Mr. Amon G. Carter,
Star Telegram
Ft. Worth, Texas

Dear Amon:

It pleased me very much indeed to see that your own home town had recognized your great value to them as I always have, not only to Ft. Worth but to the Nation, as a real, live-blooded American newspaper publisher.

Sometimes we go along and do a lot of things for which, seemingly, we get no credit, but suddenly our friends wake up and honor a man like you in a way that is far beyond your dreams.

I not only congratulate you, but I congratulate the Exchange Club of your city for the fine way in which they handled your appointment as the first citizen of Ft. Worth.

I have known you now for the past ten years, and on looking back over that period I can honestly say to you that some of the finest times I have ever had during that time have been with you. Of course, you and George Buckley, G. T. Hodges and the writer made the London Convention what it was; that is, we did as far as we were concerned.

I am sorry you could not accompany us to the Advertising Breakfast given to us by President Coolidge and his wife, but it gave me a lot of pleasure to take your side partner Carl Shumann. I know he has told you the complete story.

Thank you for sending me the newspaper clipping and also the menu for your great dinner.

Sincerely your friend,
