PHILANTHROPIST, OIL PIONEER TO RECEIVE DEGREE

W. A. Moncrief, Fort Worth philanthropist and pioneer of the oil and gas industry of the United States, will be awarded the honorary Doctor of Humanitarian Service degree Saturday evening during spring commencement. Some 760 degrees will be conferred during the ceremony, set to begin at 7:30 p.m. in Daniel-Meyer Coliseum.

Chancellor Bill Tucker will preside. Participating in the honorary degree portion of the ceremony will be Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler and Faculty Senate chair Don Jackson. Special music will be presented by the Symphonic Winds under the baton of Bob Blanton. "The TCU March," composed by emeritus professor Ralph Guenther, will be the academic recession.

Moncrief, nationally recognized as a wildcatter, was reared in Checotah, OK, and attended the University of Oklahoma before volunteering for officer training cavalry in 1917. He spent two years with the infantry in France before beginning his professional career with Marland Oil Company (now Conoco) in Ponca City, OK. From that $150-a-month start in 1918, he advanced to vice president of the company. He moved to Fort Worth in 1925.

In 1929 Moncrief became an independent oil operator, drilling many dry holes in the Permian Basin area before his first major discovery in Gregg County in association with the late John E. Farrell. That discovery gauged 19,000 barrels a day and extended the East Texas field some 18 miles north of Kilgore.

Discoverer or co-discoverer of 16 oil and gas fields from Florida to Wyoming, Moncrief continues to head the Fort Worth-based oil company in association with his son, William A. Moncrief Jr., and four grandsons. The business also has offices in Houston, Midland, Denver and Casper, WY, as its activities continue in six states and Canada.

Moncrief and his wife, the former Mary Elizabeth Bright of Little Rock whom he married while he was in officer training camp, celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary last year. Together they have made major contributions to the improvement of health care in Fort Worth. Among their many philanthropies are the Moncrief Radiation Center of All Saints Hospital and the hospital's annex, which also bears their name.

In 1984 the long-time civic leaders, active in All Saints Episcopal Church, were recipients of the Royal Purple Award, presented annually by the TCU Alumni Association in recognition of extraordinary service and support of the University.

Experiences of Moncrief, whose interests include ranching, are detailed in the volume entitled "True Legacy" by John David Scott. Published in 1982, the biography is a limited edition, privately printed to preserve the family's history. The book's subject has shared copies with some family friends and industry peers.

Moncrief's legacy, according to the book's dust jacket, "will be a gift of love, a sense of responsibility, a dogma of integrity, and a fiat of faithfulness to God, country, family, humanity, and self."

RECITAL, RECEPTION TO HONOR GRADUATES

Two Saturday afternoon events will honor spring graduates, along with those who completed their degrees in December, and members of their families and friends.

Open to the public, an organ recital will be presented by Nordan Scholar Monte Maxwell of San Angelo. The program will begin at 2:15 p.m. in Robert Carr Chapel.

Hosted by the University, a reception for graduating seniors and their families is planned for 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Student Center ballroom. The special occasion offers opportunity for faculty and staff members to join in the day's festivities with the graduates.

DAWN ROBINSON WINS FIRST HONORS SCHOLAR AWARD

First winner of the TCU Honors Scholar Award, made possible by a gift from Paul Boller, is Dawn Robinson, sophomore from Battle Creek, MI. A sociology/psychology major, Ms. Robinson will use the award to intern in the Binder Park Zoo in Battle Creek, the only zoo in the U.S. with a therapy program combining people and animals in an effort to improve the quality of life for residents of geriatric facilities, hospitals and institutions for the mentally and physically handicapped. Her work will include recruitment of small animal therapy volunteers, preparing written guidelines and teaching volunteers about the program and marketing the program to local institutions.

A paper Dawn will write to fulfill requirements for independent studies in psychology may be presented at the American Zoological Society convention in August.

CARSWELL COMMANDER WILL SPEAK FOR ROTC EVENT

The keynote speaker for the ROTC Army and Air Force 10 a.m. commissioning ceremonies on Saturday will be Brig. Gen. Loring R. Astorino, commander of the 19th Air Division, Strategic Air Command, Carswell Air Force Base. The event will be held in Room 141 of the Moudy Building.

Army cadets to be commissioned are Tobin Ando of Albuquerque; Jeffrey Batha, Sunnyvale, CA; Alice Gilbert, San Antonio; William Davis, Dallas; Stefan Hodnett, Jersey City, NJ; Melody Slagle, Arlington; Stephen Lamkin, Midland; Kevin Diviness, and Mark Eberlein, Fort Worth; and Daryl Adams, Arlington.

Air Force cadets include Timothy Young of Saginaw; David Manthe, Leawood, KS; James Lambert, Devin Della-Rose, Jeffrey Williams and Curtis Winstead, Fort Worth; Jimi Barcom, Tucson; Darren Bond, Duncanville; Timothy Marks and Thomas Stout, Arlington.

General Astorino, who began his Air Force career in 1956 when he entered the Cadet Aviation Program, served as commander of the 93rd Bombardment Wing at Castle Air Force Base, CA, before assuming his current position in 1984. His numerous decorations and awards include the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Force Commendation Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

The general holds an associate degree in industrial electricity from Wentworth Institute in Boston and a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from the University of Nebraska. He completed Squadron Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

FINANCIAL AID OFFICE TO OFFER SUMMER WORK/STUDY

Students who are currently eligible for work/study and are planning to return to TCU during the fall semester will be able to participate in the College Work/Study Program during the summer. Students do not have to be enrolled in summer school to be eligible. They will be allowed to work through July 1. Departments wishing to hire college work/study students should contact Dolores Oelfke in the Financial Aid Office, Ext. 7858.

IT'S BETTER HEARING/SPEECH MONTH

In observance of May as Better Hearing and Speech Month, TCU's Miller Speech and Hearing Clinic will join the Sertoma Club in sponsoring free hearing tests May 22-24, says Sharon Rapp, coordinator of the annual observance. Testing will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. May 22-23 and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 24 in three locations--at the Miller Clinic, Worth Heights Multipurpose Center and North Side Multipurpose Center.

DAN SHARP RECEIVES FIRST LILLY SCHOLARSHIP

TCU senior Dan Sharp of Boerne has been awarded the first Bob Lilly post-graduate scholarship for his achievements both on and off the football field. The scholarship, established by San Antonio businessman Tom E. Turner, will be given annually in the name of Lilly, an All-American Horned Frog and an All-Pro Dallas Cowboy.

Sharp, a consensus All-SWC selection last fall, led the Frogs in receiving with 42 catches and shared the conference lead for touchdown receipts with seven. "Since my education means so much to me, this award is as meaningful as any other which I have received," Sharp said.

The scholarship selection is made each year by Coach Jim Wacker and his staff. Turner, chairman of the board of TETCO, inaugurated the Bob Lilly Scholarship Fund with a $10,000 gift to TCU and agreed to match dollar-for-dollar--up to $20,000--other gifts from alumni and friends.

TUCKER GOES ON 'COMMENCEMENT CIRCUIT'

Commencement may be taking on new meaning for Chancellor Bill Tucker this month. In addition to TCU's graduation this Saturday evening, he will be participating in such events at three other institutions.

In addition to delivering the morning baccalaureate sermon May 19 at Austin College, he will be awarded the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by the Presbyterian-related institution at its 2 o'clock graduation that afternoon.

On May 11 he delivered the commencement address at Trinity University in San Antonio, and on June 8 he will speak for graduation at Hiram College in Ohio.

CIES OPENS COMPETITION FOR FULBRIGHT PROGRAMS

The Council for International Exchange of Scholars (CIES) has announced the opening of the 1986-87 competition for research grants and lectureships abroad under the Fulbright Scholar Program. CIES sponsors Scholar-in-Residence, Occasional Lecturer and the Fulbright Visiting Scholar.

While application deadlines vary, the earliest is June 15.

Additional information and application forms are available from Jan Fox, coordinator of research and sponsored projects, in Rm. 208 Sadler Hall or Ext. 7516.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CHANGES BEGIN JUNE 1

A reorganization as well as new activities will become effective June 1 in the Division of Continuing Education. As announced by director Charles Falk, the change involves combining the Office of Community Service Programs and the Office of Professional Development into a single Office of Community and Professional Programs.

Mary Howell, who has directed community service programs, will head the new office. The directorship of professional development programs has been eliminated, Charles said. A new position of coordinator of community and professional programs will be added, with this person reporting to Mary.

"The reorganization is aimed at improving coordination of non-credit activities and, at the same time, recognizes market factors influencing participant response to TCU non-credit program offerings," said Charles. He also noted that "while there will be some changes, non-credit programs will be similar to past patterns, and the changes free up some funds that can be redirected toward enhancing our expanding evening credit program offerings."

Developed with the combined support and cooperation of the deans, faculty and departments involved, the new activities include five new degree-completion programs which will be available to adult and non-traditional students in the Fall of 1985. Working adults who have completed all lower division requirements can now complete the new sequences exclusively through attendance in evening and Saturday classes over a four-to-five year period. The newly available degree programs include English, sociology, advertising/public relations, history and speech communication.

For many years, the Bachelor of General Studies was the only undergraduate degree that could be earned by evening students. Not until 1983, when the art history degree sequence was added, and in 1984, when a radio-TV-film emphasis in the BGS degree sequence was implemented, was there significant change in the evening credit curriculum.

Development of these new sequences has been "a partial response to the increasing importance of adult and non-traditional learners in higher education," according to Charles. "And it represents an effort to be of greater service to adult learners interested in completing a degree at TCU on a part-time basis." If the market responds favorable to these new initiatives, other evening undergraduate degrees may become available.

Persons interested in the new evening/Saturday sequences are encouraged to contact adult services coordinator Carla Witte at Ext. 7130.

McNERTNEY TO CHAIR FACULTY SENATE

Ed McNertney of economics will serve as Faculty Senate chairman for 1985-86. Neil Daniel of English is chairman-elect, and other officers are Betsy Colquitt, also of English, secretary, and Rhonda Payne, Harris College, assistant secretary.

TAX-DEFERRED ANNUITY INFORMATION AVAILABLE

For persons wanting to set aside funds for retirement, there are advantages in Supplemental Retirement Annuities (SRAs) over Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), according to personnel analyst Alphonetta Wines.

A major advantage is the fact that SRA funds withdrawn or income benefits begun before the age of 59 1/2 are not subject to a 10 percent penalty, as is the case with IRAs. For the tax-deferred annuities, federal income tax on contributions are deferred until they are paid to the individual in lump sum or as periodic income benefits and the person's taxable income is reduced. Interest and dividends credited to the accumulation are not taxed until received as income benefits or withdrawn. SRA maximum contributions generally exceed amounts allowed under the IRA plan.

Participating faculty and staff members are encouraged to call the Personnel Office to request an annual tax-deferred annuity calculation so that the effect of salary increases may be included in contributions allowed by the Internal Revenue Service. These maximum contributions are not necessarily directly proportional to one's salary, Alphonetta said, and in some instances may decrease once the person has "caught up."

Persons interested in additional information should contact Alphonetta at Ext. 7792.

SUMMER HOURS SET FOR RICKEL BUILDING

A summer recreational schedule for the Rickel Building will begin May 18 and continue through Aug. 25, according to its director, Steve Kintigh. Throughout the 14-week period, the building will be closed on Sundays.

On Mondays through Thursdays the building will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday hours will be from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., and the Saturday schedule will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The weightroom will be open Mondays through Thursdays from 4 to 9 p.m. and on Fridays from 4 to 6 p.m.

Pool hours will be noon to 9 p.m. Mondays-Thursday, noon to 6 p.m. on Fridays and noon to 4 p.m. on Saturdays.

Various outside organizations and camps will be using the pool during the summer, Steve added, and attempts will be made to restrict their usage to 2-4:30 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Specific organization usage of the pool will be posted weekly in the Rickel Building.

Exceptions to the above schedule will be May 20-24, when the pool will be closed for replacement of the filter system, and July 4, when all the building's facilities will be closed.

TCU RECEIVES GRAND, SPECIAL AWARDS FROM CASE

Two grand awards and one special award now belong to TCU as a result of recent District IV (Southwest) competition in the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education (CASE). The awards were announced at the recent district conference in El Paso.

"Lili," the 30-minute docudrama on the life of noted pianist Lili Kraus that aired nationally on PBS in January, received the grand award in the film category. Materials for media packets and other promotion of the film, designed by Judy Oelfke Smith of publications, took a grand award in the category of public service literature.

Judy's series of ads developed earlier last fall on the theme of "How to take advantage of a major university" received a special award in the advertisement category.

The grand award for film brings to five the number won to date by "Lili," which also is entered in competition of the American Film Festival in New York. To date its honors have been a silver award in the International Film and TV Festival of New York, certificate of merit in the Chicago International Film Festival, best of category for Golden Gate Award in San Francisco International Film Festival and best of Texas from the Texas Public Relations Association. Larry Lauer and Sherrie Ham are the film's executive and associate producers, respectively.

DALLAS SYMPOSIUM TO FEATURE TCU, 18 OTHERS

Academic programs offered at 19 private institutions in the South, including TCU and SMU, will be discussed with high school students and their parents during a free session tomorrow (Wednesday) in Dallas. Open to the public, the 7-10 p.m. event will be held at The Lincoln Hotel, 5410 LBJ Freeway, under the sponsorship of the 19-member Southern Consortium.

Both formal presentations and personal sessions with representatives of the independent colleges and universities will be included in the evening session. The institutions' diverse educational opportunities will be discussed.

Fort Worth/Dallas-area high school counselors are being invited to a May 16 breakfast with consortium representatives.

Members of the Southern Consortium, which was founded in 1979, all practice selective admissions, according to Assistant Vice Chancellor Ned Boehm who is coordinating the symposium. The institutions include Rice and Trinity universities along with TCU and SMU in Texas. Other members are Agnes Scott, Davidson, Hollins, Rhodes, Rollins and Newcomb colleges along with Emory, Furman, Sewanee, Stetson, Tulane, Miami, Richmond, Vanderbilt, Wake Forest and Washington and Lee universities.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION FOR FALL INCREASES

Advance registration for the 1985 fall semester, conducted April 15-May 1, totals 3,515 students. This number represents a 5.2 percent increase over the pre-registrations for the 1984 fall term, according to a May 3 report by associate registrar Marvin Keith.

Registration was limited to those enrolled during the current term, and additional advance registrations will be conducted during the new-student orientations in June and July.

The comparative enrollment headcount as compared with a year ago included:

SCHOOL/COLLEGE	FALL 1985	FALL 1984	DIFFERENCE
			NUMBER	PERCENT
AddRan College of Arts and Sciences	1,545	1,434	+ 111	+ 7.7
M.J. Neeley School of Business	975	903	+ 72	+ 7.9
School of Education	234	203	+ 31	+ 15.2
School of Fine Arts	481	469	+ 12	+ 2.5
Harris College of Nursing	132	170	- 38	- 22.3
Graduate Students	148	162	- 14	- 8.6
Brite Divinity School	0	0	0	0.0
Totals	3,515	3,341	+ 174	+ 5.2

The male-student total for advance registration was up 6.6 percent this year, and the female count showed a 4.1 percent increase over 1984.

PRITCHARD TO ADD ADVISEMENT ROLE

Roberta Pritchard, associated with the Brachman Hall program since 1974 and most recently its director, has accepted appointment as assistant director of University advisement. Effective June 1, the appointment also includes her role as instructor in English.

A member of the faculty since 1969, Roberta received the Brachman Award for Excellence in Teaching in 1980. She holds the B.A. degree from Atlantic Christian College and the master's degree from TCU.

FIVE ARE REAPPOINTED TO CHAIRMANSHIPS

Five departmental chairmen have accepted reappointment for three-year terms, beginning with the 1985 fall semester. The appointments were announced by Vice Chancellor Bill Koehler.

The five are:

- Joe Helmick, speech communication. A member of the faculty since 1977, he holds the Ph.D. degree from Washington University.
- Charles Lamb, marketing. Holder of the Doctor of Business Administration degree from Kent State, he joined the Neeley School of Business faculty in 1981.
- Ray Remley, psychology. He joined the faculty in 1966, two years after completing the Ph.D. at the University of Georgia.
- Ron Watson, art. On the School of Fine Arts faculty since 1982, he earned two degrees from the University of Nebraska.
- Art Ehlmann, geology. A member of the faculty since 1958, he also holds the position of Herndon Professor of Geology.

BULLETIN BEGINS SUMMER SCHEDULE MAY 21

Beginning with the May 21 issue, the Weekly Bulletin will become bi-weekly for the summer months. Material must reach the News Service, Sadler 310, by noon on the Wednesday preceding publication of the next bulletin.

Summer publication dates are May 21, June 4 and 18, July 2, 16 and 30 and Aug. 13.

NOTES ON FOLKS

Education faculty members assisted with the Young People's University sponsored by Mid Cities/UTA Phi Delta Kappa chapter on two recent Saturdays. Presenters were BILL VANDERHOOF, "Why Doesn't Your Allowance Buy as Much as You Want?"; LYNN RHOADES, "So You Want To Be A Reporter"; ALAN LACY, "The Science of Fitness"; DOUG HASTAD, "Sports: A Preventive Medicine"; and LUTHER CLEGG, "Fun with Humor and Reading."

CYNTHIA FOLIO (music) has been selected by taped audition to perform at the National Flute Association annual convention in Denver Aug. 22-24. She will perform in a recital of newly published music whose function is to make flutists aware of some of the best new or newly edited flute music. Auditions were open to all professional flutists in the U.S.

DAVE CRAVENS (marketing) has been invited to present a paper on "Strategic Forces Affecting Marketing Strategy" at the Stellner Symposium on Theories of Marketing Practice at the University of Illinois-Champaign/Urbana in May. Marketing scholars and senior marketing executives from major corporations will attend and participate. The papers will be published in a book based on the symposium.

Student center director DOTTIE PHILLIPS has been named to a three-year term on the board of directors of the National Association for Campus Activities, whose membership represents more than 1,000 colleges and universities and some 500 associated firms. She has chaired a number of NACA committees.

Physical education department faculty members presented papers at the AAHPERD Conference held in Atlanta April 16-21. These included DOUGLAS HASTAD, whose paper was entitled "Use of Commercially Produced Software in Physical Education"; DAN SOUTHARD, "Scientific Data Collection for the Computer Naive"; and ALAN LACY, "Utilizing Commercially Produced Software in Measurement and Evaluation Courses."

Captain BILL RAY (Air Force ROTC) was recently promoted to the rank of major and has received his assignment to Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama as director of personnel and administration effective June 1. A member of TCU's AFROTC staff since 1983, he has served 22 years in the Air Force.

University Store manager MIKE GORE has been named to two committees of the National Association of College Stores. A past director of the Southwest College Bookstore Association, he will be on the NACS's annual meeting program committee and the outstanding manager selection committee. NACS serves more than 2,600 member college/university stores in the country and in 15 foreign nations.

A paper by JIM CORDER (English), "Argument as Emergence," has been accepted for publication by Rhetoric Review.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

A historical marker honoring WILLIAM J. MARSH, composer of the Texas state song, was dedicated May 3 during a three-day meeting of the Texas Historical Commission in Fort Worth. The marker is to be placed at Marsh's gravesite at Greenwood Memorial Park. TCU choral director for 12 years, Marsh came to Fort Worth from Liverpool, England, in 1904 and his musical talents led him into various positions from music director at Temple Beth-El for 22 years to heading the Fort Worth Music Teachers Association. He died in 1971.

DON JACKSON (political science) addressed the Intellectual Freedom/Professional Responsibilities Committee of the Texas Library Association April 26 in Dallas. His topic was "Intellectual Freedom and the First Amendment: What You Should Know When the Sheriff Comes."

CATHY COLLINS (education) has presented papers at three recent education sessions, beginning with inservice training for St. Mary's Catholic School April 19, when her topic was "Using Test Scores to Increase Student Learning and Improve Curriculum Design." She was in Keene April 23 to read a paper on "Strategies for Classroom Management and Control" for the Excellence in Education Seminar for Southwestern Adventist College and Cleburne Area Cooperative Teacher Center. In New Orleans May 9 Cathy presented a paper on "A Look at the Reading Program We Provide Gifted Students: From Their Perspective" for the International Reading Association convention. She also was named to chair the association's special interest group for gifted and creative readers.

Two articles by Cathy will appear in upcoming issues of Network and Good Apple Challenge journals. One deals with "Enhancing Creativity: Will It Increase My Child's Intellect and Help or Hinder My Child's School Experience?" The other is entitled "When Students Don't Understand: 'Regroup' and Then Teach with a 'Brand New' Method."

While attending the Potomac-Chesapeake Association of College Admissions Counselors' Conference in Norfolk, Va., April 28-May 1, AUDREY ABRON (admissions) addressed the Maryland Executive Council for Educational Opportunities (MECEO). MECEO, made up of the federally funded Trio Programs--Upward Bound, Talent Search, E.O.C. and Special Services--was also holding its first annual conference in Virginia Beach, VA.

Friends and associates of KENNETH M. SCHULTE (computer center) were saddened to hear of his death on May 2 after a lengthy illness. A retired Air Force Sergeant, Ken worked as a computer operator for twelve years in the center, where he was known for his sometimes gruff but friendly personality and his total dedication to his job and TCU. He will be missed by all who knew him.

Sympathy is expressed to LOU and ALLEN HANSON (University Store) on the death of her sister-in-law, LILLIAN SAMPSON CARNEY, who taught physical education here in 1919-21. She died April 28 in a Wichita Falls nursing home, and burial was in Vernon.

MORE NOTES ON FOLKS

BILLIE CUNNINGHAM (accounting) presented a paper, "Blind Faith or Antitrust: A History of the Relationship Between the Learned Professions and Federal Antitrust Regulation," at the annual convention of the Economic and Business Historical Society held April 24-26 in Chicago.

DOUG HASTAD (physical education) presented a research paper entitled "Alterations in Fitness and Motor Skill Between Normal and Special Education Children in a Mainstreamed Instructional Setting" at the AAHPERD Convention held April 16-21 in Atlanta. ALAN LACY also presented a research paper, "Behavior Analysis of Winning High School Football Coaches," at the conference.

The January issue of Downside Review contains an article entitled "Wilfrid Ward: Roman Catholic 'Modernism' between the Modernists and the Integralists," by NADIA LAHUTSKY (religion-studies).

At the annual convention of the Southwestern Psychological Association in Austin April 18-20 graduate students VELMA HYTHECKER, SUSAN NEMNI, ANGELA O'DONNELL and JOHN MARSHALL REEVE presented papers or posters. MARK FOREST won the graduate student paper competition with his presentation of "Quantitative and Qualitative Aspects of Loneliness: An Individual Difference Perspective." Faculty member WAYNE LUDVIGSON presented a paper and faculty member BARBARA BROWN attended.

CHARLES FALK (continuing education) recently attended the Region VII meeting of the Association for Continuing Higher Education (ACHE) in New Orleans. Charles led a panel discussion on the "Secrets of Successful Leadership in Continuing Education." He was elected secretary for Region VII and nominated by the regional organization for a seat on the national ACHE Board of Directors."

Chemist BILL SMITH has just returned from attending at the 26th Experimental Conference on Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectroscopy held at Asilomar, CA. While there he participated in a two-day session held by Vrian Associates for users of their XL-series spectrometers and attended a meeting of the editorial board of the journal, Magnetic Resonance in Chemistry, on which he serves. Bill has just received notice that he will be spending the Fourth of July in Bangor, Wales, where he will be lecturing on his current research at the Conference on Steric and Electronic Effects in Organic Chemistry.

JOHN SALMON, who graduated from TCU in 1978 with a B.A. in philosophy and a B.Mus. in piano, was named last week as one of eight semi-finalists in the $32,500 International Bach Piano Competition in Toronto, Canada. John, also a Juilliard graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Salmon of Fort Worth. His mother, the former Nancy Shulkey, is also a TCU graduate.
