

BULLETIN

Issued by the Division of University Relations

Vol. 61, No. 21, Feb. 5, 1985

BLACK AWARENESS MONTH TO FEATURE YOLANDA KING

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black" is the theme of TCU's Black Awareness Month observance throughout February--a theme to be keynoted Feb. 12 by Yolanda King, eldest child of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Coretta Scott King.

Sponsored by Black Student Caucus, TCU House of Representatives and Forums Committee of the University's Programming Council, the month-long program opened Friday with proclamation ceremonies conducted by District Judge Mary Ellen Hicks.

At 7 p.m. tonight (Tuesday), the Black Student Caucus Lecture Series will feature attorney Wayne Salvant of the Salvant and Flemming law firm; Dr. W. Michael Byrd, obstetrician/gynecologist; Merdis Buckley, senior accounting advisor of Arco Exploration Company; KXAS-TV weekend anchor Pat Warren; and TCU graduate Jackie McKenzie, news director for KKDA radio. Their topic will be "Traditional Professions Provide Opportunities for Minorities." Black Awareness Month programs are open to the public and are free unless otherwise indicated.

TCU's Jazz Ensembles will present concerts at noon tomorrow and Friday in Student Center lounge, and Thursday at 7 p.m. the Minority Advisory Council will hold a rap session in Student Center 207. A semi-formal Valentine Ball will be staged in Student Center ballroom at 9 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are $4 for singles, $6 for couples in advance or $5 and $7 at the door. A group of Fort Worth choirs will take part in the Agape Gospel Concert at 6 p.m. Sunday in Robert Carr Chapel.

Ms. King will speak at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 12 in Room 207 of the Student Center. Cost is $2, free with TCU ID. A graduate of Smith College with a Master of Fine Arts degree from New York University, she is co-director of NUCLEUS, a touring performance group, along with Attallah Shabazz, oldest daughter of Malcolm X.

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black," an autobiographical play by the late Lorraine Hansberry, will be staged at 7 p.m. Feb. 17 in Student Center ballroom under the direction of TCU senior Trace Sherer. Admission will be $2. Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity will sponsor a "Go to High School, Go to College" seminar at 7 p.m. Feb. 18 in Student Center ballroom.

Other special programs during the month include a Brown Bag poetry reading at noon Feb. 19 in Brown-Lupton Gallery, an Alpha Kappa Alpha essay and skit contest for high school students at 7 p.m. Feb. 20 in Student Center ballroom and a Voices United concert at 3 p.m. Feb. 24 in Watson Chapel of University Baptist Church. Admission will be a $1 donation. Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity also will sponsor a Fort Worth Black Genealogical Society art exhibition Feb. 4-11 in Student Center lounge.

CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL NEEDS HELP

The School of Education is asking for "hands-on" help with what hopefully will be the first annual TCU Children's Festival from 12:30 to 4 p.m. March 30. The planners--Luther Clegg, Laura Lee Crane and LaVonne Wilson--ask that other faculty members help by enlisting students in their classes to provide a learning activity representing their academic area or interest. Some faculty members are allowing participation in a Children's Festival activity to substitute for part of a student's classroom observations or other required classwork.

To insure the festival's success, at least 20 different activities are needed for children ages 4 through 12 to experience learning in creative, imaginative ways. LaVonne suggests such events as mirror writing, frisbee throwing, obstacle courses, Chinese jumprope, talking with your hands, painting clown faces, bag art, story-telling, puppet show, learning to dance, learning a cheer from TCU cheerleaders, string art, snack preparation and learning to walk on crutches.

Students will be invited from Fort Worth public and private schools and pre-schools. LaVonne says the festival is an outgrowth of TCU education majors' desire to interact with children before they are sent into classrooms for practice-teaching.

Activity sign-up forms may be requested by calling Luther at Ext. 7660, Laura Lee at Ext. 7141 or LaVonne at 927-7313. The forms must be returned by Feb. 15 to TCU Children's Festival at P.O. Box 32925. Festival sponsors are School of Education, Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Delta Kappa and Texas Student Education Association.

*** **

NEW FACULTY, STAFF APPOINTMENTS

Holder of a B.A. degree from the World College of Journalism in her native Republic of China, JOANN LIU joined the library as assistant catalog librarian on Jan. 2. She served as an assistant in the Dallas Public Library for a year before joining the library staff at North Texas State University in 1981. She holds two degrees from Texas Woman's University.

RON HOVERSTAD, currently completing the Ph.D. degree at the University of Minnesota, will join the Neeley School of Business as assistant professor of marketing in August. Named an American Marketing Association Doctoral Consortium Fellow last year, he holds a School of Management Dissertation Fellowship at Minnesota. He is active in several professional organizations, including the Association for Consumer Research.

New in the library's research department since January, BILL FARRINGTON holds two degrees from the University of Texas at Austin and has done additional study at New Mexico State, where he was federal programs coordinator for the library in 1966-72. He formerly was associated with the libraries at the University of California-San Diego and Oklahoma State University. Editor and vice president of Sunstone Press in 1973-76, he is the author of several published works. He is president of the 200-member Scottish Clans of North Texas.

SHAFFER IS TCU ARTIST OF THE MONTH

Richard Shaffer of Arlington has been selected as Metroplex artist for February at TCU. He will lecture at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Moudy Building 132N on "One Year's Work: 1984" and will have a work on view in the art office, Moudy Building 245N, during February.

A former associate professor of painting/drawing at UTA, Shaffer earned the B.A. in philosophy from the University of California at Santa Cruz and the M.F.A. in painting from Stanford. He held a Fulbright-Hays Fellowship in painting in Florence, Italy, during 1976-77 and in 1983 spent a month at the Bellagio Study and Conference Center in Lake Como, Italy, for a residency in printmaking sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation.

Shaffer's works have been shown at several California galleries, at the Roswell Museum, Museum of New Mexico in Santa Fe, American Library in Rome, United Nations Plaza in New York, Dallas Museum of Fine Arts and Kimbell Art Museum. He also has had works in traveling exhibitions organized by the San Antonio Museum Association and by the National Museum of American Art in Washington.

*** **

WAR COLLEGE CURRENT AFFAIRS PANEL TO BE HERE THURSDAY

The U.S. Army War College Current Affairs Panel, which encourages dialog on national security policy formulation, will be on campus Thursday for two sessions scheduled in the Student Center's Woodson Room. Faculty, staff and students may meet the panel members at an informal reception from 10 to 11 a.m., followed by a question and answer session with the University community and the public from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

TCU is one of about 30 colleges and universities the panel will visit during this academic year. The panel was established in 1969 as a vehicle for candid, constructive, educational discussion as opposed to simply championing established policy. The group also serves to provide other students and faculty at the Army War College with insights into the issues and problems that are of concern to faculty, students and civic audiences. Each panel is composed of six volunteers, all military professionals who are interested in specific facets of the national security policy formulation process.

Taking part in the presentation here will be Col. David G. Hansen, former commander of nuclear-capable Air Defense missile battalions in Florida and Texas; Lt. Col. John A. Cope Jr. of the 327th Infantry Regiment; and Col. Charles E. Harmon, a former member of the Nuclear Contingency Branch in the Strategic Operations and Operation Plan Divisions, Organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Washington. Also participating will be Lt. Col. Julius F. Johnson, who has previously served in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel, Headquarters, Department of the Army; Capt. Richard A. Life, who most recently headed the Strategic Support Team on the staff of the Naval commander-in-chief, Atlantic, in Norfolk, VA; and Lt. Col. O. Fred McLemore, who formerly commanded a supply and transport battalion at Fort Polk, LA.

THREE FACULTY MEMBERS IN 'WOMEN OF '85'

Twenty-nine women with TCU ties--including three faculty members--are included in a new Metroplex publication, "The Women of '85." Faculty members on the list are Gaylan Collier of theatre arts, Doug Newsom of journalism and Ruth Whitlock of music.

Others include 1951 graduate Normajo Abramson Apt, Dallas speech-language pathologist; 1963 graduate Jeanette Cogdill Baker, Fort Worth real estate broker/developer; ex-student Phyllis Blount, owner of Total Image in Dallas; Candy Buckley, 1973 graduate, Dallas Theater Center actress; Shirley Carter, 1957 graduate and director of Texas Girls Choir; Keiko Couch, Fort Worth color/wardrobe consultant and wife of Ernest Couch of biology; ex-student Mary Barnett Curtis, active in Fort Worth genealogical and historical work; Dr. Edith Deen, Fort Worth author who holds an honorary degree from TCU.

Also included are Joy Havran, who holds B.B.A. and M.B.A. degrees from TCU and is a self-employed CPA and insurance agent here; Betty Holloway, TCU graduate and vice president of a Dallas public relations firm; 1967 graduate Eddie Bernice Johnson, executive officer of the Visiting Nurse Association of Dallas and the first black woman elected to the Texas House of Representatives from Dallas County; Kay Jones, M.A. 1970, director of special education for Fort Worth Independent School District; 1976 graduate Nancy James Lamb, executive music producer for KERA-FM, Dallas; graduate Diane Jackson Luther, Arlington editor/publisher; graduate Sandra McGee, Dallas graphic designer; State Representative Jan McKenna of Arlington, who holds B.A. and M.A. degrees in political science.

Included, too, are Ilah Miller, who earned a master's degree here, director of community relations for Cook Hospital; Joyce Pate, ex-student and past president of Friends of TCU Libraries; Ann Robinson, Harris College of Nursing graduate and a consultant and sales representative for U.S. Surgical Corp. in Arlington; Mary Louise Rowand of Dallas, TCU trustee; Betty Shifflett, TCU graduate and director of the Richland College Contemporary Chorale; 1971 graduate Betty Rose Staples, vice president of Sheridan-McCann Realtors here; ex-student Martha Russell Tiller, president of a Dallas public relations firm; Fort Worth city council member Kathy Wetherby, ex-student; ex-student Phyllis White, owner of the Clothes Horse; and Pauline Wittenberg, ex-student and Fort Worth community volunteer.

*** **

ADMISSIONS REPORTS SHOW 59 PERCENT INCREASE

The total number of freshman applicants as of Jan. 15 stood at 1,684 according to an admissions activity status report issued by Dean Ned Boehm. This figure represents a 59 percent increase over the same reporting date in 1984. The number of applicants from all levels is 49.5 percent over the 1984 figure.

In the report, Ned also noted that the response to the Jan. 28 Monday on Campus program was "tremendous" with more than 115 students and parents attending. He called attention to the concentration on the TCU Today programs being held across the nation throughout February.

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC PROGRAMS SET MONDAY

Monday will be a day for contemporary American music at TCU. The free public presentations will begin at 4 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium with a lecture by guest artist Peter Dickson-Lopez of the University of California at Davis, free-lance composer and electronic musician.

His music has been performed by such groups as the San Francisco Contemporary Music Players, the Arch Ensemble for Experimental Music, the Berkeley Contemporary Chamber Players and the Dutch Radio Chamber Orchestra. He also has been featured in performances of new music at Tanglewood, the 1978 Gaudeamus International Music Week in The Netherlands and the 1980 Henryk Wieniawski Festival in Poland.

At 8 o'clock that evening, also in Ed Landreth, Dickson-Lopez will be joined by TCU music faculty members Jeff Cox, performing on the amplified violin and viola, and pianist Caio.Pagano for a concert.

The program will include Prelude I for amplified violin and digital delay by Robert Coburn of Portland, OR, who teaches at Lewis and Clark College and directs the Center for Electronic Music, and Suite Hebraique for viola and piano by Ernest Bloch. Dickson-Lopez's "CHominge," to be performed by amplified violin, prepared four-track tape and live electronics, won first prize in the 7th annual International East/West Artist's Composers Competition and was performed in New York's Carnegie Hall in 1982. After the recital, the audience is invited on stage to view the score and the electronics and to talk with the performers.

*** **

HOCKNEY IS BROWN BAG SUBJECT

David Hockney, subject of Fort Worth Art Museum's current exhibit, "Hockney Paints the Stage," will be the topic for the TCU Brown Bag Series session at noon Monday in Brown-Lupton Gallery.

Title of the Brown Bag film is "David Hockney's Diaries." Audience members are welcome to bring a sack lunch, and drinks will be provided.

*** **

DEGREE NOMINATIONS DUE BY FEB. 15

Feb. 15 is the deadline for submission of names for consideration for an honorary degree to be awarded by the University. Members of the University community are eligible to submit names either to the chancellor's office, Box 32909 or to Faculty Senate chair Don Jackson, Box 32873. Nomination forms are available from each office.

According to the Faculty Senate constitution, nominations can originate in TCU's board of trustees or the Faculty Senate, and confirmation by both groups is required. After careful screening by the Faculty Senate's executive committee and approval by the body in executive session, the names are forwarded confidentially to the trustees via the chancellor, Jackson explained.

NOTES ON FOLKS

Several religion-studies faculty members participated in the annual meeting of the American Academy of Religion and Society of Biblical Literature in Chicago Dec. 8-11. W. D. DAVIES presided at a special lecture by Jacob Neusner, and RICHARD FORRER presided at a session of the Arts, Literature, and Religion Section. DARYL SCHMIDT presented a paper, "The Biblical Hermeneutics on Peacemaking in the Bishops' Pastoral," to the Consultation on War and Peace Studies. Also attending the meeting were CLAUDIA CAMP, ANDREW FORT, DAVID GRANT, KEN LAWRENCE and EDWARD MCMAHON.

"School and College: The Need for Articulation" is the title of an essay by NEIL DANIEL (English) that will be published in Roeper Review, a journal dealing with education of the gifted.

KARL KRAYER (speech communication) had an article published in the inaugural issue of Communication Research Reports entitled "Communication Ambiguity in Job Related Messages." The article was co-authored with Constance C. Bacon of California State University at Fresno.

PATTI BIANCOSINO COX (business) will have an article entitled "Teaching Career Planning--Not Interviewing?" published in the February issue of Business Education Forum.

ELENE DEMOS, CATHY COLLINS and DALE YOUNG, all of education, represented TCU at the fifth annual Critical Issues Conference for the Texas State Teachers Association Jan. 18-20 in Austin. Elene presented two papers, "Special Needs School and Outreach Education" and "Leadership to Reading: Some Realistic Strategies." Cathy delivered a speech entitled "More Time to Teach: A Closer Look at Time Management in the Classroom."

Psychologists SELBY EVANS and LYNNE GILFILLAN (psychology) co-authored a recent article in "Behavior Research Methods, Instruments, & Computers." Entitled "An APL system for interactive data analysis: Histograms, correlation, and regression," Selby says a version of these and other programs for interactive data analysis is available for the IBM PC. Interested persons can contact him at Ext. 7410.

Employment-at-Will is the topic of the bibliography compiled by JOE COOK (library) and his wife Earleen which has been issued by Vance Bibliographies in the Public Administration Series.

ARCO DONATIONS FOR 1984 TOTAL $26,500

The final check in a series of gifts totaling $26,500 for 1984 has been presented to Art Ehlmann, geology, by representatives of ARCO Exploration Company. The subsidiary of Atlantic Richfield Company, a major employer of TCU geology graduates, has also been the department's best supporter over the years, Art said. Of the total money donated, $9,000 was designated for field camp support and $17,500 for equipment purchase.

FACULTY COLLOQUIUM SERIES STARTS TOMORROW

A new Faculty Colloquium on Values and Public Policy starts tomorrow (Wednesday) with a presentation by Charles Lockhart of political science on "Socioeconomic Rights and American Values, Ch. 3." The monthly series will primarily function as an opportunity for faculty to share their work in progress and benefit from interdisciplinary collegial conversation. Sessions will be held in the Faculty Center from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Presenters will make copies of their papers available in advance of the sessions. Each paper will be summarized in 45 minutes or less, then will be critiqued by two respondents. After that, the conversation will be opened to the working group, made up of persons who have read the paper. Copies of the papers should be requested from the presenters.

Respondents to Charles' paper will be Richard Galvin of philosophy and Paul Boller (emeritus, history). Subsequent topics this spring will be "Changing Values and Their Implications for How Public Policy Is Made: Some Observations from Kettering Foundation Research," March 13, James Kunde, Charles F. Kettering Foundation, respondents, Thomas Beach of Anne Burnett and Charles Tandy Foundation and Jim Duke of Brite; and "Values and Ethics in Policy Making: Implications for Educational Leaders," April 17, Cherie Lohr and Bill Vanderhoof of education and Richard Podemski, Green Honors Chair in education, respondents, Superintendent Carl Candoli of Fort Worth Independent School District and Don Jackson of political science. Faculty members who would like to submit proposals or be involved in planning for the colloquium fall series should notify Dick Hoehn at Brite.

*** **

HONORS COLLEGIUM TO DRAW 60

Sixty top high school students from 13 states will be on campus Thursday through Saturday for Collegium IV, hosted by the TCU Honors Program. States represented will be Arkansas, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma and Texas.

Jim Kelly will moderate a Friday afternoon panel discussion in Sid Richardson Board Room on "Addressing the Intellectual Challenge of 'A Nation at Risk.'" Panel members will be Don Jackson, Chuck Becker, Gere Dominiak, John Mangieri, David Minter and David Grant. Following that round table, the students will break into discussion group seminars led by James Comer, Jean Giles-Sims, Glenn Rott, Frances Robb and Pat Paulus.

The honors students will attend a candlelight dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday in Student Center Woodson Room, to be followed by an honors fireside with deans and department chairmen at 7:30 p.m. in Reed Hall Faculty Center. An "Almost All-Nighter" will be held in the Student Center from 9 p.m. to 3 a.m.

Final session will be at 9 a.m. Saturday, when students will meet in the living room of the Annie Richardson Bass Building for a continental breakfast and a wrap-up. The visitors will have an opportunity Friday morning to take campus tours and attend classes of their choice.

TCU IN THE NEWS

FRED ERISMAN (English) was interviewed on Sammons' "Weekday" show Dec. 17 about the Western novel and the two courses--MLA and undergraduate--that he will be teaching on the Western novel in the spring.

DOUG HASTAD (physical education) was interviewed Dec. 10 by KAFM Radio concerning his research on delinquent behavior and participation in sport. KXL Radio in Portland, OR, interviewed him on the subject Dec. 12. On Dec. 12, Doug was quoted on the sports/behavior issue in both the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and USA Today. Radio KNOX in St. Louis interviewed him on the subject on Dec. 17. On Jan. 9 Doug was interviewed by Instructor Magazine regarding the future status of youth, and the Jan. 2 issue of The Phoenix Gazette carried a Scripps-Howard News Service feature on his study of behavior and sports.

Fort Worth artist Bror Utter and TCU's January-February showing of fifty years of his art were highlighted in the January issues of both Texas Homes and D Magazine.

"TCU, churches helped with drive" was the Star-Telegram headline Jan. 13 for a story about the successful drive for food and clothing for the Kickapoo Indians for which students raised 10,000 pounds of clothing and a ton of food. Quoted in the story were JOHN BUTLER (campus ministries) and Brite student LARRY CROCKER, member of the Kickapoo Acquisition Committee.

The Center for Remote Sensing and Energy Research was the subject of a page-long feature in the current issue of WINDOWS: Perspectives in Time and Space, the quarterly publication of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station. The article called attention to the work of both KEN MORGAN and DAVID KOGER.

Financial aid director LEO MUNSON was the University's source for the Jan. 13 article in the Dallas Morning News that gave tips on obtaining financial aid. Leo was quoted extensively in the Star-Telegram's lengthy look at college finances that appeared Dec. 23.

WILLIAM DAVIES, TCU's Bradford Professor in religion studies, was the subject of a feature that appeared Jan. 7 in the Star-Telegram.

"Texas colleges need millions for renovation" was the Dallas Morning News' headline on a Dec. 30 story by Doug Nogami. Bringing the TCU picture up-to-date was Vice Chancellor HOWARD WIBLE.

Hints for managing time as discussed in depth in a continuing education course taught by BRENDA SHULL was the subject of a feature in the Jan. 2-3 issue of the Star-Telegram's EXTRA.

"Horned Frog People" was the title of the Dec. 31 front page of the Star-Telegram's Living section. Featured were LIBBY PROFFER (student life), musician CURT WILSON, security chief OSCAR STEWART and cheerleader FRED BECERA.

Stories in the Star-Telegram on both Jan. 1 and Jan. 2 took notice of that night's showing of "Lili," the 30-minute film on Madame LILI KRAUS.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- Feb. 5
- Black Awareness Month Black Student Caucus Lecture Series panel, Student Center 207, 7 p.m.
 - Basketball, TCU women vs. Rice women, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 7:30 p.m.
- Feb. 6
- Black Awareness Month TCU Jazz Ensemble concert, Student Center lounge, noon.
 - Computer Center short course, IBM MUSIC Editor, Part II, Sid Richardson Room 143, 2-4 p.m., Robin Duke.
 - Basketball, TCU men vs. Rice men, Daniel-Meyer Coliseum, 7:30 p.m.
- Feb. 7
- U.S. Army War College Current Affairs Panel reception, Student Center Woodson Room, 10-11 a.m., followed by a question and answer session from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.
 - Honors Collegium IV, continuing through the morning of Feb. 9.
 - Black Awareness Month Minority Advisory Council rap session, Student Center 207, 7 p.m.
- Feb. 8
- Deadline for reservations for TCU Woman's Club's Feb. 15 guest day supper and showing of "Lili," $8.50 per person reservations to be made with Mrs. Howard Wible, 2508 Highview Ter., Fort Worth 76109.
 - Last day to withdraw from class and receive 50% tuition refund.
 - Black Awareness Month TCU Jazz Ensemble concert, Student Center lounge, noon.
 - Women's and men's tennis, TCU vs. Southwest Texas State, Mary Potishman Lard Tennis Center, 1:30 p.m.
 - TCU Film Series, "Eddie and the Cruisers," Student Center ballroom, 5 p.m., 8 p.m., midnight. $1.
- Feb. 9
- Basketball, TCU women vs. Arkansas women, 5 p.m.; TCU men vs. Arkansas men, 7:30 p.m., Daniel-Meyer Coliseum.
 - Black Awareness Month Valentine Ball, Student Center ballroom, 9 p.m. Tickets $4 apiece, $6 per couple in advance, $5 and $7 at the door.
- Feb. 10
- Black Awareness Month Agape gospel concert, Robert Carr Chapel, 6 p.m.
- Feb. 11
- Spring blood drive, continuing through Feb. 14.
 - Brown Bag Series film, "David Hockney's Diaries," Brown-Lupton Gallery, noon.
 - Music Colloquium II, Contemporary American Music, Peter Dickson-Lopez, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 4 p.m.
 - Recital of contemporary American music by Jeff Cox, Caio Pagano and Peter Dickson-Lopez, Ed Landreth Auditorium, 8 p.m.
- Feb. 12
- Women's tennis, TCU vs. Cooke County Junior College, 2 p.m.
 - Computer Center short course, SPSS-X, Statistical Package for the Social Sciences, Part I, Sid Richardson 143, 2 p.m., Bennett Fletcher
 - Yolanda King, keynoting Black Awareness Month, Student Center Woodson Room, 7:30 p.m. Free with TCU ID.

OFFICIAL ABSENCES

Students listed below must make up any class assignments that were missed. It is the responsibility of the student to arrange with his/her professors for the make-up. If you have any questions, call 921-7855.

Students participating in a tennis tournament at Palm Springs from 10 a.m. Jan. 22, to 7:30 p.m. Jan. 27.

Baker, John
Broad, Neil

Mercer, Tom
Meyers, Scott

Viancos, Fred

*** **

CLASSIFIED:

FOR SALE: 1970 VW bus. $800. Call 927-2057 evenings.

FOR SALE: Three University-owned vehicles: two 1982 Suburbans C10 Silverado, good condition; and one 1978 Buick Park Avenue, good condition. Vehicles may be examined at Business Services office, 2900 W. Lowden St., Ext. 7942.

FOR RENT: Charming three-bedroom, one-bath, one-car garage home with C/A, modern kitchen, large fenced yard, $600 plus utilities (negotiable), Westcliff area. Call 924-0009 after 7 p.m. or weekends.

WANTED: Male or female roommate to share nice 3-2 duplex in Wedgwood. $167 per month and electricity. Washer, dryer, fireplace, two-car garage. Call 294-5221 after 5 p.m.

Mrs Nancy Bruce
Library
32904
00000