression of their holiday greetings. The chancellor's dining and reception rooms on the second floor of the Student Center will be the site of the informal event scheduled for 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

UNGARS SEND GREETINGS

Tamas Ungar, currently on leave from TCU's music faculty as he holds the year-long Leverhume Visiting Fellowship at the University of York in England, has asked the Faculty Bulletin to help him and his family "contact all those friends and colleagues who make us feel so at home in the TCU community." Tamas says the York music department, which is in the enviable position of accepting only 25 students from among more than 400 applicants each year, has involved him in every facet of work. In addition, he has traveled widely, has performed 22 recitals and has been invited to make return engagements at many of those places.

The Ungars have kept up with TCU happenings and are especially thrilled, Tamas writes, "about the increase in enrollment in the Department of Music and the wonderful achievements of our football team."

"All of us would like to take this opportunity to wish our friends at TCU a Merry Christmas and a Happy, Healthy and Successful New Year," Tamas concludes. "We miss you very much and look forward to seeing you again in 1985."

SOME OFFICES WILL BE OPEN CHRISTMAS WEEK

Not every University office will be closed throughout the Christmas and New Year's break. The admissions office and financial aid office will be open Dec. 26-28 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to provide assistance to high school students looking into TCU. The continuing education office will also be open those same hours.

Also open Dec. 26-28 and Dec. 31 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. will be the business office with a skeleton crew to support other administration offices, and the PBX operators will work 10 a.m.-3 p.m. those same days.

The Personnel Office will be open 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Dec. 26-31 to receive benefit claims and applications for University positions only. Regular schedule resumes Jan. 2.

STAFF PAYROLL CHANGES DUE IN FEBRUARY

The change in general staff pay periods to either monthly or bi-monthly schedule is expected to become effective by early February. The change has been studied by administrative officers during the fall semester in an effort to respond to employee concerns.

All persons in the 4000 and 5000 job categories who are now receiving semi-monthly checks will have the option of going either to the bi-weekly or the monthly schedule. Those employees in the 6000 and 7000 series will go to a bi-weekly payroll as they have requested.

"The new timetable for staff checks will insure the regularity of being paid every other Friday, for those who accept that option," according to Vice Chancellor Howard Wible. "Being able to count on a consistent 'pay day' date will be an advantage to many of the University's employees."

In order for the February payroll changeover to be smooth and to enhance the understanding of procedures, sessions to instruct personnel on these latest changes will be conducted during January. Notification of the dates for the sessions will be announced soon after the beginning of the new year.

NOTES ON FOLKS

The Universidad de las Americas at Puebla, Mexico, informed ANANTHA BABBILI (journalism) that his research paper, "The North-South Factors in News Values Controversy," will be published this year. The paper, co-authored with MLA student SHEILA TUTTLE, was presented at the International Communication Conference in Puebla last December.

LUTHER SMITH (art/art history) has an exhibition of photographs at Tarrant County Junior College Northwest Campus Art Gallery on display through Dec. 19.

ART BERLINER (social work) has a review of "The Jokes of Sigmund Freud: A Study in Humor and Jewish Identity" in the inaugural issue (Fall 1984) of L.I.G.H.T., a Journal of Religion and Humor.

A research paper, "Press and Politics: Towards an Understanding of News Flow Debate," authored by ANANTHA BABBILI and RITA WOLF (journalism), has been accepted for presentation at the Second Annual Intercultural Communication Conference on Latin America and the Caribbean. The conference is slated for Feb. 7-8 at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, FL.

An article by JIM BAUMLIN (English) entitled "Bringing the Writing Process into the Literature Class," will be published in the January volume of English in Texas.

The physics department was well represented at the joint meeting of the Texas Sections of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Physical Society held in Houston on Nov. 15-17. C.A. QUARLES presided at the business meeting of the TSAAPT of which he is currently president. RICHARD LYSLIAK and graduate student VINCENT WANG presented a talk on "Wave-Front Reversal by Surface Reshaping of an Absorbing Epoxy Resin." BILL GRAHAM and graduate student RICHARD SHEPHERD were co-authors of a paper entitled "FTIR Matrix Isolation Study of Carbon-13 Substituted SiC<sub>2</sub>."

DONNA EDWARDS (music) has been very busy during the last several weeks. She attended the National Piano Pedagogy Conference at Ohio State University, gave a workshop on upper intermediate piano repertoire for the Arlington Piano Teachers Association and gave two lecture-concerts and a master class in Grand Rapids, MI, in addition to playing a solo concert which received an outstanding review in the Grand Rapids Post.

KIRK DOWNEY and JOHN SHERIDAN (management) conducted a one-week Management Development Program (MDP IX) for NASA science and engineering managers at the Marshall Space Flight Center Nov. 25-30. NASA announced that starting in 1985 John will also conduct a series of management seminars for the 300 NASA managers who have already completed the MDP program. Each seminar will address a management topic viewed as important to the successful completion of the center's work on the Space Station Mission. The Marshall Center has overall management responsibility for the design and development of the residential, laboratory, manufacturing and logistical transport modules for the nation's Space Station currently scheduled for launch in summer 1992.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

DON COERVER (history chairman) and Linda B. Hall of Trinity University are co-authors of "Texas and the Mexican Revolution: A Study in State and National Border Police 1910-1920," recently published by Trinity University Press as part of a series.

JOHN SHERIDAN (management) has been named co-chairman of a national Strategy Committee for the Health Care Administration (HCA) Division of the Academy of Management. The committee, charged with developing a five-year plan for more effectively integrating the research activities of HCA members with the needs and future directions of the health care administration profession, will present its proposal at the annual meeting of the HCA Division in San Diego next August. Other members of the Strategy Committee include John Blair, Health Care Management, Texas Tech; Myron Fottler, School of Community and Allied Health, University of Alabama; Barbara Mark, Medical College of Virginia and Steve Strasser, Graduate Program in Hospital and Health Services, Ohio State University.

RICHARD GALVIN (philosophy) presented his paper, "Sanctions and the Right to Do Wrong" at the North Texas Philosophical Association Meeting at UT-Arlington on Dec. 1. TCU will host the association's spring meeting.

The orchestral version of "Ukranian Dances" by CURT WILSON (music) will be premiered by the Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra Dec. 18 under the direction of John Giordano. "Ukranian Dances," which had its beginning on a trip Curt made to Russia and Poland with TCU's Jazz Ensembles, was performed early this month in band version by the Warner Robins Air Force Band at the Palm Beach International Festival of Music.

Curt and the Jazz Ensembles, which drew more than 700 jazz lovers to their Nov. 30 concert in Ed Landreth, will be an active part of the National Association of Jazz Educators national convention Jan. 10-13 at the Amfac Hotel at Dallas/Fort Worth Airport. Curt is a member of the planning committee, and the TCU jazz musicians will perform a new music reading clinic/concert at 11 a.m. Jan. 10. Honorary local chairman for the convention is TCU trustee A.M. PATE JR.

BETTY BENISON, DOUG HASTAD, ALAN LACY and JAN RINTALA (kinesiological studies) attended the Texas Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance Conference in San Antonio Nov. 28-30.

TCU IN THE NEWS

Horned Frog lore...about the little creature from whom TCU's mascot name is taken...has become a subject of media interest in recent months. In addition to an early November story, EUGENIA TRINKLE (News Service) was quoted most recently in the Dec. 2 issue of the Houston Chronicle with the answer to "What's a Horned Frog?" Also quoted in the Houston paper was biologist GARY FERGUSON.

MORE TCU IN THE NEWS

"Let's hear it for the Frogs" was the headline on the editorial that appeared Nov. 1 in the Star-Telegram. After reminiscing about the last time the Purple and White was listed among the nation's top 20 teams in 1962, the editorial noted that "Frog Fever has reached near-epidemic proportions, uniting people in this area--at least on this side of the Fort Worth-Dallas hyphen--behind Coach Jim Wacker and his exciting football team."

The fall issue of WINDOWS: Perspectives in Time & Space, the quarterly magazine of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station of the Texas A&M System, includes an article on the recently awarded three-year contract at TCU for polymer research. Headed by chemist BOB NEILSON, the project also includes work by SMU.

Also mentioned in the magazine, which includes the 1984 annual report, are research grants to RUDOLF BRUN (biology), DAVE LAMBERT (geology), KEN MORGAN (geology), BILL SMITH (chemistry), PHILIP HARTMAN (biology) and BRUCE MILLER (physics).

"TCU 'mom' keeps school's 150 athletes well fed" was the headline Nov. 4 for the Dallas Morning News story on BILLIE RUSH, food service coordinator for the athletic department. Praised by coach JIM WACKER in the article, she also was the subject of a segment on one of the three Channel 8 features on TCU football that ran the week of the Houston game.

In its November issue, NEWSWEEK ON CAMPUS carries a half-page story entitled "Wheeling and Dealing: Six Credits" that describes the Educational Investment Fund coordinated by HENRY OPPENHEIMER (business). It quotes Henry along with MBA graduate student RICK WINNINGHAM, who describes the class as "the best I've ever had."

TCU Press editor JUDY ALTER, along with two of her children, were guests on Channel 11's Hobab show on Nov. 3. Subject of the interview by show hostess, alumna PAULA REED, was Judy's book, "Luke and the Van Zandt County War."

ANANTHA BABBILI (journalism) was contacted by virtually all area media following the assassination of Indira Ghandi. The Texas AP Network, KRLD radio, and the Texas State Network all carried reports and reaction comments from Anantha. In addition, Channels 4, 5, and 8 used information from the Indian native to background their evening newscasts. He also wrote analyses for the Star-Telegram and the Dallas Morning News.

Ed Dalheim of KDFW Channel 4 News found the rain was no damper to spirits when he was on campus for a HOMECOMING story Oct. 26. Channel 8 sports also chose to feature Frog fever three nights running Oct. 31-Nov. 2 in the evening newscasts.

KTVT's Tom Finn and Barbara Willis were on campus Oct. 30 where they talked to education expert Emily Feistritz, who was hosted by JOHN MANGIERI (education). They had just left the Frog Club for a report before coming to the Bailey Building.

ROTC cadet JACQUELINE GROSS had a page 1 spot in the Nov. 12 Star-Telegram. She was shown holding an American flag outside St. Patrick Cathedral for a Veterans' Day service.

DOUG HASTAD (kinesiological studies) was interviewed by KRLD radio (11-13-84). Topic of the interview was Dr. Hastad's findings related to empirical investigations of "Delinquent Behavior and Interscholastic Athletics Participation."

The front-page of the Nov. 13 Star-Telegram carried a two-column photo of artist Willard Watson, known as the Texas Kid, along with a feature about the Dallas man's exhibits that began in his own front yard. His work was on exhibit in the Gallery and he gave a Brown Bag presentation Nov. 12.

Student Activities secretary JENNETTE FORRESTER along with WYATTA CARAWAY and BETTY CONKLIN were in the Star-Telegram's spotlight Nov. 13 as they displayed Horn Buster shirts on sale to benefit Hunger Week funds.

"Former Drum Major Now City's Top Dancer" was the News-Tribune's headline in the Frank Perkins-authored feature on alumnus GENERAL McARTHUR HAMBRICK. The Fort Worth Ballet dancer, who has a song ready for publication in the gospel music market, chose dancing over fashion design after taking a ballet course to satisfy a P.E. requirement for his degree. He dances the Snow King role in Fort Worth "Nutcracker," listed by Newsweek magazine as one of the three best in the nation.

Art chairman RON WATSON and his wife Diana Shaffer, who teaches sculpture at SMU, were the subjects of Star-Telegram feature on Nov. 26 that called attention to the annual Art in the Metroplex showing as well as their current exhibition.

Also featured in the Nov. 26 Star-Telegram were emeritus professor DESIRE and Martha LIGETI, who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in Tokyo, where he has become a professor at Japan's largest school of music.

Alumna SEPTIMA GREEN, fourth-grade teacher at Fort Worth's Bruce Shulkey Elementary School, was the subject of a Star-Telegram feature on Nov. 25 after being named the city's Teacher of the Year. The San Angelo native holds two degrees from TCU.

The third annual "Managing Managers Program," conducted Oct. 22-26 by the Neeley School of Business, received national media attention through a UPI news release. The Detroit Free Press gave detailed coverage to the seminar in an interview with program director JOHN SHERIDAN.

In November, the program received worldwide recognition with its listing in Bricker's International Directory of Executive Programs. Bricker's, an independent directory service to corporations and government organizations worldwide, describes the top-rated executive development programs offered by universities in North America, Europe and Australia.

TCU Press is featured in an article entitled "Publishing, Not Perishing, at TCU Press" in the November-December issue of The Roundup, official monthly magazine of Western Writers of America Inc. The article is written by JUDY ALTER, Press editor and vice-president of WWA.

Two large photographs complemented the feature that appeared in the Nov. 7 Star-Telegram on graduate student BART DESENDER, who won the title of Mr. Belgium in his native country in October.

"TCU prof sees similarities in voting in 2 nations" was the Star-Telegram's headline Nov. 8 in a story about political scientist MIKE DODSON being invited to observe elections in Nicaragua.

"TCU, leaders in business join forces" was the Star-Telegram EXTRA's headline Nov. 14-15 for the feature on the executive-in-residence program in the Neeley School. Featuring Don Bryant, three-time holder of the position, the feature also quoted Dean ED JOHNSON.

Sports information director GLEN STONE and News Service associate EUGENIA TRINKLE were the sources of Horned Frog lore that Skip Bayless included in his Dallas Times-Herald column Nov. 15. Tracing the "why" of that particular mascot, he took his lead from the definition of a Horned Frog as the "meanest, fiercest, fightin'est little lizard you ever saw" given by Coach JIM WACKER on the "Good Morning, America" show on Nov. 13.

"Young athletes found less likely to be delinquents" was the headline across the top of a page in the Nov. 18 PEOPLE section of the Dallas Morning News. The lengthy story focused on research of DOUG HASTAD (kinesiological studies) on the relationship of participation in sport and delinquent behavior. His findings are being published by the Journal of Sport Behavior.

Emeritus professor TROY CRENSHAW was featured in the Nov. 11 issue of the Plano Daily Star-Courier. He recently addressed a public program of the Plano Heritage Association drawing from his recently published book, "Texas Blackland Heritage." Troy notes that it was in Plano in 1873 that TCU was adopted as a college for the Christian Church brotherhood during a convention of delegates from congregations across Texas.

The autograph party sponsored annually by the TCU Press was the subject discussed when Press editor JUDY ALTER appeared on the Weekday show of Sammons Cable TV on Nov. 27.

"Unbelievable' attitude is a winner" was the title of Katricia Cochran's editorial in the Nov. 27 Star-Telegram. She opened the editorial by noting: "Of all the thousands of cheerleading words exuberantly expressed by the man that Horned Frog fans might vote into office were the presidential election to be re-played, those that make TCU's JIM WACKER a winner are education and game." She went on to say emphatically that such a comment "ought to nominate him for Coach of the Year, at the very least."

A color picture of SUPERFROG accompanied a story about TCU's mascot in the October issue of Frontier, the airline's magazine. The feature story was on Southwest Conference nicknames and mascots.

DOUGLAS HASTAD (kinesiological studies) was interviewed Dec. 3 by Scripps-Howard News Service in Washington, D.C., concerning his research on "Delinquent Behavior and Involvement in Sport."
