United States District Court,

Northern District of Texas.

JAMES C. WILSON,

U. S. District Judge.

Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 29, 1924.

Amon G Carter, Personal,
Fort Worth, Texas.

My dear Amon:-

I received last Saturday those wonderful soft shell pecans you started to me last Christmas by a very poor messenger. I understood, it is purely hearsay, however, that you also started to me some flowers at the same time by this same messenger. Of course, I am very fond of these soft shell pecans, but as you know I am also very fond of flowers, but they seem to have fallen by the wayside.

I wish you would look into the matter, however, and if you find they have withered altogether, I wish you would spur up this messenger of yours in some way and cause him to make good at last.

The night of the big snow I was sitting by a log fire in my home out in the country and was indulging myself in just a few of these soft shell pecans. All of the surroundings were very inducive to meditation and naturally my mind drifted to you, and to the very interesting and useful life you have lead. Well, I simply will not go into details as to all of the beautiful things that I did think about you.

I hope it will suffice to say that I greatly appreciate your friendship and your thoughtfulness. I know if there have been any mistakes made on your part, in connection with this matter, they were mistakes of the head and not of the heart.

With my heartiest good wishes to you and yours, always, I am,

Your friend,
James C. Wilson
